NEW YORK (SPECIAL).

SOCIETY in the Metropolis is getting its clothes ready for the dancing season, and all women will like to know something about the fashions that will prevail at the very modish balls. So, when you look at the initial sketch, imagine that the pretty gown has a corsage and sleeves in very pale Nile green pongee silk, trimmed with satin of the same shade, and a black velvet trellis-work applique. The skirt is of dark green merveilleux, arranged with black velvet trellis-work to correspond. Furthermore, when your eyes rest on the second picture, try to realize that the woman is in an ante-room at a ball, and has not yet removed her rich wrap. That showiest of outer garments is, in this case, made of beige-colored cloth, trimmed with lace, lined with white fox-fur, and embroidered with a large boa, holding a multi-colored bouquet of the rococo style. Broad ecru guipure lace forms the sleeves, and is pleated under the triple watteau bow.

A revival in minor fashions for ball toilets is that of the ancient "girdle mirror." It has been added to the things a woman may hang at her side. It is a more sensible thing, I am sure, than a pair of sheers or a bootjack, and we seemed on the road to those. Why should the modern woman be so shy about using her mirror in public? Everyone knows that she must have recourse to one sometime. It argues small interest in her escort if she seems to be concerned about her appearance just because she is out of reach of her home mirror. Much more frank and attractive, too, is the old fashion of carrying a hand-glass at the belt, and referring to it frankly whenever one fancies. Such use need not convey vanity, but merely a flattering desire to please. Surely a man cannot but be pleased to note that a lady adjusts her lovelocks while he is approaching. Besides, the details of a woman's toilet are always fascinating to a man. While she studies herself in the glass, he feels he can in turn study her, sure that her attention is taken up, and that he can endeavor to satisfy his hungry eyes without offending or seeming to stare. By all means add the girdle mirror to the trinkets you wear at your belt, and use it, too, in the intervals of the dance.

A representative ball toilet is shown in my third picture, and its ingenious peculiarity is that it has an effect of watteau short-waistedness without any real sacrifice of waist length. That is achieved by wrapping the lower bodice tightly round with a piece of the goods. Stylish women will take kindly to this device. Not more than one of us in a dozen can wear the genuine short-waist Josephine gown, but all the rest of the dozen will wish to, and if they do they will look like the dickens. It is not a fashion that adapts itself, and the one will look the lovelier by contrast. Positively you must not wear corsets under such a gown. You may wear a soft, belt-like arrangement, but it must in no way change the natural figure. It must only support it and give it stability. The average corset pushes the figure up to emphasize its lines and to get all breadth possible away from the waist. The real Josephine gown wants quite a different disposition of figure. Go look at the Venuses—the old-time ones. See that fullness about the body just above where we put the waist line. Well, that is what you have not got, and what the other women haven't got, and it is what the one woman in the dozen has got. That is what makes the difference between looking as she will in a Josephine and looking badly. The ball gown here depicted is a happy escape from all those difficulties.

The required taffeta petticoat is a serious addition to the expenses of one's get up, and we cannot all afford it. Home-making does not reduce the expense sufficiently, especially if we want to have a lot of the dainty things. Here is a way out of the trouble. Look over your old party and summer dresses. Many of them are silk. Those that are not worn out are too short skirted for the present fashion, but the foundations are just right for petticoats. Have them cleaned if need be, and re-make them if they do not seem to be hung just right. You will find yourself with a pale blue skirt, a rose-colored one, a pale green one, an ecru one, perhaps. If you want a particular one, or if the silk seems faded, have it died the color you wish. Dyed silk is always a little stiff, but that is that much more like taffeta. By the way, as far back as in the reign of Charles IX., the underskirt was made very handsome. It was called the cotillion. Presently came the dance intended to display this petticoat. So if you want to be quite right and very fine beside, I am sure you may call your taffeta a "cottillion."

My readers may like to know that powder balls will be fashionable this season. This is a very pretty variation of a fancy ball, and is far less trouble to get up. It is not everybody who wants to go to the expense of an entire fancy costume, but no one can object to paying a little extra attention to the way they do their hair. Powder is so universally becoming that ladies are always pleased to have a chance of assuming it, and everyone seems to look their best at a party of this kind. The origin of powder is uncertain, but it has been ascribed to the fact that when the Court ladies went to see the country fairs at St. Germains they noticed how becoming was the flour with which the players covered their hair, so as to give themselves a droll appearance. The ladies noticed how the whitened hair set off the coloring of the cheeks and gave an added brilliancy to the eyes, and they borrowed the fashion from the players. Powder was worn for nearly two centuries, so that there is a great variety of choice in the style of hair-dressing one adopts at a fancy ball.

The last two sketches show toilets suitable for powder balls, and at the same time good for other occasions of full dress. The single figure is in a lovely toilet with a petticoat of white gauze embroidered with bunches of mauve flowers, and a plain plisse white gauze bodice. The trimming, as designed, is made of pansy, pearl gray, fresh butter, striped faille, and of pale mauve ribbon ruche also on the watteau court train, which comes from the shoulders; the gloves are gray. One of the other pair is seen in white spotted tulle, with white roses and white satin ribbon as trimming; also a white satin bouillonne along the lower hem of the petticoat and train. The sash is of iron-gray surah. The final example is a gown of pale blue damask trimmed with sapphire velvet; white lace plisses complete the petticoat.

At a powder ball you may wear the towering head dress of the days of King George whom we Yankees whipped, or have the hair turned back over a cushion like the Watteau shepherdess, or comb it back from the face and tie it at the nape of the neck with a bow of black ribbon. Then there are the beauties of Sir Joshua Reynold's time, including the coiffure of l'Angelica Kaufman, with the pale blue ribbon or ropes of pearls twined carelessly in the flowing tresses. The process itself is not very agreeable, but the result repays the trouble. The hair must first be dressed very firmly and covered with grease, and the powder should be thrown down abundantly from a height. Sometimes a white wig is preferred to powder, and in this case, the natural hair must first be combed away from the face, and secured in as small a compass as possible at the top of the head, a little cosmetic being applied so as to prevent it from slipping down.

The face must be slightly made up, or the effect of the powder will be too trying. First cover the face with glycerine or cold cream, next rub in some rouge with a piece of cotton wool, beginning at the cheek-bones and working gradually downwards. Now powder well, and outline the eyebrows, if requisite. The patch gives the finishing touch to the toilet, and requires to be adjusted with care. A patch must never be put on a line of the face, or it will appear to extend it. It should be put near a dimple or under the eye, on the upper lip, or near any feature which happens to be especially pretty. The patch may be circular or crescent-shaped, or the wearer may patronize some of the quaint designs of goodly size which were indulged in by the belle of your great grandmother's time. A coach-and-six or a ship in full sail, was a common object on a lady's face, and birds, Cupids, or even demons, were all pressed into the service. Excellent patches can be cut out of black sticking plaster. Modern dress is worn at powder balls, and white, lavender, pink or black look particularly well with powdered hair. Gentlemen wear ordinary evening dress, but a white waistcoat and a flower in the buttonhole are imperatively required at a powder ball.

It is no easy thing to dress harsh, coarse hair so as to make it look graceful or becoming. By the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor, this difficulty is removed, and the hair made to assume any style or arrangement that may be desired Give the vigor a trial.

PANAMA CANAL ROW.

That the Trial Will Become a Gigantic Political Factor is Now Certain.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The Paris correspondent of The Daily News says: The impending cabinet crisis is of less interest than are the Panama Canal troubles and the revelations the directors are likely to make if cornered.

Wilsonism was rampant at the Palais Bourbon when the Panama Canal bubble was being inflated, and the Wilsonites are now incensed at the Government for forcing a trial.

The number of persons compromised is said to be 160, belonging to all parties. It is said that the sum of £800,000 was spent in Wilsonism and that the sum of £2,000,000 was devoured in sham contracts.

That the trial will become a gigantic political factor is certain. Whatever procedure is adopted the exact cannot be opened before the beginning of January.

UNEXPECTEDLY PROLONGED.

Cabinet Councils Discover Complexities in Home Rule and Other Bills.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The present series of Cabinet councils, which the Ministerialists hope will conclude early next week, have been unexpectedly prolonged owing to unlooked-for complexities that arose in connection with the Home Rule and other bills. The Cabinet, upon the conclusion of the present series of meeting, will not again assemble until after Christmas.

Before Mr. Gladstone returns to Hawarden he will visit the Queen at Windsor Castle.

Lord Salisbury has been invited to visit Windsor Castle after Mr. Gladstone. This shows a marked difference in the treatment accorded the leaders of the Liberal and Conservative parties.

A movement is on foot in the Tory party to further unite the Conservatives and Liberal-Unionists by admitting the latter to the Carlton and other heretofore exclusively Tory clubs. The Duke of Devonshire will be among the first to be elected to membership in the Carlton Club.

Two of a Kind.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The Madrid correspondent of The Daily News says that a sensation has been created by an article in El Globo, Emilio Castelar's organ, accusing the Canova's Ministry of assenting, during the visit of the King and Queen of Portugal, to the conclusion of an alliance between the Spanish and Portuguese monarchs against Democratic parties and Republican propaganda in their respective dominions.

The article also accuses the Segusta party of consenting to an alliance with Portugal involving military intervention on the part of Spain in the event of a revolution in Portugal. It is asserted that European courts approve of this alliance.

Mr. Deacon's Cruelty.

PARIS, Nov. 18.—Mrs. Deacon has always steadfastly refused to give her side of the case, but yesterday her friends made a statement in her defence.

According to this statement Mr. Deacon has treated his wife, since the first week of their marriage, with brutality, which Mrs. Deacon says she endured, hoping by forbearance to subdue a temper that at times bordered on insanity.

Mrs. Deacon's friends, moreover, say that charges of intemperance can easily be proven against Mr. Deacon. They also allege that even the children were not exempt from his cruelty.

Politics in France.

PARIS, Nov. 18.—The debate on the Government bill providing for increased stringency in the press laws was resumed in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday.

Prime Minister Loubet made a very successful speech, but this was followed by two slight Government checks. The Chamber of Deputies by a majority of 38 refused to grant cloture, and then by a majority of 114 adopted a motion to adjourn until to-morrow.

To Frighten Manufacturers.

BERLIN, Nov. 18.—At the Socialist conferences to-day the discussion of the May-day celebrations was resumed.

Herr Demmwolf of Mannheim urged the necessity of workingmen ceasing all labor on May Day to frighten manufacturers into submission.

The congress finally rejected a resolution in favor of binding all Socialists to an absolute cessation of work on May Day.

The Cholera in Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 18.—The cholera continues to increase in virulence here and the people and the press are alarmed at this fresh outbreak.

Novosti dwells upon the necessity for an international agreement in order that a common stand may be taken against the scourge.

A Tonic and Reconstructor.

Mr. C. Harper, Ottawa, Ont., writes: "I have pleasure in stating that your Pink Pills are a wonderful tonic and reconstructor of the system. Since beginning their use, I have gained, on an average, a pound of flesh a week." All dealers or, post paid, 50c a box or six boxes for $2.50. Beware of imitations and substitutes. J.D. Tully's Drug Store,

A POPE'S REPRESENTATIVE.

May Be Appointed to An Official Residence At Washington.

NEW YORK, Nov. 18.—A leading official at the Catholic conference said yesterday to a reporter:

"I notice that the newspapers have suggested to state one of the principal topics to be discussed by the conference, viz., the advisability of placing at Washington a duly accredited representative of the Vatican. For many years Americans statesmen have disagreed upon the question of their Government recognizing the authority of a Papal Nuncio. It has been held that if the President should receive as one of his diplomatic family a representative of the Pope such action might be construed as a recognition of the Pope's claim of temporal sovereignty.

"There is a like thread that following the discussion of the matter by the Archbishop Mgr. SATOLLI may be induced to bring it to a crisis by reporting to the Vatican what steps should be taken looking to the appointment of a papal legate to Washington. I believe that no international complications can possibly grow out of such action."

It was learned at the archiepiscopal residence that the conference would certainly continue to-day and night, and possibly not reach a final adjournment until Saturday.

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 18.—At the National Grange Session yesterday reports of officers were heard.

Mortimer Whitehead, lecturer, said that among the measures which he found most generally discussed and asked for at this time in the granges of the country were rural free mail delivery, postal, telegraph and telephone and Government ownership and control of the same in the interest of a quicker dissemination of news, market reports, weather forecasts, etc.

Conscience and Suicide.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—The mother of Gwneth Maude, the 18-year-old girl who is under arrest for swindling a jeweler, committed suicide to-day.

When arrested the girl said her mother was to blame for the thefts.

Gave Her a Home.

LONDON, Nov. 18.—Under the terms of an agreement that has been made between the young Duke of Marlborough and the widow of the late Duke, the latter will be allowed the use of a large old house at Woodstock as a dower. This will enable the Duchess to live near the villagers for whom she has done so much. She retains also the town house.

Polygamy Not Allowed.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 17.—The Turkish War Office has prohibited all officers below the rank of major from taking a second wife. The reason given for this action is that the pay of such officers is not sufficient to allow them to support a harem. The War Minister is unpopular with the soldiers' wives, who often send deputations to him clamoring for the arrears of their husbands' pay.

The Hawaiian Cabinet.

HONOLULU, Nov. 17.—Queen Liliuokalani has appointed the following Cabinet: G. N. Wilcox, Minister of Interior; Hon. M. P. Robinson, Foreign Affairs; Hon. Peter Jones, Finance; Hon. C. C. Bell, Attorney-General.

A Philadelphian has educated a house fly to respond to a prolonged "buz-z-z," which brings it from its cranny any time of day for its supply of sugar.

There is a wine cask in Toledo which holds 60,000 gallons, and thereby greatly outdoes the famous Heidelberger fass, celebrated in German prose and poetry.

The value of the words "not transferable," usually printed upon season tickets, has been tested in an English court and it has been decided to be unimpeachable.

One of the finest opals in the world is said to be worn on the turban of the Japanese minister in Washington. It is as large as a pigeon's egg and surrounded by diamonds.

The total sheep stock in Great Britain at the end of last year exceeded by three million head the flocks of two years ago, and by more than four millions the flocks of 1881.

One of the most interesting results of the British occupation of Egypt has been the naturalization of the game of football within earshot of "the murmur of the moving Nile."

Increase Your Weight.

If you are losing flesh and blood, commence at once taking Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, which is far ahead of all other preparations of the kind in existence. By taking Miller's Emulsion people gain from 5 to 10 lbs. by the time the first bottle is consumed. It is the greatest blessing of the century to all in delicate health, or who suffer with coughs, colds and ailments that tend to consumption. Remember, Miller's Emulsion contains all the constituents found in wheat. It is used in the hospitals and asylums of the country. In big bottles 50c and $1, at all Drug Stores.

A BREAK IN TELEGRAPHY.

Storms in the United States Demoralize the Telegraphic Service.

CHICAGO, Nov. 19.—The effect of the storm of yesterday and last night is evident in the interruption of telegraphic communication with the west to-day. Here in Chicago the wind blew at the rate of 40 to 50 miles per hour at times during the night, and out on the prairies, where there was nothing to break its force, its sweep must have been resistless.

Little or nothing has been heard from the storm-swept region. Neither of the telegraph companies had a wire working to St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth, Sioux City or Kansas points. Communication with Kansas City is irregular and at times cut off altogether. The storm seems to have extended eastward also and the wires are in bad shape throughout Ohio and Indiana. In New York State a heavy wet snow fell, causing the telegraph wires to work hard and at times cut off communication entirely.

Storms are also reported along the Atlantic coast south of Richmond. The heaviest storm, however, seems to have been in the west, extending from Illinois west to Rock Island, south to the Indian territory and north to the Canadian line.

All telegraphic communication with this district was absolutely cut off until late to-day, and it is impossible to do more than conjecture the amount of damage done, which, judging from the havoc wrought with the telegraph wires, must have been very great.

CLEVELAND'S ORATIONS.

Leads Him Into Flowery Paths He Trod So Often Before.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The speech of Grover Cleveland, at the dinner given by Henry Villard Thursday, has just been made public. He said in part:

If we see nothing in our victory but a license to revel in partisan spoils we shall fail at every point. If we merely profess to enter upon our work and if we make apparent endeavor to do it as a cover for seeking partisan advantage we shall invite contempt and disgrace.

If we attempt to discharge our duty to the people without complete party harmony in patriotic action we shall demonstrate our incompetency. I thank God that far above all doubts and misgivings we may constantly see the lights of hope and safety. Let us not be misled to our undoing by other lights of false Democracy, which may be kindled in broken faith, and which, shining in hypocrisy, will, if followed, lure us to the rocks of failure and disgrace.

My belief in our principles and my faith in our party constitute my trust that we shall answer the expectations of our countrymen and shall raise high aloft the standard of true Democracy to fix the gaze for many years to come of a prosperous, a happy and a contented people.

STORM IN BALTIMORE.

Considerable Damage to Shipping and Buildings.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 19.—A severe hurricane visited Port of Baltimore yesterday, causing considerable damage to vessels, property and buildings along the border.

The new grain elevator of the Northern Central Railway Company at Boston, known as No. 3, was so badly strained that all the employes left the building thinking it would collapse.

The storm also caused a collision between the Norwegian fruit steamer Halquin and the Weems' line steamer Lancaster, causing considerable damage to each steamer.

The barge Dunkee was wrecked off Poplar Island during the storm. She was in tow of a tug and loaded with lumber. Several other accidents to small steamers are reported.

THE W.C.T.U.

Want the Workingmen to Aid Them in World's Fair Matters.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 19.—Mrs. F. H. Ingals of the W.C.T.U. appeared before the delegates bearing Miss Willard's letter. She presented to the convention a petition which she is circulating prohibiting the sale of liquor on the World's Fair grounds, the closing of the exhibition on Sunday and the prohibition of the liquor and opium traffic and the abolition of smoking rooms on sleeping cars. Mr. Powderly, on behalf of the order, assured her that the petition would receive attention and the national W.C.T.U. informed of such action as was taken.

Over Two Miles of Flames.

WASHINGTON, Pa., Nov. 19.—A field covered with waste oil, two and a half miles north of this place, has taken fire from a passing train and there is a big fire burning. A big gang of men are fighting the flames to keep them from several 30,000 barrel tanks of oil belonging to the Southwestern Railway pipe line.

AT BAY FOR TWO HOURS.

BOILING WATER AND RED HOT IRONS USED.

Lively Scene At An Eviction in Ireland. The Bailiffs Had to Fight Their Way from Room to Room—Several Men Burned and Scalded in the Attack.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—The Cork correspondent of The Times describes an eviction near Kanturk.

The sheriff's party and 20 policemen went to evict Caretaker Murphy. They found the crops trampled down, the trees in the orchard uprooted and the houses barricaded.

The inmates kept the party at bay for two hours with red hot irons and boiling water.

The bailiffs having finally effected an entrance, had to fight their way from room to room, eventually succeeded in arresting 8 persons. Several of the bailiffs and policemen were burned and scalded.

REVENGEFUL CHINESE.

They Drag a Bishop Through the Streets and Nearly Kill Him.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—The Standard's Shanghai correspondent gives Bishop Hughes' account of a Chinese attack made at Ngantinghsien, Shenhi, in August, upon him and an Englishman belonging to the French Franciscan mission.

The bishop says that in revenge for his attempt to get redress for a former outrage, a horde of fanatics dragged him through a public street, and then after stoning him, left him for dead. The local officials took steps to punish the ringleaders, but unless the European governments act with vigor there will be no safety for Europeans in China away from the treaty ports.

ITCHING AND SCALY

Skin Disease 9 Years. Doctors and Medicines Useless. Cured by Cuticura for $4.75.

I feel it is my duty to tell you my experience with your CUTICURA REMEDIES. I have been troubled for over nine years with a dreadful skin disease. When I first felt it, there appeared a few small red spots on my breast, and it kept on spreading slowly. It started the same on my back, between my shoulders. A few days after the spots turned gray, and began itching. Small scales would fall off, so it continued spreading all over my body. I tried all the patent medicines I could think of, or get hold of. I also consulted doctors. Yes, they would cure me in a short time, but they always failed. Then I gave it all up, thinking there was no cure for me. Some few months ago, I noticed your advertisement in the Tacoma Morning Globe, thought I would try the CUTICURA REMEDIES, not thinking it would do me much good, but to my surprise, three boxes of CUTICURA, one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, and three bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT cured me entirely. My skin is now as white and pure as that of a child. I send my photograph. I have many friends in Chicago, Ill., and St. Paul, Minn.

WENT TO A COW STABLE

TO ATTEND TO THE MILKING AND WAS KILLED.

Her Nose Had Been Crushed With a Club—subjected to a Frightful Ordeal Before Death—She Was Fifty Years of Age and a Widow.

BRADFORD, Pa., Nov. 21.—Mrs. Lucette Crossmire of Farmers' Valley, this county, was cruelly murdered last night.

She went to a cow stable to do the milking. After a long time, swinging from a cross-beam at the end of a rope in the stable, her dead body was found.

The rope was tied about her neck and her feet were resting on the floor. Her nose had been crushed by a blow from a club. There were bruises on her head and face, and in other ways she had been subjected to a frightful ordeal before death came to her relief.

The indications are that she was milking a cow when she was attacked, choked helpless and then pounded with a club, the murderer subsequently hanging the dead body in a clumsy effort to give the case the appearance of a suicide.

The woman was 50 years of age and a widow. She owned two large farms and had a large bank account.

HAD A BIG SALARY.

But It Did Not Last Long, Because the P. O. Clerks Were Surprised.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Nov. 21.—Early in November a handsomely dressed prepossessing looking young woman, giving the name of McMaster, engaged board with Mrs. Grobb of this city. She rented post-office box 22 and was soon in receipt of upwards of 200 letters a week.

The large amount of mail she received excited comment among the clerks. Light was thrown on the matter recently by an envelope which bore the words "Louisiana State Lottery." The young woman was interviewed by a detective and to him she stated that she had been hired by James G. Clark & Co. of Montreal to carry on a correspondence for them.

Her work consisted in making entries from letters received in answer to a proposition asking parties to act as agents for the Louisiana State lottery. She stated that she was not aware that her employers were conducting an illegal business.

She was paid something over $1000 a year for the work she did, and her remittances came promptly each week. The postmaster has refused to deliver any more mail addressed to her. Other developments are expected to follow.

THE CARON CASE.

Mr. Edgar Wrote That He Had No Intention of Going to Quebec.

QUEBEC, Nov. 21.—Saturday morning the Caron Commission met in the court house, Hon. Judges Routhier and Tait presiding. A letter was read from Mr. Edgar stating that he had no other witnesses to produce, and that he had no intention of coming to Quebec.

Mr. Archibald, advocate, was present to represent the Government, and Mr. C. Pentland, Q.C., represented Sir A. P. Caron.

The commissioners after communicating the contents of Mr. Edgar's letter adjourned the court.

HIS RELEASE PROBABLE.

Chas. Luckey's Counsel Says Unexpected Evidence Has Been Secured.

SMITH'S FALLS, Nov. 21.—J. R. Lavel, counsel for Chas. Luckey, who is in jail awaiting trial on a charge of murdering his father, mother and sister, says Luckey still protests his innocence of the crime of which he is charged, and tells a very straight story of his actions and whereabouts after he left the Central Prison.

Mr. Lavel says that his story has been corroborated by outside and wholly unexpected evidence. He says the prisoner has become quite cheerful and spends his time in reading.

THE C.P.R. SHORT LINE.

Significant Evidence Concerning the New Road Along the Niagara River.

TORONTO, Nov. 21.—If any further evidence were needed that the so-called electric road on the Canadian side of the Niagara River is simply a branch of the Canadian Pacific, the fact that the tracks are of the standard gauge and the grading has been done without putting in the underground wires necessary, if electricity were to be used, would furnish it.

There is every indication that it will be a steam road and that connections will probably be made with the Grand Trunk for Chicago. A connection has already been arranged north of Clifton for freight, and Grand Trunk cars are in use in the construction of the road. The bridge over the whirlpool canyon is a powerfully built structure suitable for a steam railroad, and the same is true of those at the Cedar Islands. It is simply a Canadian Pacific short line from Buffalo to Toronto, and the elegant new palace steamer which the Niagara Navigation Co. have ordered for next season's business will connect with the new road at Queenston for Toronto.

Kicked by a Horse.

TORONTO, Nov. 21.—James Currie, who lives at 127 Hamilton-street, and works for Contractor Van Vlack putting down granite setts at the corner of Queen-street and Logan avenue, this morning was kicked by a farmer's horse and the scalp was torn away to the extent of about three inches. Currie was carried into Dr. Rowan's drug store where his wound was attended to, ten stitches being put in the wound. He was removed to his home.

AMERICAN FISHERMEN

ATTEMPT TO KNIFE CITIZENS OF OF HALIFAX.

A Policeman Fights the Ruffians and is Stabbed in the Neck at His Post—Fear of the Fishermen and the Captain Arrested.

HALIFAX, Nov. 21.—A deadly assault was made on Officer Louis McKerson last night by seven American fishermen. The men drew knives on a number of citizens, when the officer, single-handed and alone, made for them.

They kicked him, knocked him down and drew their knives.

Several military police came to the officer's assistance and two of the men were arrested.

Both arrested fishermen were covered with blood.

Policeman McKerson was stabbed in the back of his neck.

Four of the fishermen were arrested this afternoon. They were taken from the hold of the Gloucester schooner Maggie by seven policemen.

The captain of the Maggie was arrested this afternoon.

All the accused will be arraigned Monday for preliminary examination, the charge against them being "attempting to kill."

CAUGHT A LORD.

A New York Belle to Be Married to One Of Dufferin's Sons.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—The Herald says: During the judging of high jumping at the Madison Square Garden Saturday evening I noticed a sudden commotion in some of the most fashionable areas boxes on the upper side.

A beautiful young lady seemed to be the centre of the excitement, and making my way into the throng I was told that Miss Flora Davis had just announced her engagement to Lord Terence John Temple Blackwood, the second son of the famous Marquis of Ava and Dufferin.

Miss Davis for three seasons has been one of the acknowledged belles of New York. She is the daughter of Mr. John H. Davis, a rich Wall-street banker and a widower.

Miss Davis is of medium height, with a wealth of blonde hair, blue eyes and an exquisite figure. She readily lends herself to the art of the couturiere.

The bridegroom has not been here since his father as Earl Dufferin was Governor-General of Canada, when the Hon. Mr. Blackwood, as Lord Blackwood was known then, was quite a small boy.

He made his prospective bride's acquaintance last summer, when with her father Miss Davis made a long stop in London during the season.

No date has yet been fixed for the wedding, but Lord Blackwood's arrival here is expected very soon.

THE HOMESTEAD STRIKE OFF.

The Beaver Falls Men Give Up the Struggle at Last.

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Nov. 21.—At 4 o'clock yesterday the strike at the Carnegie mills was declared off by the three lodges of the Amalgamated Association, after being in secret session all of the day. The men left the lodge rooms in a body and marched to the mill a mile distant. Man after man made application for work, and in less than an hour over a hundred had been enrolled. They were all notified that the mill would start Monday morning at 7 o'clock and all who were reinstated to be on hand.

The streets of the town were thronged with jubilant people; the men themselves feel as happy as anybody and are being congratulated on all sides. About 600 men are employed by the Carnegie Company at this place.

HIS NECK BROKEN.

A Dunsford Farmer Thrown Out of His Rig While Turning Out.

LINDSAY, Ont., Nov. 21.—Patrick Meehan, a farmer about 70 years of age, living near Dunsford, was killed Saturday night about a mile and a half east of here.

The old gentleman on his way home from town turned out on a culvert to let a team pass and the wheels of his buggy dropped over the edge, upsetting the rig, pitching Mr. Meehan out and breaking his neck.

A young lady occupant of the rig was also thrown out, but was not hurt and very pluckily stopped the horses before further damage was done.

Chicago to Have a Labor Temple.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—The Building Trades Council of Chicago has decided to build a "Labor Temple," to cost $250,000. The building will be erected by a stock company, with shares at $5, not more than 20 shares to be issued to one person, payments on the shares to be made monthly. The temple will include a large hall for mass meetings and dancing, large and small lodge halls for the various unions, restaurant, gymnasium, baths, library, smoking rooms, etc. No bar will be allowed.

Western Cattlemen Protest.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 21.—Cattle breeders of Manitoba and the Northwest are in session here to arrange with the Government regarding an exhibit of Northwest ranch cattle at the World's Fair, and also to get the Government to officially announce that Northwest cattle are entirely free from disease of any sort. They will also request the Dominion Government to refrain from admitting United States cattle duty free to be slaughtered for export or put up as canned meats.

Robbing Indian Graves.

BELLEVILLE, Nov. 21.—Body-snatchers have been at work on the Tyendinaga reserve. On Sunday night last the body of Abraham Maracle, who was buried on the previous Tuesday, was stolen from its grave. The deceased was a prominent member of the Mohawks. The authorities will investigate the case. The Indians are asking for the erection of a vault.

Toronto Sailor Brought in Dead.

ESCANABA, Mich., Nov. 21.—Steamer Iron Age and Consort came in yesterday to land the body of John Wright, a seaman, who was caught in a rope by jibing of foresail, and died before he could be reached. He was a Canadian and leaves a widow in Toronto.

600 Barrels Adrift.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—Oil barrels in large numbers have been found floating off Orient Point, near Green Port, L.I. They are supposed to be part of the cargo of some vessel which has foundered at sea. Some of the barrels are consigned to Halifax, N.S., and are full of oil.

CHICAGO DOCTOR.

[illegible] Nov. 21. [illegible] many cases from Chicago [illegible] brave conduct of a young [illegible] formerly a resident of [illegible] well known to many people [illegible] besides of the adventure [illegible] McMeekin, daughter of Captain [illegible] McMeekin, who [illegible] in Cranston-street.

[illegible] and when it is [illegible] Chicago, with her mother and her brother, had a startling experience.

On the night in question Miss McMeekin retired between 9 and 10 o'clock and was soon fast asleep. About 3 o'clock in the morning she was awakened by the feeling that some one was in the room with her, and opening her eyes she was horrified to see a man's eyes peering down into hers. The young lady endeavored to rise, but the burglar held her down and tried to kiss her.

"If you make any noise I'll kill you," he said.

Only Wanted to Kiss Her.

Miss McMeekin paid no attention to the man's admonition. She began to yell at the top of her voice, and at the same time struggled to free herself from the grasp of the intruder. He was a powerful fellow, and, twisting the young lady's wrists until they seemed to be on the point of dislocation, he said again:

"I'll kill you if you don't keep quiet." And then he added: "What's the use of struggling; I only want to kiss you."

By this time the young lady's screams had aroused the house, and hearing the noise of people moving in the adjoining rooms, the burglar desisted in his escalatory endeavors and bolted. Miss McMeekin sprang out of bed and started in pursuit. The formality of dressing was dispensed with.

Attired in her night dress, and without shoes or stockings, the plucky girl followed the burglar. Down stairs went the intruder, with Miss McMeekin after him, three steps at a time, yelling like a Comanche and awakening the whole house. In the yard she caught him, but her strength was not sufficient to hold the fellow until help arrived and he broke away and dashed out into the street.

Chased the Burglar.

Then began one of the greatest "sprints" for a short distance ever chronicled in West Side annals. The intruder started toward Jackson boulevard on Peoria-street, the young lady after him, bearing a striking resemblance to a recently-awakened Galatea, and half scaring the wits out of two or three belated pedestrians.

At Jackson boulevard the man turned west, and for two blocks the young lady followed him. Then her strength gave out and she desisted.

Heroine of a Previous Adventure.

This is not Miss McMeekin's first experience with a burglar. About a year ago, while on her way home one evening, a thief snatched her pocketbook from her hand and ran. Miss Florence skipped out after him, and after chasing him for about four blocks, seized and held on to him until help arrived.

The young lady—she is only 18—is unusually quiet and gentle in manner and disposition, and a universal favorite among her companions for her amiable character, but out of her clear eyes the indications of a fearless spirit flash.

A STATION RAIDED.

A Sham Fight That Did Take Place on Thanksgiving Day.

TORONTO, Nov. 21.—Magistrate J. M. Wingfield held a preliminary investigation into the charge of wrecking Humber Station on Thanksgiving Day preferred against Sergt. John Quinney and Corp. Aubrey Dangerfield of the Royal Grenadiers. The evidence of the dozen witnesses called by County Crown Attorney Dewart went to show that members of the three city regiments were concerned in the fracas. A man whose identity is uncertain ran into the station about 2 o'clock on the day mentioned and looked himself in. He was pursued by a number of volunteers who surrounded the station and proceeded to do their utmost to effect an entrance by way of the door, windows and up through the floor. A young lady was in the station at the time but the door opened from the inside and the soldiers respectfully allowed her to pass.

County Constable Gibson was soon on the scene but was used very roughly by the soldiers, so he says. He charged Quinney with drawing a bayonet, and states that he himself had to draw a revolver for protection. There was a large pool of blood on the floor after the soldiers left. The extent of the damages claimed by the Grand Trunk was $12.77½.

The two volunteers charged were committed for trial, Quinney being released on $200 bail by W. Hornshaw, and Dangerfield on $200 by Joseph Bell.

A WINE FRAUD.

How He Successfully Worked Several Hotelkeepers in Canada.

TORONTO, Nov. 21.—A stranger registering as "H. C. Carroll, Boston," and claiming to be a representative of a liquor house in Buffalo, has succeeded in playing a smart game on a number of hotelkeepers in various Canadian cities. His latest exploit was at Stratford. He registered at the Albion Hotel, and after ordering from a cooper 18 five-gallon kegs he called on the hotels with samples of various wines. As the prices were advantageous and the samples good he received large orders. The following morning he got six of the kegs, and with the assistance of a pump proceeded to manufacture the wine, the component parts of which have since been found to consist of some coloring and flavoring matter and a good quantity of water. Carroll then pasted on the head of each keg an express company label. He succeeded in realizing on several orders before the fraud was exposed. He fled before he could be arrested.

Railway Official Robbed.

QUEBEC, Nov. 21.—While one of the officials at the railway station at River DuLoup was counting his money last night preparatory to sending it away, a stranger entered the office, struck him a violent blow in the face, knocking him down and stunning him. The stranger then made his escape with about $1000 and is still at liberty.

A PRETTY COBOURG WEDDING

The Sentinel-Star contains the following account of a fashionable Cobourg wedding in which Miss Mulholland, of Peterborough, attended the charming bride, who is well known here. The Star says: Rev. J. Hay, B. A., of the Presbyterian church, officiated at a marriage ceremony on Wednesday morning when the nuptial knot was tied which made one Miss Maida Fisher, daughter of Mr. John Fisher, registrar of the Surrogate Court, one of our most popular and accomplished young ladies, and Mr. R. H. Little, merchant of Lisle, Ont. The ceremony was performed at "Springbank, the residence of the bride's father, in the presence of the relatives of the contracting parties at 9 o'clock a.m. The palatial residence was profusely strewn with chrysanthmeums in all their beauty of shade and colour, and hosts of other pretty decorations. The bride was attended by Miss Mulholland, of Peterborough, and Miss Hazel Gowans, niece of the bride, as maid of honour; the bridegroom was ably supported by Mr. D. Magill, of Creemore. The bride was tastefully costumed in a light tweed travelling gown, trimmed with shot silk and fur. On the conclusion of the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at which the usual felicitations were expressed and good wishes extended. The bridal couple left on the 11:20 express for the east, carrying with them the best wishes of hosts of friends for a long, happy and useful life.

FEEDING ON PROSPECTS.

Cobourg citizens, as voiced through the columns of the newspapers of that burg, are living in high hopes that the proposed new railway, the Cobourg, Northumberland & Pacific Ry., of which Mr. R. Mulholland, Peterborough, is president, will revive their waning industrial and commercial interests, and throw them in an era of unprecedented prosperity. The El Dorado of their hopes and ambitions is almost in their grasp, according to the Sentinel-Star. It has the following roseate prognostications to offer:—

"Those interested in our new railway enterprise will be glad to know that the prospects for an early adjustment of all existing difficulties are of the brightest character. Last Thursday was the last day for the reception of tenders for the construction of the road. We understand that only one tender has been received, and the tenderers are not prepared to put up a cash deposit. However, a large firm of contractors who are closely connected with C.P.R. interests, are now preparing an estimate, and inside of three or four days an offer will be made, satisfactory in every respect, and cannot fail of being accepted. It is likely that during the coming winter the right of way will be purchased, the final surveys made, and gangs of men put in the woods along the line to get out ties."

FUNERAL REFORM

The suggestion of ex-President Bellegham of the Undertakers' Association, in his annual address to that body, is bearing fruit and receiving the endorsation of level headed men, Rev. J. S. Ross, of Woodstock, has been writing to the newspapers about the long waits incident to funerals. He suggests that no funeral notice should be printed "without two different times being mentioned, and (to give an illustration) should read: 'Service at the house at 2 p.m.; funeral at 2.30.' This would be an advantage in all weathers, but especially now that the winter season is setting in. Where only one hour is mentioned it means that the religious service will begin at that time, despite the fact that the word 'funeral' is used, for to begin half an hour earlier with no public notice of the fact would mean that no neighbor would be present, and would be a slight to the dead." The idea is good.

Dr. Butler's Golden Pills have earned a great reputation wherever employed. As a nerve tonic and blood builder they are unrivalled. They increase the appetite and promote a healthy performance of all the functions of the body. A thoroughly scientific preparation, they never fail to effect a cure if directions are faithfully carried out. Nothing harmful in their composition. The most delicate system will be benefitted. Ask for Dr. Butler's Golden Pills and take no others.

THEIR gentle action and good effect on the system really make them a perfect little pill. They please those who use them. Carter's Little Liver Pills may well be termed "Perfection." dw

A POPULAR ACTOR.

A popular American actor recently wrote from Toronto to the proprietors of Harvard Bronchial Syrup, informing them of the fact that he had occasion during the last five years to test a number of cough remedies for sore throat, irritation of the tonsils and bronchial affections; and has now come to the conclusion that the Harvard Bronchial Syrup is the most effective and reliable on this continent.

This gentleman says that in his travels from place to place he always carries a supply with him for any emergency, and has always met with quick relief when the Harvard was used.

Our Canadian people cannot have a better friend during the changeable weather of autumn and winter. Colds are taken quickly even when great care is exercised. These colds should be banished as soon as they appear, as there is great danger in neglect. One twenty-five cent bottle will frequently banish several attacks.

Cures Others

Will cure You, is a true statement of the action of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, when taken for diseases originating in impure blood; but, while this assertion is true of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, as thousands can attest, it cannot be truthfully applied to other preparations, which unprincipled dealers will recommend, and try to impose upon you, as "just as good as Ayer's." Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla and Ayer's only, if you need a blood-purifier and would be benefited permanently. This medicine, for nearly fifty years, has enjoyed a reputation, and made a record for cures, that has never been equalled by other preparations. AYER'S Sarsaparilla eradicates the taint of hereditary scrofula and other blood diseases from the system, and it has, deservedly, the confidence of the people.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

"I cannot forbear to express my joy at the relief I have obtained from the use of AYER'S Sarsaparilla. I was afflicted with kidney troubles for about six months, suffering greatly with pains in the small of my back. In addition to this, my body was covered with pimply eruptions. The remedies prescribed failed to help me. I then began to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla, and, in a short time, the pains ceased and the pimples disappeared. I advise every young man or woman, in case of sickness resulting from impure blood, no matter how long standing the case may be, to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla."—H. L. Jarmann, 33 William st., New York City.

MR. COLLINS' LETTER AND THE PRIZE PUMPKINS.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I had not intended writing anything further in connection with the "prize pumpkins", if the officious official secretary of the Peterborough Central Exhibiiton had not aired his eloquence and usual unfairness in your issue of Thursday last. In reference to my character, "ability and honesty," I will not trouble your readers further than to say that those who know me best would be sorry to see or read a testimonial over Mr. Collins' signature, as such an "endorsement" would not raise my credit very much in the community, nor purchase many reaping machines. I believe I can manage to exist without his help, and leave him fulfil the functions prescribed for him by the Times. When I first addressed the press on this subject, I believed a mistake had been made and that it would be rectified—which doubtless would have been done had the directors not been misled by the officious secretary. Mr. Collins charged me with assailing Mr. Payne's character. I did nothing of the kind. Mr. Collins himself was the first to cast a slur, on him by stating to the directors that his book was so mixed up that neither "head nor tail" could not be made of it, and suggested the appointment of a new judge to do the work over again. I am informed by a responsible person whose word I would accept in preference to that of Mr. Collins', that the second judge was appointed in Mr. Collins' presence, and not, as he states, so innocently "when he was up town." It is complimentary to Mr. Payne to have the person who condemned his book in language unfit for publication, rush now to defend him. To the ordinary reader it will doubtless appear peculiar. Facts bear out the inference that Mr. Payne's book could not have been so bad when, on Mr. Collins' recommendation, the judges accepted the first book as being superior to the second judge's work. The simple truth is that the secretary deceived the directors by stating that the first book was badly bungled when it did not suit him, and when the second judge awarded the prizes and they did not suit him so well, he recommended the directors to act on the first judge's award instead of the second, and in their innocence and hurry (without an examination of the books, which were not produced at the board meeting when asked for) adopted the sapient secretary's suggestion and took the first. I openly say that the first judge's decision was unfair to my pumpkins and I am satisfied to leave the matter to three fair; minded farmers. I only blame the directors for accepting and acting upon Mr. Collins' representations before investigating and finding out their accuracy or, rather, inaccuracy. Had they carefully looked into the matter much of the trouble that has arisen over this matter would have been avoided. It is not the value of the prize in question that I care for, it is the feeling that I did not receive justice in the matter of the awarding of the prize away from my pumpkins, which were the larger, as any one who has made a comparison between my pumpkins and those of Mr. Garbutt, which have been in Grafton & Co.'s shop windows for some time can attest.

Yours truly,
A. FAIRBAIRN.

Emaciated People Grow Fat.

Do you sometimes feel as though your vital energy was sinking, and that you needed some powerful agency to recuperate it? Do you sometimes long for stimulants to brace you up? That is the time to take "Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil," because it contains life-giving principles through its power to create flesh and blood. By taking it according to directions emaciated and enfeebled people have been known to actually grow fat at the rate of from five to ten pounds per bottle consumed. In big bottles 50c. and $1, at all drug stores. dw

MILLIONS USED IN ROBBERY.

Rev. John Hogg, a Presbyterian minister of Winnipeg, in a sermon preached on Thanksgiving day, declared "the darkest cloud that hangs over our land is the corruption that vitiates the whole political atmosphere. What are free institutions worth when their very existence has passed into the hands of a gang of political tricksters who scruple at no base act to win or retain power? We call ourselves free, but the set of corruptionists who run the political machine are our masters. It is given on good authority that 35 per cent. of the electorate of the United States can be bought at a price ranging from $2 to $5. In some parts of Canada very likely the proportion of voters who dishonor their franchise will be found even larger. It is on such material that corruptionists operate. Before every election immense sums of money are raised to debauch the electorate, and so turn liberty into a curse as it is by fraud turned into a means of oppression. Open your eyes and search over the nations and see if there is any civilized nation on the face of the earth that has a government made up of men who are in league with contractors who do the county's work to rob the treasury, and out of the results of such robbery form a gigantic corruption fund to debauch the country and to destroy every vestige of liberty. You will see nothing like it out of Canada. We have been dragged down into the mire of the deepest degradation by political tricksters, who have used millions of the people's money to rob the people of their liberties. And as if this were not enough, they entered into a conspiracy with certain classes of the community according to which legislation would be enacted as would enable them to charge for their wares more than they were worth, with the same corrupt motive in view, a part of the spoils to go to keep the Government in power which enabled them to rob the public. It is a sickening story of unpatriotic selfishness. Were it not for the conviction that God reigns, and that there is a day of retribution coming for political rascals, one might get discouraged and let the country go to the dogs."

Only Three Days More.

The big sale of books at almost gift prices now going on at the Peterborough Bookstore will continue only three days longer. There was a great rush for these wonderfully cheap books on Saturday, but there is a considerable number left which must be run off within the next three days. Think of 75 cent books for 25c; $1.00 books for 40 cents; $1.25 books for 50 cents. All good bindings; all good authors; all big bargains. Only three days more—call now.

The Last Appearance.

The Harry Lindley Company appeared at the opera house on Saturday evening to an overflowing house. The Indian drama "On the Frontier" was well presented, the characters being ably personated and the plot and play humorous and interesting. During the week's engagement here the company have been greeted with packed houses every night. Mr. E. P. Lewis announced on Saturday night that so well did Peterborough please them, the company would be here in the spring and play another week with an interesting new repertoire.

Rev. Ghosn el Howie.

Onward has the following to say of Rev. Ghosn el Howie who will deliver a series of lectures in the opera house, Nov. 26th, 27th and 28th:—

Onward, of Jan. 9, 1892, says: "If any of our Sunday Schools, Churches or Leagues desire interesting lectures on Bible Lands and Customs, they will find the Rev. Ghosn B. Howie an admirable lecturer on these subject. Dr. Howie was born in Mt. Lebannon, Palestine. . . Before he lost his sight he travelled extensively in his native land, and since then he has obtained the degrees of Masters of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy. His numerous lectures treat of the geography, customs, commerce and habits of the East, the position of women, marriage customs, and the like. Dr. Howie wears, while lecturing, the Oriental costume, and gives specimens of Eastern songs. He is an instructive lecturer, an attractive and interesting teacher, and an excellent preacher. Dr. Howie has strong testimonials to his character as a Christian gentleman from Rev. Dr. Johnston, Rev. Geo. Bishop, Chairman of Toronto East District, and other of our ministers."

On Saturday the 26th, Dr. Howie will deliver an interesting address to the Sunday school children of the town in the opera house at 3 o'clock.

A Sweeping Hardware Sale.

To-morrow, Nov. 22nd, Messrs. Kingan & Co. begin a genuine clearing sale. They are about removing into new premises and their shelves must be cleared of their present splendid stock before New Year's. Prices will be made to serve this end, for the firm would rather sell their stock than pack it away in cases, since it is not expected their new premises will be ready when they have to leave the present ones. Therefore the stock must be cleared from the shelves, and there will be a slaughter of prices in every line. Remember this sweeping removal sale means a crushing reduction in prices all round. Go to Kingan's for bargains in every line of hardware. This is the first clearing sale that has ever been held by this firm in their nearly half a century of business carried on at the present stand, which they are now vacating to occupy the premises now occupied by Mr. T. Kelly, corner of George and Simcoe streets.

What folly! To be without BEECHAM'S PILLS.

LAST NIGHT'S BLAZE.

An Old Landmark on Hunter Street is Badly Gutted.

An alarm of fire was sounded at 1.20 o'clock this morning calling the fire brigade out to squelch a blaze in an old roughcast house on Hunter street, next to the Carew House. The premises were all in a blaze when the firefighters received the alarm, and owing to the dry material of the structure the flames made rapid progress. The firemen succeeded in putting out the fire in short order, and had to use their axes to chop holes in the roof in order to get at the flames which found a refuge in a cupboard under the stairway. Here was where the fire evidently started and it ran up the inside walls which were a perfect nest for it. The firemen having extinguished the last spark returned to the hall but were called out again at three o'clock to play a stream upon the ruins which had become re-ignited. The residence is badly gutted and of very little use as a tenement house now. Mr. Cornelius Halpin, owner, estimates his loss at $12,000, insured. The house which is about 45 years old, is one of the oldest landmarks in Peterborough, It was known and run as the Royal Oak Hotel about six years ago, for a long period by Mrs. Barbino, now of Seattle, W.T. Mrs. Buller, who has occupied it for some months, only moved out a few weeks ago, hence the structure was tenantless at the time of the fire.

The Celebration Committee appointed by St. Andrew's Society to make preparations for the annual dinner of St. Andrew's Society have completed arrangements with Mr. Lackie for the holding of the Scothmen's great spread at the Grand Central Hotel on Wednesday evening, November 30th.

Officers to be Nominated.

The nomination of officers for the Catholic Association takes place this evening. The election will occur in a week from to-night.

The nomination of officers in the C.M.B.A. will take place Wednesday night. The election will occur in three weeks.

The Forester's Concert.

The committee of Court St. Peter, Catholic Order of Forester's, are diligently employed completing arrangements for the grand concert to be given under the auspices of the court in Bradburn's Opera House, on Tuesday evening Dec. 6th. A splendid programme is being completed, and the concert will be abundantly worthy of the liberal patronage it will doubtless receive.

Buying Large Quantities of Apples.

Mr. John Kincaid has opened out on Water street next to the office of Mr. James Stevenson and is buying large quantities of apples from farmers. Mr. Kincaid has paid out $1,200 to the farmers within a circuit of twelve miles. He has shipped four carloads to Montreal per C. P. R. and is preparing to ship two more. The price paid ranges from $1 to $1.40 per barrel according to the grade.

A Coming Great Attraction.

The Armstrong Concert Company will give a grand concert at the opera house here on December 8th. The company is a well known musical organization and has delighted many select audiences by its signal musical ability. The family consists of Miss Ethel Armstrong, the juvenile violinist, a fine female soprano, an elocutionist of no mean order, and a cultured gentleman violinist. They promise a rare treat to those who attend.

Last Sad Rites.

The remains of the late Mr. F. E. Burnham, whose death was announced in Saturday's EXAMINER were interred at West Superior, Wisconsin, yesterday. A telegram to Mr. Cluxton states that Mrs. Burnham and daughter are staying with the rector of the Anglican church in that city. They will leave for Peterborough this week. Owing to the terrible western blizzard which swept everything to ruin in the western states, telegraphic communication was temporarily intercepted and the tidings of Mr. Burnham's death did not reach here until 24 hours after it happened. Hence none of the relatives here were able to attend the last sad rites.

Tenders for Snow Ploughing.

The Fire, Water and Light Committee met on Saturday night to consider the tenders for the snow ploughing of the northern and southern portions of the town. The committee will report to the council as soon as final arrangements are made with the tenderers. There were 15 tenders in all. The following tenders were received for the southern district: Wm. Breckenridge, $87.50; Michael Bolton, $90; Thos. Crowly, $94.50; Thos. Rehill, $98; George Henry, $125; Wm. Miller, $140; Isaac Guerin, $200. The following tenders were received for the northern district; John Hobin, $80; John Fawcett, $135; John Parnell, $148; Thos. Lytle, $150; M. O'Donnell, $175; Geo. Stevens, $250; Thos. McDonald, $250.

BIBLES! PRAYER BOOKS! HYMN BOOKS!

The Peterborough Bookstore received on Saturday, direct from the publishers in Scotland and England, the largest shipments of Bibles and Prayer Books ever brought to Peterborough. They are gotten up in all manner of styles. An inspection will convince you of the benefit of buying where you have variety of styles to choose from. In Church of England and Roman Catholic Prayer Books and combination cases we have a great variety of new designs. Bear in mind that we stamp, free of charge, your name in gold letters on all books purchased from us.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I am informed that the men employed in the G. T. This change removes from Peterborough about fifteen families. Could not the mayor and council do something to prevent this? These families are desirable to keep here, and if anything can be done to prevent their removal from Peterborough, it should be promptly done.

Yours very truly,

CHURCH CHIMES.

A parochial meeting of St. Luke's church will be held on Tuesday evening for the formation of a parish guild.

An excellent trio was rendered in the Y.M.C.A. rooms at last night's meeting by Messrs. Steers, Squire, and Wesley.

Collections in the interest of the Augmentation fund of the Presbyterian church were taken up yesterday in St. Paul's church.

Rev. Dr. Goldsmith preached an impressive and helpful discourse in St. Paul's church last evening from St. Matthew iv, 1st verse.

Next Sunday being Advent Sunday Mr. C. W. Hedley, of Trinity University, Toronto, will conduct the services in St. Luke's church.

Rev. Geo. Edwards in the Charlotte street Methodist church yesterday vigorously denounced the liquor, tobacco and opium habit.

At the service in St. Paul's church last evening the choir rendered a beautiful anthem entitled "From Egypt's Bondage Come." It was given in fine style.

Rev. Mr. Edwards in the Charlotte street church last evening began a series of sermons on "The Life of Jonah." These sermons will be continued each Sunday evening.

A social and entertainment will be given under the auspices of the Mission Band in the Park street Baptist Mission on Thursday evening. A good programme has been prepared.

Mr. Albert Hamilton addressed the Saturday night meeting at the Y.M.C.A. The attendance was large, The number of young men who attend these meetings is constantly on the increase.

Sheriff Hall addressed the Sunday night meeting at the Y.M.C.A. rooms. The audience was large and the words spoken practical ones. It was a gospel talk to young men and young women.

Rev. Father McColl, of Enniskmore, will deliver a special charity sermon in St. Peter's cathedral next Sunday evening in the interest of the St. Vincent de Paul Society. Musical vespers by the choir will also be sung.

Rev. Mr. Symonds, of St. Luke's church, preached two very appropriate sermons yesterday in honor of the close of the ecclesiastical year. In the morning he spoke from the words "Grow in Grace," and in the evening "The Lord our Righteousness."

Rev. Mr. Goldsmith in St. Paul's church last evening announced that all things were favourable now for the recovery of their beloved pastor, Rev. E. F. Torrance. Though still weak from long prostration and suffering yet things were on the bright side at present.

The regular Christian Endeavour meeting of St. Paul's church this evening will take the form of a missionary service. An account of a missionary tour to the Pacific embracing the Sandwich Islands, New Hebrides and Australian missions, will be given.

Yesterday being the last Sunday in Trinity special hymns were sung and special prayers read in St. John's church yesterday. The congregations were quite up to the average. Prayers were offered morning and evening for the recovery of Rev. Mr. Torrance, pastor of St. Paul's church.

Pastor Salmon, of Toronto, conducted two services in the Christian Alliance hall yesterday and one at the Woodbine Mission Asaburnham. The congregations at all were very numerous. Rev. Dr. Zimmerman who has often officiated here removed with his family to Peterborough to-day and took up their residence on Simcoe street in the cottage to the rear of the Montreal Bank.

Rev. David Beatty, a prominent Presbyterian minister, died suddenly of a paralytic stroke on Friday evening. He has been retired from the active ministry for the past few years, but for eight years, in Campbellford, where he died, ministered to an intelligent congregation and endeared himself to all by his kindly manner and Christian character. Mr. Beatty was in the seventieth year of his age.

The services in the George street Methodist church were unusually impressive and interesting. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Locke was assisted in his labours by Messrs. Moore and Corbett, two promising Methodist laymen from Toronto. In the morning Mr. Moore preached and in the evening Mr. Corbett, both discourses being earnest and practical. Both gentlemen addressed the members of the Sunday School in the afternoon and gave splendid missionary addresses from the subject of the lesson, "He preached Jesus unto them." The evangelistic services will be continued during the coming week. At the evangelistic meeting held after the evening service, Messrs. Moore and Corbett took part, as they also did at a largely attended fellowship meeting held at 10 o'clock in the morning.

At St. Andrew's church yesterday morning the Rev. Mr. MacWilliams preached a thanksgiving sermon to a very large congregation. He chose for his text Ephesians v. 20—"Giving thanks always for all things unto God and the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ." He divided the text in four propositions: First, to whom thanks were to be rendered—"God and the Father"; second, when thanks were to be given—"Always"; third for what were we to render thanks—"For all things"; fourth, in what name were we to give thanks—"The name of our Lord Jesus Christ." It is needless to say that the sermon was logical, a keen analysis of the text, and eloquent and that it was listened to with profit and great pleasure. After the sermon the following elders elect were inducted to the sacred office of the eldership. Mr. Wm. Fowler, Mr. Albert Hamilton and Mr. Garrow. The usual questions being put and satisfactorily answered, the Rev. A. MacWilliams addressed both elders and congregation for a short time as to their duty in relation to each other. In the evening the rev. gentleman, continuing his course of sermons on the parables preached a most impressive sermon from the parable of "the Tares," taking as his text Matthew, 13-30, "Let both grow together until the harvest." He announced that next Sunday evening, by request, he would preach to young men.

The music at St. Andrew's church Sunday morning and evening was good, there being a large choir at both services. In the morning they sang "Praise ye the Lord," the Messrs. Jones taking the male duet with fine effect. In the evening the choir sang a Thanksgiving anthem, "O, be Joyful to the Lord," Miss Harris and Miss Denzil, of Toronto Conservatory of Music, taking the solos with good taste and expression. While the collection was being taken up Miss Denzil sang "O Rest in the Lord, Elijah, in a manner that left nothing to be desired. Miss Denzil possesses a pure, rich contralto voice. She is a pupil of the late Madame Sainton Dalby, who was an artist of the highest standing. Miss Denzil since her residence in Canada, has been most successful as a teacher of singing, and held the position of teacher in the Ottawa Ladies' College. She holds fine testimonials, and among them is one from Her Excellency the Lady Stanley of Preston. Miss Clark, organist, who has been absent on account of sickness, took her place as usual, and was welcomed back by all the choir.

THEIR DEEDS DEPOUNCED.

Rev. P. C. Parker Attacks the Morality of Canadian Public Men—Why the Country is not Prosperous.

Rev. P. C. Parker, of the First avenue Baptist church, Toronto, formerly pastor of the Murray street Baptist church Peterborough, preached a vigorous sermon yesterday at Toronto against the misdeeds of public men. Among other things he said:

"The way the Sir Adolphe Caron's indictment had been manipulated was enough to make one blush for his country, and there was no doubt that before long even Sir Hector Langevin, the scapegoat of the Government, would come whitewashed and smiling up again into public life. Men had no consistency in one another. There was not sufficient independent righteousness in any one party to stand out against its own side and if any in the opposite party made a change there was prejudice against it from the beginning. Where would all this thing end?

The Lord had sent us beautiful harvests, but they had not affected the commercial life of the country, and there was no use in mincing matters: the country was commercially bad and there was no hopeful outlook. What was the reason? Why had our few years of beautiful harvests failed to make things better? Undoubtedly, lack of confidence. There was plenty of money in the banks lying idle, but the moneyed men had not sufficient confidence in the commercial men to send their capital circulating through the commercial veins of the country, and thus there was stagnation and lack of prosperity.

"I know," said the pastor, closing, "that what I may say to you may not have much effect, perhaps a little local influence, but I know, and you know, that these are the facts, and we can pray that some Elijah may be raised up that shall stand before those who are most to blame and make them hide their traitorous heads in shame that have so damnably disgraced and sinned against their country and their God."

INJURIOUS OYSTERS.

A Scizure in Toronto of Some Oysters Poisoned by Sewage.

TORONTO, Nov. 19.—Inspector Awde yesterday seized as unfit for food a large quantity of oysters which had been shipped from Baltimore to a wholesale oyster merchant of this city. Some of the oysters had died in transit, and the poison from these dead oysters affected any healthy oysters that were shipped with them.

Thomas Heys, analytical chemist, said: "Cases of the kind are of rare occurrence, but have come under public notice several times in New York. Oysters become poisoned through having been propagated in water which is rank with sewage. In such a case they turn pale green in color and very unhealthy indeed. At one time in New York the scare became so great that the sales of the oyster materially decreased.

"In the case of the oysters seized in Toronto, the poison was probably communicated from the poisoned oysters to the healthy ones by means of the solution in which oysters are usually packed, and which penetrates the shells."

THREE LITTLE GIRLS

Buried Under the Walls of a Wrecked Building.

BROOKLYN, N.Y., Nov. 19.—The gale which prevailed in this city yesterday blew down the walls of a three-story building in course of erection. Three little girls, Sophia and Amelia Gottlieb and Maggie Shubert, who were passing at the time, were buried in the ruins. They were speedily rescued, when it was found that the Gottlieb children had sustained probably fatal injuries.

They were taken to an hospital. The Shubert girl escaped with a few bruises. Three workmen received painful injuries.

Opium Smuggling.

AUBURN, N.Y., Nov. 19.—P. C. Bartlett of St. Paul, Minn., indicted for smuggling opium from Canada, was tried in the United States Court yesterday and acquitted. A man named Johnson, whom Bartlett met in Hamilton, Ont., and accompanied into this country, confessed that he was the only one guilty of smuggling. Sentence in his case was deferred.

Village Destroyed.

DURHAM, Ark., Nov. 19.—A village in Washington, on White River, was totally destroyed by a cyclone at 3 o'clock yesterday. Every house in the town except the schoolhouse was demolished. No lives were lost, but the damage to property is great.

Fished Out of the Canal.

LOCKPORT, N.Y., Nov. 16.—The body of Andrew Rogers was taken from the Erie Canal yesterday morning. Deceased was a well-known resident of this city. It is not known whether or not the drowning was accidental. Some rumors of foul play are current.

Dun, Wiman's Report.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Dun, Wiman & Co.'s weekly review of trade will say:

Business failures during the past seven days number for the United States 205, and for Canada 35, or a total of 240, as compared with totals of 210 last week and 238 the week previous to the last.

For the corresponding week last year the figures were 285, representing 264 in the United States and 31 in Canada.

May be Fresh Explosions.

PARIS, Nov. 19.—The Anarchists here are indignant over the extradition of Francois, who was surrendered to the French authorities by an English magistrate to answer the charge of blowing up the restaurant of M. Very in Paris in April last.

The prefect of police has received a warning that if the decision of the English magistrate is confirmed there will be fresh explosions here. Special threats are made against the British Embassy.

Peary Has the North Pole Fever.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—Lieut. Peary will make another attempt to reach the North Pole. The National Academy of Sciences of Philadelphia, which is planning the exploration of the northern coast of Greenland, has asked a leave of absence of three years for Peary.

Secretary Tracy said yesterday he would not grant it. The Secretary is opposed to polar explorations. If leave should not be granted it is understood Peary will resign his commission as civil engineer in the navy.

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle Free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c. and $1. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption.

For Young or Old.

Children and adults are equally benefitted by the use of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, the new and successful cough remedy. It stops coughs in one night and may be relied on as an effectual remedy for colds, asthma, bronchitis and similar troubles. Price 25 and 50c. at druggists. dw

HERE IS NEWS

JUST NOW OF THE UTMOST IMPORTANCE.

AND IT IS SOMETHING ALL WILL APPRECIATE

Because it is an Honest Opinion.

"Rheumatism and neuralgia are perfectly curable" said one of our most eminent physicians in conversation with the writer. "The only thing necessary is to use the right remedy, and use it persistently."

"But, what is the right remedy, doctor?"

"Well, although, a physician in practice, I must say that the best all round medicine for rheumatism and neuralgia, that is, the remedy which will effect most cures, is the discovery known as Dr. Butler's Golden Pills. I dispense them in my private practice, and have cured many cases with them. One particularly obstinate case was that of a lady, I will call he Mrs. S. Hers was a terrible case. Why, she could hardly move in bed, and had severe pains in her hip and back. Her food would not digest, and gases forming, she suffered fearfully from distension. She used Dr. Butler's Golden Pills, and is now perfectly well again.

Another lady told me she suffered severely with pain in her right side for four months. She was extremely nervous in addition and could not sleep nights. She received no relief what ever until she used Dr. Butler's Golden Pills and now through the curative effects of this medicine, the pain has left her entirely and she is well again.

Then there is the case of Mr. Gowing. He suffered from rheumatism for many years, and nothing seemed to relieve him until he procured Dr. Butler's Golden Pills and now he is able to do his day's work with the best of them. He declared this remedy saved his life and that it is the most wonderful medicine in the world.

It certainly does cure Rheumatism and Neuralgia, concluded the doctor, and I conscientiously consider it the great remedy for nerve and blood diseases, and I prescribe it freely because I know its worth.

I do not class it among patent medicines, because it is the formula of one of our most distinguished physicians, and was placed under the control of the Dr. Butler Medicine Co., of Brockville, for the alleviation in a greater field, of all suffering from nerve and blood diseases.

The Dr. Butler Medicine Co. would add to the above that the suffering public should give their remedy, Golden Pills, a trial, and not go on, week in and week out, consuming other remedies in the vain hope of obtaining a cure. Their remedy is rapid and certain. Try it.

A Pleasant Herb Drink.

The best cure we know of for Constipation and Headache is the pleasant herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine. It is said to be Oregon grape root, combined with simple herbs and is made for use by pouring boiling water on to the dried roots and herbs. It is remarkably efficacious in all blood disorders and is now the sovereign remedy with ladies for clearing up the complexion. Druggists sell the packages at 50c. and $1

Quinsy Cured.

GENTLEMEN,—I used to be troubled with quinsy, having an attack every winter. About five years ago I tried Hagyard's Yellow Oil, applying it inside my throat with a feather. It quickly cured me and I have not since been troubled. I always keep it in the house.

GLADSTONE'S OPINION

Gladstone says: "You know a good deal about the position of an Insurance Company when you know

A KNOTTY QUESTION
Which can only be Solved after Mature Deliberation.

Every father and mother, before buying Boots and Shoes for their children, should hold a consultation together and try and arrive at an answer to the following questions:

1. What kind of boots do we want?
2. Are any to be got that will wear well?
3. Who keeps this kind?
4. Are these people reliable?
5. Can they afford to sell good boots cheap?

Having carefully analyzed these questions to their satisfaction, why not decide to try Gladstone's Escape.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—As Mr. Gladstone was crossing Piccadilly Thursday evening he stepped directly under the heads of a team of horses attached to an omnibus that was swinging around a corner. The driver promptly pulled the horses back upon their haunches.

Mr. Gladstone was walking rapidly, and to this is due the fact that he escaped injury. The horses or the pole struck him a slight blow upon the shoulder. He staggered a short distance, then recovered himself and escaped to the pavement uninjured.

Splitting Hairs.

BERLIN, Nov. 19.—A resolution was introduced into the Socialist Congress yesterday declaring that the social democracy has nothing in common with state socialism.

Among those who spoke in support of the resolution was Steve Leibricht, who declared that the social democracy was revolutionary, while state socialism was conservative. The two, he says, were irreconcilable and antagonistic.

Returned From Balmoral.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—The Queen arrived at Windsor Castle from Balmoral yesterday. She looked to be in the best of health.

An English M.P. Unseated.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—Frank James, Conservative member of Parliament for Walsall, was yesterday unseated by the court on charges of bribery and improper influence by his agents.

Germany's Revenue.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—A Berlin correspondent states that the budget of the German Empire for 1893-4 shows that the revenues and expenditures, estimated in round numbers, will be 1,277,000,000 marks, an increase of 15,000,000 marks over the preceding year.

Another Foreign Canard.

ROME, Nov. 19.—It is denied that the Pope is attempting to establish a representative at Washington.

The Colored Problem.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 19.—Three hundred representative colored men met here yesterday in response to a circular calling on them to memorialize the Legislature on the subject of the wrongs to their race.

Resolutions were adopted for presentation of a memorial to the Legislature protesting against their military companies being excluded from the benefits of the State encampments, demanding first-class accommodations on railroads when first-class fares are charged, and protesting against the lynch law.

The last resolution highly compliments Governor Northey for his part in suppressing attempts at lynching, and while admitting that many negroes have committed heinous crimes, urges that they be legally, not illegally, punished.

Bradstreet's Report.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Mild weather and bad roads throughout Quebec have checked Montreal's sales of drygoods and collections have also suffered. There has been a rush to ship goods to interior Canadian points prior to the close of navigation.

In Ontario the general wholesale trade, while fairly active, does not meet expectations. Jobbers of grocery supplies and hardware report business fair.

Hamilton, Toronto, Montreal and Halifax report bank clearings this week aggregating $25,301,000, or 21 per cent. more than last week, and 36 per cent. more than in the third week of November, 1891.

There were 41 failures in the Dominion this week. Last year the week's total was 47; last week it was 14.

Uriah Shoemaker Is Missing.

DETROIT, Nov. 19.—Uriah Shoemaker, a young man whose home is at Berlin, Ont., and who came to this city about 18 months ago, has been added to the list of missing persons. For a time he worked at Newcomb, Endicott & Co.'s, and later was a rug peddler.

On July 4 he left his boarding house in Abbott-street. His friends in Berlin are anxious concerning him.

Lottery Operators.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 19.—The Louisiana Lottery Company, since it has no hope of existing in this state after 1894, when its charter expires, is determined to make all the money it can before it goes out of the business.

Thursday A. Basset, a brother of the ex-president of the Mexican Lottery, and William Churchill, a former employe of the Louisiana Lottery, were arrested on the charge of having in their possession over $5000 worth of Mexican Lottery tickets.

IN THE UNITED STATES.

ALL CATHOLIC CHILDREN ARE TO BE PROVIDED WITH SCHOOLS.

Where They Will Be Taught the Doctrines of Their Church—Sunday and Week Day Schools To Be Under the Direct Supervision of the Clergy—Conference of the Archbishops.

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—The conference of the Archbishops of the Roman Catholic Church in America continued its session yesterday. All members were present but Archbishop Satolli, the Italian prelate, who did not lend his presence to the deliberations.

It is stated on positive authority that the debates in the conference have not been carried on altogether harmoniously and that Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul and Archbishop Katzer of Milwaukee have generally been on opposite sides in some heated arguments.

To-day's discussions were largely spent in considering the condition of the Catholic universities at Washington, which, as already stated, is not in a state wholly satisfactory to the church authorities. At the close of the evening session the council gave out the following statement:

Report on Public Schools.

At the meeting of the Archbishops of the United States, held at the residence of the Most Rev. Archbishop of New York on Nov. 16, 1892, to consider the best means to provide for the religious education of such children as do not at present attend the parochial schools or Catholic schools of any kind, the assembled prelates unanimously agreed on the following resolution:

First, resolved to promote the erection of Catholic schools so that there may be accommodation for more or if possible for all our Catholic children, according to the decrees of the Third Plenary Council of Baltimore and the decisions of the Holy See.

Second, resolved that as to children who at present do not attend Catholic schools we direct, in addition, that provision be made for them by Sunday schools and also by instructions on some other day or days of the week and by urging parents to teach their children the Christian doctrine in their homes. These Sunday and week-day schools should be under the direct supervision of the clergy aided by intelligent lay-teachers and when possible by members of religious teaching orders."

The conference will conclude its business to-morrow.

A RABBI SEEKS DIVORCE.

His Wife to a Beautiful and Brilliant Woman of St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 19.—Solomon H. Sonneschin yesterday filed in the Circuit Court of St. Louis a petition for divorce from his wife, Rosa, alleging desertion.

Sonneschin is a well-known Jewish Rabbi, being in charge of a congregation in this city. His wife, who is now in Chicago where she has lived since leaving her husband, was one of the most beautiful and brilliant women in St. Louis and is a writer of no mean reputation.

The Rabbi and his wife have not been good friends for a number of years, but have lived together for the sake of their children but the longer they lived the further they drifted apart, and the rabbi nearly lost his church here and the congregation became divided.

Last year the rabbi went to Europe, but his wife refused to accompany him and took up her residence in Chicago, where she is engaged in literary work. They were married in 1864.

RETURNING TO WORK.

The Strikers at Homestead Are Clamoring for Their Old Positions.

HOMESTEAD, Nov. 19.—The mechanics and day laborers who have been out on a strike in sympathy with the members of the Amalgamated Association at Homestead held a meeting yesterday and voted to apply for their old positions. The meeting had hardly adjourned until there was a scramble to reach the Carnegie mill offices.

The laborers were given employment, as were also a large number of mechanics. There were not enough vacancies to go around, however, and many were turned away.

The members of the Amalgamated Association also held a secret meeting and voted to continue the fight independently. Of these there are 600. Chairman Frick of the Carnegie Company was present this morning and supervised the re-employment of his old men.

THE TREASURY DEFICIT.

THE DEMOCRATS HAVE TO FACE A DIFFICULT PROBLEM.

An Extra Session of Congress Next Spring Seems Necessary to Avert a Financial Crisis—Additions to the Free List Would Wipe Out Revenue.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—"If Mr. Cleveland calls an extra session of Congress next spring it will not be on account of the tariff issue but because means must be provided to meet a large deficit in the Treasury that will come as a heritage from a four years' administration of the finances by the Republican party."

This statement was made by Senator Carlisle when asked as to the probability of an extra session of the House.

Only once in the history of the Government has it been necessary to call Congress to Washington in order to avert a financial crisis. President Van Buren in 1837 called an extra session to devise ways and means to supply an impending deficit.

When President Cleveland left the White House in 1889 there was a surplus in the treasury of nearly $100,000,000. When Mr. Cleveland comes back next March he will find immediate action necessary in order to meet the heavy drafts made upon the treasury at the end of the fiscal year.

So good an authority as Senator Carlisle has declared that until additional revenue is provided it will be useless to talk of passing bills making material additions to the free list. Reduction in tariff duties will undoubtedly increase the importations and probably augment the total receipts from customs, but additions to the free list simply wipe out revenue.

The World editorially says:

On Jan. 1 next there will be on the pension roll fully 1,000,000 names.

The appropriation for the payment of pensions which Congress is expected to make at the coming session is $185,000,000.

These figures are startling.

They show that the pensioners are in the proportion of nearly one in 12 to the voters of the whole Union. And this for a war that ended more than a quarter of a century ago!

They show that the cost of the pension list absorbs more than 40 per cent. of the nation's revenue.

It will be the duty of the Democratic President and Congress to revise the pension list in the interest alike of deserving veterans and of an imperilled treasury.

A STEAMER BURNED.

It is Thought That Six Passengers Lost Their Lives.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Nov. 21.—The steamboat Rosa Lee was burned to the water's edge at the wharf yesterday.

It is thought six deck passengers lost their lives. They were asleep on the lower deck in the engine room, where the fire started.

The boat was four years old, valued at $70,000 and insured for $30,000. Her cargo consisted of 397 bales of cotton and 1900 sacks of cotton seed.

The men supposed to have been lost were laborers employed at the Government works in Ashport Bend.

Tom Bailey, the engineer on watch, said there was a colored woman and child who were deck passengers. Nothing has been seen or heard of them.

A MODERN CIRCUS.

Barnum's Heirs Quarrel with Manager Bailey Over the Profits.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Nov. 21.—Barnum's heirs are at outs with James A. Bailey and it is likely that one or the other will control the greatest show on earth or else that a third party will buy out the interest of Mr. Bailey or of the Barnum heirs.

The gross receipts were $1,000,000 last year and the quarrel is said to relate to a division of the profits. In any event the Barnum & Bailey show will no longer be known as such. It will be either the Barnum or the Bailey show.

Freight Trains Collide.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—By a collision of two freight trains on the Belt Line near the Archer-avenue crossing of the Alton road, yesterday, three lives were lost. Two men were injured and may not recover.

Those killed are John Beauchamp, conductor Belt Line train; Richard A. Otto, brakeman; Louis Obitz, fireman.

The injured are: Thomas Garland, engineer, and John Best, brakeman.

The U.S. As a World's Creditor.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—The report of the Secretary of Agriculture shows that of the more than one billion dollars representing the exports of our domestic products for the past year nearly 80 per cent. consisted of agricultural products, making the United States the creditor of the world for a sum exceeding $200,000,000, the excess of our exports over imports.

A Michigan Mystery.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 21.—Fred W. Kelly, night clerk in Caldwell's [illegible], corner of Grand River-avenue [illegible] street, was found yesterday lying on the cellar floor with a bullet hole in the back of his head at the base of the brain. The cellar door was locked on the top side. It is supposed Kelly was called up during the night and was subsequently forced into the cellar and shot by the murderer.

The Str. Pontiac Safe.

AU TRAIN, Mich., Nov. 21.—The steamer Pontiac, which left Marquette for Sault Ste. Marie, Thursday night in the heavy storm then prevailing and whose non-appearance since then has caused considerable anxiety, is sheltered in Grand Island harbor. She made the harbor in safety Thursday and has been waiting there since for the gale to abate.

Frightful Colliery Disaster.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 21.—A cave-in occurred yesterday at Hazle Dell colliery at Centre Court, operated by Larcilly & Co., whereby seven or eight men are now imprisoned in the mine besides two others who have just been taken out badly injured. The colliery is situated 10 miles from Ashland and is a very large concern, shipping its product over the Lehigh Valley Railroad.

WALKERTON, Nov. 19.—Mr. D. Porter, M.P.P. for North Bruce, has left for Los Angeles, California, where he will remain all winter. Ever since his election Mr. Porter has been having a hard fight for life, but it is to be hoped that a winter spent in a milder climate will effect a permanent cure.

Every father and mother, before buying Boots and Shoes for their children, should hold a consultation together and try and arrive at an answer to the following questions:

4. Are these people reliable?
5. Can they afford to sell good boots cheap?

TUESDAY NOVEMBER 22, 1892.

A LONG BLACK LIST.

Has Disappointed a Large Number of Homestead Strikers

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Nov. 22.—The strike having been officially declared off, a grand rush was made yesterday by the strikers to get back to work. As early as 6 o'clock the rush began, and it kept the police busy handling the crowd. By 9 o'clock the rush was over, but the men continued to go in twos and threes, and this will doubtless be kept up for days to come.

A large number were turned away, some with good prospects of securing their old places in the near future, while many were informed that they would be given no work under any consideration.

It is evident the black list is quite long and those whose names appear on the list will be forced to seek work elsewhere.

The firm is inclined to favor the old men as much as possible, and there has already been a large number of colored men discharged to make room for old employes.

The condition of the plant is such that repairs will shortly have to be made, and old men have hopes that they will be given their positions after repairs are completed.

Reports from Homestead are that the old men generally hope to be back in their former places by January.

The Beaver Falls men are all reinstated except six. Interest to-day generally centered in Lawrenceville, where the men are making a last desperate stand.

THE HENCOOP CASE.

Witnesses Give Evidence Against the Defendant Linford.

PICKERING, Nov. 22.—The inquest into the shooting of William Palmer was resumed last night.

Nearly every person who had any conversation with Baker or Linford on the morning of the shooting were called as witnesses.

They corroborated the evidence taken at the previous sitting.

Two witnesses swore that Baker said he heard Linford call to the man to stop before he fired the shot cartridge.

Palmer had been drinking some during the evening before, but did not appear to be drunk.

The case was not given to the jury to-night.

The court adjourned at 11.45 p.m., to meet to-morrow, Tuesday, morning at 10 o'clock.

LISTOWEL'S EDUCATION.

Myers and McGillicuddy Preach Continental Union.

LISTOWEL, Nov. 22.—Elgin Myers of Toronto and D. McGillicuddy of Goderich addressed a meeting last evening here on the question of continental unity. The movers of a vote of thanks said they had received no light on the subject, but had received a number of new ideas.

ON CASH PRIZES.

The Amateur Athletic Union's Resolution—World's Fair Sports.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The annual meeting of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States was held here yesterday.

An informal discussion on the restitution of banners as prizes for joint competitors showed the delegates to be about equally divided on the question. There was no disposition, however, to increase the value of the prizes.

This resolution was adopted: "That it is the sense of this meeting that the Board of Governors of the Amateur Athletic Union ought not to authorize for lacrosse, baseball and football championship prizes other than banners, nor any allowance of expenses for traveling of the teams."

After electing a board of governors for the ensuing year the general meeting then adjourned, and the new board of governors held an executive session.

The following resolution was adopted: "That the A.A.U. annual championship and World's Fair Committee be instructed to make arrangements to hold in Chicago a handicap meeting open to the world and a world championship competition."

T. V. POWDERLY.

He is Again Placed at the Head of the Knights of Labor.

St. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 22.—The Knights of Labor elected Mr. Powderly as the chief officer, also the following officers: General worthy foreman, Hugh Cavanagh; General secretary-treasurer, J. W. Hayes; members of Executive Board, T. V. Powderly (ex-officio), chairman; A. W. Wright, John Devlin, John Davis and T. B. McGuire.

All the foregoing, except Mr. McGuire, were elected.

The Live Stock Season.

MONTREAL, Nov. 22.—The live stock season has closed. The total shipments for the season from the port of Montreal were 98,631 head, as compared with 104,309 last season. The season was a very bad one.

Salvation Army Congress.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—Mr. and Mrs. Ballington Booth addressed the first meeting of the Continental Congress of the Salvation Army here last night. The meeting was very large and enthusiastic.

The Panama Canal Affair.

PARIS, Nov. 22.—The Chamber of Deputies have appointed a commission to enquire into the charge of corruption in the Panama Canal affairs.

Movement of Manitoba Wheat.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 22.—Movement of Manitoba wheat east continues very brisk and grain dealers here estimate that between 50 and 60 per cent of this year's crop has already been shipped.

EXPLOSION AT A MINE.

THE POWER OF TWENTY-FIVE KEGS OF POWDER.

Two Killed, Nine Wounded and One Missing—A Great Blast of Flame and Smoke and Then a Roar Flung Out to the Country Round.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 22.—A Steubenville, O., special says: At the Blasche Mine of the West End Colliery, in the West Virginia yard, 25 kegs of blasting powder exploded at 12.15 p.m. yesterday.

The explosion was caused by a fizzing fuse throwing fire into a miner's powder can, the explosion of which fired others until the volume of flames was sufficient to explode the whole stock of loose powder.

The miners had been losing powder by the fiend. They kept a day's supply in boxes, which were left open at the noon hour.

The men in the mine had just begun to come in where the powder was stored and in a few minutes more most of them would have been there. A stunning explosion in the mine, a great blast of flame and smoke from the mine's mouth and then a roar was flung out to the country round that told only too well that there was death and disaster at the mine.

The scene that followed cannot be told in words. The women who had husbands, brothers, sons or sweethearts in the smoking pit were simply frantic.

Crowds came swarming to the mine's mouth just as they dropped their work or left their tables, their faces white with dread and one eager enquiry on every lip, "Who's in the mine?"

Wives and fathers were there tearfully imploring the men to go in where all knew that death lurked in the air, either to rescue those who were not past rescue or learn the worst at once.

The mine boss and a squad of brave fellows took their chances on the "bad air" and went in and soon returned, bearing among them the seared and mutilated victims of the explosion. They found two dead and nine wounded.

The explosion did comparatively little damage, so far as is now known, to the mine or its equipment. That more of the miners were not suffocated was due to the prompt action of Miners James Clark and James Borden, who, when the big door that closes the drift was blown from its fastenings, quickly placed it in position again.

The works belong to L. C. Smith of New Cumberland, William Smith and John McNutt of Wellsville, Ohio.

The mine has been in operation since May, 1891, and 50 men were employed there yesterday. There is still one man unaccounted for, a miner named John Hully.

HON. MR. TUPPER.

Will Leave England for Canada on Dec. 3.

OTTAWA, Nov. 22.—Hon. C. H. Tupper has finished his business in England in connection with the Behring Sea case and sails for Canada on Dec. 3. Most probably Sir John Abbott and Hon. Mr. Foster will leave on the same steamer, but this is not certain.

Mr. Foster is believed to have made a partial arrangement with the Bank of Montreal for taking the Dominion Government account in England, but the arrangement will have to be confirmed by order-in-council after the ministers return.

Now that Sir John Thompson, Hon. Mackenzie Bowell and Hon. Mr. Chapleau, three of the four members of the sub-committee of council to whom the petition for remedial legislation in Manitoba school question was referred, have got back from Halifax, it is expected that a date will be fixed for hearing Mr. Ewart, counsel for Archbishop Tache, as soon as possible after the return from the Northwest of Hon. Mr. Daly, who replaces Hon. Mr. Dewdney as the fourth member of the sub-committee. Mr. Daly is expected back a week from to-morrow.

A private despatch from Moosomin announces the election by acclamation of W. W. Macdonald, Conservative, to succeed Hon. Mr. Dewdney in the Commons as member for East Assiniboia.

Hon. Peter White, Speaker of the House of Commons, was here to-day and had a conference with the Auditor-General with reference to the trouble in the accountant's office. No new developments have taken place and the whole matter is understood to be in the hands of the Minister of Justice.

Prof. Robertson, Dominion Dairy Commissioner, leaves for England next week with a view of furthering Canada's dairying interests. He will take with him a large stock of dairy products which he intends exhibiting before the various boards of trade there. He will also bring himself into contact with the farming community with a view of promoting immigration. When the fact is borne in mind that experimental dairying as understood here is unknown in England, and that the Canadian system is being held up to the public approbation in that country, the beneficial effect of Professor Robertson's representations may be imagined. The products which he will take with him as illustrative of Canadian industry are largely the output of the dairy stations in operation last season. On Saturday, the Dominion Dairy Commissioner had an interview in London, Ont., with Mr. Brown Webb, the head of the large syndicate, who are about to establish a large pork packing and dairy business there.

Montreal Needs a Physician.

MONTREAL, Nov. 22.—Dr. Montague, M.P. for Haldimand, is coming to Montreal early in December to deliver an address upon the political situation.

He comes on the invitation of the Sir John A. Macdonald Club, and will likely speak in the Windsor Hall.

The young Conservatives expect great things from the doctor's visit.

Railway Men Meet.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—No larger gathering of general passenger agents was ever seen in Chicago than that of this morning to consider rates and arrangements for the World's Fair. Over a hundred were present of railroads in the United States and Canada and Mexico. The meeting will get to business to-morrow.

Western Wheat Supply.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 22.—The Northwestern Miller reports the stock of wheat in private elevators of Minneapolis at 1,640,000 bushels, or 62,000 more than last Monday. It is given Minneapolis, Superior and Duluth a total of 17,004,130 bushels, an increase for the week of 1,359,823 bushels.

TO DEATH IN A BARROW.

FOUR CHILDREN KILLED BY A DESPERATE MOTHER.

And Then Cuts Her Own Throat After Offering a Prayer—She Took the Children to the Cemetery in a Wheelbarrow Before Committing the Deed.

PARIS, Nov. 22.—A woman named [illegible], living at Bellaton, driven to desperation by the refractoriness of a disobedient child, put her four youngest children in a wheelbarrow yesterday and, followed by the fifth, proceeded to the cemetery.

After offering a prayer she drew a knife and cut the throats of the four youngest children and then killed herself.

The fifth child was saved by the sexton of the cemetery.

VICTORY OF THE DEMOCRATS.

Was Stimulated World's Fair Interest in Great Britain.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—The Committee for the Chicago Exhibition is working hard trying to get together an art loan collection illustrative of the early history of music, electricity, ethnology and transportation.

The result of the recent election has stimulated the British manufacturers to make greater exhibitions, and the result will be a much better and much bigger showing by English manufacturers than was at first expected.

The Sheffield Daily Telegraph is getting up a party of some 30 or more newspaper proprietors to visit the exposition.

A PROBABLE MISFIT.

"Making an Editor Out'en of Him" for Sure.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—The future politics of The Pall Mall Gazette have been placed beyond doubt by the announcement that Mr. Cust, Tory M.P. for the Stamford division of Lincolnshire, has been appointed editor.

Mr. Cust knows nothing whatever of journalism, but he is a beautiful dancer, can sing a good comic song, and was a college chum of the late Duke of Clarence. He is reputed to be clever, however, and has undertaken to learn all newspaper editing in no time.

His salary is to be £1500 a year, which seems small for such a smart young man, and he will draw it regularly while learning the business.

COOPER'S SENTENCE.

For Murdering His Wife With a Penknife During a Family Row.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—In the case of Cooper, the man who murdered his wife with a penknife at Douglas, Isle of Man, the jury has found a verdict of guilty of manslaughter.

Cooper was sentenced to 10 years' penal servitude.

The verdict of manslaughter in the Cooper case created such a great dissatisfaction that the jurymen were mobbed on leaving court.

British Grain Trade.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—The Mark Lane Express, in its weekly review of the British grain trade, says the deliveries of English wheat show that the general quality is very low, though during the last few days the condition has slightly improved. An advance of 2d. is recorded in Mark Lane, where a small business has been done. Prices of foreign wheats have been kept down owing to large exports from Russia.

To-day's market English wheats were firm. American was held for 6d. advance. Other foreign wheats were unchanged. Good American flour was 3d. dearer.

There was little sale for barley, oats and corn, and the price of each was down 6d.

Nine Brutal Robbers.

MADRID, Nov. 22.—Nine robbers, armed with rifles, pistols and knives, on Saturday night went to the house of Senor Sandiaga, a contractor living near Bilboa, who is building a railway from Bilboa to Lezama, and demanded wine. This being refused them, and the master of the house being absent, they gagged and bound Sandiaga's wife and niece and awaited his return. When he reached home the brigands beat him unmercifully, severely injuring both his eyes, and robbed him of $1000, which he brought with him to pay his workmen. They then, having stripped the house of everything of value, they decamped.

Socialist Congress Dissolved.

BERLIN, Nov. 22.—The Socialist Congress yesterday unanimously passed a resolution condemning anti-Semitic persecution.

Herr Singer then reviewed the work of the Congress, dwelling with especial emphasis on the unity of the Socialist party. Immediately after the conclusion of his speech the congress was dissolved.

French Success in Dahomey.

PARIS, Nov. 22.—A despatch received here from Porto Novo states that French troops have entered Abomey, capital of Dahomey, without opposition. King Behanzin has vanished, and the French are in full possession of the capital.

King Behanzin has notified General Dodd that Abomey is deserted. It is rumored that Cana has been burned. There is also a rumor that a negro has been captured, who is supposed to be King Behanzin.

The Eastern Scourge.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 22.—Eleven new cases of cholera and three deaths were reported here yesterday.

THE HAGUE, Nov. 22.—Last week's cholera record for the whole of Holland shows 14 deaths since Saturday last. Fifteen cases of cholera and 13 deaths from cholera have been registered at Bruges. The outbreak is attributed to the use of putrid fish as food.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 22.—Six new cases of cholera and two deaths from the disease have occurred here since Saturday.

BUDA PESTH, Nov. 22.—The daily cholera records here have shown few cases recently. The number has now risen again, report showing 10 new cases and 5 deaths.

German Anarchists Arrested.

BERLIN, Nov. 22.—The German police are constantly descending upon Anarchist domiciles and daily arrests are made. Important papers proving the intimacy of the relations existing between German and foreign Anarchists have just been seized and this advantage was followed up to-day with the arrest of six Anarchists at Altona.

A Woman Hacked to Pieces.

PARIS, Nov. 22.—In a fit of jealous rage, occasioned by his being repulsed by the mistress of his employer, with whom he had become infatuated, Macheopoulos Leutherios, a Greek, yesterday assailed the woman with a knife and cut and hacked her head almost to pieces.

NEED OF PROMPT ACTION.

THE occurrence of three fires of undoubted incendiary origin within a short time, not only gives concern to proberty owners and householders generally, but is attracting the attention of the fire insurance companies. The circumstances call for prompt action on the part of the town authorities, which should employ every means, available, to discover the perpetrators of these incendiary burnings and thus in all probability, put an end to the dangerous and expensive practice. In conversation with the representatives of the chief fire insurance companies, we learn that there is a danger of the rate of insurance being raised unless the town authorities take prompt measures to discover the authors of fires that are plainly the result of design, and not of accident. The offer of a specific reward for the discovery of the felons, or the employment of a detective to work up the case, might involve considerable expense, but it would be a trifle compared to a substantial advance in insurance rates, which the agents of insurance companies say will follow a continuance of the incendiary practices, or a failure to make a vigorous effort to discover the perpetrators.

Mr. BREWER Carling tried to hypnotize the farmers with two-rowed barley, and now the Empire wants to grease the wheels of agricultural prosperity with butter—shipped to the English market.

IF Newfoundland's coquetting results is her coming into the Confederation, another dug will have to be spliced upon the udder of the Dominion milch cow and Ontario will need to furnish an extra supply.

THE Ottawa Free Press puts it thus: "Twenty-five per cent. profits for idle cotton combinesters, while the hard-working and economical farmers are barely able to pay their way. Such is the condition of affairs in Canada under the Foster tariff!"

THE Toronto World thinks the country needs a mining school. This is a modest aspiration on the part of a Government organ. The World is evidently not speaking in the interests of its political friends. Dominion ministers certainly need no pedagogic pointers to enable them to strike pay dirt in the boodle strata.

"That Great Britian should import more butter from far away Australia than from Canada is" the Empire thinks a crying shame, and plaintively asks: "Why do our farmers not wake up?" If the farmers should wake up from the trance in which the great mesmerizer, Sir John, threw them, they would make short work of the Empire's party and rather check the flow of pap the organ thrives upon."

Fourteen years ago the farmers of Canada in a moment of delusion voted for protection to the manufacturers. Now what they need is protection from the protected combinesters who are robbing the agriculturist right and left. A cotton mill owner can now have his mill standing idle with the pay roll stopped and make more money in a month than an honest farmer working eighteen hours a day can make in a season.

The fall of the year is a trying season for elderly people. The many cheerless, dark, dismal days act depressingly, not to say injuriously, on both old and young. Now is the time to re-enforce the vital energies with Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the best of all blood medicines.

THEIR gentle action and good effect on the system really make them a perfect little pill. They please those who use them. Carter's Little Liver Pills may well be termed "Perfection." dw

Aching Pains Removed.

GENTLEMEN,—I cannot but praise B. B.B. for it has revived me wonderfully. I was completely run down, had aching pains in my shoulder, a tired feeling in my limbs, low spirits, in fact I was in misery. Being recommended to try B. B.B. I did so, and with the use of only one bottle I am to-day strong and healthy. I prize it highly.

THE people of Quebec are kicking lustily against the direct taxation scheme of the De Boucherville, local Tory Government. Yet they have for years given yeoman help to the Dominion Government to impose a tax ten times more grievous than the De Boucherville tax, only it is indirect, and not realized all at once. Direct taxation by the Dominion Government would be an eye opener to the people who now blindly vote to tax themselves to provide funds for purchasing their confidence. It took the United States people a quarter of a century to realize the iniquity of a protective tax, and they have wakened with a vengeance—the United States House of Representatives is composed of 222 anti-protectionists, Democrats; 125 taxationists, Republicans; and 7 Populists, or tariff reformers. The day of emancipation from tariff oppression may come slowly, but it is sure to come.

Cures Others

Will cure You, is a true statement of the action of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, when taken for diseases originating in impure blood; but, while this assertion is true of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, as thousands can attest, it cannot be truthfully applied to other preparations, which unprincipled dealers will recommend, and try to impose upon you, as "just as good as Ayer's." Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla and Ayer's only, if you need a blood-purifier and would be benefited permanently. This medicine, for nearly fifty years, has enjoyed a reputation, and made a record for cures, that has never been equalled by other preparations. AYER'S Sarsaparilla eradicates the taint of hereditary scrofula and other blood diseases from the system, and it has, deservedly, the confidence of the people.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

"I cannot forbear to express my joy at the relief I have obtained from the use of AYER'S Sarsaparilla. I was afflicted with kidney troubles for about six months, suffering greatly with pains in the small of my back. In addition to this, my body was covered with pimply eruptions. The remedies prescribed failed to help me. I then began to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla, and, in a short time, the pains ceased and the pimples disappeared. I advise every young man or woman, in case of sickness resulting from impure blood, no matter how long standing the case may be, to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla."—H. L. Jarmain, 33 William st., New York City.

NORWOOD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mrs. J. Montgomery of this place had the misfortune to break her arm on Friday last by slipping on the sidewalk.

Miss M. Pakenham, of Peterborough, and Miss Gertie Galvin, of Lakefield, who are attending the Model school here have secured situations as teachers in the Ashburnham Public school.

Mrs. Carmichal and Mrs. Davidson, have arrived home from their trip to the Northwest. They speak in glowing terms of the country.

Mr. W. Sedgewick, formerly of this place but lately of Toronto, has started a blacksmith business in town. We wish him success.

The funeral of the late James McCannel one of the oldest residents of Belmont took place on Wednesday last and was very largely attended. Rev. Wm. Buchanan conducted the services.

The Board of Education met on Tuesday night last. The members present were:—Messrs. W. E. Roxburgh (chairman), W. H. Stephenson (secretary), D. Campbell, A. R. Anderson, T. Rorke, R. Scott, R. W. Waters, W. H. Breathen and Dr. Ford. Dr. Ford gave notice of a motion which he would move at the next meeting of the board in reference to the dissolution of the union of the High and Public School board.

On Wednesday evening last a very happy event took place at the residence of Mr. John Carberry, Asphodel, it being the occasion of the marriage of his daughter Louisa to Mr. Fred Wasson. The bride was assisted by her sister Lily, and the groom by Mr. C. Howard of Hastings. The presents were very numerous; the Rev. W. Buchanan performed the ceremony. Their many Norwood friends wish them much success in life.

On Friday evening last a meeting of the directors of the Mechanic's Institute was held in the Y.M.C.A. rooms. After a long discussion it was decided to move the Institute to the Y.M.C.A. rooms. The Institute was also re-organized with the following officers:—

President—W. P. Plant.
Vice-President—W. Rutherford.
Sec.-Treas—A. Finlay.

Mr. Bishop of the High School staff, is very ill. We all hope for his speedy recovery.

Mrs. H. Fowlds, of Hastings, is very ill. She has the sympathy of her many Norwood friends. [Later reports say that Mrs. Fowlds is dead.

Mr. and Mrs. McNeely, of Omemee, were in town last week visiting Mr. McNeely's mother, who is very ill.

Messrs. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., and W. Menzies were in town on Friday last.

Mrs. Hamilton and daughter, of Peterborough, were in town on Sunday.

Mr. Archie Scott, Asphodel, is seriously ill. We all wish for his speedy recovery.

The probabilities are that there will be a triangular contest for the reeveship for the year 1892. We understand that Reeve Finlay is again going to be a candidate.

On Friday last one of the oldest settlers, Mr. Hugh Lynn, departed this life. He died at the residence of his stepson, Mr. J. Harrison. The funeral was largely attended. The service was conducted by the Rev. J. Carmichael, M.A. His sorrowing friends have the sympathy of the community.

On Monday evening last a man who is not worthy of the prefix gentle entered a store in this town and bought a pair of ducks. He then went out but not very long afterwards the proprietor of the store noticed that he had a pair of ducks less, and having some suspicion he traced it to the man who bought the first. The ducks were recovered, but not before the thief had given a lot of impudence. He should be given the full benefit of the law.

Nursery Medicines.

We do not believe in dosing children with drugs and medicines from the time they arrive in the world till they are grown, as some do. We have found a little castor oil and a bottle of Perry Davis' PAIN-KILLER safe and sure remedies for all their little ills, and would not do without them. Get the New Big Bottle, 25c.

MINERAL EXHIBITS.

The Ontario mineral exhibit for the world's fair is very choice. The specimens of iron ore, for quality and quantity, eclipse any exhibit of the kind ever before attempted. They are mainly from localities in the counties of Hastings, Frontenac, Renfrew, and from the celebrated Atix-Okan iron range west of Fort William. These ores consist of rich magnetes and hematites principally, and are remarkable for their high percentage of metallic iron, and for the low proportions of deleterious substances. The sight of them will probably open the eyes of the Americans to the folly of excluding ores of such rich quality from their markets. The mica exhibit is a rich and varied ones, such as was perhaps never before collected in one building. All the specimens come from the counties of Frontenac, Addington and Lanark. It was from these mines, or mines in these counties, that for many years the mica sold in the United States and Canada as Cumberland valley mica was obtained. There is in the present collection one section of a crystal 18x20 inches, and 9 inches thick, weighing 400 pounds. Another specimen, one foot thick, weighs 120 pounds. There are also numbers of sheets measuring three feet across.

The Canadian granite company, Ottawa, will make a specialty of Kingston granite and Renfrew, Grey and Cornwall black marbles. Phosphate of lime, for which Canada is celebrated all over the world, is represented by a magnificent display from the Standard fertilizing and chemical company, Smith's Falls, in which both crude samples and the manufactured product are shown. From the Foxton mine at Loughborough will be exhibited the largest specimen of phosphate of lime ever taken out of a mine. It weighs 900 lbs, and can be seen among Mr. Boyle's collection.

It is no easy thing to dress harsh, coarse hair so as to make it look graceful or becoming. By the use of Ayers Hair Vigor this difficulty is removed, and the hair made to assume any style or arrangement that may be desired. Give the Vigor a trial.

Ashburnham Notes.

The Mark street Methodist Sunday school workers have decided to hold their Christmas Tree Anniversary in the new town hall, on Monday evening, December 26th.

The special services conducted by Rev. D. Savage, in Mark street Methodist church, are being well attended, the church being well filled on Sunday morning and evening. Notwithstanding the unfavourable weather there was a good turnout last night, a large number of strangers being present and taking part in the meeting. Rev. J. Thom, B.A., pastor, and all Christian workers, were delighted to have so many young men give in their personal testimony and determination to lead Christian lives. All the meetings are growing in interest. Meetings each night this week at 7.30 p.m. Every person invited.

A DESTRUCTIVE FIRE

Obliterates a Valuable Barn and its Contents Belonging to Mr. R. B. Lundy.

Another nocturnal alarm of fire was sounded at 1.20 o'clock this morning and the brigade were to the rescue with their usual alacrity. When the alarm was sounded the large fine barn of Mr. R. B. Lundy on Bethune street, together with its valuable contents was wrapt in one great red mass of hot flame, which soon levelled the structure to the ground. The barn was an isolated structure, two and a half stories high and built by Mr. W. A. Scott some years ago for a grain warehouse. The building was finely finished and sheeted on the inside with "V" lumber. It was iron roofed, which kept the fire, which evidently started in the north-west corner, in subjection for a long time before the flames burst like a tornado through the roof. The barn was badly gutted while the contents were completely destroyed, Mr. Lundy, when he broke up house-keeping some few months ago, stored all his costly household goods and effects in the barn. All these were entirely destroyed. Besides these in the building there were a buckboard, buggy, trotting cutter, carryall, three sets of harness, straw cutter, stable fixings, stoves, mattresses, parlour, dining room and bedroom suites, etc., etc. Upstairs was a large quantity of hardwood lumber, window sashes, doors, etc. There was no hay or straw in the barn, which was used by Mr. Lundy merely for a storehouse. The cause of the fire was doubtless that of an incendiary. Only a few nights ago when the Rathbun Company's storehouse was destroyed, Mr. Lundy found that the barn had been entered by some miscreant through a downstairs window. The intruder had evidently been frightened off by his dog which slept there. Mr. Lundy's loss on the household contents alone will reach $1,200, insured with Mr. H. C. Cluxton for $800. There is no insurance on other contents burned outside of the household effects, which loss will reach $200 or $300 more. The loss on the building will reach $1,000, insured with Cox & Davis for $600.00 The firemen are entitled to the greatest credit for the splendid fight made at this fire in the face of a fierce gale with the help of the efficient service afforded by the Water Company. The three powerful streams used with judgment confined the flames to the buildings in which they originated. But for the energy and good management exercised, the wind had a fine chance of spreading the fire to adjacent structures.

St. Joseph's Big Bell Arrived.

The big bell for St. Joseph's church, Douro, Rev. Father Kielty, parish priest, has arrived, and is is the G.T.R. freight shed. It is a marvel of fine workmanship, well shaped build, and is said to be of excellent tone. It was manufactured by a large company in Troy, N. Y. This bell is the cynosure of the eyes of all who visit the freight shed.

Injured by a Circular Saw.

At noon to-day as Mr. Jason Smith, Harvey street, an employee of Mr. Jas. Galvin, coal and wood dealer, put on the brake to oil a circular wood saw, by some means he let the brake slack, and in stepping from one side of the platform to the other, his leg came in contact with the saw. The result was a deep ragged gash was cut in the calf of his leg. The sufferer was removed to his home and Dr. Greer summoned. Mr. Smith will be around in a few days.

C. P. R. Permanent Way Improvements.

The line of the C. P. R. from Toronto east to Cavanville has been relaid with heavy steel rails—70 pounds to the yard. The track from Cavanville to Peterborough, including the sidings in the yard here, have been reballasted and laid with new steel rails, ordinary weight—60 pounds to the yard. The work was done under the supervision of Mr. Roadmaster Jas. O'Brien and his capable staff, which is in itself a guarantee of the work being well done.

The Town's Health Good.

Medical Health Officer Dr. Clarke in conversation stated to-day that the general health of the town was never better at this season of the year. There is only one case of diphtheria in the town, and the few cases of malarial and typhoid fevers are less serious and malignant than in any previous year. The Health Committee of the council did a good thing when they instructed the Health Inspector to make a rigid examination of all premises, and decided to prosecute those who did not comply with the Health Bylaw.

Charlotte Street Epworth League.

Last night's meeting of the Charlotte street Epworth League of Christian Endeavour was to those present a source of profit and inspiration. The subject, "God's Pledges and Ours," was introduced by Miss Tenie Elliott and Miss Gourd. After the subject was discussed Mr. Percy Hamilton (delegate to the London Convention) gave his report of the Convention, followed by a selection from the choir and the benediction being pronounced by the Rev. Mr. Edwards, terminated one of the most successful meetings of the term.

An Oriental Lecture

Of Rev. G. E. Howie, the Oriental Preacher, a Toronto paper says :—

"The Parkdale Presbyterian church was crowded to its utmost capacity last Sunday evening to hear the eloquent and earnest blind clergyman Rev. G. E. Howie. He recited the scriptures as well as the psalms and hymns. His sermon was upon "God's love to man and man's rejection of that love." He contrasted the love that existed in David for Absalom with that of Christ for Jerusalem and His church. He was listened to with great attention by the large audience. Mr. Howie is by nationality a Jew and was by religion a member of the Greek church of which body his grandfather was a clergyman. Several other members of his family were clergymen and two bishops. He left that church and joined the Presbyterian of which body he is now a minister. It was his intention as soon as practicable to return to the east and labor among the Jews and Mahomedans. He now devotes his time to preaching and lecturing. His course of lectures have hitherto included popular exposition of eastern costumes, habits, history and mode of life in so far as these have a bearing upon the Bible.

He will address a mass meeting of the Sunday school children of Peterborough on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 26th, at 3 o'clock in Bradburn's Opera House. Also a lecture on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the same place. His last lecture will be on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Further particulars later on. Silver collections at the door. 2d

Of Other Medicines Failed
But 4 Bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla Cured.

"It is with pleasure that I tell of the great benefit I derived from Hood's Sarsaparilla. For 6 years I have been badly afflicted with breaking out with running sores during hot summer months. I have sometimes not been able to use my limbs for two months at a time. Being induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, I got one bottle last spring, commenced using it; felt so much better, got two bottles more; took them during the summer, was able to do my housework, and which I had not done for six years. Think I am cured of erysipelas, and recommend any person so afflicted to use

POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY, Nov. 22nd.

At the police court this morning Timothy Fobert, an old man from Smith township, was charged with being found drunk in a public place. The prisoner said he was not so drunk as he looked to be. He was going home and the dazzling glare of the electric light blinded him causing him to grope his way.

Magistrate—You are discharged but get out of town at once. It is a shame to see an old man like you here.

The case of an owner of a dog charged with not paying his dog tax was enlarged a week.

Alex Bell was arraigned before the court on the charge of entering the Morgan House yesterday afternoon, and stealing therefrom a laundry parcel containing 5 shirts, 15 collars and 10 pair of cuffs, the property of Mr. J. A. Stewart. The prisoner was arrested at the Cavanagh House by Constable Stewart yesterday afternoon. The prisoner elected to be tried summarily. He said he came from Blackstock, near Port Perry. When asked by the magistrate if he was guilty of the charge, the prisoner said, "I don't know anything about it. I had the parcel, and that is all I know about it. I haven't any memory at all when drinking."

Fred Holland, bartender at the Morgan house, testified that Bell entered the house yesterday afternoon. He was drinking and standing around the bar. Prisoner went through hall into dining room, and taking the parcel which had been left there to be called for, walked out. Witness noticed him going out with it. He followed Bell down to the Cavanagh House where he found the stolen goods underneath the stairway, where prisoner had hidden them. Prisoner soon after came in the bar when witness notified the police and had him arrested. The magistrate remanded Bell a week for sentence, and in the meantime will make inquiries about his character.

AMONG THE PACIFIC ISLES.

Missionary Meeting Held by St. Paul's Y.P.S.C.E. Last Night.

The regular meeting of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavour of St. Paul's church was held in the Sunday school room last evening. The attendance was good and the meeting took upon itself the first of a series of interesting missionary meetings which will be held. Dr. Clarke, of Boston, founder of the Christian Endeavour movement, is on a missionary tour around the world by way of the New Hebrides, New Zealand and Australian missions amid the Pacific Ocean. The St. Paul's society is as it were following the great Christian Endeavour founder in his tour, and the members of the society will study together the typography, climate history, characteristics and missionary work of the places and people which Dr. Clarke visits. Mr. A. J. Johnston presided at last night's meeting, which opened with a hymn, prayer by Miss Quinn and the reading of the Scriptures by Mr. J. H. Connal. Mrs. A. J. Johnston then read an interesting letter from Dr. Clarke, descriptive of a traveller's first experience and impression on his first day's visit to Honolulu, among the various missions established there. Miss Montgomery followed in a fine solo. Mr. A. J. Johnston read a well prepared paper on the historical, social, political and civilized history of the Sandwich Islands from their discovery up to the present time. Miss Simpson then read a thoughtful paper on the geography, climate, and character of the people, of the New Hebrides Islands. Miss Roper's paper on "What other churches are doing in this line of missionary work among the inhabitants of the New Hebrides Islands" showed careful study. A quartette, "The Beacon Light," was then sung by Messrs. Johnston and Nelson, Miss Mary Paterson and Mrs. A. J. Johnston, Miss Paterson taking the solo part in a fine manner. Miss Martha Dickson gave an excellent account of the missionary work being done by the Presbyterian church among the New Hebrides Islands. Miss Tucker also read a paper on the geography, climate and occupation of the people of Australia and New Zealand. Miss Jennie Rose sang with good effect "Throw out the Life Line," the audience joining in the chorus. The impressive meeting was closed by Miss Stewart reading a paper which contained a lot of information on the religion and history of Australia and New Zealand. The singing of a hymn and prayer by Mr. G. M. Roger ended the meeting.

The special decorations are worth mentioning. Back of the chairman was a map of the world and above this a pretty cross. On the right and left respectively were two large flags, "The Union Jack" and "Stars and Stripes." Under each or these were printed the words "Ship Ahoy, Where are you bound," and "To the Port of Heaven." Under the gasalier to the right was a large telescope and under it the word "Faith," on the gasalier to the left was a silver trumpet with the word "Prayer." In the centre of the platform was a large lighthouse, eight feet, high with a lamp burning in it and around it were the words "The light of God." On a table was a large Bible and chart, and on the left an anchor and chain with the word "Promise." By special request the unique decorations will be left erected until after the junior Y.P.S.C.E. meeting on Wednesday night.

TEMPERANCE TOPICS.

The Women's Christian Temperance Union Hold a Meeting.

At the meeting of the W.C.T.U. yesterday (Monday) it was decided to offer prizes to pupils of both town and county for highest marks in examination on Temperance and Hygiene at next midsummer Entrance Examination. The value and number of prizes offered will be announced later.

The Relief Committee will be glad to receive from the citizens anything in the shape of clothing or provisions to be distributed among the suffering poor. Donations may be left at J. Carey's shoe shop, George street, Mrs. Paton's, Reid street, Mrs. Hawkin's, College street, or Mrs. Wm. Wand's, Ashburnham.

The Union is very sorry to part with one of its oldest members in the person of Mrs. J. Throop, of Ashburnham, who is removing to Cobourg. The love and best wishes of her White Ribbon sisters will follow her to her new home.

Do not be discouraged if other medicines have failed to give you relief. Membray's Kidney and Liver Cure acts on the "Kidneys" direct, combined, with a mild action on the "Liver" and bowels, thereby removing the cause of "Back Ache," sour stomach, dizziness, indigestion and constipation.

Prepare for the Future.

"If the signs of the times are not vastly misleading," says Colman's Rural World, "the beef of America is yet to be made by the farmers thereof, for the business of ranching and breeding on the plains is very rapidly dying out and becoming a thing of the past. The sun then is rising above the horizon once more on the farmer, and will get higher and yet higher as the years pass, much as has been predicted in these columns for a decade of years. It behooves the farmer then to prepare himself for the contest, and, if possible, take time by the forelock (so to speak) by being ready to fill the bill when the time comes. Every cow bred on the farm from this day out should be coupled with nothing less than a full-blooded registered bull of one of the beef breeds; Short-horns, Hereford, Galloway, Aberdeen-Angus, Sussex, Devon or polled Norfolk; either of them will make a good cross and the product, with feed and care, be ready for the butcher at two to two and a half years old and weigh as it has been fed. This cross and this feeding will make the beef we long have sought and mourned because we found it not, and it will sell on its merits and for more money than the infamous stuff served up to us now. Our point is, breed every cow to a first-class bull, keep the female produce for further work, and the steers until they are ready for market. Do not sell them either as calves or yearlings, but make them give you a profit on your grass, hay and corn until full grown."

Succulent Hog Food.

The secret of healthy swine is plenty of good succulent food. They can not be kept healthy without it. Neither can pigs be made grow rapidly to maturity without it. A writer says with truth that the natural food for hogs in the wild state is grass, the mast of the forest, roots and bulbs of plants. The necessity for food of this character is well recognized by nature in providing the hog with a rooter for the purpose of obtaining it. Even after generations of domestication, with ample sustenance to satisfy all demands, this proclivity or desire to root, independent of necessity, remains as a prominent characteristic. Farmers who have practiced from this pointer, and during the winter months have at stated intervals, at least twice a week, given one feed of potatoes, beets, artichokes or turnips, have found that the hogs not only relish them but derive great benefit therefrom. They are conducive to a perfect condition of the system, stimulating the action of the various organs in the performance of their functions. They aid in digestion and assimilation of the more solid food. Brood sows as well as their young are especially benefited by a liberal supply of root diet while pregnant. Indeed it is almost compulsory to insure strong, healthy pigs, and a natural farrow.

A Voice From the Canadian Press:

THE BLACK DEATH!

The Scourge of the East.

Grim Asiatic Cholera is marching with stealthy but steady strides to these Western shores.

The foe is at our doors, Sanitary science, with powerful disinfectant, fumigations, and rigid quarantine regulations, stands guarding our ports.

But this fell destroyer on pestilential wing seems to float in the very air and defy all efforts to beat him back. Wherever there lingers impurity and putrefaction he takes up his abode, and the seeds of the pestilence germinate and multiply.

Public sanitary vigilance is imperative. Let the sewers be flushed and every form of impurity be swept away Let the health of the community be maintained to the highest possible degree. But in addition to all this let every individual be on the alert

The human body has the most perfect and complete system of sewerage, defying the utmost art of man to rival

A wise Creator has provided means for the eradication of all effete and impure materials from the human body.

Morse's Indian Root Pills is such a perfect combination of the best and most energetic remedies provided by a beneficent Providence for the purpose of cleansing the whole system, "flushing the sewers," rousing up the liver, the kidneys and the whole intestinal tract to their proper functions and at the same time imparting vigor and tone to the whole system, that it is with the utmost confidence that we recommend it to the public as the best preventive of the fearful ravages of that justly dreaded disease, Asiatic Cholera.

GLADSTONE'S OPINION

Gladstone says: "You know a good deal about the position of an Insurance Company when you know

Its Date!

Its Income!

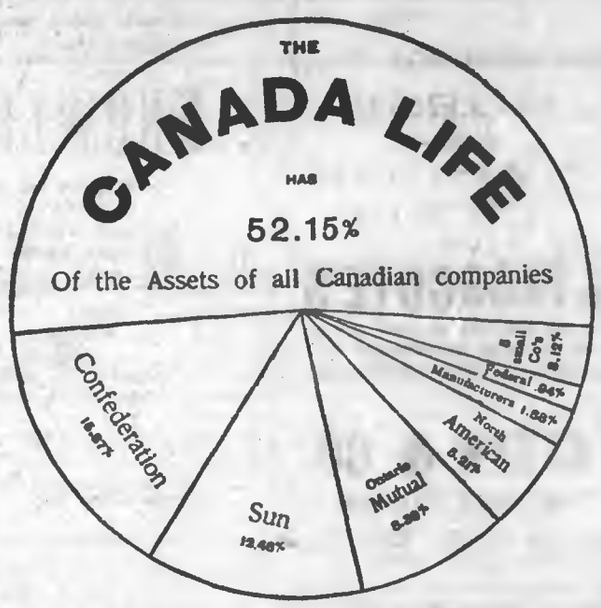
Its Accumulations!

From the relation of these three, one to the other, you know pretty nearly the state of the Company."

Gladstone would place

THE CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE CO.

At the head of all Canadian Companies—for it is by far the oldest Company. Its Income is about two and one-half times greater than that of any other Canadian Company, and its Assets are greater than the combined Assets of all other Canadian Companies, as shown in the following diagram



This Diagram is based on the following table compiled from the last Government Blue Book:

RATES OF DISCOUNT.

It Is Probable They Have Seen Their Lowest Level For This Year.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Discount was easier at the beginning of the week, but afterwards hardened as the Bank of England resorted to borrowing in order to reduce the market supply.

Germany's withdrawals from the Bank of England appreciably influenced the market, which is very sensitive.

It appears probable that discount rates have seen their lowest level for this year, for which foreign exchanges against London attracting gold abroad, and new foreign loans impending an advance seems inevitable.

On the Stock Exchange, despite the settlement, business last week was fairly active. British and most Indian securities improved a trifle, but rupee paper fell ½ in sympathy with the decline of silver. Foreign Government securities, with the exception of South American bonds, were neglected.

American railway securities opened with a general advance, but afterward became unsettled owing to Wall-street influences, prices closing Saturday with nearly all-round decline. Atchisons' were in disfavor.

At Berlin during the past week international funds, with the exception of Russian, were firm. Russian Oriental Loan closed ½ lower and roubles receded one point. Iron and steel shares, which advanced after the American elections on the strength of the idea that Mr. Cleveland's election would result in increased exports to America, have now relapsed, as it is recognized as an impossibility that his election could effect material improvement in the iron trade, seeing that the iron exports to America are only a small item of the German trade, and that the benefits of a reduction of the American tariff would fall almost entirely upon the textile industries.

At Frankfort prices were firm during the week. There was little movement in international funds.

MR. BLAKE'S CHANCE.

Justin McCarthy to Resign the Chairmanship of the Irish Party.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—Mr. Justin McCarthy is about to resign the chairmanship of the Irish Parliamentarian Party owing to ill-health. He proposes to make a long stay in the South of France.

BROKEN HEARTS.

How Many of His Victims Died of the Same Cause?

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The Rev. Mr. Clutterbuck, the Government Inspector of Schools, who was sentenced in 1891 to penal servitude for swindling, has died in Portland Prison of a broken heart.

The Monetary Conference.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 21.—American Minister Terrel, who is to be vice-chairman of the monetary conference, will extend a reception to the delegates to the conference at the American legation on Tuesday. The following delegates have arrived:

Italy, Signori Simonelli and Zeppa; France, M.M. Tirard, Deyrolles and Fouville; Germany, Herren Glasenooh and Hartung.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The British delegates to the International Monetary Conference will leave this evening for Brussels. The delegation is composed of Sir Charles Freemantle, Sir Charles Rivers Wilson, Sir William Houldsworth, Bertram Currie and Alfred De Rothschild, with Sir John Strachey and Sir Guilford Molesworth for India. Spain sends three delegates, Senores Osma, Surra and Toca; Denmark one, M. De Fietzen; Norway one, M. Berner, and Mexico three, Antonio de Mier y Celis, the president of the Nationale Bank of Mexico; General Francisco Mena, the financial agent in London on the conversion of the Mexican debt, and Joaquin de Casasus, a currency expert. Mr. Babbington Smith, a former private secretary to Mr. Goschen and now a clerk in the Treasury, is the English secretary.

Police After An Anarchist.

PARIS, Nov. 21.—The newspaper Jour states that the bomb recently found at the office of the Carmaux Company, which afterwards exploded with disastrous results at the police station, was made by the Anarchist Louvet, a friend of Francoise.

Louvet, The Jour says, sailed on the trans-Atlantic steamer with a young woman a few days after the explosion. The police are credited with knowing the vessel, and with having cabled to all ports at which it touches requesting the arrest of Louvet.

The police deny The Jour's story.

THE BEST FAMILY PILL IN USE

Keep the Works in good order.

NORMAN, Ont., January 15, 1892.

W. H. COMSTOCK, Brockville, Ont.

DEAR SIR,—Your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills" are the best regulator for the system that humanity can use. Life is as the time-piece: frail and delicate are many of its works. A tiny particle of foreign substance adheres to the smallest wheel in the works, and what is the result?—at first only a slight difference is perceptible in its time-keeping, but wait you; as the obstruction grows, the irregularity becomes greater, until at last, what could have been rectified with little trouble, in the beginning, will now require much care in thoroughly cleansing the entire works. So it is in human life—a slight derangement is neglected, it grows and increases, imperceptibly at first, then rapidly, until what could, in the beginning, have been cured with little trouble, becomes almost fatal. To prevent this, I advise all to purify the system frequently, by the use of Morse's Pills, and so preserve vigor and vitality.

Yours faithfully,
H. F. ATWELL.

Not with a blind faith, but a confidence wrought by an actual personal experience of their value and merit. My business is such that I spend much of my time away from home, and I would not consider my travelling outfit complete without a box of Morse's Pills. Yours, &c.,

The STANDARD has always taken the lead over other companies in the effort to simplify the assurance contract, and to maintain public confidence in life assurance. Its prompt and liberal settlement of claims has given it a world-wide reputation for generous, straight-forward dealing, and by its example has done much to do away with contesting of policies.

The New Free Policy of the Standard Life Assurance Company is given without extra charge; allows free residence in any part of the world, and is incontestable and unconditional except on the ground of false statements in the application, and that only during the first two years; after that it is absolutely free. This policy is simply a promise to pay a certain sum at the maturity of the contract, instead of having a number of useless clauses on the back of the policy showing what the insured may not do, and which always gives rise to dissatisfaction and dispute, the STANDARD prints only on the back of the policy a list of special privileges granted to the assured.

ROBBED AN INDIAN'S GRAVE.

The Mohawks Vow They Will Have the Scalps of the Offenders.

TYENDINAGA, Nov. 22.—Great excitement has been created on the Indian reserve by the exhuming of the body of Abraham Maracle by ghouls, Thursday night, in the graveyard of the lower church.

The shroud of the deceased was found lying by the grave, which presented the appearance of having been disturbed. Upon digging down the empty coffin was found with the lid smashed in.

Inquiry revealed the fact that three young fellows in a democrat had driven into Napanee early Friday morning from the west, and that in passing down Main-street an axle had given way and that an unwieldy box had been transferred from the broken-down conveyance to another, which was sent up from Kingston.

The supposition is that the medical students are concerned in the affair, and the relatives of the deceased, who are well-to-do farmers, express the intention of sifting the matter to the bottom and have employed detectives to attain their object.

Several residents in Napanee are positive they can identify the culprits if confronted by them, providing that the connection between the perpetrators of the grave-robbing and the occupants of the democrat in question can be established.

The local practitioners express great indignation about the affair and are loud in their denunciation of the participants, who so atrociously bungled their work, and in violation of every rule of humanity or decency left the shroud of their victim exposed to the public gaze in the graveyard. If students are proven to have been concerned in the act several members of the medical profession have expressed themselves as intending to investigate the case and being resolved to deal with the offenders as soon as the law has had its say in the matter.

THE UPPER CONGO.

Cannibalism There Is of Every Day Occurrence.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—Rev. P. M. Flanigan has received a letter from Bishop Augouard, Vicar Apostolic of Oubanghi, on the Upper Congo.

Cannibalism there is of every day occurrence. The letter says a Frenchman, De Pouwayai, has just been killed and eaten in Upper Oubanghi, with 10 black soldiers and 33 carriers.

A Belgian expedition has just been destroyed on the Upper Congo by the Arabs, who put eight Europeans to death by a veritable martyrdom.

The chief of the expedition was forced to look at his arm taken off, which was then roasted and eaten in his presence. The same was done with the other arm, and he was finally killed in the slowest and most painful manner possible.

The Pension Office Enquiry.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—The report of Gen. Raum will soon be completed and a full statement of the condition of the Pension Office will be presented. The statements have been made that the amount required during the next fiscal year will reach $200,000,000. The work of compiling the figures is, however, sufficiently advanced to show that this estimate is in excess of actual requirements.

For the year 1890-91 the total appropriation was about $125,000,000. Last year it was $144,000,000, but this amount fell short of actual demands by about $18,000,000.

Congress will be asked to make an appropriation of about $180,000,000 for the coming fiscal year, about $18,000,000 of which is in anticipation of an increase of that amount over the actual expenditures of the last year.

Railroad Difficulties.

PORTLAND, Oregon, Nov. 22.—Not since the winter of 1889 have the railroads of the Northwest experienced such difficulties on account of washouts and landslides. The Northern Pacific has probably suffered more severely than any other line. Since Thursday night no trains have passed over the main line to the east, but the mails and passengers have been sent over the Union Pacific from Wallula by way of Portland.

Reports from other roads show similar condition.

Floods in Washington.

TACOMA, Nov. 22.—The high waters of the Green, White, Puyallup, Struck and Squally rivers flood the valleys between Puget Sound and the Cascade Mountains. All travel on the Northern Pacific is suspended except to Portland. Hundreds of men are at work along the line of road replacing washed-out bridges and trestles. Reports yesterday say the water is receding and that the railroad company expects to start a train to Seattle this afternoon and to the east on Tuesday.

Log Jam in Washington.

SEATTLE, Nov. 22.—The jam at Snohomish consists of over 3,000,000 feet of logs and debris, which has formed a huge crush in the Snohomish River at the Great Northern Railroad's bridge. The steamers Mamie and Isabella were forced to drift from their moorings and are now in the centre of the jam and badly wrecked. The first fatality is the death of J. A. Medora, a laborer, who was drowned while trying to save stock.

CHINESE MURDERERS.

A Race Trouble that Assails San Francisco Periodically.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 22.—[illegible] men of policemen are on guard in Chinatown to keep the Highbinders' societies from indulging in one of their periodical battles. Two lives must be sacrificed to atone for the two murders of last Friday and Saturday. The police dispersed an excited crowd and chased four men into the quarters of the On Ghek Society. Each man carried two navy revolvers and a knife and wore a mail shirt made of steel. Mail protected the wearers from their neck to their heels and weighed over 20 pounds each. Another Chinaman, wearing a pressed paper suit of armor, was arrested in Bartlett alley about the same time. The men murdered last week belonged to these societies, and the feud has been actively taken up. Though the Chinese quarters are well guarded it seems certain there is to be more killing.

A $2,000,000 Library.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—The trustees of the Tilden will state that an arrangement has been reached by which the sum of $2,000,000 out of the estate will be devoted to the establishment of a library in New York. Bryant Park is likely to be the site.

FIRED IN SELF-DEFENCE.

THE HENCOOP SHOOTING CASE VERDICT.

The Result is Being Largely Discussed in Pickering and Neighborhood and Conflicting Opinions Expressed—Great Excitement Prevails.

PICKERING, Ont., Nov. 23.—The enquiry into the Palmer shooting case resumed at 10 a.m. yesterday in the Firehall before Coroner Bateman.

The hall was almost filled with villagers, anxious to learn any new facts that might be elicited from the witnesses.

Although a number were examined by Crown Attorney Farewell very little, if any, new evidence was obtained.

Shortly after 3 o'clock the evidence was concluded, when the coroner presented the case to the jury. His comments were principally along the line of what was law governing such cases. At the same time the evidence, both in favor and against the prisoners, was reviewed.

At about 5 o'clock the jury retired and after one hour's deliberation returned with a lengthy verdict, the purport of which was that William Palmer came to his death on the night of the 16th from a wound caused by a bullet fired from a revolver held in the hands of Henry Lingford, said shot being fired in self-defence.

The verdict did not in any way implicate Baker.

The verdict was signed by 12 out of the 16 jurymen.

The prisoners were then arraigned before Brereton Bunting, J.P., on a charge of feloniously wounding, previously laid by Constable Decker.

Bail was then asked for and granted by the crown, the sum being fixed at $1000 each in their own surety.

The preliminary trial on the above charge will be proceeded with on Tuesday next at 10 a.m. before Squire Bunting and an associate magistrate.

The verdict of the coroner's jury is being largely discussed in the neighborhood and conflicting opinions expressed.

Never before did such excitement prevail in the neighborhood, and the end is not yet.

FOUND A TRUNK.

Its Contents May Contain a Deep Mystery and They May Not.

HAMILTON, Nov. 23.—An affair which may be of a most trivial nature or a deep mystery, with the chances strongly in favor of the former, was brought before the attention of the police yesterday. On Sunday a young man named J. P. Maddigan and a chum were walking in the vicinity of Beasley's Hollow when they saw an ordinary sheet iron trunk by the wayside.

They found that it contained a lot of papers. One letter was addressed from No. 37 New Road, Spalding, to John Sanderson, builder and contractor, Silver Creek, Buffalo, N.Y., and read:

Please help these chaps if you can. They come from Holbeck, near Spalding. Hoping your wife and family are quite well, with kind regards, I am yours C. D. HALL.

Detective McKenzie was sent to investigate and found that on Thursday and Friday of last week two young men tried to sell the trunk at the residence of Mr. Briggs, near the toll gate.

The police think that the trunk may have been stolen from a train or railway station and any valuables that may have been in it appropriated, or that it may have been simply cast aside.

It was labeled "Quebec" on the top and one end.

To Be Transferred From Quebec

WINNIPEG, Nov. 23.—Yesterday J. A. Tremblay, representative of Le Canadien at Montreal, accompanied by J. E. De Cagne, arrived in the city from the east on their way west. They will be guests of Archbishop Tache for a few days.

Their mission to this country is to purchase land for Roman Catholics from Quebec in the vicinity of Red Deer. Sections of land will be purchased and a number of families sent out. If they progress and do well more land will be purchased and larger numbers sent west.

Smallpox Imported.

QUARANTINE, S.I., Nov. 23.—The steamer Saale from Bremen, arrived yesterday. It had a case of smallpox on board. She will be detained, the passengers vaccinated and the baggage disinfected.

The Cholera Record.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 23.—In 18 of the Russian districts that are chiefly affected by cholera there were 3313 cases of the disease and 769 deaths during the past week. Podolia, Kieff, Bessarabia and Kherson are the worst.

The 14 other districts being affected in a lesser degree the weekly mortality therein ranges from 10 to 20.

During the week there were 58 cases and 19 deaths in St. Petersburg, 45 cases and 32 deaths in Moscow, 170 cases and 71 deaths in Warsaw, 152 cases and 27 deaths in Gitomir.

Prof. Smith's Heresy.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 23.—The test votes have been taken on the preliminary questions arising in the heresy case of Prof. Henry P. Smith of Lane Seminary and they show a strong majority opposed to him. The action makes a formal trial necessary.

Railroads Amalgamated.

OTTAWA, Nov. 23.—Ald. Carscallen of Hamilton, who is here, concluded arrangements with the Railway Department for the amalgamation of the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo Railway with the Brantford, Waterloo and Lake Erie Railway Company.

RURAL STORE TRADERS

MURLED THROUGH THE WINDOWS IN A SECOND.

Three Children of the Merchant Flee a Can of Powder—One is Killed And Another Will Die—The Depot And Windows of the Building Demolished.

MARLBANK, Ont., Nov. 22.—At 12.30 o'clock yesterday an explosion occurred in a store owned by A. N. Nallan.

While three children were playing in the hall between the store and dwelling house they accidentally got hold of a can of powder, and in some way it was ignited, terribly disfiguring all three of them and burning them in a terrible way.

The doors and windows of the entire building were blown a distance of 100 feet from the main building.

Medical aid was at once summoned, and in a short time three doctors were on the scene, but in spite of all efforts one of the victims has died.

The other two are in a critical condition. One of them will die to-night.

People who were trading in the store at the time were blown through the windows, but escaped with slight injuries.

A correct account of damage done has not yet been received.

The force of the shock was felt a mile away and people who saw the children say it is a sight never to be forgotten.

LUSTY LUNGS.

Saved a Hamilton Maiden From Being Kidnapped By a Ruffian.

HAMILTON, Nov. 23.—Elizabeth Gadden, a young woman who resides at No. 26 Tiffany-street, had a very unpleasant experience last night, and but for her lusty pair of lungs might have fared badly.

About 8.45 o'clock she was in the somewhat lonely locality corner of Barton and Tiffany-streets, when she found herself suddenly overpowered, picked up in the arms of a powerful man and carried away.

She struggled, but could do nothing; then she screamed, but the man tried to shut her up, and as he got her off the street and in rear of some houses she naturally became more alarmed, struggling the harder and shouting the louder.

The man got her in rear of Mr. Larkin's residence, No. 39 Tiffany-street, about 150 yards from where he had picked her up, and then footsteps were heard, and recognizing that his plans had failed the man dropped his burden and ran.

Miss Gadden was almost overcome when assistance came. The man was followed a short distance, but had no difficulty in making his escape. Miss Gadden has no idea who he is.

A SHAFT END.

Seriously Injures a Hamilton Young Woman While in Hamilton.

HAMILTON, Nov. 23.—A short runaway, with a sudden and serious termination, took place in James-street about 3.15 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The delivery wagon horse belonging to R. T. Wright & Co. got frightened and dashed off.

Mrs. Layden of Dundas and her daughter happened to be crossing James-street at the time and could not get out of the road of the horse. The point of one of the shafts struck Miss Layden on the right thigh, penetrating her clothes and entering the flesh, inflicting a severe wound, the flesh being terribly torn and lacerated.

To-day Miss Layden is very sick. There are no dangerous symptoms, but the doctor is not yet able to say how the case may turn.

SMALLPOX IN TORONTO.

Another Case of the Disease Develops in a Young Englishman.

TORONTO, Nov. 23.—Another case of smallpox has developed in the city, and just when the four or five patients in the Isolation Hospital had been declared well enough to again mingle with society.

The patient is an Englishman named George Sumner, aged 26 years.

The case was contracted outside the city. Sumner arrived in the city two weeks ago Monday. He was a passenger on the Beaver Line steamer Ontario, on board of which there was a suspected case of the disease. The boat was detained one day in quarantine.

When he arrived in Toronto he took board with Mr. Theodore Thwaites, paperhanger, of No. 108 Northcote-avenue. Sunday he was taken ill and yesterday the disease was declared to be smallpox. There is no doubt about it, the patient being covered from head to foot with the pimples that characterize the disease.

The Medical Health Department was notified and the inmates were immediately quarantined, a guard being placed outside to prevent either ingress or egress. The family consists of Mr. Thwaites, his wife and six children. Mr. Thwaites is away from home, and will be compelled to stay so, at least until the period of incubation is passed. All the family will be vaccinated this morning.

Sumner, who is single and without relatives in the city, will be removed to the Isolation Hospital this morning.

Prohibition in Kansas.

TOPEKA, Ks., Nov. 23.—The official count as made by the Secretary of State shows that the proposition to hold a constitutional convention was defeated at the recent election by a majority of 1284.

The result is a great disappointment to those Anti-Prohibitionists who hoped to secure the repeal of the prohibition laws.

One important result of the recent election will be the extension of woman suffrage. The platform of both the Republican and People's Party pledged the extension of woman suffrage to all state officials, and there is no doubt that it will be accomplished at the coming session of the legislature.

Dr. Crozier Dead.

BELLEVILLE, Nov. 23.—Dr. St. George B. Crozier, Music Doctor, formerly professor of music in Albert College, died suddenly last night, aged 79.

His wife and two sons survive him, namely, John A. Crozier of the Crown Lands Department, Toronto, and Major L. N. Crozier of Oklahoma, formerly inspector in the Mounted Police.

Used Scalls For Footballs.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—Rains have laid bare the interior of Cole's burial vault at Kingsbridge and exposed a ghastly array of skeletons. The Cole family, once wealthy and aristocratic, has long since disappeared. Boys in the neighborhood were caught today using the skulls for footballs.

Allen Harrison Hanged.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Nov. 23.—Allen Harrison was hanged yesterday afternoon for the murder of Bettie Adams in April last. More than 10,000 people witnessed the execution.

RUSSIA AND BRAZIL.

Large Quantities of War Material Received at Buenos Ayres from Europe—Vacuna Executed.

Everything is quiet in Santiago and it is thought all traces of the revolutionary plot have been stamped out. The plot was hatched in the house of Claudio Vacuna, and his son presided over the meetings of the conspirators. It was overheard by a servant woman who was taken sick in Vacuna's house and was removed to the hospital, and there gave the information. Great praise is given to the Grenadiers and artillery for their loyalty. The Government is blamed for having been too lenient with the men engaged in the plot. It is probable more stringent measures will now be adopted.

THE CLOSING ACT.

A General Reduction of Wages Among Re-Engaged Strikers at Carnegie's.

HOMESTEAD, Nov. 23.—The closing act in the famous strike was performed last night. The Advisory Board, which has directed the destinies of the locked-out men throughout the entire struggle, met for the last time in their hall and after disposing of the unfinished business was dissolved.

Ex-President Weigh of the Amalgamated Association was quoted as saying in connection with the Homestead strike: "No other strike was so broad in its influence and men were never so persecuted in any other strike. On an estimate of $1.40 per day for laborers and $3 for skilled workmen, the 8300 strikers in the Homestead, Lawrenceville and Beaver Falls mills lost $32,000 daily, or $2,000,000 during the entire strike."

BEAVER FALLS, Pa., Nov. 22.—Many of those who have regained their old positions at the Carnegie Mills here are much depressed over the notification that their wages would be reduced.

The boiler men, who formerly received $2.25 per day, must now work for $1.80. The wages of the others are cut in proportion.

The assistant boss roller on one of the turns refused to go to work. His wages before the strike were $9 per day, but yesterday he was notified that they would be reduced to $4.

LENGTH OF RAILWAY.

How the Laws of Society and State May Conflict.

CHARLESTON, S.C., Nov. 23.—The Supreme Court of the state has ordered a new trial in the suit over the estate of William Robb of Charleston.

The case raises the question whether a childless unmarried man of alleged illegitimate birth can have any legal heirs. Mr. Robb was a Scotchman and came to this city many years ago. He died in 1885, leaving property valued at nearly $150,000. Devising a portion to his partner he left the remainder to "such person or persons and in such shares or proportions as they shall be entitled to the same under the laws of the state."

Mrs. Jean Robb Muir claimed the estate as Robb's sister. Her claim was contested by the state, to which the estate escheated, on the double ground: first, that Robb was an illegitimate child and could have no heirs; and, second, that when he bequeathed as in his will he meant his lawful relations, and as he had none, being illegitimate, his unlawful relations could not take it.

Mrs. Muir was non-suited. The higher court now reverses this decision and orders a new trial.

A LEGAL CONUNDRUM.

The United States Has Nearly Fifty Per Cent. of the World's Record.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—The census office issued a bulletin of the statistics of railway mileage of the world in 1890.

It shows that out of a total railway mileage for the world of 370,281 miles the United States have no less than 163,597 miles, or 44.18 per cent. of the whole, and that the mileage of the United States exceeds by 3493 miles the entire mileage of the Old World, Europe's 136,665 miles, Asia's 18,798 miles and Africa's 3992 miles, making an aggregate of but 159,665 miles.

In 1830 there were less than 40 miles of railways in the United States. In 1860 the total was 28,919 miles, and in 1890 87,724 miles.

Germany has 25,969 miles, Austria and Hungary, including Bosnia, 16,467 miles; Great Britain and Ireland 19,939, France 22,586, Russia, including Finland, 18,728, and Italy 8117.

FOUR PEOPLE DROWNED.

Great Deluge of Rain at Seattle and Tacoma.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 23.—There is little if any improvement in the flood situation in the Puget Sound Basin and the steady downpour of rain, with a falling barometer, gives but little hope of the abatement of the deluge for at least a day more. There is still an almost complete blockade of railroad communication. The damage done to railroads and farms thus far aggregates $300,000.

On Friday last a party consisting of Prof. Ganiar, his wife and son, aged 19, and Miss Thompson, aged 22, all musicians, started from Everett for Marysville. They went in a yacht with Henry Leary, a sailor. Sunday morning the steamer Mabel picked up a capsized boat, and a reed organ afterwards drifted ashore. Nothing has been seen of any of the party since.

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 22.—Rain is still falling heavily. The first train to go east for four days left Tacoma last night for St. Paul, and the Overland passenger train arrived this morning from Ellensburg. Not a train has passed between Tacoma and Seattle since the flood began.

The Floods in Cork.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—The floods in County Cork, caused by the prolonged heavy rains, have not yet abated.

It is reported that several persons have been drowned. Traffic on the Cork-Muskerry Railroad has been suspended. Many roads are still submerged.

The minutes of previous meeting were read and confirmed.

A communication was received from F. W. Wilkins, account for $35, for surveying ½ line on con. 7, making a sketch or map of survey, and affidavits taken in connection therewith. From John Burnham enclosing account for services, $15, and expenses of arbitration re. sewerage with the town, $24. An account from Jas. Davidson, sanitary inspector and constable, $14. From D. Dunlop for building culvert on Cavan boundary between con. 13, Monaghan, and con. 14, Cavan, $27.85, each township to pay half. A communication from J. H. Adamson for $11.50 for damages to sheep killed and worried by dogs. Messrs. McKee, Nevins and Adamson addressed the council urging their claims; Mr. Nevins' was allowed, he having put in the affidavits of the valuators, the others were left over till next meeting. Mr. McKee also requested the council to repeal bylaw No. 379, which had changed him from school section No. 2, into No. 1. On motion the reeve was instructed to have Thomas Whitfield sent to the Nicholls Hospital for a month, and the reeve and councillor Hunter were instructed to see Mr. Wilkins about the settlement of his account the reeve to give order if found satisfactory. Mr. McIntosh was appointed to meet a committee from Cavan council to inspect and pass the culvert built by D. Dunlop. The account of Jas. Davidson for $14.00 was ordered to be paid and the account of John Burnham for $39.00, ($15.00 for services as solicitor re. sewerage and $24.00 for arbitrators' fees) was also to be paid if found correct.

The council adjourned to meet again on December 15th.

A DISASTROUS FIRE.

The Premises of Mr. J. Braden, of Woodstock, Formerly of Peterborough, Visited by th Lurid Element.

Further particulars of the fire of Mr. John Braden's China Hall, which took place at Woodstock, on Monday morning, and which occurence was chronicled in yesterday's EXAMINER, are to hand. The Sentinel-Review furnishes the following additional matter:

Mr. J. Braden's China Hall in the Martin block on Dundas street was badly damaged by fire at an early hour this morning. Mr. Braden has no idea how the fire originated, but indications would point to the furnace as the cause of the blaze. This is located in the centre of the store, and the flooring over the furnace after being badly charred fell in. But until then the firemen were greatly handicapped in being unable to locate the fire. At the same time there was a dense volume of smoke escaping from the store—so dense in fact that the firemen were unable to enter the building.

Mr. Braden had a stock of China and fine earthenware which was invoiced at from $4,000 to $5,000. A quantity of Christmas goods was received only a few days ago. These as well as a large quantity of stuff which had been sold but not paid for, is a total loss. A portion of the stock is only partially damaged by smoke and water, but the more expensive goods are totally destroyed. Mr. Braden had an insurance in stock and fixtures of $3,000. The building is owned by the estate of the late Jonathan Martin, Mr. T. W. Martin, merchant, of Joliet, Mich., being the executor. The damage to the building will not exceed $1,000, and is covered by insurance in the following companies: North British and Mercantile, $2,000; Commercial Union, $2,000; Norwich Union, $1,000.

Mr. Braden will be a heavy loser. The fire having occurred at the very opening of the holiday trade will prove a serious loss. Mr. Braden came here from Peterborough last June and opened the China hall. He appeared to be doing a good business.

Although he attaches little or no weight to the incident, Mr. Braden had a strange dream the other night, which will furnish some food for thought for those who believe in such visions. For some time he had a suspicion that his store was visited at nights by some one who had no right to be there; things did not appear in the morning altogether as he had left them the night before; still he endeavored to persuade himself that it was only suspicion—nothing more. But the other night Mr. Braden had a dream, and when he felt sure he saw the man in the cellar, he woke up with a sudden start. But so certain was he that the stranger was in the store Mr. Braden dressed and came down to the China Hall to find the mice the only visible thing possessing life about the premises.

ARCHIMIDES.

Archimedes was a famous geometrician and astronomer of Syracuse, who, when that city wat besieged by the Romans, for a long time baffled their efforts by means of the machines which he had invented. Harvard Bronchial Syrup which emanated from the celebrated Harvard University is the most celebrated and wonderful remedy of modern time for the cure of coughs, colds, croup, sore throat and all bronchial affections. This marvellous cough medicine has met with unprecedented success in every country where it has been introduced. Cures Others

WILL cure You, is a true statement of the action of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, when taken for diseases originating in impure blood; but, while this assertion is true of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, as thousands can attest, it cannot be truthfully applied to other preparations, which unprincipled dealers will recommend, and try to impose upon you, as "just as good as Ayer's." Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla and Ayer's only, if you need a blood-purifier and would be benefited permanently. This medicine, for nearly fifty years, has enjoyed a reputation, and made a record for cures, that has never been equalled by other preparations. AYER'S Sarsaparilla eradicates the taint of hereditary scrofula and other blood diseases from the system, and it has, deservedly, the confidence of the people.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

"I cannot forbear to express my joy at the relief I have obtained from the use of AYER'S Sarsaparilla. I was afflicted with kidney troubles for about six months, suffering greatly with pains in the small of my back. In addition to this, my body was covered with pimply eruptions. The remedies prescribed failed to help me. I then began to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla, and, in a short time, the pains ceased and the pimples disappeared. I advise every young man or woman, in case of sickness resulting from impure blood, no matter how long standing the case may be, to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla."—H. L. Jarmann, 33 William st., New York City.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOUR COLUMN.

"FOR CHRIST AND THE CHURCH."

Topic for Week Beginning Nov. 27th—"How to be Lights in the World"—Acts xiii, 22-33; Eph. v. 6-8.

[All communications intended for this column must be marked "Christian Endeavour" and sent to Box 113, Peterborough, not later than Friday previous to date of issue.]

The privilege and responsibility of being the light of the Gospel to the world has fallen to the Christian church. We may be lights in the world by:

1. Being enlightened ourselves.—Jno i, 4-9; Jno. viii, 19-21.

2. Keeping the light burning brightly. To do so, (a) Be consistent. Mean all you profess. "Vow and pay."

3. Being self denying. Read what Paul has to say on the subject. Acts xx, 17-27, Acts xxi, 13-14, II Cor. vi, 4-10, etc. They who cannot sacrifice their own inclinations for the sake of Christ will not shine.

4. Being clothed in the Christian graces. (a) Faith. Faith takes hold on the promises of God. Faith nerves the Christian for service, and by faith he shows a bright and shining light for Christ in the dark places of the earth. (b) Hope—Heb. vi, 18-20. Christians who hope are the heroes who, through Christ, are overcoming the world. (c) Love. We cannot be lights in the world unless we love. God loved the world—John, 8-16. Christ also loved sinners—Matt. 23-37. He loved His disciples. Likewise God's children must love. See I Cor. 13. Thus, by searching the word of God, we may all learn how to shine for Christ, then, if any do not, we are without excuse.

AFTER COMMUNION.

(W. H. in Canada Presbyterian, Nov. 2nd, 1898.)

Lord, I fain would be
A runner in the race,
Even tho' I lag, and do but gain
The lowliest place.

I fain would lay aside
Every sin and weight,
And press with steadfast patience on To Heaven's gate.

Riches, pride, and ease,
Lord let me not know;
Lead me for I do long to walk
Where Thou did'st go.

I would not strive in pride
To take the highest seat;
For Thou, the Master, once didst wash
Thy servants' feet.

I would not love to feast,
Just those who ask again,
For Thou, the King, didst visit most
The poorest men.

I would not seek for wealth,
Nor sloful lie abed;
For Thou, the Lord, hadst never where
To lay Thy head.

I would not flee from pain,
Nor count each petty loss,
For Thou wert in Gethsemane—
And on the cross.

But, Christ, be Thou at hand,
That I may run my race,
Weights and sin oppress when I
See not Thy face.

Come as Thou did'st of old,
To holy men of God,
That I tho' weak and faint, may climb
The heights they trod.

TEMPERANCE TOPICS.

Mayor Spencer who is an enthusiastic temperance man, in his address of welcome at the London convention, took occasion to address a few words on that important topic, and which was received by the convention with delight and gratitude, because now we know that Ontario has at least one city that honours itself by having in its chief magistracy a man who is not afraid to speak out on sobriety and right. He said "that each year London spent from $6,000 to $7,000 in relief, and as it was distributed through him he had an opportunity of knowing the cause of poverty. He kept a record of such cases and in nearly every instance it was liquor, liquor, liquor that brought about the destitution. He referred to the death of Detective Phair, who a few days before was shot down by a man crazed with strong drink, as an example of what drink will do with its victims. Yet we only had one side of the story, not having as yet heard the constant moan of despair that goes up from the drunkard's wife and children who instead of suffering, hunger, cold and disgrace, should be happy and provided for, as God intended. He maintained that London was one of the most moral cities in the country, there being but forty licensed drinking places in the city, whereas, two years ago sixty-nine existed. He claimed that the responsibility rested with the church people and they could stop the traffic when they liked.

CHRISTIAN PATRIOTISM.

Rev. S. P. Rose, D.D., of Montreal, on "The place of Christian Endeavour in Canada's national development," declared his sympathy with the title of his subject, consequently his willingness to speak on it. He said that all Endeavourers should be loyal to their country. In this they were following the example of Christ, who Himself always remembered the narrow strip of land that was His own peculiar country. "We did well to cultivate Christian patriotism—Christian patriotism remembering that all men were brothers under the kingship of our Lord." There were times in our national history when we dare not be silent. As when the sanctity of the Lord's day was in peril, we must speak out; while man is, the Sabbath must remain. It was God's gift to the working man and the best gift of all the week. Then there was the temperance question that demanded our attention, and we as Christians should force upon our Legislatures the true temperance principles, "Righteousness Exalteth a Nation." Speaking of Quebec province he said the C.E. movement must necessarily be missionary. There was inverted law, which gave the dominant church an unfair advantage. There were national and religious prejudices, and the dual language difficulty. He thought the Christian Endeavour movement was doing more than anything else to solve the problem of dual languages, and national differences, and bringing the brethren together. He urged that as a Christian organization we should demand righteousness in the administration of public affairs, and remembering that "righteousness exalteth a nation," seek to develop the Christian Endeavour ideal."

Successful in Obtaining a Pension.

Mrs. Wilson is an old lady in destitute circumstances who resides on Antrim street. She has lived her lifetime in Ashburnham, and her husband, Wm. Wilson, who died about two years ago, fought through the whole four years' campaign of the United States Civil War. He was wounded in the conflict and received injuries which disabled him for life. Mrs. Wilson has made one or two unavailing applications to the Bureau of Pensions at Washington, but this week after making another application she has received communication that her efforts were successful. Mrs. Wilson's allowance will from this date be $8 per month. Additional steps may be taken to secure back pay, dating from the time of her first applicbtion.

An Oriental Lecture

Of Rev. G. E. Howie, the Oriental Preacher, a Toronto paper says:—

"The Parkdale Presbyterian church was crowded to its utmost capacity last Sunday evening to hear the eloquent and earnest blind clergyman Rev. G. E. Howie. He recited the scriptures as well as the psalms and hymns. His sermon was upon "God's love to man and man's rejection of that love." He contrasted the love that existed in David for Absalom with that of Christ for Jerusalem and His church. He was listened to with great attention by the large audience. Mr. Howie is by nationality a jew and was by religion a member of the Greek church of which body his grandfather was a clergyman. Several other members of his family were clergymen and two bishops. He left that church and joined the Presbyterian of which body he is now a minister. It was his intention as soon as practicable to return to the east and labor among the Jews and Mahomedans. He now devotes his time to preaching and lecturing. His course of lectures have hitherto included popular exposition of eastern costumes, habits, history and mode of life in so far as these have a bearing upon the Bible.

He will address a mass meeting of the Sunday school children of Peterborough on Saturday afternoon, Nov. 26th, at 3 o'clock in Bradburn's Opera House. Also a lecture on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the same place. His last lecture will be on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Further particulars later on. Silver collections at the door. 2d PETERBOROUGH, Nov. 23.—Yesterday morning's observation, the thermometer stood at 22°, 1 p.m. 24°, sundown 22°. This morning's observation down to 13°; a cold snap and stormy glass. Now for winter.—THOMAS TELFORD.

Course of Lectures.

The course of lectures under the auspices of the Literary Society of the Collegiate Institute will begin on the evening of Friday, Nov. 25th. The first lecture "The United Empire Loyalists," will be delivered by the Rev. E. J. Fessenden, Rector of Chippewa. 2d Elegant Little Houses.

Mr. Dumble has just completed two very elegant little houses (semi-detached), corner of Downie and McDonel streets. In each house are hardwood floors, handsome mantles, china closets, etc. These are the best finished houses yet built in town for renting purposes. There are seven rooms in each house—rent moderate. 2d122

Retiring from Business.

Mr. W. J. Hall, wishing to retire from the present business conducted in Bain & Co's old stand, George street, has decided to rush off the entire stock of hardware, stoves, tinware, lamp goods, etc., at prices that must result in the immediate clearing out of the stock, for no one can resist the tempting prices to which the goods will be marked down.

Splendid Stereopticon Outfit.

Mr. Jay W. Doxsee, who has a splendid equipment for giving stereopticon entertainments and illuminated lectures, is open for engagements on reasonble terms. He has one of the finest oxy-ether lime light double lanterns made, and between 300 and 400 views embracing foreign as well as Canadian scenery. His views and lectures include "A Trip from the Atlantic to the Pacific" and "The Dark Continent by Lime Light." Letters addressed Box 522, Peterborough, will receive prompt attention.

Something to Talk About.

The weather during the past few days has been such that it leaves not the shadow of a doubt that winter is upon us—one and all. Mr. J. J. Sheehy has just made one of the largest purchases of the season of a manufacturers stock of Blankets, Flannels and Flannelettes. The goods are being passed into stock daily and ere the end of the present week his show-windows will bear out this announcement. Mr. Sheehy is bound not to be undersold in any lines of goods; he invites inspection of prices in Flannels particularly. His stock of Mantle Cloths is simply perfect. White and Grey Blankets should be seen and prices noted. Quick sales will be the result. One department is devoted exclusively to ladies and children's hosiery. 50 dozen have just come to hand and will be sold at the marvellously low price of 15 cents a pair. dw

Another Officer "Clocked."

The officers of the 57th Battalion in a body repaired to the residence of Mr. Thos. Tebb, the popular lieutenant of "A" Company, on Benson street, last evening, and gave him a pleasant surprise in celebration of the occasion of his recent marriage. Capt. E. F. Mason, "A" Company, in a well-worded address, on behalf of the officers spoke of the pleasure it gave them to present Lieut. Tebb with a slight memento of his recent marriage, and trusted that he and Mrs. Tebb might enjoy a long period of happy wedded life. Major Dr. Bell then presented the recipient of the address with a handsome and ornate French marble clock, to which a highly-finished pendant silver plate was attached, suitably engraved. Lieut. Tebb made a grateful and appreciative reply, after which refreshments were served and a jovial time spent generally.

New Desks for Government Officials.

Mr. M. McFadden, who supplies the handsome new desks for the customs and inland revenue officials in the new customs block, has these fine specimens of the cabinet makers' skill on exhibition in the windows of his furniture shop on Hunter street. Undoubtedly these desks are of the finest samples of elegant make and fine workmanship ever seen in Peterborough. There are four and each employee of the Government will have a whole outfit to himself for his own especial use and benefit. The average value of these come at $65 apiece. Mr. Thomas Cahill's new desk is a magnificent one, built, as in fact they all are, of highly polished quartered oak. It has a flat top covered with pebbled leather and a set of rotary cabinets at each corner, Mr. J. J. Hall's is similar in style, build and finish, with rotary motion. Both desks will form a splendid feature among the handsome office fixtures of the Inland Revenue Department. Mr. C. H. Clementi's desk is a superb roll top one, and unnoubtedly the most costly of the quartette. Mr. James Snyder's is also fashioned after a similar pattern, and very unique in style and design. Both outfits would grace the fixtures of the Customs Department, Ottawa, let alone the Custom House, Peterborough.

Colorless, Emaciated, Helpless

A Complete Cure by HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

This is from Mr. D. M. Jordan, a retired farmer, and one of the most respected citizens of Otsego Co., N. Y.

"Fourteen years ago I had an attack of the gravel, and have since been troubled with my

gradually growing worse. Three years ago I got down so low that I could scarcely walk. I looked more like a corpse than a living being. I had no appetite and for five weeks I ate nothing but gruel. I was badly emaciated and had no more color than a marble statue. Hood's Sarsaparilla was recommended and I thought I would try it. Before I had finished the first bottle I noticed that I felt better, suffered less, the inflammation of the bladder had subsided, the color began to return to my face, and I began to feel hungry. After I had taken three bottles I could eat anything without hurting me. Why, I got so hungry that I had to eat 5 times a day. I have now fully recovered, thanks to

Hood's Sarsaparilla

I feel well and am well. All who know me marvel to see me so well." D. M. JORDAN.

NO EVIDENCE TO SUPPORT THE CASE.

Wm. O'Leary, Otonabee township, was arrested on Monday by county constable George Cochrane, charged by Sylvester Fife with obtaining a note under false pretences. On Thursday the defendant, who had been admitted to bail, appeared before the County Police Court. County Crown Attorney Wood decided there was no evidence against O'Leary by which a case could be made out, and withdrew prosecution, the complainant agreeing to publish a retraction and apology, which is herewith subjoined:

A PUBLIC APOLOGY.

I wish through the columns of THE EXAMINER to make a public apology to Mr. Wm. O'Leary, of Otonabee township, whose character I believed I injured by acting on reports about him, and whose arrest on a charge which, after due inquiry and investigation, I found could not be sustained, I wish therefor to make a public apology to Mr. O'Leary for my hasty action, which was caused by reports which have since proved themselves to be grossly erroneous, reaching my ears. I take this means of repairing any injury which Mr. O'Leary's reputation and character may have suffered.

A PARISH GUILD FORMED

Last Night by the Parishioners of St. Luke's Church, Ashburnham.

The meeting at St. Luke's church last night for the formation of a parochial Guild was well attended, and its object successfully accomplished. Rev. Mr. Symonds, rector, presided and opened the proceedings with prayer, after which he explained the nature of the Guild it was proposed to establish. It was not exactly the foundation of a new society, but rather the organization of all the existing parish activities into one compact body. The Guild would be divided into chapters, and each chapter would elect its own head; two together with the Guild officers would constitute the Guild council. He believed that the formation of such an association would greatly promote the efficiency of the work of the parish.

Mr. John Burnham, (rector's warden) supported the establishment of the Guild and moved a resolution to that effect, which was seconded by Mr. Peck and unanimously carried.

The meeting then resolved itself into a committee of the whole, and proceeded to draw up the constitution, which, with a few modifications is identical with that of Christ Church Cathedral, Hamilton. Upon the completion of this task every one present joined the Guild, signifying to which chapter or chapters they intended to belong. The following officers were elected:—

Master—Rev. H. Symonds (ex-off.).
Warden—Mr. John Burnham, M.P.
Bursar—Miss Tivey.
Registrar—Mr. E. A. Peck.

The chapters at present provided are:—

(1) The Sunday school chapter.
(2) The Choir chapter.
(3) The Missionary Association chapter.
(4) The Ladie's Aid chapter.
(5) The Entertainment chapter.
(6) The Church Decoration chapter.
(7) The Parish Magazine chapter.

All members of the parish are urged to become members of the Guild, and to send in their names to one or other of the officers above named. The annual fee for active members is 10c and for honorary members 50c. per annum, which should be sent in to Miss Tivey.

WEDLOCK UNDER PADLOCK.

Love Laughs at Locksmiths—Hymeneal Harness put on Over Prison Shackles—The First Wedding Ever Celebrated in Peterborough Jail.

On Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock the first jingle of wedding bells ever heard there sounded in the stony precincts of the woman's ward in Peterborough jail. A young lady named Mary Cruckshanks, whose home is in the neighbourhood of Minden, was, about two months ago, at her own request, committed to jail by Police Magistrate Dumble for two months as a vagrant, and about the middle of last month she became the mother of a baby boy, which was formally christened on Saturday afternoon. Samuel Jansen, a farm labourer, whose relations with Miss Cruikshank were responsible for her premature assumption of maternal responsibilities, with a manliness alien to the majority of men who move in a higher social circle, came forward and honourably fulfilled the promises made in the days of courtship, and the wedding was celebrated as stated above in the women's ward of the jail. Rev. Geo. Edwards was selected to perform the intramural marriage ceremony in due and ample form—with the legal quota of witnesses and the social quota of assistants — bridesmaid and groomsman. The company present consisted of the three lady guests at present enjoying the hospitality of Castle Nesbitt. The usual wedding dejeuner was dispensed with, and the strict code of etiquette insisted on at the castle, also prevented the usual bridal tour. At the conclusion of the ceremony the bridegroom left for his home, and will be followed by his bride on Saturday, December third, the magisterial limit of her present visit.

His Military Honours Thick Upon Him

Capt. E. F. Mason, "A" Company, 57th Battalion, returned home from Toronto yesterday where he has been pursuing a three months course in the Royal School of Infantry. He was successful in passing creditably his first class "A" examination, which entitles him to qualify for any position in a volunteer force. Capt. Mason will not be able to be around for a few weeks as he is suffering from an injured knee. Whilst drilling about a week ago he tripped and fell heavily on one leg. Nothing was thought of the occurrence at the time, but in less than a day the slight accident began to be painful and has given the captain serious trouble since.

POLICE COURT.

WEDNESDAY, Nov. 23, 1898.

At the police court this morning the case against Robert Howden for refusing to take out a license for a dog in his possession, was enlarged until Mr. Howden returned home.

Jos. Pogue, a young lad eleven years of age, was arranged on a serious charge, to which he pleaded guilty. Yesterday afternoon Pogue entered the shop of Mr. Wm. McCallum, restaurateur, and going to the till abstracted $2.00 and some odd cents. The youthful till tapper was arrested this morning by Constable Stewart. When searched 75 cents in silver was found in his possession. It appears after purloining the gold dust Pogue made over to Ashburnham, where he spent part of the ill gotten gains purchasing candies from an Elizabeth street grocer. The magistrate remanded the prisoner until Friday for sentence.

THEY HAVE FIVE CLAWS

THE WHITE DORKING FOWL AND ITS CHARACTERISTICS.

The Town After Which it is Named—A Useful and Beautiful Domestic Bird—A Breed That Has Deservedly Generously Lauded in Its Native Home.

Twenty-nine miles south of London by rail, in a picturesque valley, through which flows a small tributary of the Mole, lies the market town of Dorking. "Dorking is celebrated throughout England for its romantic scenery, and has long been famous for a finely-flavored breed of fowls, distinguished by their having five claws upon each foot. These fowls are in great demand in the London markets, and are regarded as the best table fowls produced in the country." The fowls are named after the town which they have helped to make famous. Whether the Dorking is a native product of Great Britain or whether, as some suppose, it was introduced into that country by the Romans at the time of the invasion by Cæsar, is not definitely known. There occurs in the writings of the Latin author, Columella, a description which may refer to the Dorking.

TYPICAL WHITE DORKING COCK.

"Let the breeding hens," he says, "be of robust body, square built, full breasted, large heads, with upright and bright red combs. Those with five toes are believed to be the best bred." These are Dorking characteristics, though differing somewhat from the modern standards.

Of the three varieties of Dorkings, the White, the Silver Gray and the Colored or Dark, the first is believed by many to be the oldest, though there is no definite proof of the fact. It is certain, however, that all three are old varieties, having been known and kept from the time "wherefore the memory of man runneth not to the contrary." The colored is the largest variety, the white the smallest.

The White Dorking may thus be described: The head is large, surmounted by a rather heavy rose comb with well-developed spike; neck of medium length with full hackle; body nearly parallelogrammatic, the length being considerably more than the depth; breast full, wide and of good depth; thighs stout, very meaty; shanks rather short, but strong in bone; tail, in cock, large and provided with long sickles and abundant coverts; toes, five upon each foot, the supernumerary one curving upward; the plumage white throughout, with the shanks and feet white or flesh colored. The Dorking at once strikes the observer as being a heavy and useful fowl. Utility appears in its whole make-up. As the Rev. E. S. Dixon says, "The breeder and the farmer's wife behold with delight their broad breast, the small proportion of offal and the large quantity of profitable flesh." To the same effect are the words of an old writer, "These fowles have very short legges, and are small boned throughout, and the offal is very light, consequently the proportion of flesh is very large."

It would be easy to multiply quotations in praise of this fowl, for no breed has been more generously ended than the Dorking, but the above ive the spirit of the whole, and suffice for our purpose. From them it will be easy to glean that it is as a table fowl that the Dorking is worthy of praise. And it is an excellent table fowl, the flesh being abundant, well disposed, fine in grain, and delicate in flavor. In a country, like England, where a white skin and white shanks are the sine qua non of good table poultry, nothing could be better than a well-fattened Dorking.

As layers the Dorkings are not to be heartily commended. The White variety is really the best layer, I think, but it is easily surpassed by many breeds. The simple fact is that it is too much to expect that in one fowl shall be united in a superlative degree the excellencies found in various breeds. We do not expect the Jersey cow to rival the Shorthorn as a producer of beef, nor the Herford to equal the Ayrshire in the production of milk, and no more should we expect to find a first-class table fowl competing successfully with our best laying breeds, or the best layers equaling in table qualities a fowl like the White Dorking. It is sufficient that a fowl surpass others in one definite direction, and the fowls are few indeed that are superior to any variety of Dorkings for the table.

Dorking hens are admirable sitters and excellent mothers. A great deal of nonsense has been written about the danger to the eggs which their extra toe produces, but it is purely imaginatory.—American Agriculturist.

The fall of the year is a trying season for elderly people. The many cheerless dark, dismal days act depressingly, not to say injuriously, on both old and young. Now is the time to re-enforce the vital energies with Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the best of all blood medicines.

THERE are many forms of nervous debility in men that yield to the use of Carter's Iron Pills. Those who are troubled with nervous weakness night sweats, etc., should try them. dw

KEENE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mr. Richard Doris and Miss J. Casey were united in the bonds of matrimony in the Catholic church of this place on Tuesday morning by Rev. Father Brown. We tender our congratulations to the happy couple, trusting that they may enjoy a long happy and prosperous life.

Water is lodged in many cellars in this village, which makes it very uncomfortable and inconvenient to the residents.

A series of revival services are to be held in the Methodist church here begining Sunday morning next. It is earnestly wished and prayerfully asked that much good may result from those meetings and that many may be led to Christ through the prayers of those who take part in the services.

Three more weddings are reported to take place here during this week. Leap year accounts for this. Who will be next?

The coming comet is eagerly watched for but has not as yet been detected by the keen eyes of the Keenites.

On Thanksgiving morning Messrs. Messrs. Campbell & McNeil Co. were rather startled on entering their store to behold the curtains on the front windows torn to shreds and a number of biscuit boxes with their contents strewn on the floor. It appears that on closing up on the previous night, that a neighbor's dog was accidentally locked in the premises and in endeavoring to free itself from imprisonment committed the above depredation. The damage done is said to amount to about twenty-five dollars. They do not feel disposed to entertain any more dogs.

Our peaceful village was the scene of a family brawl one evening lately. By the threatening tone of the inmates it was feared that murder would be committed, but we are informed that peace is again restored in the home. We do not wish to be severe or personal, but such unlawful and ungodly conduct should receive a taste of the law.

The concert held here on Friday night, the 18th Inst, did not prove to be such a success as was anticipated, no doubt owing to the inclemency of the weather. The programme, although not lengthy, was well presented. Mr. G. Fax, of Toronto, is without exception a clever comedian. He kept the audience in an uproar of laughter by his witty remarks and comic songs.

ANIMALS FROM CANADA UNDER INSPECTION.

Scientists Failed to Find Any Disease in the Lungs Examined.—A Cargo of Lake Winnipeg Cattle Released and Sold on the London Market.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—Sir John Abbott, the Dominion Premier, and the Hon. George E. Foster, the Canadian Minister of Finance, have been for several days in Paris to assist in the trade negotiations upon which Sir Charles Tupper, the High Commissioner for Canada at London, is still engaged. Mr. Foster returned to London last night.

The pleuro-pneumonia scare is still kept up here by the authorities of the Board of Agriculture. The cargo of Canadian cattle on the Beaver line steamship Lake Winnipeg, which arrived at Liverpool last Thursday, was detained, the inspectors suspecting some of the animals to be affected with the dreaded plague. Two of the suspected animals were killed and the lungs sent to the veterinarians of the Board of Agriculture in London. After a careful microscopical examination the scientists declared that the animals slaughtered had been perfectly free from pleuro-pneumonia. The cargo has consequently been released and the Lake Winnipeg's cattle were sold on to-day's markets.

Since the present pleuro scare began a most rigid search for the disease is being made among all the cargoes of cattle arriving at British ports from the continent of America. No more cases have been found to warrant the officials of the Board of Agriculture in maintaining their claim that pleuro-pneumonia exists among Canadian cattle. They do not claim to have found a single case of pleuro-pneumonia among Canadian cattle beyond the questioned cases among the cattle from the Huron and Monkseaton.

The lungs of all the cattle of these two cargoes have been closely examined, but no cases were found beyond the four so much talked about at the beginning of the scare.

Many authorities still adhere to their contention that the suspected cases were not real pleuro-pneumonia. On the other hand, within the last five weeks, eight well-authenticated cases of pleuro-pneumonia have been found among United States cattle landed at British ports.

LONDON POVERTY.

Forty Thousand Children Go Without Breakfast Every Morning.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—There are 40,000 little children in London who go breakfastless to school every morning. This is the saddest feature of the great unemployed problem which agitates the metropolis. The matter has been urgently brought before the School Board this week by delegates from the idle workingmen with a request that the city should fill the stomachs as well as the brains of the little ones whose attendance it compels.

The subject had already been semi-officially investigated, and the appaling figures, which are daily growing, were found to be substantially correct. It is also said that a wholesome porridge can be provided at a cost of only a halfpenny per child. It is argued that, unless such an expedient is adopted, the compulsory education law might as well be repealed, for hunger for knowledge and hunger for food can never co-exist in the same body, least of all in a child's.

FLOODS IN IRELAND.

A House Swept Away and the Occupants Drowned.

DUBLIN, Nov. 21.—The Blackwater River in County Cork has overflowed its banks and adjacent stretches of country are inundated for miles.

In the town of Fermoy, which is on the banks of the river, there is almost utter darkness last night owing to the fact that the gas works of the town are submerged.

Many of the inhabitants of the flooded region are removing their household goods to higher ground.

There have been heavy prolonged rains in the county and extensive tracts in the lowlands are flooded. A number of mountain water courses are swollen into torrents, and one of these rushing streams has worked fatal havoc.

A house at the base of Claddough Mountain has been swept away and the most of the occupants were drowned. Numbers of other houses are inundated and numerous sheep have been drowned.

Emaciated People Grow Fat.

Do you sometimes feel as though your vital energy was sinking, and that you needed some powerful agency to recuperate it? Do you sometimes long for stimulants to brace you up? That is the time to take "Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil," because it contains life-giving principles through its power to create flesh and blood. By taking it according to directions emaciated and enfeebled people have been known to actually grow fat at the rate of from five to ten pounds per bottle consumed. In big bottles 50c. and $1, at all drug stores. dw

A Dangerous Cold.

MURDER NEAR ROME.

A Priest and His Sister Found Dead.—A Laborer is Suspected.

ROME, Nov. 22.—Intense excitement has been caused here by a mysterious tragedy at San Pancrazari, a suburb of this city, where Father Bleudet, a priest, lived with his sister.

A laborer named Manieri, employed about the place, yesterday entered a room occupied by Father Bleudet. He had been in but a short time when he rushed out with blood pouring from wounds in his body.

To his neighbors, who were passing, he declared that when he went into the room he found Father Bleudet in a very excitable mood.

The priest drew a revolver and shot himself. As Manieri fled from the room he heard another shot and heard the priest fall. The people ran to the house and found the body of the priest's sister in one of the rooms, where she had been murdered. The body of Father Bleudet was found on the floor. One theory is that the priest became insane and killed his sister. Another is that Manieri is himself the criminal.

AN ARCTIC WAVE.

Minnesota and Manitoba Wrapped in all Available Furs—The Thermometer on the Run Down.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 22.—The first really cold weather of the season now prevails in the Northwest. A cold wave spreads all over Manitoba and the northern portion of Minnesota, with temperature eight below zero. During the last 24 hours there has been a fall of two to 16 degrees in temperature over Manitoba and Minnesota, and a rise of two to ten degrees over Montana and also over the greater portion of both Dakotas.

The cold wave will progress southeast toward the Ohio Valley and over the lake region Tuesday.

In this city it was six below at 7 o'clock.

Not an Anarchist.

PARIS, Nov. 22.—Louvet, the fugitive who it was claimed yesterday was an Anarchist guilty of complicity in the fatal bomb explosion of the 8th inst., has been arrested.

The charge against him proves to be evasion of military service. He apparently had no connection with the explosion.

Wheat by Pipe Lines.

A novel scheme is on foot to reduce the cost of transporting grain to the seaboard from Chicago, and Mr. T. L. Thompson of that city, a well-known vessel-owner is convinced that the idea is workable and will reduce the cost of grain conveyance to three cents per bushel. Mrs. F. E. Beasley of Chicago, is the originator of the new plan. Her idea is to have grain carried from Chicago to the Atlantic seaboard, for shipment to Europe, by means of conduits. Continuous lines of pipes are to be built, with power stations 25 miles apart all along the route for the rushing forward of the cereals. The estimated cost of the initial line is $20,000,000, but the projectors of the enterprise are convinced that three cents per bushel will be a profitable rate. Mr. Thompson declares that the ultimate success of this remarkable service is an assured fact.

MONETARY CONFERENCE

The Duty of the British Delegates Is to Listen and Learn.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 23.—The International Monetary Conference met yesterday. The proceedings were purely formal.

M. Beernhart, the Belgian Prime Minister, who opened the proceedings, said the conference had been called to discuss one of the gravest and most complex problems that modern society ever had to face. He extended, in the name of the Belgian Government, a most cordial welcome to the delegates.

After referring to the monetary crisis that had occurred during the past century, M. Beernhart said it was in the direction of an international understanding that a solution of the monetary question was now sought.

It was fitting that the deliberations of the conference should take place on the soil of a country belonging to the Latin Union, but it was for the delegates of the United States to put forward the views of their government and explain how it was proposed to carry these views into effect.

H. Montefiori Levi, as president of the conference, followed M. Beernhart. The worst feature of the present monetary situation was, he said, its instability. He hoped the conference would sink its individual interests and keep in view the higher interest of the great human family.

Hon. E. Tirrel, United States Minister to Belgium, replied in a few formal words on behalf of the American delegates.

The conference then adjourned until Friday.

The Conference arranged to meet three times each week. The American proposals will be submitted on Friday.

The American delegates are stopping at the Hotel Bellevue. Minister Tirrel called upon them at noon and discussed questions pertaining to the conference until it was time to proceed to the hall.

M. Beernhart will give a grand reception banquet in honor of the delegates on Monday next. M. Hoegaaden, President of National Bank, will give a reception to the delegates, diplomats and other notables on Dec. 7.

LONDON, Nov. 23.—The Times, in discussing the monetary conference, says: Well, we may now hear all that can possibly be said for and against bi-metallism. Its professed champions are in great favor at Brussels, and as far as votes go may count on having their own way. The duty of the British delegates is to listen and learn and contribute what they can to the collective wisdom among many. A subject which might profitably be discussed is the possibility of an international agreement about bank reserves. The American delegates can instruct the conference about the various monetary schemes from time to time adopted in America. Our delegates can tell no story which could compete with the shifting incidents and dissolving views the American currency can present, but more instruction may be obtained from the record of a system which has stood the test of time and experience than from charmingly diversified accounts of experiments which have failed, and mistakes not yet corrected.

The Post comments upon Cuchueval Clarigney's history of silver coinage in the Revue des Deux Mondes, approving a Latin union system looking to the opening to the use of silver coinage of the newly exploited regions of Africa and China.

WITH POMP AND SPLENDOR.

Emperor William Opens a Session of the Reichstag—Read His Speech.

BERLIN, Nov. 23.—The ceremony of opening the Reichstag took place in the Knights Hall of the Royal palace yesterday and was performed with the utmost pomp and splendor. Emperor William read his speech opening the session.

LONDON, Nov. 22.—The Times' Berlin correspondent says: "It is estimated that new taxes will yield 58,000,000 marks. The Army Bill requires a capital expenditure of 66,000,000 marks and an annual expenditure of 64,000,000 marks. It is expected the Government will be obliged to adjust matters by modifying the dimensions of their military scheme or the exaction of larger contributions from the Federal States to the Imperial treasury."

Chancellor Von Caprivi, the members of the Bundesrath and nearly all the members of the Reichstag were present at the ceremony of opening the session of the Reichstag.

Emperor William wore the uniform of the Garde du Corps. As he entered the hall he was given three cheers. He proceeded direct to the throne, on which he seated himself. Prince Albrecht and Prince Frederick Leopold stood beside him. His Majesty read his speech without doffing his helmet.

With the exception of his reference to Germany's friendly foreign relations, the Emperor's speech was coldly received by the evening papers.

The National Zeitung complains that the speech contained nothing new in regard to the army bill.

The ultra-conservative Kreuz Zeitung says that an unprejudiced person can scarcely obtain from the speech any other impression than that the empire under the present economic conditions is rather in need of economy than of new and large demands.

The Vossische Zeitung says that the speech confirms the statement made at the opening of the Diet that the economic situation of the country is unsatisfactory.

PACIFIC COAST FLOODS.

PUGET SOUND VISITED WITH FLOODS AND WRECKS.

A Seething Lake With Logs, Shingles, Buildings, Ties, Trees and Debris Jammed Ten to Twenty Feet High—Demoralization of Railroad Traffic.

SEATTLE, Nov. 23.—Reports of a storm throughout the western portion of the state are worse yesterday, and prospects of rail communication being restored are abandoned for several days. Five deaths are reported as the result of the floods, while the loss of property in the shape of farm buildings carried away and wrecked will amount to thousands of dollars.

In the Stock Valley, as far as the eye can see, the valley is a seething lake, with logs, shingles, wrecked buildings, railroad ties, uprooted trees and debris jammed together 10 to 20 feet deep.

The Great Northern will not be able to run trains until the bridges are repaired and the slides removed and track rebuilt.

The Seattle, Lake Shore and Eastern runs trains to the international boundary, but a transfer is made around the slide at Blackman.

Three or four small steamers are reported sunk in the Snohomish River, but no lives lost.

The large steamer is carrying passengers to Whatcom to take the rail connection to the east.

The Canadian Pacific has almost entirely escaped any damage or delay.

Frame houses of all descriptions have been seen floating in nearly every form and size west of the mountains.

RAIN IN TORRENTS.

Railroads on the Puget Sound Have a Grievance Against Nature.

PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 23.—Rain has fallen in torrents yesterday in Oregon and Washington west of the Cascade Mountains, and the local train traffic on Puget Sound north of Tacoma is entirely suspended.

The damage already done in the Puget Sound country will probably reach a half-million dollars, and the prospect now is that much greater damage will result.

The Northern Pacific repaired the damage to the main line and the trains for the east are now running regularly.

The land slide on the Union Pacific at the Cascade continues to come down with increased energy. A heavy rain fell there to-day, which washed tons of earth down the mountain side. Construction work on the track around the slide began yesterday and it will probably be completed by to-morrow night. The company is still transferring passengers and mails around the obstruction by boat.

ITCHING AND BURNING

Sores All Over Her Body. Suffering Endless. Doctor Useless. Cured in 4 Weeks by Cuticura.

Your most valuable CUTICURA REMEDIES have done my little girl so much good that I feel like saying this for the benefit of those who are troubled with skin diseases. She was troubled with itching, burning sores. When I took her to the doctor the first time, he called it the Italian itch, and said he would cure her in two weeks. When the two weeks were up, he called it eczema, and in that time she was worse than before. He doctored her for three months, and she was so bad that we did not know what to do. He did not do her any good. I saw the advertisement of CUTICURA REMEDIES in the paper, and I said to my wife, "I am going to try them." Mind what I say, she was so thick with sores that we had to soak her clothes to take them off. Itch! there was no end to it. She had it all over her body, back, legs, arms, in between her fingers. She did not have it on her head. But after taking your CUTICURA REMEDIES for two weeks the itch stopped, and in four weeks the sores were all gone. I enclose her portrait. I am more than pleased with your CUTICURA REMEDIES, as they speedily cured my daughter, and if anybody asks me about your remedies, I will uphold them wherever I go. CHARLES M. GRONEL,

OARSMAN O'CONNOR DEAD

HE WAS THE CHAMPION SCULLER OF AMERICA.

The Great Sculler Beaten in His Battle With Death—Succession to the Championship He Left Vacant—His Record on the Water.

TORONTO, Nov. 24.—William J. O'Connor, the champion oarsman of America, died yesterday at 2.30 p.m. at his home in Adelaide and Simcoe streets, after three weeks' suffering, from typhoid fever.

On the first week of the month the sculling stalwart took to his bed for intervals during the day, hoping to overcome the apparent weakness in his system. On Thursday, Nov. 10, he took his last outing, and that evening went to his bed, from which he never rose again. He was delirious for the greater part of the last five days, and in his lucid intervals talked encouragingly to his attendants about him. The doctors forbade the admission to the sick chamber of his friends until yesterday, when all hope for recovery was abandoned. All Tuesday night the stricken sculler was in an hallucination, and talked about incidents uppermost in his mind. He craved for Hanlan and gave instructions to "Pull up to 36 and we'll win the race yet."

About 3 p.m. scores began to call and offer consolation to the sadly bereaved brothers and sisters. Among the callers was Miss McDonald, to whom the late oarsman was very much attached. In short, sorrow was universal among the citizens, who had lost one of themselves famous all the world over.

O'CONNOR'S CAREER.

He Was 29 Years Old—He Left an Estate Worth $40,000.

William James O'Connor was born in the house in which he died, May 4, 1863, and was consequently 29 years old. His mother died shortly after his birth. The eldest brother of the family, John, to whom was entrusted the care of the younger members of the family, died two years ago, shortly after his wife, and the oarsman succeeded him as proprietor of the O'Connor House. A sister died some years ago. The late oarsman's brothers, Michael, Thomas, Henry and Patrick, and his sisters, Mrs. Riddell and Mrs. Glover, survive him. He was an unmarried man. O'Connor's father is still living at the age of [illegible].

"I will never marry," said O'Connor to a friend a few weeks before his death.

"I have my late brother's children to look after. He was a good brother to me, and I am obliged to look after their interests."

O'Connor died leaving an estate valued at $40,000, including $15,000 insurance, the O'Connor House $15,000 and the residue in real estate and cash.

HANLAN'S MOURNFUL MOOD.

O'Connor Was Not Himself in the Double Scull Races This Year.

The first thing yesterday morning Hanlan called at O'Connor's place and learned that his sculling partner was nearing his end. He wended his way home, tears trickling down his cheeks as he walked along Adelaide-street. In the afternoon the ex-world's champion came down town and learned that O'Connor was dead.

"It was Sept. 5 at Charlotte," said Hanlan, "that I noticed O'Connor was failing. In the race with Hosmer and McKay he seemed to lose strength at the 1½ miles, and when asked the cause said that he was a little fleshy and not trained down sufficiently. He wouldn't admit of anything being wrong with his constitution.

"I advised him not to row Gaudaur for 7 weeks at least," continued Hanlan; "and as the Orillian could not wait that long we made the match in the doubles. During his preparation for the event that proved the last of his life, he wasn't well during the whole preparation.

"I remember when we were on our way to Orillia we stopped at Allandale for dinner. O'Connor ate a single egg only, while I took two eggs and a steak large enough for two men. The race was a repetition of the Charlotte one, only O'Connor appeared much weaker. At the first half I thought we would win, but at the 4 they gained on us, and at the mile O'Connor lost his strength and dropped the stroke from 36 to 28. At the turn I thought he would stop altogether. I believe his constitution was being slowly undermined until the dread disease carried him off to-day."

Con Enright, His Former Partner.

Con Enright, the partner with whom O'Connor first came into prominence in the doubles, was seen last evening. It is only two years ago that he lost his own brother, then a most promising amateur sculler. One event reminded him of the other, and yesterday Mr. Enright was downcast to hear of his companion's demise.

"The Sunday before his Orillia race was the last time I saw Billy alive, and I was then impressed with his unwonted appearance. He certainly was not looking himself."

Eddie Durnan came over from the Island the evening of Thanksgiving Day, the 10th inst., and went to O'Connor's place. He noticed the champion was not looking well, and, wishing to give words of cheer, said:

"You want a little exercise and you'll be all right."

"Well, I'll take a walk with you," and the two set out for what was O'Connor's last outing on earth. They walked up Yonge, along College and down Beverley to Queen. When he reached home the champion was very much fatigued and saw that the tramp was far from being a benefit. He went at once to his bed, from which he never rose.

O'Connor as a Pedestrian.

O'Connor was very fond of pedestrian exercise. His record walk from Hamilton to Toronto of Dec. 6 last will be well remembered. He went the distance of 44 miles in 9 hours 26 minutes, his actual walking time being 8 hours 48 minutes.

What His Physicians Say.

It was just a week before then, or Nov. 10, that the first ravages of the fever, which turned to typhoid, set in. Dr. Grasett was in constant attendance and his wonderful skill was used to its utmost to stave off the disease, but of no avail. Dr. Temple was associated with Dr. Grasett at the last. It was at 2 a.m. yesterday that the last consultation was held. Then they decided that his recovery was impossible, and the distracted relatives and sorrowing friends had only to wait until 2.30 in the afternoon for the great oarsman to breathe his last. Dr. Grasett was seen last night and when asked what was the cause of the fever immediately referred the reporter to the Medical Health Department. He believed that O'Connor's defeat at Orillia disheartened him, but the oarsman always denied this. Dr. Temple stated that the fever was the result of unsanitary drainage either at O'Connor's home or elsewhere.

A Man of Perfect Physique.

William O'Connor was a man of perfect physique. His six foot figure was well knit, and although weighing 185 pounds scarcely looked it. He was a most popular man among all persons—he had none but friends.

His face was a familiar one on our streets during the winter months, when he was wont to promenade in comfortable furs. He enjoyed life. His weak point physically was his stomach. Most carefully was his food invariably prepared for him and intoxicants he persistently eschewed. He was a strictly temperate man.

The funeral takes place Friday and will be a public one. There will be service in the morning at 9 o'clock at St. Michael's Cathedral. The procession will leave Mr. O'Connor's late residence at 3 p.m. and mass will be solemnized at St. Patrick's Church, of which the late oarsman was a communicant. From thence the cortege will proceed to St. Michael's Cemetery.

WHO IS CHAMPION?

Hanlan, Gaudaur and Teemer Alone Have Any Claim—A Race Required.

The question of the American championship will now come up, as did that of the world's when Searle died Dec. 9, 1889.

The title now belongs to no one, and there are only three persons who have any claim thereto, viz.: Teemer, Hanlan and Gaudaur.

These have each an equal claim to the title and one of them cannot hold the championship until he has defeated the other two. If the three men agreed to a sweepstakes race the matter could be determined by one race.

O'Connor had no arrangements for races. His last scheme was for the organization of a four-oared crew of hardy Newfoundland fishermen to row at the World's Fair.

Russian Grain.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 24.—The semi-official Journal de St. Petersbourg denies the report that the Government is contemplating the restriction of the exportation of grain or the imposition of export duties on cereals.

PRACTICAL EDUCATION.

School Children in St. Paul Preserve the Poor of That City Against Need.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 24.—As a means of teaching the children practical charity the principals invited them to bring thanksgiving offerings to be distributed by St. Paul Relief Society.

For three days the children have been carrying their offerings to school. Meat, vegetables, canned goods and provisions of all sorts, as well as clothing. In these three days the children have given enough provisions to last the 2000 poor in the city all winter, and more than the city has given in three years.

The 43 schools in the city gave 172 immense wagon loads of clothing and provisions for distribution, and it is believed the problem of caring for the city's poor has been solved.

SIR JOHN NOT RESIGNED.

HE HAS NOT GIVEN OVER THE REINS OF POWER.

And Probably Will Not Until the Newfoundland Affair is Settled—And He Has Had Something to Say in the Settlement of the Manitoba Question.

OTTAWA, Nov. 24.—The re-construction of the Cabinet were busy yesterday, and no less than three, all equally unreliable, rumors have been afloat with regard to Sir John Abbott.

The first is that he will leave for Canada with Mr. Foster to-morrow; the second is that he will not leave for two or three weeks yet, spending that time in the Riviera; and the third is that he starts at once for Egypt and will spend the winter climbing the pyramids or in some other equally pleasant occupation, having in the meantime sent in his resignation.

None of these rumors have any official confirmation, and two ministers to whom The World spoke to-night simply laughed at them.

It cannot be learned that Mr. Abbott has communicated to any of his colleagues his intentions since he left.

At that time it was said privately that he had written out his resignation and placed it in the hands of a friend to be transmitted to His Excellency in the event of Sir Andrew Clark and the other specialists he proposed consulting deciding that he was suffering from organic trouble which would necessitate his abstaining entirely from mental worry, but that resignation is said to be still safely deposited in the friend's pocket, and it is generally believed here that it will remain there until Sir John Abbott's return about the middle of next month, the time he fixed for his return when he went away.

Still, it is possible that he may not return immediately, and in that case the resignation may be acted on, but so long a time has elapsed since he saw Sir Andrew Clark and his health is reported to have so much improved that it is not now regarded as at all probable that he will resign, at all events until after another session of Parliament, not until the Newfoundland matter is definitely settled.

Interested in Several Matters.

It is well known that Sir John took a deep personal interest in the negotiations with that colony last session, which led to the suspension of tariff hostilities for the past season, and there is no doubt that he would greatly desire that if Newfoundland is to join the Dominion the union should take place during his administration.

Besides this there is reason to believe that Sir John would prefer to complete the reconstruction of the Cabinet himself, and have something to say in the settlement of the Manitoba school question. So that all things considered it appears most probable that he will retain the premiership as long as his health will in any way permit.

As to prospective Cabinet changes, nothing new has been heard lately, but the rumor that Mr. Chapleau will retire to Spencerwood in the course of a week or two has been revived.

This, however, does not seem at all probable in view of the fact that Mr. Chapleau is one of the sub-committee of council to whom the appeal for remedial legislation has been referred, and that the sub-committee has made an appointment with Mr. Ewart, counsel for Archbishop Taché, to meet him here on Friday next, when it is believed a date will be set for hearing argument in the case before a full meeting of council, after the Manitoba Government has been notified.

It looks as if the rumor about Sir John Abbott's resignation at this particular time was caused by the simple fact that Hon. Mr. Foster, who went over with him, is returning without him and that in the words of the late Hon. John Henry Pope, "There ain't nothing to it."

His Skull Crushed.

HAMILTON, Nov. 24.—Yesterday Robert Guest, a young teamster, met with a terrible accident at Gallagher's limekiln on the mountain. He was backing a wagon with a team of horses under a low shed. It was his custom to drop down in the bottom of the wagon and allow the beam to pass over him. But on this occasion he either didn't drop quick enough or the horses backed up with a rush, and the result was that his head was caught between the front of the wagon-box and the top of the shed, crushing the skull. He died soon afterwards.

Twenty-Two Sailors Drowned.

VANCOUVER, B.C., Nov. 24.—Additional details were brought of the loss of the Norwegian steamer Normandie, which struck a sunken rock near the Pescadores Islands on Oct. 9 and went to pieces three hours later.

Out of a crew of 24 persons the second engineer and one seaman were the only ones saved. They were picked up by a Chinese fisherman. The Normandie left Nagisaki for Singapore with coal.

GUELPH, Nov. 24.—Mr. G. A. Putnam, private secretary to President Mills, O. A. College, had the misfortune to get his right shoulder blade broken on Saturday afternoon. Mr. Putman is one of the forwards of the college football team, and in a game on Saturday he came into collision with another player and was thus disabled. He will not be able to work for some days.

UNSPORTSMANLIKE SPORTS.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

SIR,—The following paragraph appeared in your paper a few weeks ago, and headed as follows:

"UNSPORTSMANLIKE SPORTS."

DEAR SIR,—I like to know what use our Fishery Inspectors are, if they allow the wanton and illegal destruction of fish by spearing by the aid of the jack light by parties coming from the vicinity of the floating bridge, as the writer has seen on Pigeon Creek night after night inside of the last five weeks, while shooting. I think it is a crying shame that it is allowed, as the splendid fishing of a few years ago is now very largely entirely destroyed. Of what use is an inspector living four miles away and going to the creek probably once or twice a year at the most.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your valuable space,

I remain,
A SPORTSMAN.

Would that sportsman please to answer these questions? Where were you stationed when you saw those lights coming from the vicinity of the floating bridge? How do you know they were jacklights and parties spearing fish? Did you see those parties and view them clearly? Had they a jack and spear? Had they fish, and could you give the names of such parties? Why do you conceal your name from the public? If it is necessary to make known there is a public wrong doing, the name of the complaining party ought to be given. That sportsman was quite a while shooting on Pigeon Creek—five weeks, I am not positively certain, but from the time you wrote that scrawl there must have been something illegal about your shooting game at that time, and I question if you were ever shooting game, Mr. Sportsman. If I am right in my opinions of who you are, your gun is generally charged with shots of jealousy and low designs.

Mr. Sportsman, "thinks it a crying shame that it is allowed, as the splendid fishing of a few years ago is now very largely entirely destroyed." Mr. Sportsman knows, if he does know that the fish are not destroyed in Pigeon Creek, but there has been poor fishing with hook and line for the past two years in consequence of the high water.

Mr. Sportsman you will bear in mind the inspector of fisheries for the Pigeon Creek does not reside four miles from Pigeon Creek; he generally reports himself two miles from Pigeon River. We would also ask you, how do you know that the fishery inspector visited the river only once or twice in the year. The prospects are he should report to your honour Mr. Sportsman.

Mr. Sportsman bear in mind that the fishing inspector does his duty without fear, favor, hope or reward, and does not care for your snarl or miserable scrawl, and if you give your name the next time you write, we will accommodate you with something better. Mr. Editor, as you have given sportsmen space for his communication, please be so kind as to give me space for this query and challenge and I will be much obliged.

Yours respectfully,
HUNTER.

NORWOOD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

On Sunday morning and evening last Bishop Hawkins, of Chatham, occupied the pulpit of the Methodist church, and preached two eloquent sermons to the largest congregations ever assembled in that church. On Monday evening he lectured on "His Slave Life and Escape." He said he was born in the state of Maryland, but he dosen't know in what year. He remained in slavery 20 years. He often only had an allowance for food after working hard only a tablespoonful of molasses and a hard piece of corn bread. He often was whipped with a poker or broom handle. After he was grown and so he could do a man's work, he was sold as a slave in the city of Washington for $900 in gold. His purchaser gave him permission to go and see his friends in 1889—and he has not found all his friends yet. He escaped to Canada, which he said was the best country in the world. He used to cut wood with Fred Douglas, the celebrated colored orator, and he buried Rev. Josiah Henson, the hero of "Uncle Tom's Cabin." There was a very good attendance, and the pastor, Rev. Wm. Buchanan, occupied the chair. Bishop Hawkins lectured at South Dummer on Tuesday night.

The new proprietor of the Brennan House, Mr. P. Doherty, is giving the house a thorough renovation. A new marble lined washroom has been fitted up, a new bar is being put in, and in all parts of the house paper hanging, painting, etc., is going on, and the result will be a bright, clean, cosy, well equipped hotel, while the careful management, excellent tables and general care for the comfort of guests will place the Brennan House among the best village hotels in the province.

Catarrh in the head is a constitutional disease and requires a constitutional remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, to effect a cure.

A Pleasant Herb Drink.

The best cure we know of for Constipation and Headache is the pleasant herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine. It is said to be Oregon grape root, combined with simple herbs and is made for use by pouring boiling water on to the dried roots and herbs. It is remarkably efficacious in all blood disorders and is now the sovereign remedy with ladies for clearing up the complexion. Druggists sell the packages at 50c. and $1

Cures Others

Will cure You, is a true statement of the action of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, when taken for diseases originating in impure blood; but, while this assertion is true of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, as thousands can attest, it cannot be truthfully applied to other preparations, which unprincipled dealers will recommend, and try to impose upon you, as "just as good as Ayer's." Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla and Ayer's only, if you need a blood-purifier and would be benefited permanently. This medicine, for nearly fifty years, has enjoyed a reputation, and made a record for cures, that has never been equalled by other preparations. AYER'S Sarsaparilla eradicates the taint of hereditary scrofula and other blood diseases from the system, and it has, deservedly, the confidence of the people.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

"I cannot forbear to express my joy at the relief I have obtained from the use of AYER'S Sarsaparilla. I was afflicted with kidney troubles for about six months, suffering greatly with pains in the small of my back. In addition to this, my body was covered with pimply eruptions. The remedies prescribed failed to help me. I then began to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla, and, in a short time, the pains ceased and the pimples disappeared. I advise every young man or woman, in case of sickness resulting from impure blood, no matter how long standing the case may be, to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla."—H. L. Jarmain, 33 William st., New York City.

TELEPHONE TOPICS.

What has been Done by the Bell Telephone Company during the Past Year—Putting in Metallic Circuit Lines—The Rates Kept Down.

The Bell Telephone Company has almost completed its season's work in the way of new trunk line extensions in Ontario. This includes among others several important wires to improve the existing and meet the always increasing business between the various cities such as a new line of very substantial poles from Toronto to Guelph, carrying heavy copper metallic circuit wires; other lines of the same character (but not quite finished yet) from London to Chatham, and Belleville to Picton; new metallic wires from Guelph to Galt, Guelph to Hamilton, and Hamilton to Paris, Brantford, Woodstock, Ingersoll and London; a line from Alliston to Collingwood, and wires connecting the towns and villages of Aberfoyle, Atwood, Blyth, Campbellville, Cottam, Creemore, Everett, Everton, Glencairn, Jordan, LaFontaine, Lisle, Milton, Morriston, Muirkirk, New Dundee, Randolph, Rockwood, Schaw, Sheffield, Springfield, Sutherland's Corners and York Mills with the general system.

The Ontario Department, however, reports that the above work is nothing compared with what has been decided upon by the Directors to be accomplished during 1899. This will include new metallic through wires and also wires for way stations from Toronto to Barrie, Toronto to Orangeville, Toronto to London via Guelph and Stratford; Chatham to Windsor, and Hamilton to Niagara Falls, to complete the line from Detroit and Windsor through London and Hamilton to Niagara Falls and Buffalo, and thence to all points in New York and the adjacent states; also from Port Hope to Kingston, to put that city with Belleville and the neighboring towns, in communication with subscribers in Toronto and points further west. The new pole routes will all be of the most substantial construction, and the wires of copper and doubled in all cases, so that the annoying effects of induction from electric railway and electric light currents will be done away with and the Company able to offer to its subscribers who have metallic circuits to their exchanges perfectly silent lines for their communications.

As the Bell Telephone Company of Buffalo, with its numerous connecting lines, will meet the Canadian company at the Falls, there will be nothing to prevent conversations between Toronto and New York any more than between Windsor and Kingston, except the expense, for of course such costly lines as these cannot be furnished at the same rate as the ordinary single iron or small copper wires and small poles which have been hitherto generally in use. The Bell Telephone Company of Canada has, however, so far only charged a greater rate for these lines than for single wires when the length of the line in use exceeded fifty miles, and then only a sum equal to half a cent a mile for five minute conversations, and the Company will endeavor to maintain this low rate if it can possibly be made to pay.

THE BARLEY QUESTION.

We hear nothing this year about two-rowed barley from the Conservatives who were parading it so energetically a year ago and through the bye-elections. The farmers who listened to their assurances about the English market, which was to take incalculable quantities of our barley and make Canada indifferent to the McKinley tariff, are left with their losses to find consolation where they can. There is a gleam of hope for our barley growers in the direction of sending six-rowed barley to England, and it would be the kind thing if the promoters of two-rowed would comfort their victims by telling them of it. It is not a large measure of encouragement, and if the market on this continent were thrown open again it would not be worth considering—not for a long time, at least—but it is something. The shippers who sent two-rowed barley to England last year found that our six-rowed is coming into favour. It has always been claimed on this side that six-rowed is the better barley, and would be so considered by the English maltsters if they would use it. The contention, it is said, is being partially admitted, and there is therefore a possibility of a trade being worked up. It will, however, be, at best, a slow process. English malting methods will have to be altered to suit the changes of variety, and a considerable demand cannot soon be expected.

Last year our dark six-rowed went to England for feed, and a large quantity, of good quality it is said, was also shipped over on speculation. The feed was sold at fair prices, but as it does not pay to raise barley for feed, that trade, while it may be a welcome relief from a heavy crop of low grades, is not a desirable trade. However, this year, so far, there is no demand for the feed-stuff from England. The shipment of good quality was not successful, and the shippers, it is understood, lost heavily. Many reasons for the failure might be given, but the chief one was probably that the English maltsters, while they begin to regard the six-rowed variety with more favor, are not yet prepared to adopt it on a large scale. The failure suggests a cautious policy of careful shipments, and the education of English maltsters to the use of Canadian barley. And, if the American contention be good that six-rowed is the better malting variety, it is only a question of time when a trade will be established. There is this in favor of our farmers, that Canadian six-rowed is the best barley grown in the world. —Globe.

A Voice From the Canadian Press:

THE BLACK DEATH!

The Scourge of the East.

Grim Asiatic Cholera is marching with stealthy but steady strides to these Western shores.

The foe is at our doors, Sanitary science, with powerful disinfectant, fumigations, and rigid quarantine regulations, stands guarding our ports.

But this fell destroyer on pestilential wing seems to float in the very air and defy all efforts to beat him back. Wherever there lingers impurity and putrefaction he takes up his abode, and the seeds of the pestilence germinate and multiply.

Public sanitary vigilance is imperative. Let the sewers be flushed and every form of impurity be swept away. Let the health of the community be maintained to the highest possible degree. But in addition to all this let every individual be on the alert.

The human body has the most perfect and complete system of sewerage, defying the utmost art of man to rival. A wise Creator has provided means for the eradication of all effete and impure materials from the human body.

Morse's Indian Root Pills is such a perfect combination of the best and most energetic remedies provided by a beneficent Providence for the purpose of cleansing the whole system, "flushing the sewers," rousing up the liver, the kidneys and the whole intestinal tract to their proper functions and at the same time imparting vigor and tone to the whole system, that it is with the utmost confidence that we recommend it to the public as the best preventive of the fearful ravages of that justly dreaded disease, Asiatic Cholera.

THERE are many forms of nervous debility in men that yield to the use of Carter's Iron Pills. Those who are troubled with nervous weakness night sweats, etc., should try them. dw

STOLEN EFFECTS RECOVERED

Further Particulars of Burglaries and Theft by Tully, Bradley and Green, the Three Youthful Criminals.

More facts in connection with the recent burglaries have leaked out and the police have been successful in recovering some of the stolen property. On Aug. 28th the residence of Mr. Hoover, McDonel street, was entered while the family were at church. Everything about the house was ransacked but nothing was found missing until a few days later when four rare ancient coins were found wanting. On September 10th the police found where two of the coins had been sold, but the purchaser did not remember the seller or his name. The police still worked away, and one Albert Green arrested for the recent burglary of Mr. Wm. Fitzgerald's house on Dalhousie street, he confessed that he and Thos. Tully had stolen the coins. News was received that several whips had been stolen from the yard of St. Paul's church, and subsequent development elicited the confession from Wm. Bradley and Green that they and a third party had stolen the whips, each taking three whips. Green told the officers where his stolen whips were concealed and they were recovered yesterday. Bradley also gave the place away where his property was secreted to-day, and the constables found two out of the three whips in the place, the third being missing. Five whips remain to be recovered yet.

EMPLOYERS AND EMPLOYEES.

WORDS OF "WISDOM" TO WORKING MEN.

Address by Vice-President Wisdom of the International Union, to the Local Union—The Relations of Capital and Labour—Co-operation and Harmony Essential Conditions. Strikes Discouraged.

An interesting and instructive meet- of the Iron Moulder's Union No. 191, was held in their hall on Simcoe street last night. There was a large attendance of members. Bro. Robt. Scott, acting president, occupied the chair. In a few appropriate opening remarks he, on behalf the union, expressed the pleasure it gave them to have with them their esteemed brother, Thos. Wisdom, of Pittsburg, Pa., vice-president of the International Iron Moulder's Unions of North America. All knew the object of their executive officer's visit and he would ask him to favour the brethren with a few remarks.

Bro. Wisdom was received with applause. He expressed the pleasure it gave him to meet them again. He had been called on business to Oshawa and felt that it would be unkind to pass by his brethren in Peterborough when he was so near to them. He felt a few words of encouragement and advice on his part might have a tendency to bind them closer together. It might put them in a better train of thought—their greatest needs in the organization were more thoughtfulness, attention and interest. Their aim and object was to come together for educative purposes. They did not believe in strikes. They were ruinous to the employer, employee and the general public alike, and should be avoided except in extreme cases.

TO AVERT STRIKES

there should be a better understanding between their trade and its connections. They had not made all things familiar to their trade and thrown around it that protection which they should have done. They had left their business to the selfishness and tyranny of the capitalists themselves. The acquisition of wealth had an influence to dull the better tendencies and nature of man, and they had given too little time and attention to protecting themselves from advantages acquired by it. They wanted to consider and discuss the advantages of their own trade and take hold of the small evils; watch them and guard them; had this been done in earlier days there would not be the contentions and strifes they had to deal with to-day. In these matters intelligence was essential and the exchange of views should be practiced. They should discuss all existing evils, take them intelligently and strive to legislate correctly so as to meet them. This could only be done by attention and forethought. In the past the labourer has left the thinking part to manufacturers for them to decide. The value of their labour was the all important question to them and they had not decided the proportionate renumeration for their labour. Employers, if left alone, would set it down to the lowest notch. Mr. Wisdom continuing said that employees should ascertain the cost of production, the amount produced and the wealth accruing to the capitalist from that product and with this knowledge brought before the employer they should demand for their services a fair renumeration. They should have some idea of the wealth made by labour and capital and not that created by capital alone. Capital was thoroughly organized and they had to suffer from its unity. Capital and organization were a powerful weapon against unprotected labour, among which, the speaker was glad to say, there was a growing spirit for organization. Capital was finding this out and there was a united effort on the part of the manufacturers to destroy this organization. This was apparent in their own organization where there was a concerted action on the part of capital to destroy it. Capital said they were not going to have work done by labour organizations. They didn't want in the matter of their remuneration, although capital should know it was only the produce part which created a value in the money markets of the world. If they wished to improve their condition, if they wished to live outside the bouds of slavery, they must organize or they would come to nought, not only in their own branch but in others. The speaker instanced the case in the Southern States where honest workmen in the great coal strike were compelled to work side by side with convicts. To think that honest and industrious miners should be subjected to work beside men of the blackest and most vicious criminal records was inhuman and unjust. The convicts were put on at fifty cents a day, and labour had to compete with them. Who were to blame for this disgraceful state of affairs? The government, you say; but no, it was not the government, it was the capitalists who virtually controlled the government. It was high time that labour took a decided stand to free men, who wanted to be honest, from association with criminals.

In the recent presidential election Chairman Frick contributed $250,000 to the government to help in election purposes. Did any one suppose that manufacturers would do the like of this, did they not expect assistance and "protection" from the government in return. Mr. Wisdom referred at length to the Homestead riots brought about by the Carnegie Company to defeat organized labour. It cost the company $2,000 a day to keep the militia there to protect the capitalists. Labour paid taxes to maintain the militia and were entitled to its protection as much as the capitalist; but no, the state brought out its soldiery to make the employees accept just what capital choose to give. Again he repeated, toilers must unite and use every legitimate means to protect themselves. The votes of the people, not of the capitalists, created the government. Then, why not place honest men there who legislate in their interest? Labour must awake, it did not take that interest it should do and different organizations did not co-operate. The reason the switchmen on the New York Central were unsuccessful in their strike at Buffalo was because the engineers, firemen and brakemen did not co-operate with them. Hence their

DEFEAT WAS EASILY ACCOMPLISHED.

It was easy for the great railroad corporation to fill the positions of switchmen, but had the skilled employees joined hands with their brothers it would not have been so easy to fill their places. The different organizations must have more federation and not remain so isolated. One reason why this was the case was because men had their own opinions and they did not, as it were, like to throw away their independence, but in their self-reliance was where they defeated themselves. The immense coal industry of the United States was controlled by an executive of four, notwithstanding there were hundreds of millionaires interested. When the executive said they would only put out so much, all concerned had to submit. Everything was worked to give them the greatest returns. If the workingmen were only as wise as the capitalist it would be easy for them to gain their independence and rights, but they were divided owing to independence dignity and other obstacles. Do the capitalists refuse to go in and reduce workingmen's wages because one employer happens to differ in politics with another? No, they did not. Workingmen should lay aside petty differences such as religion, politics, etc—everything—for the general good. As moulders they should do this and then go out to other organizations and so help in removing all the evils they were suffering from. It was necessary to have moulders, carpenters and machinists' unions to detect evils in their respective trades. They must legislate in their various locals and present their grievances in the general body, and all discuss these together and each become acquainted with these general evils. It would unite them and bring about one great and powerful organization. They were selfish in these things and condemned the tyranny of the capitalist but if they stopped and examined their own conduct, did they not possess the same tyranny and selfishness only in a smaller degree, for instance in looking down upon unskilled labour? They wanted a universal brotherhood and to extend sympathy to those unskilled labourers who, through force of circumstances perhaps, were in such a state, and remove evils from among them which they were unable to remove of themselves.

IN UNITY LAY THE ONLY EMANCIPATION of labour. In the trade, for instance, of a moulder, where such skill and physical and mental powers were demanded their pay was ridiculously low. So long long as "scabs" worked at a lower figure their struggle would be exciting but they wanted to get hold of these and bring them in the organization. The growth of the Iron Moulder's Union during the past four years had been marvellous. In two years they had disbursed $115,000 to protect their trade, $22,000 to bury their dead and $02,000 for journal and education of members. No wonder then that their organization was growing. Every member should devote a little time and exertion in building it up, and bringing outsiders in. Let them help to build up other labour organizations, and in doing so they would strengthen their own. The politician got their vote at an election time. Did he use it for the good of the mechanics? No; he used it to carry out schemes of his own in opposition to labour's interests. Party and influence interfered with the ballot of the labouring classes; this was what was undermining them to-day. They did not want party but men interested and willing to do what was right and just. They wanted to formulate their plans and have certain protection, and if representatives did not pledge themselves to carry out these reforms they should not vote for them. Many evils existed on the statute books of both countries which should be removed to do away with the advantage and tyranny of capitalists. Whether high tariff or free trade would improve their present condition or not, what they wanted was men to legislate for them. The iron and steel industry at Homestead had submitted to two reductions since the passing of the McKinley Bill. The bill was protecting the capitalist, but not the workingman. The former could not get goods into the country without paying a certain amount of duty. But, how about labour in this regard? All the labour of Europe could be imported free of duty. The market could be flooded with foreigners coming in free who were imported by the capitalist and used to grind down the American workmen. There was free trade in labour but

"PROTECTION" FOR CAPITAL.

Taking into consideration the improved machinery, methods, etc., the workingmen to-day were producing four times as much wealth and produce as thirty years ago, but had their remuneration been proportionate? No! This was how Andrew Carnegie made four and a half millions clear profit last year; but the recent strikes had cost him $2,000,000 and somewhat reduced that idordinate profit, to get men in a condition that he could reduce them. He had reduced them and would do so again and again. It was absurd that workingmen were so blind as to go in and assist capital to defeat labour every time. The speaker illustrated the case of the Michigan Stove Works strike where certain workmen at big pay had succeeded in reducing their labour, by high wages to certain men, but the end once attained the capitalist ground them down, and to-day those very men who proved dishonest and assisted capital were poorer than the other members and begging admission to the labour unions. Their organization should exist to teach men of this last type. In San Francisco it cost the order $62,000 to support their own men for twenty months, and also the enormous sum of $75,000 to keep scabs away, but they succeeded. They wanted to build up and hold their own against the powers they had to contend with. They were not active enough. They looked up to the officers in the organization, but it must be remembered it was individual effort which did the work, and they should assist competent men in their work. A night a week should be devoted to their organization. What society, social or otherwise, could be more important than the labour union which took hold of the power and condition of their surroundings? Prosperous local organizations were, as he said before, brought about by formulation of plans, interchange of thought, individual and united effort, and harmony. They wanted to come together and read what their ritual said, that they were true brothers. They wanted to be as a family circle and settle down to practical earnest work. Labour was not up to the proper standard as capitalists had studied their own advantages and conditions. If they could not agree as between capital and labour let both deliberately lay the facts and figures on each side before disinterested parties and decide the matter by arbitration. This was the only honest, fair, square means. They had their condition to elevate and whatever an impartial bench of judges decided, let them submit to. Through the amalgamation of capital and disintegration of labour they had suffered so long. They now demanded a fair division of the wealth produced and were bound in an intelligent way to have their proportionate share. They would undoubtedly gain their end by means fair, honourable and just.

At the close a hearty vote of thanks was moved to Bro. Wisdom by Mr. R. Mulligan, and seconded by Mr. Harry Harvey, for his able and instructive and masterly address. The resolution was carried amid applause. Several local members delivered short addresses; they would do all in their power to benefit the local union.

Bro. Wisdom answered several questions which were asked him by the members, and explained that satisfactory settlements were being made between employers and moulders in the several towns and cities in Ontario where there had been trouble and disputes.

The meeting dispersed at 10 o'clock and an adjournment was made to the Cavanagh House, where the local union entertained their distinguished visiting brother to a splendid oyster supper, prepared in elaborate style by Mr. Cavanagh. After the appetites of all had been satiated, toasts, songs and jokes helped a pleasant evening to pass swiftly by.

THE SAGO PALM.

A House Plant That Should be in Every Select Collection.

We are all familiar with the run of plants usually called into service for window culture, and it is not to be denied that there is an unpleasing degree of sameness in the ordinary selections. Because of this, I wish to tell about a plant that deserves to be more commonly used, and the better to present its merits, show the accompanying illustration.

The Sago Palm (Cycas revoluta) is one of the most elegant of our house palms, and should be in every collection which aims to be select. Where one has only a certain sum of money that can be spent for plant decoration, the object should be to see, not how large a number can be gotten together, but how choice a collection can be had, of plants that have a character and individuality of their own. Do not crowd a dozen or more poor scrawny geraniums in front of a window, when two or three or four plants like these under consideration, with a couple of geraniums or similar plants, will do far more to decorate an apartment, and will be no more expensive.

At the last meeting of the Florists' Society at Toronto there was an excellent exhibition of small Sago and other palms, as well as large ones, offered at very reasonable prices, some being as low as 75 cents each. As a rule, it is the best to procure plants moderate in size; otherwise it is only a few years before they become too large to be conveniently handled for house use. It also affords a great deal of satisfaction to see a plant like a palm grow into size and beauty under one's own care, aside from the smaller expenses incurred for young plants, and with age and size these plants increase very rapidly.

The Cycas is a genus of small palm-like trees of an order closely related to the conifers or evergreens. Although there are but seven or eight species of Cycas, yet they are noted for their wide distribution, being found in Australia, East India, Siam and the Philippine Islands.

Where a rapid growth is desired, as in a greenhouse, for commercial purposes, the Sago palm must be supplied with a moist atmosphere. For house culture this point is not of so much importance, as it is better if the growth be slow, as long as the conditions are healthful. The best soil to use is a strong fibrous loam, with a considerable proportion of clean sand mixed with it. As plenty of water is essential for these plants, the matter of drainage for the pots must be carefully looked after, as stagnant water will soon destroy their beauty, if not their life.

SAGO PALM (CYCAS REVOLUTA).

Cycas revoluta, the subject illustrated, is perhaps the best known of the species. This came from China over one hundred and fifty years ago, and has dark-green leaves, which are frequently from two to six feet long. Stems of old plants have gotten to be over six feet high, and divided into several branches, and with each bearing a crown of these beautiful leaves, the effect is very striking and unique. But these large specimens can only be enjoyed by those with proper houses for them. In the house, plants of the size of the one illustrated are much the best.

Another good sort, well worthy of being more extensively cultivated, is Cycas circinalis, which attains, with age, a greater size than any of the others. The leaves are a shining dark green on the upper side, lighter underneath, and getting to be from six to twelve feet long. One of the best ways in which to employ these plants, as they attain size, is in out-door work during the summer, as few subjects present a more graceful appearance in a subtropical garden. Give them as warm and sheltered a position as possible, and they can remain out from late in May until early in September, and then be all the better fitted for in-door duty during the winter. Wipe off the foliage, both upper and under sides, occasionally, with a damp sponge; it will brighten their looks, and aid in keeping off injurious insects, which, however, are not usually very troublesome, scale being the most so, but if taken in time, can be kept entirely under control.—E. E. Sammey, in Country Gentleman.

Wood Ashes.

Where wood is used as fuel, a considerable quantity of valuable fertilizer can be secured if ashes are carefully saved during winter and applied in spring. Many agriculturists leach them in order to secure the lye with which to make soap, but often after being used for this purpose they are shoveled out of the hopper and allowed to waste. While leaching detracts something from their value, they are yet too good a fertilizer to throw away. They can be used profitably in the orchard, as nearly all trees will be benefited by having a quantity spread broadcast almost as far as the branches extend. For peaches and grapes ashes are especially valuable. In the truck patch they are highly advantageous to potatoes, although they can be used to an advantage with nearly all garden crops. Onions do well with a liberal amount worked well into the surface of the soil. In the garden it is not necessary to work deep, as the greater number of garden vegetables secure their supply of food near the surface. In addition to furnishing plant food, ashes aid materially in loosening up and making friable a stiff, hard soil, and in furnishing the potash supply, one of the three leading elements needed in plant growth.—Orange Judd Farmer.

Ringing the Sow.

The Dublin Farmer's Gazette says: On no account must any attempt be made to put a ring in a brood sow's nose while she is pregnant; it is lively cause of abortion. If not done before she gets the boar she should not be ringed until after her litter is weaned.

The fall of the year is a trying season for elderly people. The many cheerless dark, dismal days act depressingly, not to say injuriously, on both old and young. Now is the time to re-enforce the vital energies with Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the best of all blood medicines.

Diminishing Demand for Horses.

Great Britain imported in the last three years, 1888, 1889, and 1890, an average of 14,874 horses annually, of which Canada sent 179 a year. The horse market is dull in Canada. Horses in England and the United States are just as much cheaper than they were, as they are here. In Ottawa the Electric Street Railway Company furnish a most excellent service on the streets with electricity as the motive power. Toronto is discussing the feasibility of having electric street cars. It has been stated by writers of good repute, that the substitution of electricity for horses, lessened the demand by 25,000 on this continent alone during last year. If the demand has been lessened, and is being lessened, there appear to be only two remedies, either to produce less, or to produce the kind that is now wanted. The horse that is mainly wanted in England is of a lighter style than we have been breeding. They are in demand for cavalry re-mounts; the average price there is £30 to £40. It costs about $45 each to ship them there.—Prof. Robertson.

A LIBERAL POLICY.

The STANDARD has always taken the lead over other companies in the effort to simplify the assurance contract, and to maintain public confidence in its utterance. Its prompt and liberal settlement of claims has given it a world-wide reputation for generous, straight-forward dealing, and by its example has done much to do away with contesting of policies.

The New Free Policy of the Standard Life Assurance Company is given without extra charge; allows free residence in any part of the world, and is incontestable and unconditional except on the ground of false statements in the application, and that only during the first two years; after that it is absolutely free. This policy is simply a promise to pay a certain sum at the maturity of the contract, instead of having a number of useless clauses on the back of the policy showing what the insured may not do, and which always gives rise to dissatisfaction and dispute, the STANDARD prints only on the back of the policy a list of special privileges granted to the assured.

THE BEST FAMILY PILL IN USE

FOR SALE BY ALL DEALERS

Keep the Works in good order.

NORMAN, Ont., January 15, 1892.
W. H. COMSTOCK, Brockville, Ont.
DEAR SIR,—Your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills" are the best regulator for the system that humanity can use. Life is as the time-piece: frail and delicate are many of its works. A tiny particle of foreign substance adheres to the smallest wheel in the works, and what is the result?—at first only a slight difference is perceptible in its time-keeping, but wait you; as the obstruction grows, the irregularity becomes greater, until at last, what could have been rectified with little trouble, in the beginning, will now require much care in thoroughly cleansing the entire works. So it is in human life—a slight derangement is neglected, it grows and increases, imperceptibly at first, then rapidly, until what could, in the beginning, have been cured with little trouble, becomes almost fatal. To prevent this, I advise all to purify the system frequently, by the use of Morse's Pills, and so preserve vigor and vitality.
Yours faithfully,
H. F. ATWELL.

AN OVERLAND FLYER.

Collides With a Freight Train—Six Men Killed.

OMAHA, Nov. 23.—Four persons have been killed in a Union Pacific wreck at Alda.

The wreck was caused by a collision between the overland flyer due in Omaha at 10.40 this morning and a freight train.

The freight train had been switching and had just pulled out of the Alda yard, when the flyer rounded a curve and the two trains crashed together.

Both trains were completely wrecked. The baggage and postal cars were telescoped and the freight cars piled on top of the broken mass. The killed are: Engineers Barrett and McDonald, Conductor Kesler, Fireman Owens.

Injured: Fireman Costello, Mail Clerk Lyons, both fatally; Brakeman Sutherland, badly bruised and scalded.

Only one passenger was hurt, and he slightly.

Fireman Costello and Brakeman Sutherland died this afternoon.

The coroner's inquest developed the fact that Conductor Kesler left the switch open.

ELMIRA, Nov. 23.—A "long time" piano playing contest between J. M. Waterbury of New York and Mrs. W. M. Darrin of this city began here last night at eight o'clock. The players were to play continuous melody, never removing either hand from the key board.

The contest closed this afternoon, resulting in a victory for Mrs. Darrin, Mr. Waterbury giving up the contest at end of 18 hours, while Mrs. Darrin continued to play for an hour longer.

Mr. Waterbury had a badly swollen wrist, which became so painful that he was obliged to desist. Mrs. Darrin said she could have played several hours longer if necessary.

POINTERS FROM THE U.S.

THE PROSPECTS GIVEN BY A PROMINENT CONGRESSMAN.

He Does Not Believe the Tariff Can Be Revised by a Special Session—He Would Add Lumber and Salt to the Free List.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—Mr. Catchings, the leading member of the House Committee on Rules, who is now in Washington, is quoted as expressing the belief that the present Congress will do nothing to lessen the burdens of the incoming administration and that the new Congress will be compelled to take the necessary steps to increase revenues.

He does not believe the revision of the tariff can be successfully undertaken during a special session, but he does hold that in a special session the new Congress might properly repeal the McKinley Act, thus restoring the old duties of 1883.

That would wipe out the sugar bounties, effecting a saving of $13,000,000 annually, and at the same time by restoring the sugar duties add about $50,000,000 to the annual revenues, making the total increase of revenues approximate $63,000,000.

This increase, he feels, would prevent any deficiency until after the next regular session and possibly for a longer period.

Mr. Catchings would also pass the separate bills that were passed last session by the House, only to remain unacted upon by the Senate, and he would add lumber and salt to the free list. Reduced prices of the necessaries of life, covered by these bills, would, according to his reasoning, reconcile the people to the re-imposition of the sugar duties.

He favors an early special session of Congress. He thinks that Crisp will be re-elected Speaker without a protracted struggle, and believes that the pension roll could be revised with profit.

Mr. Catchings sees no danger of wild-cat money in the passage of the bill to remove the tax on state bank circulation, and favors that bill if the states are obliged to ensure the soundness of their bank issues.

He favors the admission as states of Arizona and New Mexico and local governments for Utah and Oklahoma.

So far as this Congress is concerned he thought it would do no more than pass the regular annual appropriation bills.

RADICAL PRESSURE.

It Is Said That the British Cabinet Has Surrendered To It.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—A report is current that the Cabinet has surrendered to radical pressure and will introduce in Parliament a bill to reform the franchise before the Irish Home Rule Bill is submitted.

It is said that Mr. Gladstone relies upon persuading the Irish party to accede to this cause by showing that the financial proposals contained in the Home Rule Bill can not be successfully treated until near the close of the financial year. The delay in the Home Rule Bill necessarily involved by this scheme will irritate the members of the Irish party, but they will acquiesce, confident in their ability to overpower the Government within a week after they become convinced that any treachery towards them is intended.

The Franchise bill will provide for a shorter period of residence to qualify voters and will otherwise simplify the suffrage qualifications. It will also facilitate the admission of new voters.

The abolition of the plural voting system will be included in another bill to be introduced subsequently.

Mrs. Parnell's Estate.

LONDON, Nov. 24.—The official receiver's report on the business affairs of Mrs. Parnell, the widow of Charles Stewart Parnell, shows her liabilities amount to £6869 and her assets to £4825.

The alleged cause of her failure is loss of income due to the death of her aunt, Mrs. Wood.

The report shows that Capt. O'Shea's action for divorce against her extinguished her interest in Capt. O'Shea's property. Besides this the litigation over the disputed will of Mrs. Wood deprived Mrs. Parnell of a fortune of £140,000 left her under the will. Whether anything will accrue from the Parnell estate is doubtful. Mrs. Parnell's total income from all sources is only about £800 and a portion of that is covered by a mortgage, which she negotiated to enable her to carry on the litigation over her aunt's will.

CAMP BURNED.

Five Men Badly Scorched—One is Dead and One Cannot Recover.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 24.—A special to The Wisconsin from Marshfield, Wis., gives particulars of the burning of Staadt's lumber camp and the burning of five of the eight men who occupied the building.

One is now dead, Charles David of McMillan cannot recover and two others are burned so badly that the flesh has dropped from their hands and faces. The building, which was a two-story structure, caught fire from a stove and communicated to the stairway, cutting off egress from above.

The men awoke in the midst of suffocating smoke, and jumped from the windows to the frozen ground beneath. The victims are in the hospital here.

A PUGNACIOUS COMET.

Is Struck the Earth and Knocks Out The Same Was Not Its.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 24.—The comet with which the astronomers have been [illegible] and the general public dreading has come to pass.

Last night in its passage through space the earth crashed into a comet with disastrous results to the solar troupe. The statement that the earth and a comet were in collision to-night is made upon the authority of Prof. C. H. Snyder, instructor in astronomy at the High School in this city. According to Prof. Snyder, the comet struck was not Biela's, but a stray one that was wandering through space without a fixed orbit or a determined destination.

The comet, when struck by the earth, was in the Andromeda group. The force of the impact between the two bodies shattered the comet to pieces, and the evidence of the collision was plainly visible to all persons out of doors to-night in the great number of shooting stars, or meteors, that fell.

A DOCK WORKER.

Supposed to be Harved in the Hold of an Ocean Grain Steamer.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—The fact that the longshoreman was buried in a bed of grain in the hold of the steamship Bolivia was brought to the attention of the coroner. The vessel is to sail this evening. The owners express some doubt as to the body being in the grain, as they have searched for it, but the workingmen say they saw the man Drury attempt to come up the ladder last Friday, when he fell back in the grain bed and was suffocated.

Mrs. Drury says the body of her son will be taken to Europe and that it will be cast aside and she will not see it again. The coroner says he is powerless to interfere.

Went Heavily Loaded.

NEW YORK, Nov. 24.—C. Sinclair, cashier and confidential bookkeeper of the Armour Packing Company, has been missing since last week. The exact amount of money that is also missing is not known definitely.

It is estimated that the company's losses will be $80,000 or $85,000.

The American-Chinese Treaty.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24.—It was affirmed by the State Department that the treaty of 1880 between the United States and China was still in force, notwithstanding the passage of the Exclusion Act.

A Scattered Harem.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 24.—John McSorley, a street car conductor, is awaiting trial here on the charge of having been married 11 times. Eight of his wives are living, and he is the father of 19 children.

A COAL EXCITEMENT

An Inventor Startles Toronto Capitalists With His Genius.

TORONTO, Nov. 25.—During the past few days a number of capitalists in Toronto have been startled with the idea that there may be a bed of coal underlying the surface of the ground within eight miles of the city.

The idea jumped into their brains and remains there by means of the action of an unnamed instrument introduced by Mr. J. H. Yates and an assistant from Midland, an important port on the Georgian Bay, in Simcoe county.

Mr. Yates is in the fish business in Midland, and buys a considerable portion of the catch by the fleet of fishing boats that go in and out of that port.

The unnamed instrument is the product of nine years' study and experiment by Mr Yates. Its appearance has nothing of the brilliancy and finish that invariably characterizes the apparent product of an inventor's genius. It looks what it is claimed to be—a practical indicator of the near presence of hard or soft coal.

Imagine a tin cup large enough to hold a pint, the top covered and the sides having two small projections to receive the ends of two cane wands, each abou. 18 inches in length. That is the instrument as it appears to those who have been startled by its operations.

To operate the instrument the wands are held in the hands of someone who naturally carries a large amount of electricity in his body. If there is any coal above or below ground in the neighborhood the tin cup will become agitated and rock forward and backward in the direction of the black diamonds.

The operator walks in the direction indicated, and the nearer he gets to the mineral the greater is the agitation of the cup.

When Coal Is Found.

When the cup ceases to be agitated, the operator then stands directly over the coal deposit.

It is then only a matter of continued pedestrianism to determine the breadth and length of the coal deposit.

The contents of the cup are the secret of the inventor. This much only is known to others, that a small corked vial is in the cup, and in the vial is the magic compound that leads the operator to the coal.

Mr. Yates has not the essential ingredient in his composition to enable him to operate the wonderful instrument which his genius has produced, and he is compelled to rely upon others when making use of the instruments. The assistant he brought from Midland is one of the best operators he has secured.

A favorite test with the inventor is to request a number of men to select a building under which is a cellar containing coal. He and his assistant then permit themselves to be taken to the building and placed on the first or second floor. The instrument is arranged, and in a short time the operator stands directly over the spot beneath which the coal lies.

One of these tests was sufficient to develop a feverish interest among some of Toronto's capitalists in the wonderful invention, and arrangements were at once made to test the country around the city for coal indications.

One capitalist remembered that a deposit of soap-stone was within eight miles of the city. Arrangements were at once made for a party to start for the place at daybreak the next morning.

The expedition was made and the party returned in an excited condition. The instrument indicated a seam of coal, narrow, but extending a long distance.

A shaft is to be sunk as soon as possible, and if coal in paying quantities is found, the seam will be worked to that advantage which plenty of capital will give.

Geologists have declared again and again that there are no coal deposits in this section of the province.

Query: Will Mr. Yates' invention prove that geologists are not infallible?

He Had a Close Shave.

HAMILTON, Nov. 25.—A serious and almost fatal accident happened on the Grand Trunk mail train, due here at 8.53 yesterday morning. George Bell of St. George, who is taking a course in one of the business colleges and comes in every morning, was passing from one coach to another when the train was on the run from the Y to the Stuart-street station. The platform was icy and Bell slipped and fell, rolling off the steps and on to the road alongside the rails. Fortunately he escaped with no more serious injuries than badly cut hands and a few bruises on other parts of his body, none of them serious. His overcoat and trousers were torn, and when picked up he was considerable of a wreck.

A BANK ROBBERY SEQUEL

WHAT THE DETECTIVES DIDN'T FIND OUT.

Many Changes To Be Made in Consequence of the Disappearance of the Money—The Facts in Connection with the Robbery.

W. D. Hart of the Standard Bank, Toronto, left for Brussels this afternoon to assume the management of the branch bank there. He succeeds Percy Brimfield, who has been transferred to Chatham.

TORONTO, Nov. 25.—The above paragraph, which has been going the rounds of the city papers for a day or two past, looks innocent enough, but it is the sequel to one of the most mysterious bank robberies that have ever occurred in Canada—a robbery which only Time, the revealer of all mysteries, will solve.

About eight weeks ago Teller Brown of the Standard Bank at Chatham, son of Mr. James Brown of 74 Melbourne-avenue, Toronto, and a former mathematical master of Upper Canada College, discovered on entering the bank that his cash box was missing from the vault. It was subsequently found in the bank office, minus its contents, amounting to $8000.

Manager Rogers at once wired the Attorney-General, and within a few hours a detective was on the scene, and later the president and inspector of the Standard Bank. The various employes of the bank were interrogated separately in the manager's private office.

Teller Brown's story was that he had placed the money in the cash box at the conclusion of the day's business, that he had not locked the box owing to the fact that the contents were so bulky that he could not close the lid. He could not remember, however, whether he had locked the cash box in the vault or not.

Evidence Without Proof.

Ledger Keeper Pennefather was also interviewed, and justly or unjustly the authorities charged him with being the perpetrator of the robbery, and this is the way they put it to him in his own house: Pennefather observed Teller Brown carelessly place his cash box on the counter behind him at the close of banking hours; he took advantage of the temporary absence of the teller from his "den" at the close of banking hours to enter his department and place the box under the ledge, trusting to luck that he would think no more about it, and that he then left the bank. That two hours later he entered the bank on the representation that he had no cash and wished to fill out a blank check, but actually for the reason that he wished to see if his scheme had worked; that a visit revealed the cash box in the place he left it, Brown having apparently forgotten all about it; that a couple of hours later he visited the bank, carried off the money and still has it in his possession.

The day following the robbery Ledger-keeper Pennefather was stricken down with malarial fever, which showed evidence of developing into typhoid, and it was while he was lying in his bed that the inspector charged him with the crime, which he as well as his wife vehemently denied. The fact that Pennefather was taken ill the very day of the discovery of the robbery led to the suspicion that he was feigning, but a visit by a doctor engaged by the bank proved that the illness was genuine.

Pennefather has been discharged by the bank authorities, not because they charged him with the robbery, but because he married without the consent of the officials.

Pennefather's Story.

Here is what Pennefather, who is 29 years of age, said about the robbery: "I left the bank early on the Wednesday night because I was sick. The next morning I got to the office at 8 o'clock and was surprised to find the teller's tin box on the counter. It was empty, and when Brown came in a few minutes later he was terribly surprised. I cannot remember whether he said he had neglected to put away his cash the night before. There is a rule in the bank that the teller must place his cash in the vault in the presence of two other clerks, but this rule has not been observed in the Standard Bank. If it had, the question of where the box was that night would easily be settled. Whoever got that money did not take it out the back door, for that was bolted from the inside. Moreover, it would have taken a big basket to carry off the money."

Pennefather has been in the banking business nine years, four of them in the service of the Standard.

What Mr. Brodie Says.

Mr. John L. Brodie, general manager of the Standard Bank, was interviewed and stated that the bank had not lost a cent through the robbery. He said:

"Mr. Brown, sr., footed his bond like a gentleman, and paid more than half of the $8760 stolen, the balance came out of the general guarantee fund in connection with the Standard Bank. Of course we have our suspicions as to the thief, but we have taken no proceedings as yet."

"Why has Mr. Pennefather been discharged from the service of the bank?" was asked.

"Well, you know we have a rule that no clerk earning less than a certain salary can marry and remain in our employ. Mr. Pennefather violated this rule, and had been married about a year without our knowledge when we suspended him."

"What changes are likely to be made among the officials at Chatham?"

"Well, at present Mr. Rogers is still manager and Mr. Brown is teller. Early next week some changes will, however, be made."

Mr. Rogers, the manager of the Chatham branch, previous to his becoming a Standard Bank official had been in the employ of the Federal Bank and the Merchants' Bank.

The Father of the Teller.

Mr. James Brown, the father of the young teller, is the ex-mathematical master of Upper Canada College, and lives at 74 Melbourne-avenue. He was seen at his residence last evening, but absolutely refused to say what amount he had paid to the Standard Bank as bondsman for his son or anything else about the matter.

Fire in Tonawanda.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Nov. 25.—Bliss & Co.'s shingle factory in Tonawanda was destroyed by fire at midnight. The Hornberger block was damaged and other adjoining properties damaged to the extent of $20,000.

Brewery Burned.

FREDERICTON, Minton, Nov. 25.—At midnight last night Godfrey Fleckinstein's large brewery was burned. The plant was a large one, about $200,000 being invested. But a light insurance, between $2000 and $3000, was carried.

HEALTH NOT RESTORED.

SIR JOHN'S VISIT TO LONDON NOT RESTORATIVE.

A Trip to the Continent Decided Upon as Most Calculated to Bring About the Desired Result—Assembly Does Not Re Fixed Here.

OTTAWA, Nov. 25.—Premier Abbott has not found that rest in London that it was generally believed and hoped would restore him to health, and a visit to the Continent has been decided on as best calculated to bring about the desired result.

What effect this unlooked for [illegible] events will have at Ottawa it is impossible to foresee. It was practically settled that Sir John would return to Canada and the Government through another session, and it is yet possible that the arrangement may be carried out.

Naturally the plans of the Government have been disturbed by the uncertainty which attends the recovery of Premier Abbott, and as one of the results the date for the meeting of Parliament cannot be definitely fixed for another month yet.

DID SHE STEAL?

Accused of Purloining Spoons from Her Landlady.

TORONTO, Nov. 25.—Mrs. Julia Alma, 290 Church-street, wife of Pedro Alma, a clerk in the Crown Lands Department, Provincial Legislature, was arrested by Detectives Barrows and Duncan at noon yesterday on a warrant sworn out by Mrs. Wilson of 421 Jarvis-street and she was taken to the matron's room at police headquarters.

The prisoner, who is about 40 years of age, has been a prominent figure on King and Toronto streets for many years, and although she always preserved a somewhat mysterious air, it was generally thought that she was daily engaged in stock speculation.

Precisely at 12 o'clock every day she arrived at the corner of King and Toronto-streets, and a few minutes later she was joined by a Mr. Boad, who is a lawyer's clerk, and is supposed to manage her private affairs, and who was her almost constant companion during luncheon hour.

Her portly figure and rather handsome appearance attracted a good deal of attention, and the sequel to her connection with Toronto-street will create among her acquaintances more excitement than surprise.

It is alleged that some time in the early months of last summer Mrs. Alma engaged lodgings at the house of Mrs. Wilson, 421 Jarvis-street, and it is alleged that while she sojourned there she stole a pair of opera glasses, a gold-headed cane and nine silver spoons.

It is expected that the investigation into the charges of larceny will develop most sensational features.

A BOY WITH A TEMPER.

Jeremiah Murphy Flies in a Passion and Kills a Horse.

MONTREAL, Nov. 25.—A milkman of St. Henri named Joseph Ladouceur entered the police court Wednesday, accompanied by a lad of 16 years of age named Jeremiah Murphy. Mr. Ladouceur wanted the boy sent to the reformatory or jail, and had been referred from St. Henri to Judge Desnoyers. He stated that the boy was one of the many immigrants brought over here by Father Siddon of London. He had been in the country for a year and a half.

First he worked for a farmer of St. Clet, and then came to Montreal where he got employment with Mr. Ladoucer.

The boy was quick tempered, and whenever he became displeased attacked the first person or animal he came across. Often Mr. Ladouceur's boys were struck by the immigrant, but to cap the climax he on Saturday last got angry at a horse in the stable, and raising a shovel he struck the animal savagely on the leg, cutting an artery.

The horse, which cost $90, died despite the treatment of a veterinary surgeon. The boy next attacked a cow, but that animal survived the blows and is still alive.

Mr. Ladouceur, not wishing to prosecute the boy, sent him away, but on Tuesday night he returned to the house and as he was freezing and hungry. If he did not get shelter he would commit suicide.

Mr. Ladouceur took him in and came to the conclusion that it would be well to have him sent to the reformatory. The lad seemed satisfied with this move. However, as he could only be incarcerated on a complaint showing he had committed a crime Mr. Ladouceur made a deposition regarding the killing of the horse, which the accused acknowledged. He was therefore sent to the Court of Queen's Bench.

CHLORIDE OF GOLD OR JAIL.

Flavien Barbeau Has His Choice of the Two.

MONTREAL, Nov. 25.—A man named Flavien Barbeau, who for the past three or four years has spent considerable of his time in jail, was again a prisoner before the Recorder Wednesday, and as he is a habitual drunkard he will be compelled to undergo the new means of treatment.

Barbeau, besides being a drunkard, is a wife-beater, and it is known that several times, owing to his brutal actions, he has laid her up for periods.

The charge on this occasion was drunkenness and beating his wife, but the poor woman was in such a condition that she could not put in an appearance.

The Recorder considered the question and came to the conclusion that Barbeau had a mania for beating his wife when under the influence of liquor, and he decided to try another course besides sending him to jail.

The Rev. Father Murphy, of bi-chloride of gold cure fame, who is at present in the city, was interviewed, and he agreed to take Barbeau under his care. The man consented to go with the rev. gentleman and be treated, while the Recorder ordered that if he did not remain at the institution that he would be compelled to go to jail.

While dealing with the case His Honor remarked that if the Rev. Father Murphy succeeded in curing Barbeau and men of his stamp the court could be done away with.

Train Hands Dissatisfied.

OTTAWA, Nov. 25.—Delegates representing the conductors, baggagemen and train hands on the Eastern Ontario and Atlantic divisions of the C.P.R. meet at Smith's Falls, Ont., yesterday to draw up a new schedule of wages which they will submit to the management.

The employes say they are underpaid. Conductors want their wages increased to $100 a month. They now receive from $75 to $85 a month.

BELLEVILLE AND OSWEGO PRICES.

The Belleville Ontario asks every farmer in the Bay of Quinte section to carefully peruse the following prices. On one side are the every day market prices paid in Belleville, on the other side are the prices paid in Oswego, within fifty miles of Belleville, but unfortunately separated by a tariff wall, which is kept up by a Conservative government, the spoils of which go towards the purchase of another lease of power. Here are the figures:

Oswego prices—Wheat, No. 1 hard, 86c.; oats, 45c.; barley, 75 to 90c.; eggs, 24 to 25c.; potatoes, $1.20 to $1.50; hay, $10 to $12; butter, 22 to 28c.

Belleville prices—Wheat, 65 to 68c.; oats, 25 to 30c.; barley, 45 to 50c.; eggs, 12 to 15c.; potatoes, 50 to 70c. per bag; hay, $6 to $8; butter, 20 to 25c.

The above prices are quoted from the Oswego Times of Saturday last, being the latest issue of that paper which has reached this office. The articles mentioned above are quoted at random. The prices paid in Oswego on all other produce are equally higher than those paid for the same articles on the Belleville market. For the sake of comparison we will take the outside figures paid for the above produce in the respective cities. Adding up the figures we find that the Bay of Quinte farmer received on the Belleville market last Saturday exactly $10.58, and the Oswego farmer $16.14 for the same stuff, a difference in favour of our American friend of $5.57. This difference in itself would be a snug little sum for the Bay of Quinte farmer, but it appears that it is made up of only one bushel of wheat, one bushel of oats, one bushel of barley, one dozen of eggs, one bag of potatoes (1½ bushels) one ton of hay and one pound of butter. If the Canadian farmer brought 50 bushels of wheat to market he would get $34. The Oswego farmer would get for the same 50 bushels of wheat $43. On 50 bushels of oats the Quinte farmer would receive $15; the Oswego farmer $27.50. For 50 bushels of barley at 50 cents a bushel the Belleville man would get $25; the Oswego man $40. On 50 dozen eggs the Canadian farmer is paid, at the outside figure of 15 cents per dozen, compared with the outside Oswego price of 25c., $7.50, and our neighbour across the lake $12.50. On 50 bags of potatoes the local raiser gets $35 and and the Oswego grower $75. Hay at $8 per ton would bring, for 50 tons $400 on the Belleville market. The same number of tons would net the Oswego farmer $600. For 50 pounds of butter a thrifty dairy maid in the Bay of Quinte county would get $12.50; her neighbour who lives only 50 miles away would get $14. Now we have some very plain figures, which any farmer can read as he runs. While the Bay of Quinte farmer receives $620, the Oswego farmer receives $812, or $183 more on the seven articles. These facts ought to be enough to convince any man, whether he be Liberal or Conservative, of the fallacy of the present system of trade restriction. Here we are living in a beautiful land, but under the ban of a false and misleading trade policy. The American farmer in New York state pockets $183 more than his Bay of Quinte neighbor for the same stuff, which is taken from land not one half as good as that in this section. A farmer who lives in the eighth concession of Sidney and owns a hundred acres of good land came to Belleville last Saturday and borrowed a hundred dollars on a mortgage. The farm was deeded to him a couple of months ago. His crop this year was a good average, but rather than sell his grain at present prices he borrowed money to feed his family while he fed his grain to stock and waited for the returns. Let the yeoman of the Belleville section look carefully at the figures and hand them to his neighbor.—Belleville Ontario.

ADDRESSES TO CONSTITUENTS

The Toronto Globe says: Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., for West Peterborough, observes the good custom of addressing his constituents at frequent intervals, relating the history of each session and dealing with the political situation. One of his addresses covered the ground of provincial affairs very thoroughly. In dealing with the timber policy of the Government he pointed out that besides the $2,908,475 obtained as bonus at the sale of 618 miles of limits, the provincial treasury would receive $3 per square mile yearly for ground rent, and $1.25 on every thousand feet, board measure, of pine cut off the land. The conditions of the sale, he said, stipulate that only the pine shall be cut; the cedar, timber for railway ties, hardwood, etc., shall not be cut. And the bulk of the sales were made to Canadian lumbermen, a fact which indicates that the lumber on these limits will be taken out by Canadian labourers, and that tens of thousands of dollars will be distributed among the people of this province as a result.

THE DOCTOR WAS CURED!

A few days ago one of Montreal's prominent physicians drove up to his residence feeling wearied and overworked. He had visited upwards of thirty patients living in various districts of the city, and now he heartily longed for a night of rest and quiet. A couple of hours after dinner he retired to rest, but soon found that he had caught cold. He was attacked with sore throat and commenced to cough. A wearisome and restless night was passed, and morning came finding the physician in a bad condition. The worthy doctor did not rely on his own skill to rid himself of trouble. He sent his coachman without delay to the nearest drug store for a bottle of Harvard Bronchial Syrup.

The doctor was aware of the superiority of Harvard Bronchial Syrup over all other cough remedies; he had used it before, and had seen it used elsewhere with great effect.

The favourite and efficacious cough mixture soon relieved the doctor, so that he was enabled to go on with his regular work; and on the evening of the same day that he commenced using Harvard Bronchial Syrup, he found himself as well as ever. It will do the same work for all who at this season are subject to coughs, colds and sore throat. It is folly to be without such a valuable remedy at a time when it is most needed.

BELMONT GOLD MINES.

Mr. H. T. Strickland has returned home from a week's trip to the Belmont gold mines which are in full operation night and day. The mill building furnished with Crawford's Mechanical Gold Extracting Mills is complete and in operation, having sixty five horse power and three of Crawford's mills, two large and one small one. The horse power furnished runs the steam hoist, rock breakers, etc., and the three mills in operation as well as being capable of giving abundant power to two mills which will be put in when the mine is further developed by drifts which have been started. The mines are looking well; the ores are heavily charged with supplies and continue to show much free gold at a depth attained of 115 feet. Mr. Strickland will return to Belmont in a few days to see further into the working of these machines under Mr. Crawford, the inventor, preparatory to returning to the Northwestern Ontario gold fields.

SPEAKING FREELY!

The Truth Proclaimed!

A YOUNG MAN'S EXPERIENCE!

Wonderful! Interesting!

We have another interesting story this week—news that our people look for, because they are interested in a power and agency that is doing more good in Canada than all other agencies combined; we refer to Paine's Celery Compound, nature's restorer and health giver.

A noted Canadian divine recently said: "Judging from my own experience and cure, and the testimony of many worthy people whom I know, I must say that God has particularly blessed our people in giving them what can truly be called a life-renewer. I once firmly believed in the power and ability of medical men, but Paine's Celery Compound will always be my first choice in any case of sickness. I have seen our doctors fail, but have never yet known of a failure with the great Compound."

This now is supported by the testimonials of hundreds of our best people. These people are near us and with us, and can be seen and spoken to. No questionable foreign letters are used to advance the interests of Paine's Celery Compound. Honest, true and attested letters of testimony come in daily from every section of our own Canada. Men and women pour out their thanks and praise in unstinted measure; and often ask how they can further advance the good cause.

Our story this week has reference to a young man who was snatched from the yawning grave by Paine's Celery Compound. His case was a bad one—hopeless it would have been, had he continued under ordinary treatment. Two great mediums of misery helped to drag him down to destruction.

An able English doctor has pronounced nervousness and dyspepsia to be the two greatest curses of our English speaking race. Every reader knows that we have thousands of such in Canada. These two enemies of civilization were fast dragging to the grave Mr. P. M. English, of Nelson, New Brunswick. God's wondrous mercy pointed the sufferer to Paine's Celery Compound just in time to save his life. Medicines of the ordinary kind, doctors and the work of hospitals and foreign baths all failed. It remained for Paine's Celery Compound to save, strengthen and renew.

In order to prove what has been asserted, we ask our readers to carefully and prayerfully read Mr. English's letter. He says:

"I am taking your Paine's Celery Compound for nervous trouble and dyspepsia, and find great relief from it.

Fifteen years ago I was taken sick in Philadelphia, which left me with a nervous trouble. I then went to the Southern States, and took chills and fever which made the nervous trouble worse and brought on dyspepsia. I took medicine for a while without relief, then came back to Philadelphia and took treatment in the Episcopal Hospital there, which broke up the chills and fever, but did not help my nerves much. I also took treatment there for some time from doctors without relief, and then went to Boston, and took treatment there in the leading hospitals with some of the best doctors, without receiving any benefit.

I had a business in Boston; my friends advied me so sell out and go to Hot Springs, Arkansas. I sold out, and went there, and took treatment from Dr. Taylor, and bathed in the Oyask bath-house, and after that in the Government bath-house, or mud hole as it is called.

I found myself getting worse, and stopped bathing for a while, and remained there six months without getting any better. Then went back to Boston, and from there to this place where I was born. I took treatment of various kind here, and tried several doctors, but obtained no relief.

Three months ago I saw your Celery Compound advertised; I bought a bottle, and after taking a few doses found relief. I have now taken four bottles and find myself greatly improved; I have gained flesh, have a good appetite, sleep better, walk better, my eyesight is better, and my general health and nervous system is greatly improved. I am a young man, my weight is 180 pounds, and your medicine has given me new hope. There are plenty of reliable witnesses I could refer to here as well as in the United States that know of my case."

LAKEFIELD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mud Lake froze over on Tuesday night.

Mr. Peter Baptie has returned from an extended visit to Manitoba and the coast; he thinks home the best after all.

The boats towing paving stone from the Eagle Mount quarry will now have to lay up but the work will go on during the winter.

The Salvation army from town have been trying to work up some local excitement here but it is uphill work, and only seems to encourage the drum and flag bearer who represent the army in Lakefield.

The Grand Trunk has now the Lakefield branch laid with heavy steel rails. Section foreman Noyes, assisted by men from the other sections, changed the last mile of rails last week, and the side tracks in the lumber yard are now being laid with the same class of rail.

The Lakefield school board held their monthly meeting in the town hall on Tuesday night; the only business done was the selecting of a head master out of some seventy applications. A Mr. Evans from Toronto was the fortunate man.

The fall of the year is a trying season for elderly people. The many cheerless dark, dismal days act depressingly, not to say injuriously, on both old and young. Now is the time to re-enforce the vital energies with Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the best of all blood medicines.

A Pleasant Herb Drink.

The best cure we know of for Constipation and Headache is the pleasant herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine. It is said to be Oregon grape root, combined with simple herbs and is made for use by pouring boiling water on to the dried roots and herbs. It is remarkably efficacious in all blood disorders and is now the sovereign remedy with ladies for clearing up the complexion. Druggists sell the packages at 25c. and 35.

☞ THERE are many forms of nervous debility in men that yield to the use of Carter's Iron Pills. Those who are troubled with nervous weakness night sweats, etc., should try them. dw

Peterborough Musicians in Toronto.

At a concert given in Association Hall, Toronto, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Presbyterian church last night, two Peterborough musicians took a prominent part. Mrs. Thos. Dunn gave a selected pianoforte solo. Mr. Thomas Dunn sang the Toreador, from "Carmen" and Pinsuti's, "The Raft" as solos. He also sang in duet with Mr. Gorrie, also well known in town, and in trio with Mr. Gorrie and Miss Florence Mabel Glover, whose father, Mr. Wm. Glover, was a former resident of Ashburnham.

"The Sins of the Pew."

Rev. I. Campbell, Ph.D., well known in Peterborough, recently delivered a lecture in Ottawa, on "Sins of the Pew." The Journal reports the address as follows:

Despite the unfavourable state of the weather Erskine Presbyterian church was filled with an appreciative audience to hear the talented pastor, Rev. Dr. Campbell, deliver his much talked of lecture on "The Sins of the Pew." Hon. E. H. Bronson, M.P.P., occupied the chair. After the singing of a hymn led by the choir and prayer by the Rev. Dr. Wardrope, moderator of the General Assembly, the chairman introduced the lecturer in a few well chosen remarks. Rev. Dr. Campbell possesses one of the essential requisites of a lecturer, a fine, clear, resonant voice, well under control. He has that easy conversational style of delivery adopted by the most popular lecturers of the day. He treated the subject in the clever, original way that characterizes his sermons, and makes him one of the most popular preachers in the city. He divided the pews, or rather the occupants, into seven classes, which he designated as the empty, tardy, dodging, sleepy, sopper, idle and grumbling pews. His treatment of the different classes of pews was highly appreciated by the audience, and showed him to be a keen observer of men and things. The lecture was replete with a fund of advising anecdotes told only as a north of Ireland man can tell them. The interest never flagged a moment.

Christmas Numbers.

The following Christmas numbers have arrived at the Peterborough Bookstore:—"Holly Leaves," "Dominion Illustrated," "Young Ladies' Journal," "Saturday Night," London "Illustrated News," "Ladies' Pictorial," and London "Graphic." The supply of these is limited this season, and as their unusual beauty will create a ready demand, persons desirous of securing copies should leave their orders at once.

Last Night's Dance.

An assembly was held in the town hall, Ashburnham, last night. About 80 couple were present and danced from 9 o'clock until two this morning. The music consisting of a double bass and first and second violins, was rendered by Messrs. W. Boyle, H. Sherwood and W. Cawthorne. Mr. A. Moore was master of ceremonies. The committee who made the affair a success was composed of Messrs. P. J. Doris, Alex. Maren and Joe. Begley.

Met With a Runaway Mishap.

Messrs. Wm. Cardwell, of the Cardwell House, accompanied by J. McKim met with a rather dangerous runaway accident on Wednesday night near Mr. Moore's farm in Smith township. Their vehicle was badly demolished and their experience a thrilling one. The occupants were badly shaken up, Mr. Cardwell being rendered unconscious and sustaining bad facial wounds. He will be around this week although his injuries are quite painful. He is confined to his room to-day.

Sale, Supper and Social.

An unusually successful combined sale, supper and social was held in St. John's South Ward Mission School last night. There was a very large attendance. The excellent refreshments served met with a ready demand. The useful articles also sold readily, and a very pleasant programme of music was interspersed, consisting of a very prettily rendered violin solo by Miss Pearly Lundy, and vocal solos by Messrs. McArthur and W. Squires. The performers were very warmly applauded. The evening was most enjoyably spent, the financial outcome of the entertainment exceedingly gratifying and the ladies scored the invariable success they achieve when they undertake an entertainment.

The Mathematician's Hobby.

THE EXAMINER has been handed the following question and its correct solution is asked for: A stranger who turns out later to be a tramp, entered a shoe store and asked the dealer for a pair of long boots. He inquired the price, which was $7.00, and in payment gave a $10 bill. The shoe dealer had no change, but succeeded in getting the bill changed at a corner grocery, giving the purchaser of the boots the $3 which was due him. After the stranger had departed, the grocery man returned the $10 bill which he changed for the shoe dealer, having discovered that it was a counterfeit. The latter was compelled to give the changer of the bank note good money for the bogus $10 bill. The question now arises, what was the exact amount of the boot and shoe dealer's loss.

A Grand Musical Treat.

The Ladies Aid of the Charlotte street Methodist church, have secured the services of the Ball Family Jubilee Singers, of Toronto, for two concerts to be given in the body of the church, on Monday and Tuesday evenings, December 12th and 13th. This splendid musical organization is noted for the excellence of the programme presented at its concerts, which are always a delight to those who attend. A charmful feature of the concert will be stereopticon views of Uncle Tom's Cabin which are accompanied by the singing of appropriate plantation melodies. Tickets for the above musical entertainment, only 25 cents, and good for either evening may be procured at the Peterborough Bookstore and at other places which will be mentioned in there columns hereafter, in connection with further particulars of the coming great musical treat.

Simply Awful

Worst Case of Scrofula the Doctors Ever Saw

Completely Cured by HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

"When I was 4 or 5 years old I had a scrofulous sore on the middle finger of my left hand, which got so bad that the doctors cut the finger off, and later took off more than half my hand. Then the sore broke out on my arm, came out on my neck and face on both sides, nearly destroying the sight of one eye, also on my right arm. Doctors said it was the

they ever saw. It was simply awful! Five years ago I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Gradually I found that the sores were beginning to heal. I kept on till I had taken ten bottles, ten dollars! Just think of what a return I got for that investment! A thousand per cent? Yes, many thousand. For the past 4 years I have had no sores.

Work all the Time.

Before, I could do no work. I know not what to say strong enough to express gratitude to Hood's Sarsaparilla for my perfect cure." GEORGE W. TURNER, Farmer, Conway, Saratoga county, N. Y.

CHEESE FACTORY FESTIVITIES.

The Annual Reunions of Trewern and North Smith Factories—The Presence of Distinguished Dairy and Agricultural Authorities.

Smith township is progressive in many things but is particularly alive in its attention to the interests of dairying. The several factories turn out a good quality of cheese, and is done by an intelligent study of the best methods and by a cordial co-operation of patrons and makers. In pursuance of this last condition, and to promote the former, the annual festivities of two factories will be celebrated as below:

TREWERN.

The annual entertainment of Trewern factory will be celebrated at the factory building on Wednesday, evening Nov. 30th. The programme will include supper, music and speeches. Professor H. H. Dean, professor of dairying at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, will be present to address the meeting on the subject of Dairying. Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., will also be present.

NORTH SMITH.

The patrons of North Smith cheese factory, will follow suit on December first, when their annual entertainment will be held at the factory. Mr. N. Awrey, M.PP., president of the Central Farmers' Institute and Ontario Commissioner of the World's Columbian Exposition, Chicago, will be present to deliver an address. The usual programme of refreshments and music will be provided.

It is to be hoped that all farmers in the vicinity who have the chance will make it a point to attend one of these gatherings, when a vast amount of useful information will be given.

POLICE COURT.

FRIDAY, Nov. 25th, 1892.

Albert Green was brought up on remand charged with feloniously breaking in the residence of Mr. Wm. Fitzgerald, on Dalhousie street. Police Magistrate Dumble in passing sentence upon the prisoner said, Albert Green I have considered this matter very carefully and have been inquring into your case, character and past record, to see if I was justified in making a lenient judgment, but I am sorry to say that I can't render the judgment I had in my mind. The more inquiries I have made, the more I feel justified in not letting you go. The judgment of the court is that you be confined in the county gaol for a period of five months.

The youthful prisoner took his sentence seriously and seemed to feel that he had committed a wrong.

SLAPPED THE BOY'S EARS.

A young lady was charged with committing an assault upon a young boy 11 years old, named Bertie Byers, by slapping his ears in the grocery store of Mr. Wm. Bradshaw, on Thursday, Nov. 24th. Several witnesses were examined and the evidence went to show that the defendant on Wednesday morning last went to the grocery and ordered some coal oil which was to be delivered at her house. As the petroleum did not come she went to the store to see the reason why, when the boy said he had forgotten it. Defendent said she had come to see that he took it this time, when Byers replied that if she said much more he would not deliver it. The coal oil was given to another boy to take home. Next morning the defendent went to see Mr. Bradshaw about the matter. She complained to him of the boy's impudence and neglect. When he was explaining matters the boy entered and the woman turning to him said, "Had I done as I was advised I would have slapped your ears last night." The runner of errands replied, "You had better try it!" Hostilities, after a couple of other sentences were exchanged, led the defendant to slap the boy on the head soundly with both hands. The court ruled that the attack was unjustifiable. He imposed a fine of $2 and costs, ($4.70 in all.) Mr. J. W. Bennett appeared for the defendant.

VIOLATORS OF MINOR TOBACCO LAW.

Sam. Ray and George Rubidge, tobacconists, were charged that they each did on Nov. 18th instant, unlawfully sell to one Jas. Pogue, a lad under 18 years of age, a quantity of cigarettes contrary to the statute in that behalf. Defendants stated that the boy came to each of their shops and asked for a package of smokettes, stating that they were for his father. The purchaser tendered in each case a $1 bill in payment. Mr. Ray asked Pogue his father's name and the boy told him. He (Ray) thought that they were for his father, when the boy showed a dollar bill, as he thought no child of Pogue's size should be possessed of so much money.

The Magistrate in passing sentence read the law to the defendants, respecting the sale of tobacco to minors and said: "There was no doubt the boy was under 18 years of age. Even if he had a dollar bill, which he offered in payment, fathers generally never give their children more than the change when purchasing an article. Then too fathers generally like something stronger than smokettes to smoke. This is the small end of the wedge. It coaxes boys into the vicious habit of smoking, leading them to bad habits, stealing money and evil influences. The defendants admit the charge which brings them under the act, and I know not what to do except comply with the law. The judgment of the court is that you pay a fine of $10 without costs, which is the least penalty."

THE TILL TAPPER LET OFF.

Jos. Pogue, the youthful till tapper, who pleaded guilty on Thursday last to purloining a sum of money from the money drawer of Mr. Wm. McCallum's restaurant, was allowed to go by the magistrate who severely lectured the prisoner for his offence, and told him if he ever appeared again he would impose a terrible fine upon him. Mrs. Pogue, his mother, promised to take care of her erring son and send him to school. The magistrate ordered that the 75 cents found in possession of the prisoner be returned to Mr. McCallum, and that his mother refund to him the balance of the amount which her son spent in candy, cartridges, gum, cigars and other nick-nacks.

SALVATIONISTS SPILT OUT.

A Broken Axle is Attended with Somewhat Serious Results.

Wednesday night as the Peterborough Salvationists, says the Lakefield News, were leaving for home about 12.30 o'clock, a serious accident happened them. They had only got as far as Mr. John Isbister's shop, when the front axle of the vehicle broke off short at the shoulder. Mr. Mark Spencely, who was seated in the front of the carry-all, which was a covered one, was thrown forward over the dashboard, and Mr. Ed. Ferguson, who was with him, was thrown on top of him. Spencely got up and cried that he was hurt, and the others came to his assistance and carried him down to the Pettit House, but it was closed, and he was taken back to the residence of Mr. Isbister who was awakened, and was taken into the house. Dr. J. R. Fraser was hastily summoned and found that Spencely had received severe bruises on the hip and his face was scratched up, but he was able to walk around in a short time. Mr. Ferguson was also found to have his shoulder bruised, but otherwise uninjured. Word was telephoned to Peterborough for another conveyance which arrived, and the party left for Peterborough about 2.30. How the other inmates of the rig, of which there were twelve of them, happened to escape injury is almost miraculous, as the vehicle turned completely over on its side. The axle that broke, on examination was found to have an old crack in it, which no doubt was the cause of the accident.

MISSION BAND ENTERTAINMENT.

Held in the Park Street Baptist Mission.

The cosy little Park street Baptist mission was comfortably filled last evening at the entertainment given under the auspices of the Ladies' Mission Band. Mrs. Dolten, the energetic President of the society, presided in a capable manner and everything during the evening passed off pleasantly and well. The proceedings opened with a hymn, followed by prayer by Rev. Mr. Trotter, pastor of the Murray street Baptist church, and the reading of the Scriptures by the President. An excellent and entertaining programme was then furnished, the numbers consisting of vocal and instrumental solos, readings, recitations and dialogues, all partaking of a missionary nature. An interesting feature was the address delivered by Rev. Mr. Trotter. He was pleased to be present and extended congratulations to the mission band for the success of its past entertainment and the constant growth it has made since its organization some six months ago. He spoke of the great need of the work which they were carrying on supporting missions. The speaker told of the inhuman treatment and barbarious usage to which womankind was inured to in China and and India. Their one great need was the Gospel. It was the only way that would save them and raise them from their benighted condition.

Among those who participated in the evening's entertainment were Messrs. Herbert Martin and Willie Clark, Misses Lizzie Davidson, Maud Davis, Maud Castle, Lulu Smart, Lillie Millar, Maud Booth, the Misses Pilling, Hart, Mary Davidson, Ethel Barry, Smart and others.

At the close several articles made in fancy style and in good taste by the members of the sewing circle in connection with the band, were offered for sale.

The membership of the Ladies' Mission Band now numbers nearly 60, notwithstanding its recent start. They are carrying on a good work, supporting by their efforts a student at the Baptist Seminary, Samulcotti, India.

Valuable Family Sewing Machine, worth $25,
Lady's or Gentleman's Silver Watch, worth $20.

No One Person Entitled to More than One Prize.

CONDITIONS OF THE COMPETITION:

A Sealed Jar containing Common Beans will be placed in the show window of THE PETERBOROUGH BOOKSTORE, and with every Dollar's worth of Goods bought between 9 o'clock a. m. Saturday morning (Nov. 26th.) and 12 o'clock, midnight, on New Year's Eve, the purchasers will receive gratuitously a ticket, containing a blank space for name and figures of the purchaser's estimate of the number of individual Beans contained in the sealed jar. The tickets will be deposited in a sealed ballot box in THE PETERBOROUGH BOOKSTORE. Immediately after the expiration of the above day and hour the sealed jar will be handed over to a competent and trustworthy committee, who will carefully and correctly count the Beans in the sealed jar, compare them with the numbers estimated, and award the

FIRST PRIZE, GOLD WATCH — To the Lady or Gentleman estimating the exact, or nearest the exact number of beans in the sealed jar, and the

SECOND PRIZE, FAMILY SEWING MACHINE — To the Lady or Gentlemen estimating the second, nearest the exact number of beans in the sealed jar, and the THIRD PRIZE, SILVER WATCH — To the Lady or Gentleman estimating the third, nearest the exact number of beans in the sealed jar.

The above prizes are genuine goods, of substantial value, and of the best manufacture. The first prize, Ladies' Watch, is a 14-carat, solid gold, hunting case, full-jewelled, stem-winding Waltham watch, worth $50.00, and the alternate prize, the Gentleman's Gold Watch, is of equal quality and value; the winner of the first prize may make choice and take either watch. The second prize is an elegant Family Sewing Machine of the full value of $25. The third prize, the Silver Watch, is a three ounce hunting-case, full-jewelled, compensating Elgin Company watch, worth $20.00.

In case of two persons making the same estimate, the prize will be awarded to the estimate contained on the slip numbering lowest. The slips are numbered consecutively.

Anybody purchasing a dollar's worth of goods at any time will receive gratuitously an estimate slip.

N. B—The estimating in the above contest is a simple matter of measurement and computation. The jar containing the beans, has an internal diameter of 4 inches and a height of 12½ inches, exclusive of the cork, which occupies ½ of an inch, and is filled with ordinary white beans. The jar will contain 11 lbs. 4 oz. of water at a temperature of 40 degrees; therefore a jar containing a similar weight of water will hold a number of ordinary white beans corresponding exactly as possible to the number in the sealed jar.

This Grand Prize Competition begins at 9 o'clock, Saturday, Nov. 26th, and closes at midnight on December 31st.

The Gold Watch, Sewing Machine and the Silver Watch will be on view in the show window of the Peterborough Bookstore. Every purchaser has an opportunity of making an estimate for every dollar's worth of goods, and an opportunity of winning one of the splendid prizes, while at the same time he or she will receive the best value in their purchase of $1.00 worth of goods, selected from the most magnificent stock to be found in the district.

ISSUER OF MARRIAGE LICENSES.

ALL ABOUT PORK.

How to Select, Cure and Cook It--A Good Sausage.

Great care, says S. R. Wilcox, in the Ohio Farmer, should be exercised in selecting pork. Unless well fed and free from disease no meat is more injurious. The practice of eating uncooked bologna, ham, and sliced raw pork, which was once quite common, is now unsafe. A danger, fearful and deadly, may lurk in the attractive and appetizing morsel. No pork should be eaten till subjected to thorough and long cooking.

The lean in good pork is fine-grained, and both fat and lean are very white. The skin should be smooth and cool to the touch. Avoid that which is moist or clammy. If the fat is full of kernals, the meat is not sound. In selecting hams, run a knife along the bone on the fleshy side; if it comes out clean it is good; if the knife is smeared reject it. Prime bacon has a thin rind and the fat is firm. Rusty bacon has yellow streaks in it.

In the diagram (Fig. 1) A is the back, for roast; B, the loin, also for roasting; C, for pickling; D, shoulder; E, ham. Split through the spine, cut off each half of the head behind the ear, remove the pieces in front of the shoulder for sausage. Take out the tenderloin, also the leaf which lies around the kindneys for lard. Cut out the lean meat, ribs, etc., then the hams and shoulders, and remove the loose pieces directly in front of the ham for lard. Cut a narrow strip of the belly for sausage; the remainder cut up into strips to pickle. Smoke the hams, shoulders, cheeks or "jowl," or the fat may be cut from the shoulders for lard and the remainder used for sausage. Boil, bake or make the upper part of the head into cheese. All the flabby pieces should be used for lard.

Cover the bottom of a meat crock with salt to the depth of several inches; pack the pork to be kept in pickle, the skin side next the crock; pack as solidly as possible, and sprinkle each layer liberally with salt. Make a brine with salt and soft water sufficient to cover the pork. Boil and skim, adding salt till there is undissolved salt at the bottom of the kettle. Stir frequently till the water has dissolved all the salt well; let it cool, then pour over the meat. Cut a board round, a little smaller than the crock, and put it over the meat, and with a weight keep well under the brine. In salting down a new supply of pork, if there is any old in the crock, boil the old brine, pack the new pork at the bottom with the old at the top; after skimming the brine well pour it hot over the meat; never put cold brine on old pork unless you wish to lose it. Pork must never be left floating in brine, or it will rust in a very short time; keep it well under and stir the brine very often in hot weather, and every few weeks in winter.

Pork Sausage—Use one-third fat meat to two-thirds lean; allow a teaspoonful of salt, one of pepper and one of sage to each pound of meat, and one of ginger to every three pounds. Mix the seasoning with the meat as it is sliced before it is passed through the cutter.

Another recipe: For twelve pounds of meat take one teacupful of salt, 1¼ teacupfuls of pulverized sage, 3 even teaspoonfuls of ground pepper, and 2 tablespoonfuls of ground ginger. Mix the seasoning with the meat as it is sliced for cutting.

To cure hams and shoulders: For 50 pounds, use 5 pounds of salt, 2½ pounds of sugar, 1 ounce of soda, and ½ ounce of pulverized saltpetre. Cover the bottom of a meat crock with some of the salt, put in each piece, previously rubbed with salt and sugar. Put the remainder of the salt and sugar in water sufficient to cover the meat; dissolve the soda and saltpeter in a little water, add to the pickle, and pour over the meat; with a board and weight keep it well under.

Let the pieces remain from six to eight weeks, according to size, then soak in cold water for twelve hours to prevent a white crust from forming on the outside; drain and sprinkle around the bone with red pepper; let them hang two days, then smoke in the usual way. There is an oil of smoke that is used in "packing houses" for this purpose.

The Best Use for Bones.

It is neither neat nor economical to allow old bones to lie about the premises. If you have no other use for them bury whole about the grape vines. The roots will soon find and penetrate them, making use of every atom of plant food which they contain.

Maturity of Merinos.

The Grange Bulletin says: It requires about three years for the merinos to mature well, and this makes it necessary that this breed should always remain a large producer of wool and any move or tendency to lessen this is in the wrong direction.

Cures Others

Will cure You, is a true statement of the action of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, when taken for diseases originating in impure blood; but, while this assertion is true of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, as thousands can attest, it cannot be truthfully applied to other preparations, which unprincipled dealers will recommend, and try to impose upon you, as "just as good as Ayer's." Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla and Ayer's only, if you need a blood-purifier and would be benefited permanently. This medicine, for nearly fifty years, has enjoyed a reputation, and made a record for cures, that has never been equalled by other preparations. AYER'S Sarsaparilla eradicates the taint of hereditary scrofula and other blood diseases from the system, and it has, deservedly, the confidence of the people.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

"I cannot forbear to express my joy at the relief I have obtained from the use of AYER'S Sarsaparilla. I was afflicted with kidney troubles for about six months, suffering greatly with pains in the small of my back. In addition to this, my body was covered with pimply eruptions. The remedies prescribed failed to help me. I then began to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla, and, in a short time, the pains ceased and the pimples disappeared. I advise every young man or woman, in case of sickness resulting from impure blood, no matter how long standing the case may be, to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla."—H. L. Monetary Conference Delegates Exchange Views Privately Upon Bi-Metallism.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 24.—Rumors of discord among British delegates to Monetary Conference here regarding the attitude to be adopted in conference are untrue.

The Continental delegates are very impatient to hear what the pro-ise nature will be of the proposal of the American delegates.

Many of the delegates freely exchange their views privately and few are sanguine that a satisfactory solution will be found to the currency question.

The use of three different languages in the official proceedings of the conference will lead to much delay. When a speech is made it will not be intelligible to all the delegates until the day following delivery, when the official translation into English, French and German is circulated. The system will, however, have the advantage of affording time for a careful and dispassionate examination of all propositions and arguments.

It is now certain that a majority of the delegates are empowered merely to study the facts advanced and to report thereon to their respective governments.

The Christmas adjournment will give the delegates ample opportunity for reference to their governments.

General satisfaction is expressed to-day at yesterday's action in rejecting the proposal to appoint a committee to examine and report proposals submitted to the conference, as it is now recognized that the committee must have been overwhelmed with elaborate plans which it would have been impossible to consider. The decision of the conference thus averted serious delays.

The idea that the conference is divided into two camps—mono-metallists and bi-metallists—is false. Many of the delegates came to the conference predisposed towards no school of currency.

One of the Most Significant Institutions in the World.

One of the best and most convincing results of the unselfish activity of women that can be found in the whole wide range of woman's activity is the work done at Hull House, Chicago. This is an old residence that, as the city has grown, has become surrounded by the densest population, the greater proportion of whom are foreigners who have not yet adopted themselves to American ways—Italians, Germans, Jews, and all the medley that dwell in the most crowded tenements. In Hull House some years ago a little band of devoted women set up their residence in order to try to improve the condition of their neighbors, and it has grown to be one of the most notable institutions in the Christian world. It nurses babies for poor women while they have to work, it teaches foreigners the literature of their own tongue, it keeps relentless landlords from committing cruelties to poor tenants, it finds homes for deserted children, it enters the law courts in defence of many an oppressed woman, it has distinguished lecturers and attentive listeners to them even on abstruse subjects—so that in every practical way, from ministration to the most rudimentary wants of the poor to stimulating their most ambitious intellectual efforts, his multifarious work is carried on. There are classes almost innumerable; there are art exhibits that would do credit to the wealthiest portion of the city; there are social entertainments—in fact there is hardly a want, physical, mental, or moral, that Hull House does not manage in some way to supply. A detailed and exceedingly interesting account of the growth and management of this great institution is published by Miss Addams, one of the founders of it, in the October number of The Forum. Miss Addams claims that this work, which she calls "An Effort toward Social Democracy," is not charity work—indeed, is not even philanthropic; but that it is simply the outgrowth of what ought to be the natural desire of all persons to give practical aid to the best tendencies in the life of their neighbors, and she asserts that quiet as much good is received by those who do this excellent service as by those who are the recipients of it.

A Harsh Death.

RAT PORTAGE, Nov. 23.—August Kjellgran, for years a resident on an island known as the Swede's, about nine miles out on the lake, was found dead, apparently perished or frozen.

It is supposed he got wet taking in a fishing net from the lake and started for the house of another settler on the same island, but became affected with heart failure and died.

Word was brought to town and the steamer Regina went out and brought in the remains.

Emaciated People Grow Fat.

Do you sometimes feel as though your vital energy was sinking, and that you needed some powerful agency to recuperate it? Do you sometimes long for stimulants to brace you up? That is the time to take "Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil," because it contains life-giving principles through its power to create flesh and blood. By taking it according to directions emaciated and enfeebled people have been known to actually grow fat at the rate of from five to ten pounds per bottle consumed. In big bottles 50c. and $1, at all drug stores. dw

BISMARCK SCORED.

Chancellor Caprivi Addresses the Reichstag Upon Live Issues.

BERLIN, Nov. 24.—Chancellor Caprivi said yesterday in the Reichstag:

"The House is doubtless aware of the public indignation excited by the arrest of Prince Bismarck, that he had despatched from Kiss in 1870 with the view of precipitating war between France and Germany.

"In order that the House and country might judge of the accuracy of the statement the foreign office has furnished to me from the archives a telegram from Privy Councillor Abeke to Prince Bismarck, dated July 12, 1870, stating that His Majesty King William complained of the obtrusive behavior of the French Ambassador on the Promenade, and also a letter of His Majesty ordering Privy Councillor Abeke to telegraph to the Baron de Werther that His Majesty was indignant at the imputations of Duc de Gramont and of the French Ambassador, Benedetti, in regard to his (the King's) conduct, and that His Majesty reserved to himself the right to take further steps.

"These facts," added the Chancellor, "prove that His Majesty, the late King and Emperor William, was not the old weakling that Prince Bismarck has been lately suggesting, and also prove that Germany in 1870 did its utmost in the direction of conciliation."

This statement of the Chancellor caused a decided sensation in the Reichstag, being the first open and official answer on the part of the Government to Prince Bismarck's charges.

It is believed that Prince Bismarck will accept the challenge and take his seat in the Reichstag to answer Caprivi.

The Chancellor also said: "We abhor preventable war. We do not desire the smallest piece of French territory. The next war, should war unfortunately break out, would be much more difficult, because the French army and fortress, especially Paris, are in much better condition than in 1870.

"Germany's condition after such a war, even if followed by 25 years of peace, would be infinitely more intolerable than now."

Russo-German Relations.

Referring to the Russo-German relations the Chancellor said:

"Friendship has existed between Germany and Russia for centuries past and the Emperor Alexander himself was an important personage in maintenance of these friendly relations.

"The present Czar is one of the noblest-minded and most peaceful of monarchs and appreciates the peaceful and loyal policy of Germany.

"There are in Russia, however, hostile currents working against us which, since the successful achievements of German arms and diplomacy, have risen above the interests of Russia; yet it must not be concluded because Russia is developing her army that war is imminent. We must assume from her preparations that Russia's next war will be to the westward. These preparations arouse no anxiety at present, but they might constitute a danger to us.

"It must be remembered that Prince Bismarck, during the reign of the late Czar Alexander, spoke of a positive threat of war coming from Russia.

"The Government has used every endeavor to maintain telegraphic communication with Russia, but desires that the current shall not be withdrawn from the connecting lines within Austria and Italy.

"There is undeniably a rapprochement between Russia and France, in the face of which we cannot yield Alsace-Lorraine nor break off our relations with Austria.

"The strengthening of our armaments constitutes no threat to Russia. We only want to repel a possible attack. We must think of war with the probability of having to present two fronts.

"If Russia wished to go to war she would be sure of alliance of France; if France wished to go to war the alliance of Russia with France would be an open question. In either case Russia must occupy the attention of a portion of our forces.

"We are not prepared for such an exigency. We would have to defend ourselves against superior numbers. If we don't do this, the heroes of 1813 would rise up from their graves against us in righteous indignation. Our whole position among the nations depends on our military strength. We have the highest opinion of our allies and the Dreibund is nowhere so popular as in Germany. But even the Dreibund is weaker in troops than are France and Russia.

SACRIFICED A LAMB.

Many the Turkish Pavilion at the World's Fair Was Consecrated.

CHICAGO, Nov. 25.—The star and crescent of Turkey flies from a flagstaff in the staffolding from which the Turkish pavilion is to rise at the World's Fair grounds. The ceremony of raising the flag took place in the presence of the Sultan's subjects who have come to take part in the exposition, as well as a number who had come especially from Turkey for the occasion. A most unique ceremony it was. The most solemn rites of the Moslem faith were performed by the Turks. A snow-white lamb, perfect and without blemish, the pick of a flock of 5000, was led to the sacrifice.

Reverentially stood the sad-eyed sons of Mahomet, with arms in praying position and eyes skyward turned. Thus they all stood, save one, and in his hand gleamed a keen-edged scimitar. A prayer by the prelate, a petition to the great prophet punctured with solemn salaams, and he with the curved steel kneeled beside the sacrificial victim. A silken sash hid its two big eyes as the neck was bared beneath the thick-growing wool, that the killing might prove more easy.

The knife was laid upon the flesh and the innocent sheep winced beneath its touch. With a spurt and a gurgle the blood gushed forth, making crimson the yellow sand. An effendi stooped low and thrust his hand deep into the bleeding gash. The warm cap from the heart flowed between his fingers and about his wrist, and his face was radiant with benign contentment.

Again the solemn-browed sons salaamed. The prelate drew his hand from the neck of the sacrifice, the effendi sprinkled the blood upon the foundation of the Sultan's pavilion. Down came the Stars and Stripes in salutation as the red flag of the Ottoman Empire, with its crescent and lone star, was floated from the top of the staff. Thus Abdul-Hamid II. formally announced himself as a patron of the World's Fair and his faithful citizens pledged anew their allegiance to him in this distant land with shouts of "Vive le Sultan! Vive le Presidente!" With this pomp the Turkish emblem was raised above the great ruler's building, and for the first time in western lands and under Christian skies the Mussulman's sacrifice was made.

HAIR-PULLING PARTY.

The Sophomores and Freshmen of Cornell Fight, and Girls Have a Scrimmage.

MT. VERNON, Ia., Nov. 25.—Cornell College has a big class row between the sophomores and freshmen. When the sophomores appeared with their mortar board hats a mob of freshmen attacked them, and torn garments, crushed hats, bloody noses and faces were the result. The fight stopped only when the faculty interfered.

Tuesday evening the sophomores proceeded in a body to the homes of the freshmen. Being admitted, the occupants of the rooms were overpowered and a rally made for the sophomore hats, six of which were lost.

On Monday several freshmen in resisting the sophomores, were roughly handled. Later in the evening the sophomores met a large crowd of freshmen, and after a desperate struggle the sophomores were routed.

Yesterday the young ladies of the two classes caught the spirit and a general hair-pulling party occurred in the hall, the faculty being obliged to interfere.

A COSTLY SHAVE.

While a Jeweler Was In a Barber Shop Sneak Thieves Robbed His Store.

OMAHA, Nov. 25.—Sneak thieves entered the jewelry store of S. Jonason & Co. yesterday and succeeded in getting away with $10,000 worth of diamonds and $5000 worth of gold watches.

Jonason had stepped out of the store to get shaved, leaving only a watch repairer in charge.

A man came in with a clock which he wanted repaired at once, and walked back with it to the repairer's bench.

While the jeweler was at work the stranger stood in front of him, and so hid from view his confederate, who entered and filled a bag with watches and diamond rings.

After the clock had been repaired the stranger left. It was a half hour before Jonason returned. Then the robbery was discovered. No trace of the men has been found.

A FINE ENTERTEINMENT.

Held at Cold Springs, in Which Several Peterborough Christian Endeavourers Take Part.

An entertainment of the Cold Springs (Otonabee) Society of Christian Endeavour in connection with their junior Y. P. S. C. E. Society and its work was held last evening. Messrs. W. F. Nelson, superintendent of junior work for the county, Geo. Matthews and Misses Quinn, Brundrette and Clarke, town, took part in the proceedings. There was a large attendance. Mr. Donaghy, school teacher, presided. After devotional exercises, including responsive readings by the children, a fine duet was rendered by Mr. Matthews and Miss Brundrette. Excellent vocal solos were also contributed by Miss Brundrette and Mr. Matthews as well as several splendid choruses by Messrs. Nelson and Matthews and Misses Clark and Brundrette. "Throw Out the Life Line," was particularly well rendered and well received. Mr. Nelson gave a short but interesting talk to the children. He strongly recommended the establishment of a junior society in connection with all Christian Endeavour work. Miss Quinn's address on the "Sunshine Committee," was timely and earnest. The entertainment closed by all singing "Blest Be the Tie that Binds."

MARKET MEMORANDA.

Paragraphs Picked up Among the Buyers and Sellers.

The market this morning was a revelation for its size, quantity of produce and rapid sales. There were more dressed hogs offered to-day than for months past, selling readily at $6.50 and in some cases $6.75 and $6.80 per cwt. The grain market was lively, spring wheat 67c. (std.) fall wheat 66c. (std.) oats 28 to 29c., small peas, 58 to 60c., large variety, 63 to 65c. The number of loads of these grains was large. Buckwheat and rye were scarce. Rye 48c., buckwheat 41c. and barley 38 to 45c. Hay sold readily at $8 to $8.50 per ton. No changes in quotations for the price of wood. Potatoes found a ready sale at 60 and 65c. a bag, apples from 60 to 70c., turnips at 25c. a bag, beef $4.00 to $4.50 for front quarter, $4.50 to $5.00 for hind quarter. The supply of butter was large and in good quality, crock 18 to 20c., firkin 16 to 18c., and by the roll 20 to 23c. Eggs 19c., chickens 40c per pair, geese 65 to 70c. apiece, ducks 60c. a pair.

KEEPING THE ELECTORS EDUCATED.

Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P. for West Peterborough, says the Lindsay Post, recently closed a series of meetings, about twenty in number, wherein he made addresses to his constituents in review of the legislation of the last session of the Ontario assembly. In doing so Mr. Stratton follows a commendable English practice. Mr. Stratton's review was instructive and interesting and was highly appreciated by the electors of all shades of politics. Mr. Stratton is so active and energetic in looking after the several interests of his constituency, that his majority of 450 at the last election will probably be advanced to 1,000.

Peterborough Milling Company.

Messrs. Jas. Stevenson, M.P., Mayor Kendry and H. A. Mulhern, of the Peterborough Milling Company, were in Montreal yesterday on business. They had an interview with Mr. Sergeant, General Manager of the Grand Trunk Railway, and Mr. A. White, Central District Freight Agent, Toronto, in reference to the G.T.R. erecting a siding to their Blythe Mills. They were courteously received and their mission a highly successful one. The railway magnates promised the deputation that the request would be granted and the proposed siding laid early next spring. The distance to be laid will be about 1,500 feet from the old road bed at the end of the old bridge to the flour mill. The additional two stories now being erected will be completed by March 1st, although the weather has for one or two days impeded the progress of the work this week. The company have about concluded negotiations for one of the most modern and complete milling plants invented, and which, when put in position, will be able to turn out 500 barrels of flour daily. The machinery was purchased from the North American Co. Stratford, and Messrs. W. and G. J. Giley, Toronto.

ABBOTT HAS RESIGNED.

HIS UNIMPROVED HEALTH WAS THE CAUSE.

Sir John Thompson Has Been Requested by the Governor-General to Form a New Cabinet, and He Has Accepted the Duty.

OTTAWA, Nov. 26.—The long suspense with respect to the resignation of Sir John Abbott is over and the expected change of Premiership has come.

Although this change has been partly expected and looked forward to, still as the last it came rather suddenly and is not even now generally known, for although the change was made shortly after 1 o'clock it was kept very quiet for a while and the evening papers did not get it in time for publication.

His Excellency came to his office in the eastern block about noon, as he usually does on Fridays, and shortly after his arrival his secretary called on Sir John Thompson, who at once accompanied him to His Excellency, with whom he was closeted for over an hour. About 3 o'clock the following statement was given out by Major St. Aubyn, His Excellency's secretary, for publication:

The Governor-General has received with great regret a letter from Sir John Abbott, intimating that he is compelled by the state of his health to resign his office.

Acting upon the advice of Sir John Abbott, His Excellency requested Sir John Thompson to form the new Cabinet. Sir John Thompson has accepted this duty, but it is probable that a few days will be required before an accurate list of the ministers can be given.

Immediately after this statement was made public the representative of The World called on Sir John Thompson, but could get no information from him beyond the fact that it would probably be the end of next week before he would be in a position to announce who the members of the Cabinet will be.

His Excellency and Lady Stanley leave for Toronto to-morrow morning to spend a week with Lieut.-Governor and Mrs. Kirkpatrick in fulfilment of an engagement made some time ago, and Sir John Thompson said that it would only be after His Excellency's return that the Cabinet could be announced.

All sorts of rumors of who will be taken in and who will be left out are rife here to-night, but it is all pure speculation, and the fancy cabinets which will probably be telegraphed away by enterprising correspondents will be purely speculative.

There is a general impression, however, that neither Mr. Chapleau nor Mr. Carling will be in the new cabinet, and it is quite possible that one or two more of the late ministers may be left out.

Mr. Ives of Richmond was here yesterday and his claims of a portfolio as English-speaking minister from Quebec are considered good now that Sir John Abbott has retired.

At the moment, however, it is all a matter of speculation and it will be a day or two before anything definite can be even guessed at. In the meantime the present ministers remain in office as heads of departments, but cannot meet in council as His Excellency's advisers.

THE MINORITY IN MANITOBA.

Their Council Will Place Their Petitions Before Committee.

OTTAWA, Nov. 26.—Mr. Ewart, counsel for the minority in Manitoba, who are petitioning His Excellency in council for remedial legislation with respect to the Manitoba School Act, arrived here yesterday, and will have an interview with the sub-committee of council to-morrow. In an interview Mr. Ewart says: "I have brought along with me copies of all the petitions which have so far been presented to the Government on this case. The last petition was somewhat different from the others, because it was presented after the decision of the Privy Council, when the case assumed a somewhat different phase. I will lay these petitions before the committee, and will ask that a day be set for the hearing of the case before a full meeting of the Cabinet. I suppose it will be necessary for me to point out that the Canadian Privy Council have jurisdiction to deal with the question, although some hold that the fact of the Imperial Privy Council having disposed of the case places it beyond the Canadian Government's control.

But the report of Sir John Thompson made on March 21, 1891, settles that matter, and I will refer the committee to it. The Minister of Justice, as you will remember, said in that report that if the decision of the Privy Council should be against the petitioners it would be then time to apply to His Excellency the Governor-General in council for redress. There may be some other points which the committee may desire me to explain."

CLAIMS ADJUSTED.

The C.P.R. Exempted from Strikes for Three Years.

OTTAWA, Nov. 26.—Mr. A. Hudson, vice-chairman of the Engineers' Board of Adjustment of the C.P.R. system, has just returned here, after having adjusted the arrangements between the engineers and firemen and the company for the Ontario, Southeastern and Atlantic divisions. This adjustment covers rules and regulations of the company and wages and hours of work for the employes, and is binding on both parties for three years. The arrangement is said to be perfectly satisfactory to all parties, and bids fair to exempt the C.P.R. from strikes for three years.

Slavin Said to Be Insane.

OTTAWA, Nov. 26.—Dr. Bergin, M.P., is here with a petition for commutation of the death sentence of Slavin, the Cornwall murderer. The petition alleges that the condemned man is insane and was not responsible for his actions at the time the murder was committed.

Medical testimony to this effect supports the prayer of the petition. Dr. Bergin, himself an expert in the treatment of mental diseases, believes in the prisoner's insanity as a result of careful study of his actions since his condemnation.

Miss Washburne Wedded.

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 26.—Miss Mary C. Washburne, daughter of United States Senator Washburne, and Francis Baldwin, an editorial writer on The New York Mail and Express, were married here.

Harrison's Father-in-Law Ill.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Rev. John W. Scott, father-in-law of President Harrison, is lying seriously ill at the White House.

FOUR DAYS' HUNGER.

Many Miners in Washington Territory Driven From the Camps.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 26.—E. T. Keith and Fritz Edingstoun, miners, working in the mountains east of Naimamth, have arrived at the latter place.

They were 48 hours without food, the freshets having hemmed all the miners in. On account of their exhausted condition they were unable to get to the transport to obtain a new supply of food.

Keith and Edingstoun are the only men out of 50 miners who started from Nohomish. It took them four days to get in, the others dropping along the road from sheer exhaustion and want of food. It is feared they are lost in the woods.

The survivors had scarcely any clothing when they arrived, which with their pinched and gaunt faces testified to the truth of their tale.

A famine is likely to occur among the railroad camps, both among men and horses, unless some means are devised of getting supplies from the east to the mountains.

BLAINE'S ILLNESS.

There Is Really Nothing Serious the Matter With Him.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26.—Dr. W. W. Johnson, who is in charge of Mr. Blaine's case, had a consultation yesterday with Dr. Hyatt, who has been treating Mr. Blaine specially for a stubborn bronchial affection.

Subsequently Dr. Johnson informed a representative of the Associated Press that the published reports that Mr. Blaine is seriously ill are entirely incorrect.

"The fact is," he said, "there is nothing really serious the matter with him. The slight cold with which accompanying fever from which he suffered last week has entirely passed away and he is so much improved to-day that he is able to be dressed and to move freely about his room."

MONEY WELL DISBURSED.

The Practical Bequests of a Wealthy Philanthropist.

PORT JEFFERSON, N.Y., Nov. 26.—Thomas G. Hodgkins of Setauket died yesterday, aged 89. Mr. Hodgkins was a philanthropist and has given £20,000 to the Royal Institute, London; $300,000 to the Smithsonian Institute, $100,000 each to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children and the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. He also founded a library in his village. He came from England at the age of 29 years, poor, and accumulated wealth during the war.

LIZZIE BORDEN.

Her Early Release From Confinement Appears Likely.

TAUNTON, Mass., Nov. 26.—The impression prevails that the grand jury will not indict Lizzie Borden for the murder of her father. There is yet a week nearly for unearthing fresh evidence, and in that time enough may be gathered to make things assume a different aspect, as conditions are now changed, for Lizzie's early release from confinement appears likely.

Latin-American Hostilities.

VALPARAISO, Nov. 26.—News comes from Bolivia that Eufraco Vizcano and Deputy Jenaro Quintanill, have been arrested for publishing a manifesto, directed to the deputies, against President Baptista. A Catholic padre was also arrested at La Pas.

Three thousand Indians have revolted against the authorities of the Province of Chiquots and are marching on the town of Parapets. Their numbers are constantly increasing.

A correspondent at Montevideo telegraphs that President Herrerra favors Alcides Montero as his successor. Much opposition to his elevation to the presidency is expected.

Governor Rojas has gone from Buenos Ayres to Santiago del Esterro for the purpose of conferring with the radicals.

The Argentine Government has ordered 18 armored rowers, which will be provided with heavy guns for coast defence.

Many Steamers Overdue.

NEW YORK, Nov. 26.—Several transatlantic ships that came into port yesterday had a tough time on the Atlantic. Capt. Wayer of the Rhyniand says the weather was the worst he met in 15 years.

The steamer Grace left the Thames on the 6th inst., and she was four days late on arrival. A great many steamers are overdue. The Hermann, from Bremen, is three days behind. The Neustria, from the Mediterranean, and the Dubliedam, from Rotterdam, are also making long passages.

Miss Morrison Married.

WIARTON, Ont., Nov. 26.—Miss Morrison, the only female survivor of the ill-fated Asia sunk in Georgian Bay ten years ago, has married Mr. Fleming, a farmer residing near Owen Sound.

A more romantic match would have been her marriage to Mr. Tinkiss, the other survivor of the terrible disaster, but they didn't seem to think that, companions in peril and suffering, they must necessarily get married, and the heroic Miss Morrison has now launched on the matrimonial sea and will lead a quiet life of a farmer's wife after her adventure on the Georgian Bay.

Mrs. Cleveland Has a Narrow Escape.

LAKEWOOD, N.J., Nov. 26.—Mrs. Cleveland had a most miraculous escape from being dashed down from an embankment while out riding Thursday afternoon. The horses attached to the carriage in which sat Mrs. Cleveland, Mrs. F. P. Freeman, jr., and the Misses Freeman became frightened and dashed away at a break-neck speed. Mr. Freeman, who held the reins, guided the enraged animals over the narrow road and by the deep chasm, and finally succeeded in pulling them up without injuring any of the inmates.

Trade Statements.

OTTAWA, Nov. 26.—Trade statements to Nov. 1 show an increase of $6,500,000 as compared with the corresponding four months last year. Imports show an increase of $2,194,000. Exports increased $6,378,000. Collections of duties increased $600,000.

The Position of the British Cabinet On Her Rights In Newfoundland.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—M. Ribot, the French Foreign Minister, recently communicated with Lord Rosebery, the British Foreign Secretary, requesting a statement of the position of the present Cabinet with reference to rights of France in Newfoundland.

Lord Rosebery, in his response, announced that the present Government had adopted the policy of Lord Salisbury with reference to Newfoundland.

UNITED EMPIRE LOYALISTS

AN ELOQUENT LECTURE BY REV. MR. FESSENDEN.

History of the Struggle for Independence—The U. E. L. Privations, Loyalty and Struggles—The Foundation of our British Institutions and Freedom To-day—Annexation Denounced—The Programme Rendered.

The first lecture of the winter series given under the auspices of the Peterborough Collegiate Institute Literary Society took place in the assembly room of the Institute last evening. The object of these lectures is to raise funds to purchase a pianoforte for the use of the society. Nearly one hundred students and their friends attended last evening. Although the number was not as large as expected, those who were present, though, had the pleasure and profit of listening to one of the most stirring and eloquent addresses ever delivered before a Canadian audience, on the subject of "The United Empire Loyalists," by the Rev. E. J. Fessenden, Rector of Chippewa, and brother of Mr. Principal Fessenden. Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.PP., occupied the chair and opened the proceedings in a short address expressing his appreciation of the honour conferred upon him by the Literary Society, and his interest in the marked progress recently made by the Institute. He expressed the hope that the series of lectures given this winter would be more largely attended by the members of the Board of Education and the citizens generally than they were last year.

The Collegiate Glee Club rendered a fine opening selection entitled "Canada, Fair Canada," which was deservedly applauded, Miss Clark taking the solo part in excellent voice, and Miss Patterson being the effective accompanist. As leader of the Collegiate Glee Club Mr. W. J. Drope, has proved himself a capable successor to its former intructor, Mr. J. H. Ketchum. The chairman then introduced the lecturer of the evening, saying that he felt sure if Rev. Mr. Fessenden proved himself as eloquent as his brother had shown himself to be scholarly the audience would enjoy a rare treat indeed.

Rev. Mr. Fessenden was received with applause. He is a man of fine personal appearance and possessed of a clear resonant voice and an easy and fluent delivery. His lecture showed him to be a man of wide historical reading, possessing a thorough understanding and grasp of his subject, and of convincing earnest and deep thought. The lecturer also proved himself to be a gifted and eloquent speaker. After expressing his pleasure at being present Rev. Mr. Fessenden said he was glad of the opportunity of addressing them on such an interesting and elevating theme as "The United Empire Loyalists," their sufferings, their hardships and their privations, and the noble part they played in laying the foundation of Canada. The memory of the brave and true was ever pleasant to recall and dwell upon, and consequently the facts and lessons of the United Empire Loyalist movement, which was the real foundation of Canada, should ever be kept fresh in the memory of all true Canadians, particularly the Canadian youth. In an exhaustive manner the speaker traced thr history of the American Colonies' attitude towards the Mother Country from the year 1763 to the Treaty of Paris in 1783.

A full report of the historical ground and data contained in the lecture would be an utter impossibility, but the main points which the lecturer presented were as follows: That the famous Stamp Act and other measures which led to the American Revolution, were the work of an English ministry; the English nation as a whole, including Chatham and Burke, were quite at one with the Colonists in the demand for redress and that as a natural consequence, the unpopular North ministy was at length brought to the very verge of yielding. The English overtures for reconciliation were, however, rejected, and this rejection and subsequent Declaration of Independence were at once authorized by and in opposition to the known wishes of the American Colonists as a whole. They had expressly directed and empowered their Congress delegates to demand redress, to seek reconciliation and to do nothing else. These, therefore non-legal, if not illegal, measures, were brought about by a clique—Franklin, Adams and Jefferson—which had grown to a faction and at last to a party. They allowed the nation no plebiscite. The "unanimous" vote they at last got in Congress, was the result of long and gross "gerrymandering." The United Empire Loyalists were not as is commonly held, submissive Anglomaniacs. Up to this point they had been quite at one with the rest of the colonists in fighting for redress. The persecution that drove the Loyalists into exile, was not as is commonly held, one of mere ridicule and taunts and abuse. Throughout the war they had been overwhelmed with a persecution all but barbaric—mobbed, robbed and turned out of house and home, and that too, in many cases by hired Indians. And now, at the end, when the Peace of Paris was being framed, they confidently looked to England to secure their safety and compensation. They were completely disappointed—totally ignored. Dr. Franklin, the American arbitrator of the peace was too much for the subservient English diplomat. The only alternative now left the U. E. Loyalists were a war upon their fellow countrymen to secure their safety and recover their property—or exile.

At the close a hearty vote of thanks, moved by Mr. Barton Earle and scouded by Dr. Geo. Burnham, was tendered Rev. Mr. Fessenden for his instructive lecture. The Glee Club then sang "The Maple Leaf" in fine style. Master Maitland Boswell taking the solo part in a clear well toned voice, after which the national anthem was sung and the meeting dispersed. The next fortnightly lecture of the series will be delivered on Friday, Dec. 9th, by Mr. R. Max Dennistoun, B.A., on the subject, "The Seal, the Salmon, and the Indian of Labrador."

MATTERS THAT CONCERN BABY.

Mothers are always interested in matters that pertain to baby's welfare Nothing is too good for baby; the little darling is mother's constant study and care.

The mother has many important matters to consider which tend to baby's health and comfort. The most important of all should be the child's dieting, Many estimable mothers err seriously in the selection of a proper food, when baby cannot be nursed.

These improper foods cause impaired digestion, weakness and irritation of the stomach and bowels; and often bring on fatal troubles.

These serious consequences are always avoided when pure and life-giving Lactated Food is used for baby. The baby, when fed on Lactated Food, soon becomes strong, hearty and happy; it sleeps well, and all around is joy and pleasure.

The mother who does not procure Lactated Food for her babe, is certainly retarding its growth and progress. If such mothers wish to give this grand food a trial before adopting it permanently, they are requested to send at once to the Wells & Richardson Co., Montreal, and a full sized can will be sent free of charge. When once used this food always becomes the family favourite.

It is no easy thing to dress harsh, coarse hair so as to make it look graceful or becoming. By the use of Ayers Hair Vigor this difficulty is removed, and the hair made to assume any style or arrangement that may be desired. Give the Vigor trial

A DUFFERIN CO. MIRACLE.

ERNEST DUKE'S GREAT PERIL AND WONDERFUL ESCAPE.

How His Life was Saved After His Condition had been Declared Hopeless by Three Doctors—An Interesting Narrative Given to a Post Reporter by the Boy's Mother and other Witnesses.

Dufferin Post, Orangeville.

The great Edmund Burke once exclaimed in a moment of sadness and despair that the age of chivalry was gone forever, and on every side of us we hear it remarked that the days of miracles are a part of the dim, superstitious and romantic past. We are not going to enter into a discussion on the merits of either statement. Much of the chivalry that we read of had a great deal of the wild and grotesque about it, while not a little that was attributed to miraculous agencies was the work of men of talent and genius, wiser and greater than their generation, who had explored and comprehended the treasures of Mother Nature within whose bosom is said to be locked a panacea for every ill of fallen flesh. A newspaper's chief mission is to faithfully and attractively record interesting current events and to make such comments and suggestions as it deems advisable, and it is this role the Post is desiring to fill in this article. The neighboring township of Mono furnishes an instance of a marvellous cure, which in less enlightened times would undoubtedly have been credited to supernatural influences, and which has even in this stern and practical era created a genuine sensation. In a recent issue we gave the particulars of the restoration to physical strength and activity of George Hewitt, of Mono Mills, through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, which are now household words on this continent. Many who read the article on Mr. Hewitt might be disposed to doubt, but the least credulous were silenced and convinced by the striking evidence of the patient himself, evidence which was corroborated by several reliable persons who had an intimate knowledge of the facts. The fine banner township of Mono supplies equally striking and conclusive testimony of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as an effectual remedy where the physician's skill and knowledge have been utterly baffled. Men may be disposed to be sceptical, and to fancy that much that is said in praise of these pills is mere hyperbole, but it is hard to confront the logic of facts, and in this respect an enduring monument is fast being built in support of the merits and claims of this greatest medical preparation of the century. Mr. Wm. Duke, lot 1, concession 6, Mono, is one of the best known and respected pioneers of this section. A few weeks ago we heard that his little 12-year-old boy had been snatched from the very jaws of death by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and we determined to fully investigate the reported cure. Mr. Duke resides about six miles from Orangeville, and is one of the most prosperous farmers of the banner township. When the representative of the Post called at his quiet and comfortable home, Mr. Duke was at a neighboring threshing, but the reporter was courteously received by Mrs. Duke. We enquired as to the condition of Ernest, the little boy who was reported to have been cured, and were somewhat nonplussed when told that he was at school. From our information as to his state of health last spring, we did not expect to find him able to leave the house, and were not prepared for the news that he was once more strong enough to mix with the gabbling schoolboy throng. "Is Ernest the little boy that was so sick last winter and spring?" was our next interrogative "He is, indeed," replied Mrs. Duke, "and to tell you the truth, we had at one time no hope that he would ever again be able to leave his bed."

"To what do you attribute the boy's recovery?" the reporter asked.

"Oh! to nothing but Dr. Williams' Pink Pills," was the ready and emphatic response of Mrs. Duke, who is a very intelligent lady, and who then gave the interviewer the following interesting and well-nigh incredible narrative: "Last winter Ernest had the grippe, and he never seemed to recover from the effects of it. In February last, some time after he had the grippe he was so unwell that we took him to Dr. Bonnar, of Mono Mills, who examed him, and said that what was troubling him was a decaying tooth which required to be extracted. He pulled the tooth, and said to take the boy home, and he would be all right shortly. Instead of getting better, however, Ernest got far worse, and was soon confined entirely to his bed. He failed in strength and appetite, and was becoming more nervous every day. Sometimes he would get twitching and nervous fits, and shake so hard that he would frighten you. The shaking was so strong that the whole bed shook with him. We became alarmed and sent for a second doctor, who prescribed for the boy, and who gave it as his opinion that his recovery was impossible. At this time Ernest had lost the power of both legs and arms, and they had to be tied down to ease the sufferer by lessening the nervous agitation. The second physician called in attended the boy some time, but the case was getting so bad, every day becoming more hopeless, that a third is sent for to consult. This last one said that there was no chance for poor Ernest, and that all the trouble seemed to be in the nerves. I need not tell you how grieved we felt over the prospect of losing our boy, and would have tried anything to save his life. We had been reading in the Post about the wonderful cures made by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and often thought of trying them as we were told they would do no harm if they did not do any good. Nearly every week we read about miracles wrought by the Pills, and one day I determined to ask the doctor if we might try them. 'Well,' said he, 'the boy can't get better, and the pills are not likely to hasten his end. You can do as you like.' Shortly after we bought a box of Pills. This was in May last. Little Ernest had not been taking them two weeks when we noticed a wonderful change. We quit the doctors' medicine altogether, and kept using the pills only. The boy improved so rapidly that in a short time he was able to be out of bed. One can hardly believe a story like this, but every word of it is true. I tell you there is a wonderful change in our boy and we ought to be thankful to the Pink Pills. Ernest is growing stout and strong, and this is his first day at school. The doctor said he would be dead before the last Toronto Exhibition, but my little fellow was so well then that he was able to be around, and even went with his father to the exhibition. We have been buying the pills from Mr. Stevenson, one of the Orangeville druggists, and Ernest is still using them although not so often as at first. It would not be much out of your way to call at the school, and there you will find Ernest who will be able to speak for himself."

Just as Mrs. Duke was concluding her interesting narrative the teacher of the school, Mr. Thos. E. Langford, who boards at Mr. Duke's, entered the house, and the reporter expected that Ernest would turn up, and save him a visit to the school. He was informed, however, that the boy had taken his lunch with him in the morning and would spend the dinner hour at play. Mr. Langford accompanied the reporter to the road and on the way the teacher said that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills could not be too widely known. "I have been boarding all along at Mr. Duke's," said he, "and I tell you little Earnest was in a bad state last spring. No one ever thought he would get better, and it seems so strange that he was cured by such a simple remedy. Why, three doctors pronounced his case hopeless, and yet he is at school to-day! He is a bright little boy, and the Pink Pills saved his life."

The reporter was full of thought as he hastened to the school to interview the little fellow who may be said to have heard the summons of death, and to have been saved from an early grave by Dr. Williams' wonderful Pink Pills which the teacher had truly described as a simple remedy. When we reached the school several children were playing in the yard, and in answer to our call for Ernest Duke, a bright little boy started out from the romping throng. We asked him if he was the boy who had been so sick, and he answered with a mild and clear "yes." "Are you well now?" "O, I am as well as ever again." "What cured you?" "Pink Pills!" was the ready and smiling respone. The little fellow did certainly appear to be in the full enjoyment of health, and no one who did not know the facts would think that he had so recently been in such a feeble and precarious condition as to be despaired of by three local physicians of standing and experience. We shook hands with the boy and started for Orangeville, fully convinced that there was a good deal in the stories we had been reading of the miracles wrought through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

The reporter also interviewed several of Mr. Duke's neighbors, and found them all of one opinion. This was that his son would now be sleeping in the silent churchyard had it not been for the timely use of Pink Pills. He also learned that many others were using the pills with gratifying results, while many more had made up their minds since the miraculous saving of young Duke's life to try the great remedy for lesser ailments with which they were troubled. We had anticipated that our mission would be disappointing in some respects, never expecting to have the strange story which we had heard of Ernest Duke's recovery so fully substantiated, but here we were returning to Orangeville with everything that was flying rumor before conclusively established upon investigation.

WHAT THE DRUGGISTS SAY.

On arriving at Orangeville we determined to interview the local druggists as to the popularity of the remedy that is working such wonders and causing such genuine sensations in many parts of the country. Mr. Thomas Stevenson was the first druggist interviewed. "Do you sell many of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills?" we asked Mr. Stevenson. "I should think we did," was his prompt reply. There is no remedy in my store for which there is such a demand, and while the number we sell is very large, the sale is certainly increasing." How do you account for this large sale?" we asked; "I believe it due entirely to the merits of the preparation. Those who use Dr. Williams Pink Pills report the best results. The remedy is certainly a wonderful one.

When Mr. A. Turner was questioned he said the sale of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills was a surprise to himself. In his experience as a druggist no remedy had made such a reputation or produced such wonderful results. Scarcely a day passed that he did not hear of parties who were benefitted by the use of Pink Pills.

Mr. J. R. Dodd's was equally enthusiastic. "If you call Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a patent medicine," said he, "they are the most popular and best selling patent medicine in my store to-day. The sale is undoubtedly on the increase and I can say that scores who have bought from me are loud in their praises of what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have done for them. They are certainly a great remedy, and my experience is that they effect all that is claimed for them."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a perfect blood builder and nerve restorer, curing such diseases as rheumatism, neuralgia, partial paralysis, locomotor ataxia, St. Vitus' dance, nervous headache, nervous prostration and the tired feeling therefrom, the after effects of la grippe, diseases depending on humors in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc. Pink Pills give a healthy glow to pale and sallow complexions and are a specific for the troubles peculiar to the female system, and in the case of men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, over-work or excesses of any nature.

These Pills are manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., and Schentectady, N. Y., and are sold only in boxes bearing the firm's trade mark and wrapper, at 50 cents a box, or 6 boxes for $2.50. Bear in mind that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, are never sold in bulk, or by the dozen or hundred, and any dealer who offers you substitutes in this form is trying to defraud you and should be avoided. The public are also cautioned against all so-called builders and nerve tonics, no matter what name may be given them. They are all imitations, whose makers hope to reap a pecuniary advantage from the wonderful reputation achieved by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Ask your dealer for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, and refuse all imitations and substitutes.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills may be had of all druggists, or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company from either address. The price at which these pills are sold make a course of treatment comparatively inexpensive as compared with other remedies or medical treatment.

Ask your neighbours if they use Dodd's Kidney Pills. They strengthen the nerves, tone the system, and the most stubborn cases of kidney diseases yield to their influence. They are especially appreciated by the old. Ask your neighbours about them. dw

Palatable as cream. No oily taste like others. In big bottles, 50c. and $1.00.

Within an Ace of Destruction.

A terrible accident was only averted by a hair's breadth at the George street crossing of the C. P. R. shortly after 7 o'clock yesterday morning. An employee of the Dickson Lumber Co. who was seated on a heavy load of lumber, was crossing the track as the 7.10 a. m. local came steaming in. The horses balked when on the track, the driver doing his utmost to incite them forward. The incoming engine whistled again and again, and the engineer pulled thr reverse valve. The animals taking fright succeeded in clearing the crossing by less than a foot as the train dashed by. The driver in the meantime had taken the precaution to jump in order to save himself. On-lookers were terribly excited and heaved a sigh of relief when the impending danger was over.

County Bridge Dispute Adjusted.

The county council finished up the business of the year last week. A settlement was arrived at between Victoria and Peterborough, or rather the joint committee, and agreed to by Victoria council regarding the maintenance of the boundary bridges. Victoria will pay three-tenths on the Pigeon Creek bridge, and Peterborough will pay one-fourth on the Bobcaygeon bridge. This offer was made by Victoria. At first Peterborough wanted several provisos, but it was finally agreed to, with the understanding that it appled only to the present year's expenditure. In consequence of the death of Mr. Duffus, the county engineer, Mr. Wm. Kennedy of this village, was appointed Superintendent and Inspector of Bridges and Roads. Mr. Lithgow moved the customary vote of thanks to the Warden, and the presiding officer made a neat speech in reply —Bobcaygeon Independent.

A Sad Bereavement.

The many friends of Mr. Thomas Hickey will be deebly pained to learn of the death of his wife, Honorah Laronde, which took place this morning after a brief illness. This death cuts short a happy wedded life, which has lasted less than a year and a half. The bereaved husband will have the sympathy of his wide circle of friends in his severe affliction.

Don't Forget.

That on Tuesday evening Dec. 6th, there will be presented in the opera house a grand concert and entertainment under the management of St. Peter's Court, No. 225, Catholic Order of Foresters. Christmas Numbers.

The following Christmas numbers have arrived at the Peterborough Bookstore:—"Holly Leaves," "Dominion Illustrated," "Young Ladies' Journal," "Saturday Night," London "Illustrated News," "Ladies' Pictorial," and London "Graphic." The supply of these is limited this season. and as their unusual beauty will create a ready demand, persons desirous of securing copies should leave their orders at once.

"The Feature of the Evening."

The Toronto World in its report of the concert in Association Hall, Toronto, has the following well deserved eulogy: "The feature of the evening was the singing of Mr. Thomas Dunn. He is a baritone of great range and possesses a tone quality which is seldom heard, even on the operatic stage. Mr. Dunn's singing of "The Raft" and the "Toreador" song from Carmen were thrilling. Miss Florence Mabel Glover is a young lady of much promise."

"Her Life and Conversion."

Mrs. Layyah Barakat, a Syrian lady, will deliver an address in St. Paul's church, Peterborough, on Thursday and Friday evenings Dec. 15th and 16th under the auspices of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society. Particulars hereafter. dw

He leaves a wife and a young son Deceassed was a member of St. Peter's Branch, No. 21, E. B. A., under whose auspices he will be buried to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock.

Ashburnham Special Services.

Rev. David Savage has been conducting revival services now for two weeks in the Mark street Methodist church. The interest has been continually rising. A goodly number have already turned to the Lord. The movement is widening and deepening in the surrounding community. Mr. Savage presents and keeps before the minds of the people Jesus Christ as the way to God; and the duty and wisdom of immediate acceptance of the Saviour. His preaching is marked by simplicity, clearness. point, tenderness, interesting illustration and directness of application. He will preach every evening, excepting Saturday, of the week commencing with Sunday the 27th inst. Every person welcome and invited to walk in and take a seat.—COM.

Large Number of Orders Received for Their Launches.

The "Canadian Canoe Co," whose factory is situated on the corner of Brock and Water streets, have been busy for the last two days drawing lumber, from the cars to James Donnell's planing mill, where they are having it re-sawed and planed for basswood and cedar-ribbed canoes, and judging from the large pile of lumber it makes, they must have a good winter's work before them. In addition to the canoes and skiffs which they are building, they are also now finishing a very pretty "steam launch," and, as it will not require any muscular power to propel it, and being fitted with a nice canvass awning, there is likely to be several of them in use next summer, and in fact the company now have several orders on hand. In addition to their local sales, they are also receiving very encouraging reports from outside agents, and they look forward to a busy season's trade.

A Little Stir at the Station.

A somewhat breezy affair occurred at the G. T. R. station yesterday shortly before the 11,40 o'clock for Port Hope pulled out. A married lady and her boy hailing from Dummer were taking train for Toronto accompanied by a young man who had evidently formed plans for a quiet setting off together, but their high hopes were frustrated by a brother of the prospective groom getting wind of the affair. He succeeded in inducing, after some trouble, his captivated brother to return to Lakefield, while the would-be wife and boy left for Toronto unescorted.

An Excellent Portrait.

Mr. T. Workman, portrait painter, has finished an excellent portrait in oil of Mrs. Wm. Croft, which is on view in the show window of Mr. Clegg's furniture store. The portrait is a life-like life size, three-quarter length, and is a strikingly true likeness, and is treated in an artistic manner. The flesh tints are excellent and the disposition and tone of the back ground bring out the figure in a very prominent, effective manner. The treatment of the drapery is admirable and altogether the portrait is one of the best of the many good ones Mr. Workman has painted. The canvas is 3x4 feet in size and enclosed by a rich eight inch gilt frame.

For the Good of Others

Rev. Mr. Williams Heartily Endorses Hood's Sarsaparilla.

We are pleased to present this from Rev. A. A. Williams, of the Sillsbee street Christian Church, Lynn, Mass.:

"I see no reason why a clergyman, more than a layman, who knows whereof he speaks, should hesitate to approve an

and worth, from which he or his family have been signally benefited, and whose commendation may serve to extend those benefits to others by increasing their confidence. My wife has for many years been a sufferer from severe for which she found little help. She has tried many things that promised well but performed little. Last fall a friend gave her a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. It seems surprising what simply one bottle could and did do for her. The attacks of headache decreased in number and were less violent in their intensity, while her general health has been improved. Her appetite has also been better. From our experience with

Nervous Headache

Hood's Sarsaparilla

I have no hesitation in endorsing its merits."

CURLERS' CHIT CHAT.

A Meeting of the Club Held Last Night—Subdivided in Two Rinks—The membership limits Nearly Filled Up.

A meeting of the curlers was held at the rink, last night. There was a fair representation of the wielders of the broom, the president, D. W. Dumble occupying the chair. After some general discussion, it was unanimously decided to adopt the report presented by the special committee recommending that the club be divided in two subdivisions for local matches and games and in competition with foreign clubs and the Ontario Tankard series, that they play as a whole. The subdivision will be known as the "Granites" and "Thistles". The latter will have the use of the rinks on Monday, Wednesday and Friday night of each week while the Granites will play on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights during the series. These arrangements seem to be popular with the lovers of the stane, and it is calculated to add a zest and impetus to the sport in local matches, while the Peterboroughs will be the better able to capture the Tankard Medal this year, as they probably will. Two new skips were elected, Messrs. E. B. Edwards and George Edmison. The membership of the Thistles and Granites were limited to 32 each and the complement is nearly completed. All those intending to join should do so at once as no membership fees will be received after Dec. 1st. Only about ten members more are required. The fee for the season has been placed at the low figure of $6. Now for the ice.

Averted a Collision.

Mr. Simon Weir last night prevented what might have been an expensive collision. He was returning home about 11 o'clock when he discovered a horse entangled in the timbers of the railway bridge over the creek, his body directly across one line of rails. Mr. Weir notified the neighbours and then called up Mr. Brundrette station agent, a party was formed and with great difficulty the horse was released, terribly cut and bruised, from his perilous position. A west bound freight train was delayed at the station from twelve to one o'clock, when the track was cleared. If the train had gone on in ignorance of Mr. Weir's warning a serious smashup might have resulted.

NEW YORK (SPECIAL).

VERY new fashion brings its accompanying usage, and now, with the rage for empress, directoire and princess dresses; many a belle is powdering her face too freely, besides sticking on bits of court plaster. Jane turned up her nose, and said, "I never use powder, and I never have." Then Mary looked sweetly at her, and said, "No, I am sure you don't, and I am sure no one would ever think you did." Somehow, Jane did not feel nearly so comfortable as she felt she ought to.

Now let us drop anecdote, and go into utilitarian particulars concerning the princess gown, shown in my initial sketch. It is flowered China crepe, cut princess style in the ordinary manner, and fastened behind with hooks and eyes. The upper dress is only attached at the sides to the under frock, and is made of striped or dotted crepe de chine. In order to prevent the joining from being visible, this upper dress can be attached to the under dress under the arms at the seams, as shown in the engraving, below the bust. The material is sewn on without lining, in thick pleats. The border and the back breadths of the overdress are shirred at the throat, and fastened to the under dress. In order that the folds may not take up too much room, the crepe beneath them is fastened on to the under dress. The breadths at the back are held by safety hooks that are attached to silken eyes. On the border and back breadths is a plastron of silk gauze, which falls from under the short jacket. This letter, like the trimming of the dress, is of yellow satin with neutral tinted embroidery, and it can be surrounded by a hand-embroidered border. It opens both back and front, and is cut round. It is only sewn to the under-dress on the upper part, and is lined with silk. The thread border running round the skirt is only attached to the upper dress, and is edged on both sides with tiny flounces or ruffles of silk or gauze. Both the under and upper garment must be of equal width, if the dress is meant to clear the ground, but if it has a short train, it must be wider. The sleeves are lined with silk. The lower parts are made of bands of satin, with puffs of gauze. The upper part of the sleeves are gathered and puffed. Now, if you are at all clever, my dear woman, you can make such a dress yourself, or have it done at home, under your own direction, by an ordinary seamstress.

The two pictures in which juvenile toilets are shown, along with those for women, were drawn from the actual garments as worn by live persons. The dress of the young girl was made of silver grey bengaline. The yoke had alternate rows of white lace insertion and silver-grey ribbon. The older girl in the same group wore a dress of cream cashmere, the edge of the skirt being of cream embroidered tulle. The deep corslet, which was laced behind was cream silver brocaded with gold scales, to form the appearance of a cuirass. The little child in the third picture wore a wrap of pale blue flannel, with wide ribbon bows to match. The notable feature of the mother's home toilet was an apron of figured Indian muslin, trimmed with fancy lace.

Lovely woman is now sitting up nights,

MOTHER AND CHILD.

ruining her eyes, and neglecting her children, her husband, her engagements and a lot of things to make a collection of impossibilities for Christmas gifts. She thinks it costs so much less to make them herself, but she would do better to go to the stores and buy them. But that makes no difference to her. She thinks people like things made by hand better than they do "bought things," but they don't. She doesn't, but she thinks now to encourage from other people. When her [illegible] aunts and folks give her a lot of [illegible] and cards made of tags and lace and [illegible] bows, she pretends she likes them. The trouble with the average Christmas presents women are now evolving is that they are good for nothing, that they take up a lot of room, and that they never match anything else you have. Those dreadful bureau covers, for instance, made of filmy gauze, painted and with crisp ruffles all around them. Of course they are pretty to look at, but you can't spend the remainder of your life sitting up and admiring them. What else can you do with them? You can't think of putting such things on the bureau unless you are going to have another bureau to use. These things are not pretty a minute after they are the least soiled, and they are soiled the first minute that you look at them. Over these things half the women you know, yourself included, are fretting now. Do you want a bigger list of impossibles? You can make a lovely little pink satin business to hold telegraph blanks in. They are so convenient, so nice to give to a man, goes in his bag, you know. There is a dear little enamel pencil, like the programme pencils at a ball; and when he has a telegram to write in the middle of the night on the cars, there he will have this lovely convenience right in his bag, and how he will bless his dear little Birdie.

You can paint celuloid soap boxes, too. They will please him, and when he is far, far away, and goes to get his soap and finds you have taken away that old zinc box he carried so long, how surprised he will be. Of course we have been laughed out of making impossible tobacco pouches and things like that. All our presents are useful. There is the dearest little blue satin thing, only a tiny square that folds up just the size of a stamp and ties in a dear little bow so that the stamps won't fall out. How George will like that. He has always carried his stamps in a big sheet in his bank book, but this way he will have them all loose and convenient. Oh, no, they won't spill out, because there is the dear little bow-knot, and of course when he takes a stamp out he will be just a little careful. The only thing to be really particular about is to tie up the box again after you have got the stamp. And he won't mind that a bit.

OUT FOR FORMAL CALLS.

My third illustration shows a handsome gown, such as modish New York women wear for an afternoon or evening dress. If preferred, bengaline could be used instead of the cashmere with which the original was made, and velvet instead of the surah, the velvet being of a shade darker gray than the skirt, and the zouave of gray or black passementerie.

In the final picture, one dress was of gray bengaline trimmed with Russian embroidery; corselet and wide band edging the skirt was gray velvet with two rows of the embroidery laid on it; collarette of crepe trimmed with the braid. The second dress was of pale blue velvet striped with cream. It had a corselet of cream surah, and narrow flounces of blue velvet round the bottom of the skirt.

There is no doubt that velvet is the favorite material for trimmings. The shot velvets are lovely, but oh, how expensive! But plain velvet always looks well and becoming, and this, or at least such an efficient substitute as the best velveteen, are within the reach of all. Velvet sleeves are much worn, as also are the round corselets, which, however, are to a certain extent superseded by the folded stomachers of velvet, which suit a slender figure admirably, especially when they are finished with one of those long shaped buckles, which are being shown so much now. The favorite materials for walking dresses are tweeds, in gray and heather shades, blue or brown serge and plain beaver and habit cloths in a number of pretty shades.

TWO OF A STYLISH KIND.

Tea-gowns are extremely graceful—the long, loose, empire fronts with bands, which confine the front only to the bustline, giving height to the figure. Some tea-gowns are made as a loose blouse, falling quite to the ground, and with the back demi-train: and these are usually cloth in delicate gray, blue, rose or ivory tints, bordered with narrow fur. The sleeves are of silk and lace in high round puffs divided by ribbons; or there is a half-sleeve of the cloth bordered with very narrow fur, and a full puffed one of silk below. The corselet waists, whether of the open Russian type, the Swiss shape or the empire form, with folds or pleats, is a fashion likely to be extremely popular during the winter season, since it is invaluable for decorative effect. Very charming corselets are covered with silken crochet or tatting, and "jewels" or crystal beads are used for the centers of wheels and stars. Corselets formed of alternate stripes of ribbon velvet and jet are very attractive, and may be entirely black; or colored ribbon velvet and jet is very pleasing.

The fall of the year is a trying season for elderly people. The many cheerless dark, dismal days act depressingly, not to say injuriously, on both old and young. Now is the time to re-enforce the vital energies with Ayer's Sarsaparilla—the best of all blood medicines.

HAVELOCK.

(From a Correspondent.)

The congregation of the Church of St. John the Evangelist, held their annual church dinner and entertainment on Tuesday evening last. An enormous crowd sat down at the tables, groaning with good things, which were placed in the basement of the church. Table after table was filled and emptied both of guests and provisions and when everyone was satisfied an adjournment was made to the school hall which was crowded to the doors. An excellent concert was given by ladies and gentlemen of the village, and speeches were delivered by the Revs. Messrs. John Gibson, former incumbent of Havelock, under whose guidance the church was built, W. McCall, Methodist minister and W. M. Loucks of Peterborough. The parish of Havelock is flourishing under the hard work and efforts of Mr. Pickford, the Lay reader in charge.

Rev. Sylvanus Lane,

Of the Cincinnati M. E. Conference, makes a good point when he says: "We have for years used Hood's Sarsaparilla in our family of five, and find it fully equal to all that is claimed for it. Some people are greatly prejudiced against patent medicines, but how the patent can hurt a medicine and not a machine is a mystery of mysteries to me."

I was completely run down, had aching pains in my shoulder, a tired feeling in my limbs, low spirits, in fact I was in misery. Being recommended to try B. B.B. I did so, and with the use of only one bottle I am to-day strong and healthy. I prize it highly.

A Pleasant Herb Drink.

The best cure we know of for Constipation and Headache is the pleasant herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine. It is said to be Oregon grape root, combined with simple herbs and is made for use by pouring boiling water on to the dried roots and herbs. It is remarkably efficacious in all blood disorders and is now the sovereign remedy with ladies for clearing up the complexion. Druggists sell the packages at 50c. and $1

THERE are many forms of nervous debility in men that yield to the use of Carter's Iron Pills. Those who are troubled with nervous weakness night sweats, etc., should try them. dw

A Complicated Case

DEAR SIRS,—I was troubled with billiousness, headache and lost appetite. I could not rest at night, and was very weak, but after using three bottles of B.B.B. my appetite is good and I am better than for years past. I would not now be without B.B.B. and am also giving it to my children.

Cures Others

Will cure You, is a true statement of the action of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, when taken for diseases originating in impure blood; but, while this assertion is true of AYER'S Sarsaparilla, as thousands can attest, it cannot be truthfully applied to other preparations, which unprincipled dealers will recommend, and try to impose upon you, as "just as good as Ayer's." Take Ayer's Sarsaparilla and Ayer's only, if you need a blood-purifier and would be benefited permanently. This medicine, for nearly fifty years, has enjoyed a reputation, and made a record for cures, that has never been equalled by other preparations. AYER'S Sarsaparilla eradicates the taint of hereditary scrofula and other blood diseases from the system, and it has, deservedly, the confidence of the people.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

"I cannot forbear to express my joy at the relief I have obtained from the use of AYER'S Sarsaparilla. I was afflicted with kidney troubles for about six months, suffering greatly with pains in the small of my back. In addition to this, my body was covered with pimply eruptions. The remedies prescribed failed to help me. I then began to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla, and, in a short time, the pains ceased and the pimples disappeared. I advise every young man or woman, in case of sickness resulting from impure blood, no matter how long standing the case may be, to take AYER'S Sarsaparilla."—H. L. Jarmann, 33 William st., New York City.

MADE HIS SPEECH.

With His Sword In Its Sheath and His Hand On Its Hilt.

BERLIN, Nov. 25.—The North German Gazette, referring to Chancellor Von Caprivi's speech in the Reichstag yesterday, expresses the hope that the authentic information furnished by the Chancellor in regard to the Ems despatch will silence the critics who, are basing their attacks upon false conceptions.

Continuing, The Gazette says that the Chancellor gave his statement with his sword in its sheath and his hand on its hilt, typifying the attitude imposed on the nation by the history of the Prussian and German people, who stand in armor with self-sacrificing perseverance. They had to win their position among the civilized nations, and they will certainly guard with patriotic zeal what Emperor William's grandfather and father obtained. To this end it is incumbent upon them in time of peace to remain mindful of the possibility of being confronted by events that will render the future of the people dependent upon the employment of their entire defensive system.

With the exception of the semi-official press, the newspapers of Berlin contain chilling criticisms upon the Chancellor's speech.

A SECRET RENDEZVOUS.

The Place Where London's Unemployed Will Assemble—Trouble Feared.

LONDON, Nov. 25.—The St. James Gazette says that a number of the unemployed workmen who meet at Tower Hill boast of the possession of firearms and declare that they are trained in their use. The Gazette adds that it has been ascertained that many of the unemployed men belong to the volunteer force and have failed to return their arms when through drilling, in accordance with the regulations. Orders given for the restoration of the arms have been ignored.

Arrangements are being completed for a midnight march of contingents of the workless men. Centres have been appointed at which the several contingents will meet and themes torchlight processions will march to some place in the western part of the city.

This place is kept a secret by the leaders. The date of the procession will not be fixed until the end of March.

A FIRE FROM NAPHTHA.

It Burns 27 Barges and 2 Steamers in Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 25.—A despatch from Astrakhan, on the River Volga, states that on Tuesday a naphtha barge caught fire there.

The flames spread with startling rapidity, and before any attempt could be made to save them 26 other barges, some loaded with naphtha and others empty, were a mass of flames.

Two steamers also caught fire and were destroyed. All the barges were burned to the water's edge. The bargemen and the hands on the steamers barely escaped with their lives. The explosions that followed the communication of the flames to the naphtha sounded like discharges of cannon The fire presented a magnificent spectacle.

World's Record Broken.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 24.—The world's railroad record has been broken by Engineer Henry Hicks in the phenomenal time of 39, 38 and 37 seconds for three consecutive miles.

The engine drew three heavy coaches. The previous record was 39½ seconds, made by the same engine, No. 385, on the Philadelphia and Reading's system.

A Modest Philanthropist.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 24.—Bishop Nicholson yesterday received a check from a New York millionaire who requests that his name be kept from the public. The money is for Neshotah seminary.

The donor is believed to be the same man who gave $500,000 to Bishop Potter for the proposed New York cathedral a few days since.

A Gigantic White Oak Tree.

The largest piece of white oak probably that was ever sawed to order and shipped to New York, is stated by the Recorder to have been 30 inches square and 50 feet long and measured 3,750 feet, board measure. It weighed 22,500 pounds, railroad standard weight for green oak timber. The tree measured over 3½ feet in diameter fifty feet from the ground. Another piece was also received at the same time which was 24 by 20 inches and 60 feet long. The two pieces made 6,150 feet and were all that was shipped in two cars which came from Ohio.

THE BEST FAMILY PILL IN USE

FOR SALE BY ALL DEALERS

Keep the Works in good order.

NORMAN, Ont., January 15, 1892.

W. H. COMSTOCK, Brockville, Ont.

DEAR SIR,—Your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills" are the best regulator for the system that humanity can use. Life is as the time-piece; frail and delicate are many of its works. A tiny particle of foreign substance adheres to the smallest wheel in the works, and what is the result?—at first only a slight difference is perceptible in its time-keeping, but wait you; as the obstruction grows, the irregularity becomes greater, until at last, what could have been rectified with little trouble, in the beginning, will now require much care in thoroughly cleansing the entire works. So it is in human life—a slight derangement is neglected, it grows and increases, imperceptibly at first, then rapidly, until what could, in the beginning, have been cured with little trouble, becomes almost fatal. To prevent this, I advise all to purify the system frequently, by the use of Morse's Pills, and so preserve vigor and vitality.

Yours faithfully,
H. P. ATWELL.

KING OF DAHOMEY FLED.

The French Punitive Expedition Has Cleared Out the Assessors.

PARIS, Nov. 25.—A despatch from Porto Novo states that King Behanzin, whose capital, Abomey, recently fell into the hands of the French Punitive expedition, has fled in company with a small body of his followers into an unexplored country where it would be impossible, even were it deemed essential, for the French troops to follow him.

It is expected that the King will attempt ultimately to seek safety in a German settlement.

A Heavy Remover.

PARIS, Nov. 23.—It is stated that the minister referred to by M. DeLabaye in his speech on Monday in the Chamber of Deputies as having taken a drawer of 400,000 francs from the Panama Canal Company was the late M. Barbe. According to reports in circulation M. Barbe threatened to oppose the Panama scheme because the company had transferred its purchases of dynamite from M. Barbe's factory to cheaper ones in England. M. Brisson, whose probity is universally recognized, was elected president of the Canal Investigation Committee.

The committee appointed by the Chamber of Deputies to investigate the Panama Canal scandal will begin its work today. The committee has decided that each member shall be permitted to communicate with newspapers regarding the deliberations of the committee provided he does so on his personal responsibility.

The proceedings will open to-day with the hearing of M. Delahaye and Premier Loubet.

M. Paul deRoulede has resigned his membership of the Investigating Committee. He was the only Boulangist on the committee.

TO PREVENT AN ENQUIRY

THE LUNGS OF IMPORTED STOCKERS DESTROYED.

A Scotch Veterinary Surgeon Declares That the British Agricultural Board Has Endeavored to Smother Independent Investigation.

EDINBURGH, Nov. 26.—At a meeting here of a number of Scotch veterinary surgeons Prof. Williams made an address in which he used some pretty strong language regarding the policy of the Agricultural Board in connection with the import cattle trade. He asserted that the board smothered independent inquiry by destroying the lungs of all condemned cattle alleged to have died from pleuro-pneumonia.

The board advisers, he declared, were guilty either of gross error or were abetting political fraud.

The American inspectors at Deptford, Dr. Wray and Dr. Ryder, submitted portions of the lungs of condemned animals that were landed by the steamer Borderer, from Boston, to Dr. Nocard, an eminent French expert. Dr. Nocard made a close examination of the tissue and declared that the animals had not suffered from any contagious disease.

The meeting appointed a committee to investigate.

IT WAS SWAMP FEVER.

A Bark's Crew Stricken and the Vessel Drifted For Three Days.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 26.—The Austrian bark Isabella Balcom encountered a most distressing experience during her recent voyage.

The bark left Boston last August for Darien, Ga., where she was to receive a cargo of lumber for Laguayra. Three days out of Darien every member of the crew was stricken with swamp fever. The vessel drifted at the mercy of the waves for three days, the men being too ill to man the boat.

During this time the mate, B. A. Briggs, was buried at sea. Finally the captain recovered sufficiently to take the wheel and the boat put into Turk's Island for medical aid. On the way the steward, H. C. King, died, but was buried on shore. The vessel was detained there three weeks and then went on its course, arriving here five weeks later.

HE "VOODOOED" HER.

Arrested for Treating a Young Girl for "Reptiles."

CHARLESTON, S.C., Nov. 26.—An inquest held by Coroner Muckenfoss discloses a curious case of "voodoo" medical practice which has landed the practitioner in jail.

Clara Webb, a young colored woman, was the victim. She was taken ill a fortnight ago, and after two days' treatment by a regular physician a "voodoo" doctor, B. W. White, was called.

White is black as coal. He told his patient's friends she was infected with reptiles and to get rid of them began cupping her head.

Her husband and father swear that White drew forth all sorts of reptiles, but the patient died.

The jury declared death due to lack of proper medical attention, and White was arrested. Investigation has shown that in some cases doctors carry on their persons small snakes and lizards which are used to dupe patients.

THE LATEST IN SOCIALISM.

London's Unemployed Will Demand the Government to Fix Judicial Rents.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—The latest developments in municipal socialismare found in resolutions of a a conference of delegates from the London vestries and district boards, appointing a deputation to wait upon Henry Fowler, President of the Local Government Board, and to demand a Government measure fixing judicial rents for London workmen.

The conference also instructed the delegates to ask the Government to find work for the unemployed in public works at trades union wages or payment in lands not under cultivation.

Smugglers Nabbed.

FORT ERIE, Nov. 26.—A special officer of the Customs Department has been working over here for some time and has succeeded in catching a number of smugglers in the very act. W. L. Curtis lost his horse and buggy and the contraband goods that he was bringing in. A man named Tenberg after he had passed under the eyes of the local officer was caught by the special man and made give up a lot of goods. Another man named Weaver lost his wagon while it was crossing the ferry and in which he had goods secreted. Another man named McMullen also came to grief. Charles Fleming, who was caught smuggling coal oil in a boat, was also divested of his cargo.

It is not what its proprietors say but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does that tells the story of its merit. Hood's Sarsaparilla CURES.

Do not be discouraged if other medicines have failed to give you relief. Membray's Kidney and Liver Cure acts on the "Kidneys" direct, combined, with a mild action on the "Liver" and bowels, thereby removing the cause of "Back Ache," sour stomach, dizziness, indigestion and constipation.

Burst a Blood Vessel.

DUNDAS, Nov. 26.—The sad and unexpected death of one of the most esteemed residents of this town, Mr. S. Leonard, the senior partner of S. Leonard & Son, occurred at his residence about 9 o'clock last night. Mr. Leonard up to the hour of his death was in his usual health attending to business during the day. The cause of his sudden death was the bursting of a blood vessel, brought on by a severe fit of coughing.

Mr. Leonard was universally respected and esteemed here, being a kindly, whole-souled and jovial Englishman. He leaves a widow, two daughters and three sons.

Vanderbilt's Residence Burned.

NEWPORT, R.I., Nov. 26.—The Breakers, the elegant summer residence of Cornelius Vanderbilt, is to-night a mass of smouldering ruins. The fire also destroyed all the valuable contents, including rare articles of every description.

The fire was discovered by Mr. Vanderbilt himself about 4 30 p.m. Mr. Vanderbilt said the loss is estimated at $500,000 at the lowest.

Expected a Return Pow-Wow.

ITCHING AND BURNING

Sores All Over Her Body. Suffering Endless. Doctor Useless. Cured in 4 Weeks by Cuticura.

Your most valuable CUTICURA REMEDIES have done my little girl so much good that I feel like saying this for the benefit of those who are troubled with skin diseases. She was troubled with itching, burning sores. When I took her to the doctor the first time, he called it the Italian itch, and said he would cure her in two weeks. When the two weeks were up, he called it eczema, and in that time she was worse than before. He doctored her for three months, and she was so bad that we did not know what to do. He did not do her any good. I saw the advertisement of CUTICURA REMEDIES in the paper, and I said to my wife, "I am going to try them." Mind what I say, she was so thick with sores that we had to soak her clothes to take them off. Itch! there was no end to it. She had it all over her body, back, legs, arms, in between her fingers. She did not have it on her head. But after taking your CUTICURA REMEDIES for two weeks the itch stopped, and in four weeks the sores were all gone. I enclose her portrait. I am more than pleased with your CUTICURA REMEDIES, as they speedily cured my daughter, and if anybody asks me about your remedies, I will uphold them wherever I go. CHARLES M. GRONEI, Conshohocken, Montgomery County, Pa.

A LIBERAL POLICY.

The STANDARD has always taken the lead over other companies in the effort to simplify the assurance contract, and to maintain public confidence in life assurance. Its prompt and liberal settlement of claims has given it a world-wide reputation for generous, straight-forward dealing, and by its example has done much to do away with contesting of policies.

The New Free Policy of the Standard Life Assurance Company is given without extra charge; allows free residence in any part of the world, and is incontestable and unconditional except on the ground of false statements in the application, and that only during the first two years; after that it is absolutely free. This policy is simply a promise to pay a certain sum at the maturity of the contract, instead of having a number of useless clauses on the back of the policy showing what the insured may not do, and which always gives rise to dissatisfaction and dispute, the STANDARD prints only on the back of the policy a list of special privileges granted to the assured.

THREE MASKED ROBBERS

HOLD UP PASSENGERS ON A WESTERN TRAIN.

Every Man in a Northern Pacific Car Relieved of His Valuables — The Woman Demonstrated — $1200 Was Taken— Wires Stopped the Train.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 28.—The overland westbound train on the Northern Pacific Railroad was held up Saturday evening near Hot Springs by three masked men, who robbed all of the male passengers in the Pullman sleeper Wadena; six in all. Two robbers entered the car, it is believed, at Hot Springs, as the train had not gone five miles when the men entered the rear part of the sleeper. The first man they came across was E. H. Miller of Portland, Ore., who was in the smoking compartment. He was relieved of $10 and a gold watch, and then told to march in ahead of the robbers, which he did.

One of the highwaymen went to the extreme end of the car, while the other stood guard at the end they entered. All were dressed in dark clothes, overcoats, slouch hats, and wore handkerchiefs over their faces with holes cut out for eyes. They placed revolvers at the heads of the passengers, and commanded them to hold up their hands, which order was immediately obeyed.

As the robbing was going on S. J. Freedman of Portland, Ore., came in from an adjoining car, and as he entered, not knowing what was going on, he was commanded to hold up his hands, but not complying quick enough the robber nearest to him fired a shot through the side of the car, and then Freedman understood what was wanted, and he handed over his valuables. The robbers did not molest the ladies, of whom there were four with two children, telling them to keep quiet and no harm would come to them. This they did.

After robbing everybody in the car, and without going to any of the other cars, the robbers pulled the bell cord, give the proper signals, and when the car stopped they pulled the bell to start again, and then jumped off, fled to the woods and fired a parting fusilade as they disappeared.

The total amount taken was $1200 besides the gold watches and jewelry and other valuables.

The following is a list of the men robbed: Pullman conductor and porter, E. E. Heg, Portland, $10 and gold watch worth $200; S. J. Freedman, Portland, $100 and gold watch; Sam Ohner, $105 (he saved his watch by throwing it under the seat); H. Guimare, between $900 and $1000 (he had just sold a mining claim in Slocan District in British Columbia, and was going to Seattle. It is thought this is the man the robbers were really after, thinking he had more money than was found upon him; E. H. Miller, $10 and jewelry; Pullman Conductor G. W. Wiley, St. Paul, $50.

From the fact that the robbers gave perfect signals, it is believed that they are railroad men. They were all armed with big Colt revolvers. The train arrived here about 3 o'clock this morning en route to Portland, Ore.

JAILED IN IDAHO.

A British Subject Seeking Redress Through His Government.

BOISE CITY, Idaho, Nov. 27.—The Coer D'Alene riots of last summer seem destined to be productive of international complications.

One of the foreigners arrested in July by the military authorities for aiding and abetting rioters has prevailed on his Government to demand redress from the United States.

The man in question is Alexander R. Chisholm of Wardner, a subject of Queen Victoria.

He alleges that on July 17 he was, by order of Colonel Carlin of the 4th Infantry, arrested and thrown into prison. There he was compelled to remain until Sept. 30, without examination or trial, his protestations of British citizenship proving unheeded.

The British Government has requested an explanation from this Government, and the authorities at Washington have asked Secretary of State Pinkham of Idaho for information.

Final settlement of a Canada Lawsuit.

QUEBEC, Nov. 28.—The Privy Council has given judgment in the case of the Province of Quebec against the Labrador Company, in favor of the latter. This judgment is the same as that rendered by the Canadian courts. This is a celebrated case in Quebec, having been fought for the last 30 years. The proprietor of the Seignory of Mingan, situated on the north shore of the St. Lawrence, between Cormorant Cape and the Aguanus River, had sold out their rights to the Labrador Company. The Government, however, disputed the ownership of the Seignory, hence the action.

The judgment means a fortune for the members of the company as the Seignory comprises valuable iron ore deposits.

A Verdict of Not Guilty.

WEST SUPERIOR, Wis., Nov. 28.—The first of the cases against the eight members of the Amalgamated Association for assault on non union members came to an end Saturday with a verdict of not guilty. It is doubtful if the other cases will be prosecuted. The strike at the steel plant is still on, and the trial has caused considerable feeling between union and non-union men.

Political Union Favored.

SIMCOE, Ont., Nov. 28.—The Reform Association of this place has passed a resolution pledging itself to support anyone in favor of inducing the leaders of the Liberal party to adopt political union with the United States as a leading plank of the party platform.

WHERE LIFE'S NO OBJECT.

THE PACIFIC SLOPE GIVES TWO MURDERS.

A Man Who Refused to Hold Up His Hands is Shot Dead—An Almost Helpless Mexican Murdered for His Money—A Vigilance Committee to Be Organized.

SPOKANE, Wash., Nov. 28.—The series of highway robberies, which have taken place at Wenatche on the railroad line west of here, resulted Saturday night in two murders.

Joseph Cooper and two friends were walking from the depot to the hotel after dark last night, and while passing through a dark place in the street were confronted by two men, who commanded them to hold up their hands.

Cooper's friends obeyed instantly, as the strangers had them covered.

Cooper, who was noted for his fearlessness, coolly asked:

"What do you want?"

At that instant one of the robbers fired and Cooper fell, shot through the head.

At the approach of other persons, attracted by the shooters, the robbers fled.

Cooper lived six hours after receiving the wound, but never regained consciousness. There is no clue to the murderers.

John McVicar, an old and almost helpless man residing near Wenatche, was also murdered last night. He lived alone in his hut and was supposed to have considerable money. The body was found this morning near the hut, with the head cut open and a bullet hole through the body.

The house had been ransacked. The officers are investigating the case.

The people have become alarmed and a protective association, similar in purpose to a vigilance committee, will be organized. A similar organization already exists among railroad men. A general routing out of all lawlessness is to be inaugurated.

A WRONGED WIFE.

She Married a Canadian Who Falsely Represented Himself as Wealthy.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 28.—A handsome woman was charged with stealing a pocketbook in the Police Court on Saturday morning. Her name is Mrs. Minnie McKinstry, and the story of her downfall is a sad one. The police are of the opinion that she is an accomplished thief.

She was born in Cleveland, and for years sang in Catholic churches of this city.

About two years ago a man named McKinstry came to Cleveland from Canada. He made the acquaintance of Minnie, and soon became an accepted suitor for her hand. He represented that he was a wealthy Canadian land owner. There was one objection to his courtship however. He was of the Protestant faith and her parents were Romanists.

The girl's love was stronger than her religious faith, and she wedded McKinstry about one and a half years ago. In doing so, however, her parents disowned her. To make matters worse, McKinstry proved to be a scoundrel. Instead of being rich, as he had represented himself to be, he was a gatekeeper for a Canadian railroad, and soon after the marriage he deserted his wife.

HER LOVER KILLED.

And She Wants $20,000 From a Railway Company.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y., Nov. 28.—Among the killed on the Central-Hudson Railway by the collision at Hastings on the night before Christmas, 1891, was John R. Bagnall of this city, and among the injured was Miss Eva Frear, also of this city.

It is said that the two were engaged to be married.

Now Miss Frear has commenced a suit against the railroad for damages amounting to between $30,000 and $40,000, claiming that she was to have been married to Mr. Bagnall and that because of the accident, which was the result of carelessness, she has lost a husband, and therefore she has been deprived of support and maintenance during her life.

It is reported she offered to compromise for $20,000. The suit is certainly a novel one.

Determined to Stay Out.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 28.—The strikers at Carnegie's city mills have decided to remain out, notwithstanding the strikes at Beaver Falls, Homestead and Duquesne have been declared off.

"We will continue the strike until the Carnegie firm recognizes us as organization." This statement was made by Vice-President Sheehan at the conclusion of the mass meeting held yesterday morning. The men had no grievance against the company and struck in sympathy with the Homesteaders.

Iron Ore From Sweden.

CHESTER, Nov. 28.—Sweden's first shipment of iron ore to the United States has arrived at the works of the Wellman Steel and Iron Company by the Swedish ship Edward. The cargo includes 500 tons from the Gellaara mines, located in the northern part of Sweden about 50 miles from Stockholm. A chemical analysis of this ore shows 70 per cent of iron, which is superior to the best American ore.

Bold Robbers Captured.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 28.—A bold attempt has been made to rob the Wautage Bank at Johnson City. An underground mine and nitro-glycerine were to do the work. The discovery of the plot was made Saturday evening and detectives arrested J. McBray, Chauncey Campbell, John Orr and John Couch, and at once consigned them to jail to await examination.

The proceeds of the various town robberies were in their possession.

The Bounty System Must Go.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 28.—Sugar planters all over Louisiana are showering letters upon Mr. Cleveland and the Democratic leaders of Congress. A cry is going up from every parish that the bounty system must go, and that duty on sugar should be restored in a modified form. Five hundred thousand persons are dependent on the industry in this State.

Valuable Trotters Roasted.

PRINCETON, N.J., Nov. 28.—Someone dropped a parlor match on the floor of Carthy's livery stable Saturday and a horse stepped on it, causing it to ignite. In an instant the stable was in flames and the employes were only able to save 15 of the horses and the carriages. Five valuable trotters were roasted.

Is a Critical Condition.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 28.—Dr. Scott, the President's father-in-law, is in a critical condition.

MORE COMPLIMENTS.

Enthusiastic Reports of the Monetary Conference Agreements.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 28.—The meeting of the International Monetary Conference, that was held Saturday, the adjournment being till till Monday.

There is considerable interest in the proposed proposal of Mr. Alfred [illegible] child, one of the English delegates. Financial-minded are sanguine that the powers will favor the bimetallic solution of the question before the conference.

Monometallists declare that the conference is certain to fail, and it will only be a waste of time to prolong the discussion. The delegates from Italy are evincing great anxiety as to the issue of the proposals.

Among the reports in circulation to which the delegates attach importance is one that various European powers will yearly buy silver to the minimum amount of £5000 sterling as a price to be fixed by general agreement or condition that the United States continues its silver purchases to the extent of $4,000,000 monthly.

Mr. De Rothschild refuses to give out his proposals until Monday, but the report is generally credited that they contain a statement that an international syndicate should be formed to buy silver until normal value of metal is re-established.

It is now understood that the proposal which Alfred deRothschild of the British delegation will submit to the monetary conference is a well conceived and long thought of plan for an international monetary agreement and not a mere project of air.

A feeling of greater confidence has been created among the delegates that the conference will have practical results. The attempts in certain quarters to ridicule the conference and the false impressions conveyed by certain European papers are strongly resented by the delegates of all opinions.

Indeed it has caused the Russian delegate, a well-known opponent of bi-metallism, to-night to announce his intention of bringing the matter before the convention to-morrow and to protest against the circulation of such reports.

The interest taken by the Indian Government in the conference is shown by the attitude of its representatives, who do not conceal their opinion that India has everything to give and nothing to lose by bimetallism.

Volume of Business Small.

PARIS, Nov. 28.—Prices on the Bourse were maintained during the past week, but the volume of business was small.

The Government's victory in the Chamber and the success of the Dahomey expedition had a good effect on the market, but the effect was neutralized by the Panama Canal scandal.

Raded Up Better.

BERLIN, Nov. 28.—The Bourse was depressed at the beginning of the week owing to the prospect of an increase of taxation, but the tone afterward became firmer.

Weak During the Week

FRANKFORT, Nov. 28.—Prices were weak during the week, but closed firmer.

BISMARCK'S CONCEIT.

He Wants All the Credit for the Unification of Germany.

BERLIN, Nov. 28.—The interview with Prince Bismarck, published by The Journal of Paris, relative to Chancellor von Caprivi's exploitation of the famous Ems despatch, contains a passage in which the ex Chancellor says:

"It was necessary to force King William to a decision, for he loved his prerogative. He kept his eyes shut and it became necessary to open them by force. Then he took the resolution of despair, as an undecided man always does. Once he was put on the right track, however, he could be left to himself."

The whole interview causes great indignation here, but particular anger is felt at Prince Bismarck's attempt to place King William in an unfavorable light and to arrogate to himself all credit for the events that led to the unification of Germany.

John Dillon's Challenge.

DUBLIN, Nov. 28.—John Dillon spoke at a meeting of anti-Parnellites yesterday in Strokestown, County Roscommon. In the course of his speech he challenged the Parnellites to show that they had received one dollar from either America or the British colonies in support of their cause. He maintained that the full sympathy of Irishmen abroad was with the anti-Parnellites.

Advertising Degrees.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—For some time past certain of the English newspapers have contained imposing advertisements stating that degrees of the National University of the State of Illinois could be had at prices ranging from 10 to 20 guineas.

These advertisements are signed "Professor Van Angelbs, secretary," and give the name of Broughton House of Christ College, Cambridge University, as the English agent.

Ernest Renan's Effects.

PARIS, Nov. 28.—Preparations were being made to sell the library of the late Ernst Renan at auction and Madame Renan was preparing the catalogue. The work has now been delayed in consequence of an offer having been received from America to buy the library in its entirety.

U. S. Diplomacy in France.

PARIS, Nov. 28.—It is said here in diplomatic circles that United States Minister Coolidge has opened negotiations for a commercial convention and an extradition treaty with France.

Under Consideration.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—To the various demands presented to the Government by the organizer of the unemployed workingmen of London, Mr. Gladstone has sent a formal reply in which he says the Government is considering the whole question.

The Coming Consistory.

ROME, Nov. 28.—The Pope has directed that all documents relating to the coming consistory shall be ready by Dec. 10 to 15. This order proves nothing decisive as to the date of the consistory.

Earthquake in San Salvador.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—The Evening Bulletin has advices from La Union, San Salvador, by the steamer City of Sydney, that the earthquake has laid low nearly all the houses in the city. The people are living in tents in fear of further disturbances.

A passenger on the steamer City of Panama, which called at La Union on the way up, and which was subsequently passed by the City of Sydney, writes that he went ashore and visited the ruins. The desolation was complete. Many persons were killed and many were seriously injured.

THE NEW COMMANDMENT.

Eloquent Charity Sermon at St. Peter's by Rev. Father McColl—A Large Congregation—Liberal Contributions in Aid of the Funds of the St Vincent de Paul Society—Good Music by the Choir.

Last night the services at St. Peter's Cathedral were held in the interest of that charitable organization, the St. Vincent de Paul Society.

There was a large congregation, which included a considerable number of Protestants, to assist at the musical vespers, and to listen to the eloquent sermon on Charity delivered by Rev. Father McColl, parish priest of Ennismore. His Lordship O'Connor was present in the sanctuary, and also Rev. Father Rudkins, rector of the Cathedral, Rev. Father O'Connell, Rev. Father Collins, Rev. Father Scollard, and Rev. Father Desaulniers, the latter conducting the service. The sermon preached by Rev. Father McColl, was founded upon the 34th verse of the 13th chapter of the Holy Gospel according to St. John—"I give you a new commandment, that ye love one another." The preacher began by showing that there was nothing more affecting than the details of the conduct of our blessed Lord on the eve of His passion. Jesus being about to pass out of the world, loved His own with the same love that He had shown all through His eartly life. He recalled His love to His disciples, and although He was their Lord and Master He had treated them as His equals, and now was about to lay down His life for them, an evidence of the highest love possible for man to show. The preacher reminded his hearers that the great love shown by Jesus Christ carried with it a serious obligation, and went on to depict in affecting terms

THE GREATNESS OF THE LOVE

shown by Jesus Christ in His assumption of our humanity and giving His life for us. He was the great model of love—He said "As I have loved you so love one another." Our love to God was shown by our actions—"he that loves Me keeps My commandments"—and by our actions to our fellows was to be shown our love to them. Christ while on earth made a special exhibition of his affection for the poor and needy. He came into the world poor, and destitute and humble. He chose His apostles from among the poor. All His miracles but two were for the relief of the suffering and afflicted. He wept with the poor in their affliction and His two greatest miracles were to feed the hungry poor. Christ had given positive and special command to His followers to love the poor. If we turned our faces from the poor God would turn His face from us, and the fulfilment of His command carried the most abundant promises. And the Church had been most faithful to the command all through her history. She has NEVER BEEN FOUND WANTING.

When the Church came into the world there was nothing like the movement of Christian charity which has since been going on. The speaker said it would be an endless task to recount what the Church had done for the poor, but he pointed out generally how the Church, from her first days to the present, had watched over and cared for the poor and suffering. From the days of St. Peter through all the 300 years of persecution the church was faithful to Christ's command, and then a broader and more systematic charity sprang up. Monasteries shielded the hungry and destitute, and the monks braved every danger in the fulfilment of the command to love Christ's followers. The preacher went on to give instances of supreme self-sacrifice that had been made by noble men and women, who had given up home and all the comforts of life to carry comfort and relief to the afflicted, shunned by others, such as the lepers, etc. But we were not asked to make such sacrifices, we were asked to give a portion of what God had given us for the relief of His afflicted poor, whom He has especially left to our care; and our relief of their needs would be for the prayers of the poor on our behalf had special efficacy—giving both wordly and spiritual blessings, and in the hour of death what more propitious prayers could be offered than the prayers of the poor in heaven, whom we succoured when upon earth? What better season to show our love to God's poor than the season of the Advent of Christ upon earth in the humble guise of humanity, and what higher motive than the memory of Christ's assumption of this humility out of love for the poor and suffering, could be for alms deeds?

The music was, of course, special and was unusually good. The Magnificat was Lambillotte's, in which Miss Mary Dunn and Mr. Picard took the solos.- Misses Mary and Kate Dunn sang Millard's "O Salutaris Hostia" with excellent effect. Lambillotte's "Tantum Ergo" by the choir was sung with good volume. The offertory hymn, "Give Me Thy Love," Wellings, was sung in a very creditable manner by Miss Mary Dunn. Miss K. Hurley presided at the organ with excellent results, and the whole musical service was of unusual merit.

It is a pleasure to state that the offerings of the congregation were more liberal than in any previous year, amounting to the handsome some of $105.

ECHOES FROM THE HOLY LAND

Dr. Ghosn el Howie Speaks of Biblical Associations and Environments—Palestine the Home of Mohammedism—No Religious Toleration—No Improvements—The Topography of the Land.

All the seats in the main body of the opera house were occupied yesterday afternoon to hear a lecture from Dr. Ghosn el Howie, of Palestine, the blind Oriental orator. Dr. F. Fife occupied the chair and on the platform were Dr. Howie, Rev. J. H. Locke and Mr. F. Mason. The meeting opened with the singing of that familiar hymn "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name."

The lecturer of is a rather fine looking man of large proportions, and compactly built, his height borders closely on six feet, his hair and beard are raven black, in striking contrast to his pale and impressive countenance from which a dark pair of eyes shine, although he has lost his sight.

Dr. Howie said not only every Christian, but all the civilized world had a great desire to see Palestine. Jerusalem, Hebron, Mt. Lebannon, and the Sea of Galilee were familiar to all from childhood. He was born were never beyond its narrow limits. Four years ago the speaker revisited that land and renewed the scenes and impressions of his childhood. He first came to this country in 1886 and had the pleasure of appearing before a Peterborough audience some four years ago. If Father Abraham should return to Palestine to-day he would find that country and its people the same as when he inhabited it on earth. Their manners, modes of living, habits, customs, ideas and surroundings remain unchanged to this day. This country was full of modern improvements, the railway, the telegraph and telephone, all speaking of advancing civilization. In Palestine the inhabitants and governor opposed every innovation of this character. There were no signs of the progress of this great age there, except a railway about 35 miles in length and which had only been constructed but a short time. Everything remained as in the days of old, when Abraham dwelt at Bethsaida. The lecturer then proceeded to deal with the religious aspect of his native land. The lecturer briefly dealt with the condition of the government of Palestine, immediately preceding, during and after the Roman occupation up to the time the Mahommedans, the present rulers, took possession of the land. In the beginning of the seventh century the country became a Mohammedan state and remains distinctly Mohammedan. Mohammedans believe in one God, one person, one divinity, and that Mohammed himself is the prophet of God. In Palestine were followers of this religion, although there existed some Jews and some Christians belonging to various religions. These were the Turkish subjects because the Sultan until twenty years reigned supreme. There had been a great influx os Jews to Jerusalem within the past twenty years, where they had increased from 18,000 to 80,000. Between Dan and Beersheba there were there were 100,000 Jews. The lecturer proceeded to describe the diversified scenery of the Holy Land in a graphic manner. The seasons in their changes corresponded with the seasons here, though the winters were much milder. There were long periods without rain, and there the weather was not a conversational aid. The speaker in closing described the worship of the Mohammedans in their mosques, and referred to the massacre of 13,000 Christians in 1860, the accompanying devestation of the country, and used the incident to point the moral that the liquor traffic was making a greater devestation in Canada to-day. He urged all to join the membership of the Prohibition Club. He also announced that he would speak in the Opera House tonight, and exhibit several Oriental curios. Rev. Mr. Locke closed the meeting with the benediction.

THE MAJORITY OF THE PEOPLE

A QUERY ANSWERED.

A correspondent writes to the Globe: For some time past many pointed paragraphs have appeared in the press and personal inquiries made as to why such an evangelist as Ghosn Howie, Ph. D., is not being employed in the evangelization of the Arabic-speaking people among his countrymen, the Syrians. Such inquiries acquire more point when it is stated that Dr. Howie studied and was licensed distinctly with a view to work in the foreign field and that he is "heartily and highly recommended" by well-known professors and students for such work. But as far as Dr. Howie is concerned such inquiry is answered by saying that he has always been anxious to engage in preaching the Gospel in Arabia, but no opportunity has been afforded him, and herewith an opportunity is afforded to such Christians as may be interested in the evangelization of the east to say that what they are willing to do to enable Dr. Howie to return to Palestine to engage in a work for which it is said "he is qualified in a way that no other man is." Dr. Howie is now a minister without charge under the care of the Presbytery of Toronto, and now is the time to consider the matter of his return to the east before he settles again in the ordinary pastorate.

FAIRMOUNT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

On Thursday, the 24th inst., the people of this section were thrown into a state of great excitement over what might have proved to be a fatal accident. It seems that Mr. and Mrs. Valentine Fair were called away from home on business and left the family in charge of the house. Sometime in the afternoon the eldest son, aged about 16 years, while looking about the clock discovered a piece of cheese, which he ate. His sister then came in and told him it contained strychnine. When he received this information he ran to the residence of Mr. Lang, close by, where the usual remedies at hand, such as melted butter, mustard and water, were applied, and Dr. Marks, of Mount Pleasant, hastily summoned. At last accounts the physician had hopes of the boy's recovery, but it will be sometime before the parents forget the fright caused by the children reaching poison which they thought to be safely concealed.

Miss Lottie Cook, daughter of the Rev. W. H. Cook, of Cavanville, has been engaged as teacher of our school for the ensuing year. She comes well recommended and we are confident will be a first-class teacher.

A Voice From the Canadian Press:

THE BLACK DEATH!

The Scourge of the East.

Grim Asiatic Cholera is marching with stealthy but steady strides to these Western shores.

The foe is at our doors. Sanitary science, with powerful disinfectant, fumigations, and rigid quarantine regulations, stands guarding our ports.

But this fell destroyer on pestilential wing seems to float in the very air and defy all efforts to beat him back. Wherever there lingers impurity and putrefaction he takes up his abode, and the seeds of the pestilence germinate and multiply.

Public sanitary vigilance is imperative. Let the sewers be flushed and every form of impurity be swept away Let the health of the community be maintained to the highest possible degree. But in addition to all this let every individual be on the alert

The human body has the most perfect and complete system of sewerage, defying the utmost art of man to rival.

A wise Creator has provided means for the eradication of all effete and impure materials from the human body.

Morse's Indian Root Pills is such a perfect combination of the best and most energetic remedies provided by a beneficent Providence for the purpose of cleansing the whole system, "flushing the sewers," rousing up the liver, the kidneys and the whole intestinal tract to their proper functions and at the same time imparting vigor and tone to the whole system, that it is with the utmost confidence that we recommend it to the public as the best preventive of the fearful ravages of that justly dreaded disease, Asiatic Cholera.

CROSSING THE RIVER TRENT

Navigation has ceased, the Campbellford Herald says, on the Trent river at the Narrows, the people of that locality thought it a favourable opportunity to erect another temporary bridge across the stream, and last week the structure was put up. Traffic on this great high way to the north which is of so much benefit to the people of the two counties, has therefore been resumed, and it is not at all likely that any orders will be received for its removal till the opening of navigation next spring.

On Saturday afternoon, as an engine attached to a C. P. R. car loaded with 600 bushels of hard Fife wheat from Manitoba was shunting down the track to Mr. H. A. Mulhern's elevator, where the wheat was to be unloaded, a rather bad accident occurred. Mr. Marshall, who was on the car breaking, turned the brakes, which were defective and refused to catch, and before a stop could be made the loaded car with one bound plunged off the end of the dump to the ground below, some fifteen feet. He managed to catch one of the beams of the elevator and so saved himself. The undergearing, trucks and one end of the car were badly smashed. The wheat was spilt in large quantities. is the third time cars have run off this dump, Electric Motive Power.

Some months ago Mr. W. H. Robertson, finding the steam power in his printing office unsatisfactory, put in an electric motor furnished by the Royal Company, Montreal, and now that the Review is about to move to Hunter street, and its steam boiler, etc., having been purchased by Mr. Neil, it has placed an order for an electric motor with the Canadian General Electric Works, through Mr. J. H. Greer, who has the local agency for these motors. The EXAMINER having found that the use of steam in hot weather creates so much heat that workmen are obliged to work in great discomfort, has decided to put in the most powerful electric motor yet in town, as soon as the warm weather indicates the necessity of replacing the steam.

Their Remains Interred.

The funeral of the late James Cahill took place from the family residence on Stewart street yesterday afternoon, and was largely attended. Service was conducted at St. Peter's cathedral by Rev. Father Rudkins. The pall bearers were Messrs. T. B. McGrath, Ed. Ward, W. J. Hogan, J. Callaghan, W. J. Devlin and T. Sullivan. The last sad rites were attended by about eighty members of the Emerald Beneficial Association, under whose auspices their deceased member was interred. Several members of the C.M.B.A. and St. Peter's Court, Catholic order of Foresters, marched in the procession as well as the employees of the Lock Works, who turned out in a body to pay their last respects to a departed workman. The floral contributions were many and very pretty. Among them were fine wreaths from Thos. Brooks and Geo. Stevenson, directors of the Peterborough Lock Works, a cross from the E. B. A. Society, as well as floral mementoes from the young women employees of the packing room, and employees in other departments of the Lock Works. After the obsequies the members of the E.B.A. met and passed a neatly worded resolution of condolence to the widow and family, which appears in another column.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Thomas Hickey took place this morning from her late residence, Sherbrooke street, to St. Peter's Cathedral, where requiem mass was celebrated, thence to the Roman Catholic Cemetery. The funeral cortege contained a large number of sympathisers with the sorrowing husband and friends.

A Boston Boy's Eyesight Saved—Perhaps His Life

By Hood's Sarsaparilla—Blood Poisoned by Canker.

Read the following from a grateful mother: "My little boy had Scarlet Fever when 4 years old, and it left him very weak and with blood poisoned with canker. His eyes became so inflamed that his sufferings were intense, and for seven weeks he Could Not Open His Eyes.

I took him twice during that time to the Eye and Ear Infirmary on Charles street, but their remedies failed to do him the faintest shadow of good. I commenced giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla and it soon cured him. I have never doubted that it saved his sight, even if not his very life. You may use this testimonial in any way you choose. Special to the Examiner.

Yesterday two sons of Mr. Doherty, hotelkeeper, Westwood, William and James, aged ten and twelve years, were drowned in the creek at that place. The double funeral takes place to-morrow.

CHURCH CHIMES.

A free social will be given in the rooms of St. Andrew's Sunday school on Tuesday night. A fine programme has been prepared.

During the offertory in St. John's church last evening Mrs. Stapleton sang "Oh Rest in the Lord" with fine taste and admirable effect.

Rev. Mr. Symonds, rector of St. Luke's church, took part in the opening services of a new Church of England church at Lackapw yesterday.

Requiem mass was said at St. Peter's Cathedral at 9 o'clock this morning by Rev. Father O'Connel for the repose of the soul of the late Jas. Cahill.

Next Sunday special sermons will be preached in George street church to young men. The contributions will be donated to the Y. M. C. A. organization.

At the George street Methodist church last evening Mrs. Seward sang in a mellow voice and with much expression, "I know that my Redeemer liveth."

Consecration meetings will be held in all the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavour in the various churches at the regular meetings of the Societies to-night.

The choir of St. Andrew's church sang two beautiful anthems yesterday. In the morning they rendered "Set up Thyself O God above the Heavens," and in the evening they favoured with "I will extol Thee."

On St. Andrew's Day, Wednesday, Holy Communion will be held in St. John's Church at six o'clock in the morning. In the evening there will be a special service, and addresses given by three lay members of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew.

Rev. Mr. Kenrick conducted Holy Communion service at St. Luke's at 8 o'clock yesterday morning. There was a fair number of worshippers in attendance. Rev. W. M. Louche conducted the services at St. Luke's in the evening.

Dr. Ghosn el Howie and Mr. G. M. Roger addressed the Y.M.C.A. meeting last night. The discourses, which were on temperance and how temperance people should join hand in hand in combatting the liquor traffic, were powerfully delivered.

At St. John's church yesterday morning the Rector announced that his congregation would be pleased to learn that Rev. Mr. Torrance's condition showed slight amendment. Prayers for the reverend gentlemen's recovery were made both yesterday and the Sunday previous.

Rev. D. Savage, evangelist, preached in Mark street Methodist church on Sunday evening. He will still conduct revival services during the ensuing week. About thirty have already sought conversion as a result of these meetings. Last night his discourse was an able one on "Jonah."

Rev. Mr. Locke last evening announced that the evangelistic services would be continued in the George street church all the coming week. The hearts of the people had been much encouraged with the results so far, and God had led many young men to seek regeneration. These meetings were open to all and everyone was invited to come.

Rev. Mr. Fessenden, rector of Chippewa, conducted the services in St. Luke's church yesterday morning, and at St. John's church in the evening. His sermons were eloquent and forcible efforts, with admirable references made to the beginning of the new ecclesiastical year and its associations. The Rev. gentleman left for home this afternoon.

The choir of Charlotte street church rendered a choice anthem at the evening service yesterday Mr. A. L. Davis and Mrs. Clyde Green taking the solo parts in fine style. The Charlotte street choir loses a valued and talented member in the person of Mrs. Green who leaves this week for the west on a visit to her mother. Returning she will taking up her residence in Toronto where Mr. Green will enter the offices of the Edison General Electric Company. Their many friends will regret their departure.

Rev. Dr. Ghosn el Howie preached in Charlotte street church yesterday morning to a crowded congregation. His theme was "From Jerusalem to the Mount of Olives." In the evening he officiated at George street church, speaking on the Prodigal Son. His discourse was earnest and weighty. One remarkable feature about the blind preacher is the manner in which he quoted hymn after hymn and passages of the Bible strictly from memory. Dr. Howie evidently has a very retentive memory.

In St. Andrew's church last evening, Rev. Mr. McWilliams preached a telling sermon to young men from II Samuel, 29th verse, "Is the young son Absolom safe?" He exhorted young men to shun the taste of liquor, the fascination of the theatre, the evils of tobacco, bad companionship and other sins which beset them on every side. Their only hope was in taking Christ as their guide and following his commands and precepts. A collection was taken up in the interest of the Y.M.C.A. and a large amount realised.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Chisholm, during his residence in Peterborough, has made many warm friends by his genial manner, who will wish him success in his native city of Montreal.

By a simple system of registered numbers Messrs. Tuckett & Son can tell which of their workmen manipulated any particular plug of their "Myrtle Navy" tobacco, if the caddy which contained it is known. Should any imperfection be found in any plug, therefore, they can at once single out the workman—from among their 400 hands—who is responsible for it. This system works so thoroughly that the complaints do not average one for every 200,000 plugs turned out.

HEARSAY EVIDENCE.

One Instance Where It Worked Considerably More Harm than Good.

ESSEX, Ont., Nov. 28.—It was learned Saturday that Oliver Thornton died a few days ago in Merritt, Miss. The news created profound astonishment, as it had been believed here for nearly a decade that he had been murdered, and that his murderer had escaped the gallows.

Thornton disappeared from this place 10 years ago. A year later a skeleton with a bullet hole in the forehead was found in a lot near where he had lived. Nobody doubted but that it was Thornton's skeleton. John Kenyon was arrested and charged with being Thornton's murderer.

A very strong net of circumstantial evidence was woven around Kenyon and he narrowly escaped lynching and judicial hanging. After his escape through the disagreement of the jury he left for parts unknown with a ruined reputation. Nothing has been learned since that time to change the common belief until to-day's report of Thornton's death in Merritt.

AN INDEFINITE RESULT

OR TO BREAK UP THE CONFERENCE MEETING.

This is the Charge Made Against the British Delegates at the Monetary Conference—Their Intention Was to Obtain Continuous Sittings.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—Before the English delegates to the International Monetary Conference started for Brussels the instructions given by Sir William Vernon Harcourt, Chancellor of the Exchequer, to Sir C. Fremantle, the deputy master of the mint, and Sir C. Rivers Wilson were to expedite the deliberations and obtain continuous sittings daily, with the exceptions of Saturdays and Sundays, so as to bring the conference to an end within a few weeks.

Sir William Vernon Harcourt had learned that the American delegates contemplated such a full discussion with time given to all sides to prepare arguments, statistics and facts and for responding to their opponents as would enable them to present exhaustive statements.

This course, involving as it did an adjournment over Christmas, neither met with the approval of the English minister nor certain of the English delegates, who are strong single-standard men.

On the eve of the day the delegates started for Brussels the representative of the Associated Press learned from a high authority that if the conference was prolonged beyond three weeks the leading English representatives would return to London, leaving the less important members of the delegation to watch the proceedings.

Private advices from Brussels show that Sir C. Rivers Wilson opened the opposition to prolonged debates. As soon as the delegates began their inter-communications he objected to the proposal that President Levi made on the suggestion of the American delegates, and supported by a majority of the conference, that an interval of a day for preparation be allowed between each sitting.

Opposition to Delay.

Sir C. Rivers Wilson and his colleagues only finally assented to President Levi's proposal on finding that they stood alone.

The incident has created the impression among the members of the conference and Brussels officials that the British delegates want to break up the meeting or cause it to fail to achieve any definite result.

In the meantime they have received a decisive check. A great majority of the delegates show every disposition to go thoroughly into the matter and to give themselves up to it until every plan promising international concert has been examined.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 26.—In explaining the position of himself and his colleagues, Senator Allison said while they came representing the Government of the United States and favoring the bi-metallic plan they were willing to discuss any plans calculating to promote and increase the value of silver bullion.

With singular unanimity, he said, the people of the United States were in favor of free mintage of silver. It was to their interest, as well as to the interest of the other nations of the world, to secure, under international agreement, a staple standard of value.

In regard to the assumption that America was a silver-producing country he said that the silver product amounted to only $50,000,000, while other products amounted to $1,300,000,000 annually.

The foreign commerce of America, he said, was constantly increasing. It was larger in 1891 than in any other previous period in the history of the country.

It was, therefore, to the interest of the United States in common with all others to promote stability of exchange and values.

Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, speaking for Great Britain, said the British delegates adhered to the American resolution, which was really the basis on which the congress met. The principles therein enunciated were set forth in the invitation issued by the Government of the United States and the presence of delegates from the countries invited, implied the acceptance by those countries of that principle.

M. Terrat of the French delegation said he thought the method of proceedrue proposed by the Americans was peculiar. The United States Government convoked the conference and the American delegates were looked to for the program and proposals. The statement now submitted was placed in the hands of the delegates on their entering the chamber this afternoon. They had not had, therefore, a chance for considering it in all of its bearings.

He wished to say, however, for himself and his colleagues that they had come to conference with an earnest desire to consider most cordially every proposal tending to rehabilitate silver.

They were conscious of the great injury resulting to the commerce of the world by the depreciation of silver and would heartily co-operate with the other delegates in an endeavor to find a satisfactory solution of this problem.

The Austrian and German delegates intimated they had been instructed to say that they could not assent to any modification of their existing monetary laws.

The Dutch, Spanish and Mexican delegates stated that they were ready to vote favorably on the American resolution, while the Russian, Italian, Roumania, Swiss and Greek delegates declared that under their instructions they were not permitted to vote in resolution.

The conference ultimately resolved, in accordance with the request of Senator Allison, to postpone action on the American proposals until a latter stage of proceedings, and meet Monday to consider proposals submitted by Rotschild of the British delegation, of which a printed copy will be circulated to-morrow.

The American delegates express themselves as satisfied with the result of to-day's proceedings and they are gratified at the prospect of the whole question being earnestly and systematically discussed.

The other delegates express general satisfaction with the American program.

A Friend

Wishes to speak through the Register of the beneficial results he has received from a regular use of Ayer's Pills. He says: "I was feeling sick and tired, my stomach seemed all out of order, I tried a number of remedies, but none seemed to give me relief until I was induced to try the old reliable Ayer's Pills. I have taken only one box, but I feel like a new man. I think they are the most pleasant and easy to take of anything I ever used, being so finely sugar-coated that even a child will take them. I urge upon all who are of a laxative to try Ayer's Pills."—Boothbay (Me.) Register.

In Need

"Between the ages of five and fifteen I was troubled with a kind of salt-rheum or eruption, chiefly confined to the head, and especially to the back of the neck, above the calf. Here, the knee formed which would break immediately on moving the leg. My mother tried everything she could think of, but all was without avail. Although a child, I read in the papers about the beneficial effects of Ayer's Pills, and persuaded my mother to let me try them. With no great faith in the result, she procured and I began to use them, and soon noticed an improvement. Encouraged by this, I kept on till I took two boxes, when the sores disappeared and have never troubled me since."—H. Chipman, Real Estate Agent, Roanoke, Va.

"I suffered for years from stomach and kidney troubles, causing very severe pains in various parts of the body. None of the remedies I tried afforded me any relief until I began taking Ayer's Pills, and was cured."—Wm. Goddard, Notary Public, Five Lakes, Mich.

THE IMPERIAL VOTE.

It Will Be Strengthened by Retention of the Irish Party.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—The Cabinet has decided that Parliament shall meet on Jan. 26.

John Morley, Chief Secretary for Ireland, has taken to Dublin a draft of Gladstone's Home Rule bill which will be submitted to the Irish leaders. Mr. Morley will explain to them the main provisions of the measure, with a view to receiving suggestions as to modifications they may deem essential. It is understood the measure provides for the retention of the full strength of the Irish party in the Imperial Parliament and for the strengthening of the Imperial vote.

The determination of Mr. Labouchere, the well-known Radical member for Northampton, to move an amendment to the address in reply to the Queen's speech on the retention of Uganda, has already obtained for him promises from a score of members that they will support such an amendment.

Should the Government majority disappear on the first division, which appears likely to be the case when a vote is taken on the Uganda amendment, the Government will be saved from a collapse by the Unionists, who support the Government policy so far as Uganda is concerned. The expected Radical desertions will not overthrow the Cabinet.

JUSTICE IN RUSSIA.

The Peasants Cremate a Horse Thief and His Family.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—The Telegraph's correspondent at St. Petersburg sends an account of a terrible crime committed by peasants at Zostraki, in Lithuania.

The peasants assembled in the night at the house of a horse thief whom they wished to punish. The thief was asleep at the time with his wife and five children. The peasants set fire to the hut and kept watch for the occupants.

When the shrieking inmates tried to escape they were met with fiendish yells by the heartless wretches and driven back into the flames with scythes, knives and other weapons. One of the inmates was murdered. All the others were burned to death.

The culprits afterwards surrendered in a body to the police.

CABBY WAS DRUNK.

He Drowned Three Passengers Beneath an Open Draw Bridge.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—The Standard's Constantinople correspondent says: An inebriated coachman, who yesterday was driving a carriage in which rode Keman Bey, with two distinguished friends, brought about a shocking and fatal accident.

The man persisted in attempting to drive the carriage over the drawbridge connecting Stamboul and Galata, in spite of shouted warnings that the bridge was open.

The coach fell into the water and Keman Bey and his friends were drowned. The coachman and a footman were rescued.

He Wanted a War.

PARIS, Nov. 26.—The new paper, Le Journal sent M. Hugnes Leroux to interview Prince Bismarck on Count Von Caprivi's exploit.

Prince Bismarck, according to the interviewer, bluntly declared he wanted a war in 1870 for the purpose of putting into the fire and recasting the German states. The first pretext, he said, served his purpose. Had it not served he must have found another.

Mrs. Parnell's Compromise.

LONDON, Nov. 26.—Mrs. Parnell, who recently took advantage of the Bankruptcy Act, has offered her creditors ten shillings on the pound.

She admits she has a net annual income of £800. Her liabilities are £6869 and her assets £4825. A compromise with her creditors at 10 shillings on the pound would, therefore, be very favorable to her, leaving her £1319 of her assets.

Mrs. Parnell was recently examined by a doctor, who pronounced her prospects for living long very precarious.

She Stopped the Gossip.

BERLIN, Nov. 26.—A committee of ladies of Bucharest, headed by the Roumanian Premier's wife, recently started a fund in the Roumanian capital for the purpose of purchasing a wedding gift for Princess Marie of Edinburgh, who is betrothed to the Crown Prince of Roumania.

Money was collected by agents with all the system of tax-gatherers, and their methods caused a profound scandal, the papers openly denouncing the affair. Finally Princess Marie wrote to the committee asking the money to be applied to charitable purposes instead of a wedding gift.

Many people suffer for years from troublesome and repulsive sores, boils, and eruptions, without ever testing the marvelous curative properties of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The experiment is, certainly, worth trying. Be sure you get Ayer's Sarsaparilla and no other.

A Remarkable Case.

GENTLEMEN,—About five years ago I noticed on my hands a great number of soft, spongy warts, very painful, and which bled when touched. I never witnessed anything like it, and was quite alarmed. We are never without Hagyard's Yellow Oil, and one evening my little girls applied it to each wart. They did this several nights and in the morning the pain and itching were so bad I had to cool my hands with snow, but finally the warts dropped out and I have never been troubled since.

Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that, when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. per package. dw

Why don't you try Carter's Little Liver Pills? They are a positive cure for sick headache, and all the ills produced by disordered liver. Only one pill a dose. dw

Blotches Cured.

DEAR SIRS,—In 1890 my body was covered with blotches and I was at last induced to try Burdock Blood Bitters; by the time I had used 3½ bottles of it I was completely cured, and I cannot speak too highly of it.

INTENSE SUFFERING!

Mr. William Buchanan, 24 years engineer in the Cunard Steamship Company's service, 8 St. John's Road, Kirkdale, Liverpool, Eng., writes: "I suffered two years of agony from an affection in the head which six physicians pronounced incurable.

They were divided in opinion as to whether it was acute neuralgia of the head or rheumatic affection of the brain, but all agreed that I could never recover. In my paroxysms of pain it needed two and sometimes three men to hold me down in bed. When at death's door, was applied to my head. It acted like magic. It saved my life. I am well and hearty, and have had no return of the trouble."

ST. JACOBS OIL

The Deportation Move.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—The Times yesterday quotes extensively from an American commissioner's report on the persecution of the Jews in Russia. An editorial article on the subject concludes:

"The question of the pauperized Jews seeking refuge in America concerns only the American nation. But what concerns the whole civilized world and revolts humanity itself is the revelation afforded of a system of persecution sanctioned and sustained by the Russian Government and the personal authority of the Czar."

Nihilists Conspiring.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 28.—Nihilists are trying to stir up the Volga peasantry, by means of pamphlets and letters, to revolt against the Government. The police have been instructed to suppress any insurrectionary attempts.

Where Farmers are Settling.

OTTAWA, Nov. 26.—From present appearance, said S. Dawson, ex-M.P., of Algoma, last evening, the Port Arthur, Duluth and Western Railway will be completed in the course of a couple of weeks.

The local traffic is already sufficient to pay running expenses, and the road is proving a great benefit to Port Arthur and Fort William. The latest reports from there state that quite a number of farmers were settling along the line.

"It Cured Mother."

GENTLEMEN,—My mother was suffering from dyspepsia and no appetite. Everything failed to cure her until one day, while visiting a friend's house, I saw a bottle of B. B. B. on the table; on inquiring what they used it for, I soon found out what it cured, and when I went home told mother that she should try it; she said she had no faith in anything and objected to try it. Notwithstanding her objection I went in the evening and brought home a bottle but it was in the house for a week before we could induce her to take it. At last, as she was getting worse all the time she consented to try it, and on taking half the bottle found it was curing her. Another bottle cured her, and we believe, saved her life. We are never without B. B. B. now. It is such a good remedy for headache as well.

BUT AN IMPORTANT CHANGE BEING SETTLED.

Reconstruction Will Give Two Additional Seats in the Ministry, but Reduce the Cabinet by One—New Blood to be Introduced

TORONTO, Nov. 28.—An Ottawa special to the World says:

Sir John Thompson is now the great centre of political influence. He has accepted the task of forming an administration, and he is at the work with energy and determination. Sir John's hands are free and he has now his opportunity. So able a man as he is, and one who takes such pains to find out where he is and how the ground lies, is not likely to make any grave mistakes. Of the following things let readers of The World assure themselves as facts:

First, that Sir John Thompson has taken up the premiership with a firm determination to discharge its duties and with no intention of abandoning a political career or using politics as a step to the chief justiceship. He is into the game for all it is worth.

Next, he takes the premiership unpledged privately or publicly in any way on the Manitoba school question. He is free in that respect.

Thirdly, Mr. Meredith is not to be of the new Cabinet.

Fourthly, that the minor Ministerial positions of Solicitor-General and Comptroller of Customs and Comptroller of Inland Revenue and the Cabinet and Ministerial position of first-class rank, viz., Minister of Trade and Commerce, as provided for in Sir John Macdonald's Acts of several years ago, are to be called into immediate existence.

This will give two additional seats in the Ministry, but reduce the Cabinet by one. Mr. Foster will be Minister of Trade and Commerce, and the two comptrollers will be under him with Ministerial rank, but not of the Cabinet. With these two seats at his disposal Sir John will be able to reconstruct his Cabinet, and also introduce more or less new blood.

As to the details of the Cabinet, little can be said other than that Sir John is to be Prime Minster, Mr. Foster Minister of Trade and Commerce, John Haggart Minister of Railways and Canals. Mr. Ouimet of Public Works, Mr. Tupper of Fisheries and Mr. Daly of the Interior.

For the others there may be a shifting around, the retirement of some present minister and the introduction of new blood.

Clarke Wallace of West York is likely to come in as some of the new blood. Governor Angers will likely come in as leader of the Senate with a portfolio, but he will not come in by the Commons.

One of the present French ministers will go to Spencerwood. Mr. Ives will be the new English minister from Quebec in Sir John Abbott's place. Costigan will likely remain in the Cabinet. But the exact composition of the Cabinet, other than these named, will not be known for some days yet.

THE MANITOBA QUESTION

The Petitioners' Counsel Gives Reasons for Remedial Legislation.

OTTAWA, Nov. 28.—The sub-committee of council to which the petitions of the Roman Catholic minority in Manitoba for remedial legislation was referred had a meeting Saturday afternoon and heard Mr. John S. Ewart, Q.C., of Winnipeg, counsel for the petitioners, state his reasons why an appeal for remedial legislation should be received and considered by His Excellency.

Briefly epitomized, Mr. Ewart's contention was that the occasion for an appeal for remedial legislation only arose after the Manitoba School Act had been declared constitutional, as he held that the second sub-section of section 22 of the Manitoba Act was clearly intended to apply to legislation which was intra vires, while the first sub-section referred to ultra vires legislation.

He drew a distinction between the rights possessed at the time of the union and the rights since acquired by the minority, and held that these latter rights once given could not again be taken away by the Legislature.

At the conclusion of his statement it was agreed that he should communicate with the Attorney-General of Manitoba and endeavor to fix a day for the hearing of argument on the merits of the case.

Last night Mr. Ewart stated that he had telegraphed Attorney-General Sifton Saturday and received a reply declining to consider the matter until after the receipt of an official notification accompanied by a copy of the petition. This will mean considerable delay, the onus of which of course rests with the Manitoba Government.

There was a meeting of council Saturday, the ministers present being Sir John Thompson, Sir Adolph Caron and Hon. Messrs. Bowell, Haggart, Ouimet, Chapleau and Carling.

It is understood that Mr. Clarence Primrose, a prominent merchant of Pictou, N.S., has been called to the Senate in place of the late Senator Grant.

Z. Wilson, Collector Customs at Ottawa, will be superannuated on Jan. 1.

T. C. Mendenhall, Superintendent of the Coast and Geodetic Survey of the United States, who has been appointed commissioner with Mr. W. F. King, chief astronomer of the Department of the Interior, to delimit the boundary in Passamaquoddy Bay and to report on the system which may be adopted in delimiting the Alaska boundary, arrived here to-day and the commission will hold its first meeting to-morrow.

ENGLAND ALARMED.

Fears That the United States Will Prohibit All Immigration.

LONDON, Nov. 28.—Considerable alarm has been created among English working people by the report that the United States is about to pass a law stopping immigration altogether. It is feared that, as wages are higher in England than on the Continent, the tide will turn altogether in this direction.

Already the influx of foreigners, and especially of Russians and Poles, willing to work for small wages has had a perceptible effect upon the labor market, and many Englishmen feel that they are out of jobs because the Russians and Poles have underbid them.

There is also a large influx of Russian and Polish women who are gradually drifting into employment as servants and in other domestic capacities, the lower rate of wages paid them being compensation to employers for their ignorance of the language. Thus Englishmen and Englishwomen are being driven out of work by immigration.

The only class that favors free immigration is the manufacturers. They hold it over the operatives in the textile industries as a menace of what might happen if the operatives are too persistent in their demands for higher wages, or in their opposition to reduced wages.

As some of the newspapers are owned by or published in the interest of manufacturers, such newspapers are very chary of dealing with the subject. Workingmen, however, are alive to the issue, and will press it upon their Parliamentary representatives.

NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—The Commercial Union Telegraph Company, it is reported by insiders, has been leased to the Postal Telegraph Cable Company, or at least negotiations to that end are nearly concluded. The Commercial Union Company is the Eastern York, New England and Canadian connection of the Postal Company—the two companies at present working in harmony.

BATTERED AND BRUISED

THE FIGHT BETWEEN GREGGAINS AND COSTELLO.

Costello's Right Hand Broken in the 58th Round—Greggains Scored the First Clean Knock Down—The Fight Resulted in a Draw.

NEW YORK, Nov 29.—The attendance at the contest at the Coney Island Athletic Club last night was slim, owing to the inclement weather and the difficulty in getting there. By the time the first couple of boxers appeared on the scene, however, the vast amphitheatre was well filled and order was fairly well preserved.

The entertainment opened with a 10-round contest between Danny McBride and Con Donovan. They were to have fought at 112 lbs. They each weighed in at 111½ lbs. at 3 p.m. P. J. Donohue acted as referee and Bob Stall kept the official time. Donovan was knocked out by a right hand swing on the jaw in the fifth round.

The men fought for a purse of $500, the winner taking $400, the loser $100. The men fought a hurricane fight.

Early in the day the betting on the Costello-Greggains fight was 5 to 4 on Costello, but towards evening odds went 100 to 90, and there were not many takers. The master of ceremonies announced that the bout between Aleck Greggains of San Francisco and Martin Costello of Buffalo would be a 20-round contest or more. Greggains' seconds were Martin Murphy of San Francisco, Johnny Murphy of Boston and Howey Hodgkins of Boston. Mike Cooney of Boston was timekeeper. Costello's seconds were Billy Delaney, Joe Choynski and Jimmy Carroll. Jack Sheehan was timekeeper. Both men weighed in at the ring-side at 158 pounds, and when they stepped in the ring they looked the pictures of manly perfection and without an ounce of superfluous flesh on either. Immediately upon their appearance there was a storm of applause from every side of the house. The crowd by this time had increased to immense proportions, and when Master of Ceremonies Fred Burns announced that the number of rounds would be 20 or more, the spectators grew wild with delight at the prospect. They entered the ring at 10 o'clock.

CONEY ISLAND, Nov. 29.—12.15 a.m.—Greggains and Costello up to this hour have fought 33 desperate rounds. Both men have given and received an enormous amount of punishment, but neither as yet shows any sign of weakening and stick to their work with bulldog pertinacity. The fight, in the opinion of pugilistic authorities present, has thus far been a most remarkable one.

Round 1—Both men sparred cautiously and Greggains led, landing lightly on the point of the jaw, with a light return. Only two blows were exchanged during the round.

Round 2—Costello made a feint, but failed to land. He was more successful on his next attempt, when he landed a left on Greggains' mouth, and a moment later got first blood with a straight left on the nose.

In the next three rounds no heavy blows were exchanged. Considerable sparring was done.

Round 6—Both went in for hard hitting and some very severe body blows were struck. The round closed slightly in favor of Greggains.

Round 7—A straight left-hand jab by Greggains on Costello's nose knocked Costello's head back. A left hand swing on Costello's jaw and Costello fell in his corner. Greggains next swung his right on Costello's heart and countered with an upper cut. Both men still fresh.

Round 8—Costello landed lightly with the left on his opponent's stomach, but got nicely stopped a moment later when he tried to land with both hands. Costello landed his left lightly on the mouth as Greggains was getting away.

Round 9—Feinting was the order of this round for the first minute. Costello landed successfully twice on Greggains' jaw, then led on the stomach and landed again on the head. Greggains looked rather the worse for the punishment.

Round 10—Greggains landed a terrific left-hander on Costello's jaw and a moment later Costello got in a stomach blow. Several good exchanges were made.

Round 11—Greggains landed a left hand jab in the mouth and forced Costello to the ropes. Then cautious sparring followed.

Round 12—Costello led and landed lightly. Greggains rushed and accidentally pushed Costello over.

Round 13—Greggains led with the left, landing in the stomach. Costello landed lightly on the neck, and Greggains responded with a similar blow. Costello got his left on Greggains' nose and then Costello missed a heavy left from Greggains' head.

Round 14—Greggains landed lightly on Costello's mouth. Greggains landed a hard stomach blow. Costello forced the fighting and landed his left on Greggains' jaw and followed it up with a right hand on the side of the head.

Round 15—Again Costello led and landed on Greggains' stomach, and Greggains got in on Costello's nose and a left hand swing on Costello's jaw landed heavily. Greggains landed his left on Costello's ribs and Costello countered on Greggains' eye with a heavy swing.

Round 16—There was only one good blow struck during the round, a left hander Greggains landed on Costello's stomach.

Round 17—Costello landed lightly on Greggains' stomach. Greggains landed on Costello's mouth. Costello then swung and missed.

Round 18—Costello landed three good left-handed stomach blows, but got a left-hander on the mouth from Greggains that sent him spinning across the stage against the ropes.

Round 19—There was a rattling exchange and Greggains landed his left on the jaw and drove Costello against the ropes. A terrific punch and Costello's ear was bleeding.

Round 20—Several light exchanges were made. Just before the close of the round Greggains made a fierce rush, swinging both right and left. He landed lightly with both as Costello was running backwards, but there was sufficient force in them to knock Costello on his back.

Round 21—Not a blow was struck beyond a few light feints.

Round 22—Greggains forced the fighting and drove Costello to the ropes, landing a left on his jaw and a right on his damaged ear. Costello went down to avoid punishment.

Round 23—Twice Costello essayed to knock out his opponent and each time Greggains cleverly ducked to save himself.

Round 24—Greggains planted a wicked left-handed blow on Costello's face and got away without return.

Round 25—Costello led with a left hand smash on Greggain's neck and got a rib-roaster in return.

Round 26—Greggains planted a good left on Costell's bread-basket.

Round 27—Greggains caught on the other's guard and right and left he smashed him.

Round 28—Costello planted a left on Greggains' nose that brought blood. Several more straight lefts were planted on that damaged organ. Greggains rushed his opponent and Costello slipped and fell and Greggains fell heavily upon him.

Round 29—But few blows were exchanged, and they were hard ones. The round ended with honors in Costello's favor.

Round 30—Costello landed lightly on the stomach with the left and got a left-hander on the jaw in return. In the next three rounds no advantage was gained by either.

Round 34—Greggains did some fierce fighting in this round, landing heavily on Costello's face and head with both right and left. Costello made a good rally toward the finish.

Round 35—But a single blow in the round amounted to anything, and it was when Costello received a left hand lead from Greggains.

Round 36—Greggains swung his left heavily on Costello's ear, and planted a hard right on the side of his head and deliberately threw him down. It was a foul, but not decided so.

Round 37—Costello led and landed on Greggains' stomach. There was a pretty exchange of blows, ending in "honors easy round" for both.

At 1.15 a.m.—Both men walking around in the 51st round; both tired; neither attempting fight.

In the 38th and 39th no heavy blows were struck.

Round 40—Costello forced the fighting, getting on Greggains' face with both right and left, making him bleed like a pig from both nose and mouth. Greggain's also fought most ably and scored the first clean knock-down of the fight.

Round 41—Greggains led and was weak, failing to land. Costello landed on Greggain's weak neck a light blow. Greggains got over Costello's heart and then landed on Costello's nose with his left.

Round 58—Costello's right hand is broken, using his left. Fight continues. 1.50 a.m. Just as the bell rang both men were groggy.

Round 65—Ends in a clinch; both weak.

Round 68—Finished without result.

To 80th round the same tactics were pursued. In this round there were several light interchanges and a weak rally as the gong brings an unsatisfactory contest to a close. The referee declares no contest and the men divide the purse as the result of the draw and the spectators drag themselves wearily out of the building. Time of fight 5 hours and 20 minutes.

Greggains is almost the counterpart of Bob Fitzsimmons, standing six feet high, and only weighing when in condition 156 pounds. Like Fitzsimmons his height and great reach have given him a big advantage over his opponents.

Costello, on the other hand, is no pigmy. He stands five feet ten and a half inches. His weight in fighting trim is just exactly that of Greggains, 156 pounds. His three battles with Paddy Slavin show him to be a man of no small capabilities, and has earned him considerable respect, not only with sporting men generally, but even the pugilists themselves.

POLITICS IN MONTREAL.

Elgin Myers, the Annexationist, Given a Bad Reception.

MONTREAL, Nov. 29.—The meeting held here last night to discuss the political future of Canada resulted in a great gathering. Between eight and nine thousand people assembled at Sohmer Park and every part of the building was crowded to overflowing. Hundreds of people could not obtain admission. When the speakers arrived there was great applause. The speakers of the evening were: R. McGown of the Imperial Federation League, in favor of Imperial Federation; R. Lemieux, a partner of Mr. Mercier, in favor of Independence; J. T. Cardinal for the colonial system, and Elgin Myers, Q.C., Toronto, for annexation.

All the speakers made telling addresses.

Mr. Cardinal advocated the maintenance of the colonial system as best for the interests of all the people and for the French-Canadians in particular.

Mr. Lemieux spoke strongly for an independent nation.

Mr. McGown said Canada would be best benefited by a closer connection with the empire, and denounced all who advocated annexation as traitors worthy of being tied up to a lamppost.

One portion of the gathering cheered loudly at the sentiment, but there were hisses from others.

Mr. Myers, the well-known annexationist, who was the last speaker, met with a bad reception from one portion of the audience, which hissed him and cheered for Sir Oliver Mowat.

The chairman, J. X. Perrault, called for order, but the hisses were renewed, and it was only when some policemen were called in that order was restored. The chairman appealed for British fair play and was loudly cheered.

Mr. Myers proceeded with his speech, but was frequently interrupted by questions and shouts, which were drowned in applause. There was a cry raised to put the men out, and a serious row was only prevented by the police. Mr. Myers, who strenly advocated the political union of Canada and the States, had considerable difficulty in proceeding with his speech, but finally managed to secure a hearing. It was after 11 o'clock when he finished, and a vote was called on the question.

The result of the vote was:

Independence 1614, annexation 992, present condition 364, Imperial Federation 29.

FRENCH CABINET UPSET.

THE PANAMA CANAL AFFAIR DID THE WORK.

The Submission of the Interpellation of the Death of Baron de Reinach Caused a Vote, Which the Ministry Accepted by Resignation.

PARIS, Nov. 28.—MM. Fereyones and Vermay submitted their interpellation regarding the death of Baron de Reinach to the Chamber of Deputies yesterday.

Instead of responding, Premier Loubet asked the Chamber to pass the Order of the Day pure and simple.

The Chamber rejected the request by a vote of 304 to 269. The ministers are now considering the question of resigning.

The members of the cabinet went to the Palace of the Elysee at 6 o'clock this evening and tendered their resignation to President Carnot.

In accepting their withdrawal from office President Carnot asked them to unanimo to conduct the business of their respective offices until their successors shall have been appointed.

Shortly after the ministers left the President the official announcement of their resignation was made.

The matter leading to the resignation of the Cabinet proceeded thus:

In the Chamber of Deputies M. Fereyones intimated strongly that Baron Reinach was not dead, that the burial was a sham and that his body was not in the coffin. The Government had made no inquiry. He demanded that the coffin be exhumed.

M. Ricord, Minister of Justice, regretted that such accusations had been made and the intention was to bring discredit on the administration. He said the usual formalities had been observed in the burial of Baron Reinach's body. The doctors had certified that death was from natural causes. The Parliament Committee was powerless to order an autopsy and he declined to institute judicial proceedings, as no crime had been committed.

M. Brisson moved a resolution of regret that the Baron's papers had not been officially sealed immediately upon his death.

M. Loubet said this would mean a lack of confidence in the Government.

M. Maujan proposed an expression of confidence in the Government, but the Premier would accept nothing else than the order of the day.

By a vote of 304 to 219 the chamber rejected the Premier's motion to pass the order of the day.

All the members of the Cabinet then left the chamber in a body, amid great excitement.

The Chamber then proceeded to adopt M. Brisson's resolution of regret that Baron Reinach's papers had not been sealed immediately after his death, the vote standing 393 to 3.

The Chamber adjourned until Thursday.

THE CISTERN LID OFF.

And an Eramosa Farmer Knew Then that His Wife Had Committed Suicide.

GUELPH, Nov. 28.—A sad case of suicide was reported this morning from Eramosa. Mrs. Thomas Hall, a respected resident of that township, living on lot 20, concession 3, having taken her life while temporarily insane. After her confinement this summer she had a serious illness, but nothing was noticed wrong mentally till two weeks ago. She then came in for a visit with her father, John Doughty, and her brothers William Doughty and John H. Doughty, bailiff, and she seemed almost herself.

She went home on Friday and on Sunday appeared in the best of spirits, quite cheering the husband and family.

This morning Mr. Hall woke at 4.20 and asked her the time, which she gave him. At 5.45 he again awoke and found that she had left the bedroom without dressing herself.

He at once got up and went upstairs to see if she had gone to the children. Not finding her there he went out to the back part of the house, discovered the outside kitchen door open and the lid off the cistern outside. His worst fears were soon realized, for the body of Mrs. Hall in her night dress was seen floating on the water.

Mrs. Hall was about 40 years of age and leaves a family of seven children, the eldest being 16 years of age.

THE HENCOOP CASE.

Baker and Lingford Again Up for Trial for Murder.

PICKERING, Ont., Nov. 29.—The now famous Pickering shooting case was revived yesterday. Baker and Lingford appeared before Magistrates Harper and Bunting, charged with feloniously killing one William Palmer.

The witnesses examined and evidence taken were about the same as at the coroner's inquest and nothing new was elicited.

Last evening court was adjourned to meet at Whitby on Monday, 5th, when it is expected they will be sent down for trial at the next assizes. They were granted bail in $3000 each.

Great interest is being taken in this case, as all parties concerned are well known in the community.

Non-Union Men Not in It.

HOMESTEAD, Nov. 29.—A large number of non-union men left the Carnegie Mills Saturday after receiving their pay. Others are getting ready to go. The new men now realize that they must give way to the old men.

Foundered Off Italy.

LONDON, Nov. 29.—The steamer Citta di Messina foundered off the coast of Italy yesterday. No one was lost.

M'KINLEY TARIFF BILL.

Indications That It Will Be Repealed Next Session of Congress.

NEW YORK, Nov. 29.—The Herald has sent to the members-elect of the House of Representatives of the 53rd Congress the following questions:

(1) Are you in favor of an extra session and, if so, why? If not, why not?

(2) Do you believe in the repeal of the McKinley bill, or simply a modification of it—a modification that would ensure a tariff for revenue only?

One hundred and ninety-nine of the 356 congressmen have replied to the inquiry as follows:

In favor of extra session 79, opposed to extra session 81, non-committal 39, in favor of repeal of McKinley bill 81, in favor of modification of the bill 46, opposed to any change in the bill 60, non-committal 12.

If the straws are an indication, The Herald says, the McKinley bill will be repealed at the next session.

THE DOMINION PREMIERSHIP.

SIR JOHN ABBOTT'S retirement from the position of Premier on account of ill health, made the selection of Sir John Thompson, as his successor, inevitable. In fact it can hardly be called a selection. Selection implies choice. In all the great Conservative party, his excellency had only a choice between Sir John Thompson and—Sir John Thompson. No other public man was within sight, even if constitutional etiquette had permitted Lord Stanley to overlook Sir John Thompson's claims of ability, service and relation to the House and the Conservative party. Under the circumstances no better appointment could have been made for the position of Premier. Sir John Thompson is head and shoulders above the other leading lights of the party. He is a man of ability, with good qualifications for the leadership; and he will need all his talents in this capacity, for there are signs of growing discontent among the better element of the party; an independent spirit has broken out among, in particular, the younger of the rank and file. There is also a growing feeling of discontent among the faithful, with the condition of the country, and it will require all the tactical skill of Sir John III. to quell the mutinous spirit, as to the mere party machine, that is manifesting itself throughout the entire party. He may, as he has shown himself well able to do, easily control the party majority in the House, for to them obedience to the crack of the party whip has become a second nature; but behind the party is the country, and the question is whether Sir John will have the courage and, from our point of view, unwisdom, to employ the corrupt and crooked means of stifling public opinion represented by contractors' contributions, the refusal to punish high crimes of high officials, the Judge Elliott matter, the gerrymander, etc., to maintain himself in power. There is also another element in the Conservative party, which may give or feel like giving Sir John a trouble, that he can hardly dispose of so cavalierly as the old original Sir John could do. But it can hardly be seriously proposed in a free, democratic country like Canada, where freedom of opinion and speech are accepted canons, to make a man's religious opinions a bar to his preferment in civil life, if he discharges the duties of his civil position with a just regard to the rights of the citizens as a whole, or an honest reference to the requirements of the country. Sir John Thompson, if he uses his opportunities, has a splendid future—has a wide field of reform in which to show whether he is a patriotic statesmen, anxious for the progress of the country, or a partizan who will seek partizan success by methods that have made the political morality of Canada a reproach to a Christian country. No middle way is open to him—he will be either a vastly better or a vastly worse Premier than either of the two Sir Johns who have preceded him.

Catarrh in the Head

Is undoubtedly a disease of the blood and as such only a reliable blood purifier can effect a perfect cure. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best blood-purifier, and it has cured many very severe cases of catarrh. It gives an appetite and builds up the whole system.

Hood's Pills act especially upon the liver rousing it from torpidity to its natural duties, cure constipation and assist digestion.

Ask your neighbours if they use Dodd's Kidney Pills. They strengthen the nerves, tone the system, and the most stubborn cases of kidney diseases yield to their influence. They are especially appreciated by the old. Ask your neighbours about them. dw

☞ No one knows better than those who have used Carter's Little Liver Pills what relief they have given when taken for dyspepsia, dizziness, pain in the side, constipation, and disordered stomach. dw

ENNISMORE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A well attended concert was given in the Ennismore Town Hall on Saturday evening under the auspices of the Ennismore Minstrel Troupe. A splendid programme of instrumental and vocal music was presented. The songs were altogether comic and were heartily enjoyed and loudly applauded. The jokes were new and fresh, and as the subjects were well known the audience appreciated the points accordingly. Some auditor while laughing till the rafters rang at a joke on his neighbour would have his face straightened like a line with a ten pound 'lunge at the end, when he, himself, was made the victim of the next joke. The receipts were upwards of thirty dollars, which is to be devoted to charitable purposes.

Miss Della McColl, sister of Rev. Father McColl, P.P., accompanied by Miss Mary Scollard, sister of Rev. Father Scollard, have gone on a visit to their friends in Frankford, where their hosts of friends in Ennismore, wish them a pleasant sojourn.

BOUNDARY BRIDGE MATTERS.

Following is a copy of the text of the agreement between the counties of Victoria and Peterborough with respect to the satisfactory adjustment of the boundary bridge dispute between those counties, which has so long hung fire:

"Your committee beg to state that the agreement arrived at is practically as follows: That Victoria pay ½ of the present expenditure on the Forest House bridge, and Peterborough ½ of same, and that Peterborough pay 7-10ths of the present expenditure on the Pigeon Creek floating bridge and Victoria 3-10ths of same; that each county pay its own costs of the legal proceedings in connection with the application for the appointment of a third arbitrator; that the county of Peterborough at any time hereafter, when any considerable expenditure is required to be made upon the Pigeon Creek floating bridge, shall have the right by bylaw to abandon the bridge, and after the passage of such bylaw, the bridge shall be closed for traffic, and both the counties of Peterborough and Victoria relieved from all liability to maintain it; and that the county of Victoria will whenever required by the county of Peterborough, consent to and assist in obtaining legislation to carry this condition into effect, and that the county of Victoria shall not have the right of abandonment until the county of Peterborough has passed its by-law. Your committee have realized that the proportions payable by the county of Peterborough are not as large as they should be, in view of the larger proportions paid by the county of Peterborough prior to the coming into force of the Harvey Act in 1880, voluntarily at one time and subsequently under the award of arbitrators, towards the maintenance of the Bobcaygeon bridges, but your committee have also realized that the further expenses which would result from arbitration should be avoided if possible, and therefore yielded to a compromise towards which the committee of the county of Peterborough have also contributed since the negotiations began."

AWKWARD ADVENTURES OF A FORMER PETERBOROUGHMAN.

A Bad Quarter-Hour with Moors and Arabs.

A Birmingham Daily Mail of Nov. 14th has an interesting article on the singular adventures of Birmingham citizens, one of them a former Peterboroughman, among the savage denizens of Morrocco, dangerous enough at any time but doubly so in a time of rebellion. The party took a run across the straits from Gibraltar to Tangiers and taking an excursion inland they ran amuck into the camp of the imperial army where four dollars a-piece were paid for pickled heads of rebels, and strangers would be regarded with suspicion. The party for a time felt their own heads very lose on their shoulders, but by good luck they managed to escape from their dangerous predicament. Mr. Samuel Ward the leading member of the party, whose heads were in the balance, was about forty years ago a resident of Peterborough, where he was in the employ of the late Mr. Jos. Barnard, sr. Thirty-seven years ago he left Peterborough, not worth a cent, now he is worth a quarter of a million, made by his own exertions, and spends his time chiefly in travelling—his Morrocco experience being an episode which he will not court a repetition of very speedily.

DEAR SIRS,—My little Jennie was very bad with La Grippe which left a bad cough. I gave her Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam and it soon cured her.

A Remarkable Case.

GENTLEMEN,—About five years ago I noticed on my hands a great number of soft, spongy warts, very painful, and which bled when touched. I never witnessed anything like it, and was quite alarmed. We are never without Hagyard's Yellow Oil, and one evening my little girls applied it to each wart. They did this several nights and in the morning the pain and itching were so bad I had to cool my hands with snow, but finally the warts dropped out and I have never been troubled since.

A Friend

Wishes to speak through the Register of the beneficial results he has received from a regular use of Ayer's Pills. He says: "I was feeling sick and tired and my stomach seemed all out of order. I tried a number of remedies, but none seemed to give me relief until I was induced to try the old reliable Ayer's Pills. I have taken only one box, but I feel like a new man. I think they are the most pleasant and easy to take of anything I ever used, being so finely sugar-coated that even a child will take them. I urge upon all who are of a laxative to try Ayer's Pills."—Boothbay (Me.) Register.

In Need

"Between the ages of five and fifteen, I was troubled with a kind of salt-rheum, or eruption, chiefly confined to the legs, and especially to the bend of the knee above the calf. Here, running sores formed which would scab over, but would break immediately on moving the leg. My mother tried everything she could think of, but all was without avail. Although a child, I read in the papers about the beneficial effects of Ayer's Pills, and persuaded my mother to let me try them. With no great faith in the result, she procured and I began to use them, and soon noticed an improvement. Encouraged by this, I kept on till I took two boxes, when the sores disappeared and have never troubled me since."—H. Chipman, Real Estate Agent, Roanoke, Va.

"I suffered for years from stomach and kidney troubles, causing very severe pains in various parts of the body. None of the remedies I tried afforded me any relief until I began taking Ayer's Pills, and was cured."—Wm. Goddard, Notary Public, Five Lakes, Mich.

Armstrong Concert Company

Here in Peterborough at the Opera House, on December 8th, promises to be "the entertainment of the season." Little Ethel Armstrong is a violin prodigy, Miss Jackson a clever dramatic reader, Miss McCartney a soprano soloist par excellence, and the Telgmann Bros need no words of commendation. The Kingston News observes: "Miss Ethel Armstong's violin solo was one of the cleverest performances of the evening. This little nine year old child handles the bow with a deftness and skill that promises in coming years to place her in the front row of violinists. The audience rapturously encored her. All her notes were pure and sweet and showeb the most careful training of a talented child." At the Opera House here on Thursday, Dec. 8th. 1d

SCREAMS AND SHRIEKS

Were Heard From the Walls of a School House in Havelock as a Teacher Thrashes Unmercifully a Young Boy of Eleven Years of Age.

County Police Magistrate George Edmison held court at Havelock yesterday afternoon adjudicating upon a case of a somewhat sensational and startling interest.

Andrew Kniewasser teaches the village school at Havelock. He is a young man about thirty years of age, and according to the trend of the evidence has an indomitable will and decided disposition. The story of the trouble as told by witnesses is that Thos. Robert McCracken is the 11-year-old son of Jas. R. McCracken and attends the public school. During recess on Thursday, Nov. 17th, McCracken and another young lad, William Dixon, it appears got into an altercation on the school grounds and in the wordy embroglio the teacher appeared upon the scene and asked Dixon what McCracken had been saying to him, and he refusing to tell, the wielder of the pedagogical staff went over to McCracken and enquired of him what he was saying, and he too refused to reveal the coveted information, whereupon it is alleged the teacher hit him a slap across the face and threw him down, the young fellow still refusing to divulge. Kniewasser said he would make him. Thereupon he took the juvenile offender and to the school house door, and up the stairs to the school room, where it appears the teacher cleared the chamber of knowledge of all its inmates except young Dixon and another boy. It is said he then enjoined McCracken to hold out his hand but the latter refusing he caught hold of his member and bending back the fingers plied his rubber strap lustily on the out-stretched hand. The teacher then asked the pupil to hold out his hand voluntarily, but the punished refused to yield to the demand of the punisher in either holding out his hand a second time or disclosing the language he used in his verbose combat with his opponent. The teacher again took the hand, and repeated the whipping, and McCracken still refusing to yield the former seemed to have lost all control of himself and going off into a towering fit of rage, threw the 11-year-old lad down upon the elevated platform, and with one knee on the body and his hand clutching the boy's throat he was administering a terrible punishment and exhibiting unreasonable cruelty, when the wild shrieks and screams of the oppressed attracted the attention of neighbours blocks away. Word being conveyed to the boy's mother she appeared upon the scene with a club in her hand, and was going to confederate with the weak, but on her filing an appearance the teacher released the child from the vice-like grip in which he held him, and got out of the way with great alacrity from the presence of the incensed parent. The boy, helpless and weak was borne home by the exasperated mother. Dr. Fowler in evidence stated that he believed the punishment to be entirely too severe. The boy was confined to bed even yet and the roof of his mouth and throat was very sore, he believed from the effects of the thrashing.

After the examination of several witnesses the magistrate enlarged the case at which there was an immense crowd present, until Friday next, in order to take the testimony of Dr. Ford who was called in consultation with Dr. Fowler over the boy's condition. Knlewasser has laid an information against Mrs. McCracken before a Justice of the Peace in Havelock, charging her with attempted assault to do him bodily harm. The outcome of the case is awaited with considerable interest.

ORIENTAL MANNERS AND CUSTOMS.

Howie Speaks to a Crowded House—Some Pointed Arguments on the Liquor Question—Antiquarian Research in Egypt—Mohammedans on a Pilgrimage to Mecca.

The main floor seating capacity of the opera house was well tested last night by the numbers who were desirous of again hearing Dr. Ghosn el Howie, the Oriental orator. The evening opened by the singing of a hymn, after which Dr. Howie led the meeting in prayer.

Mr. F. Mason, President of the Advanced Prohibition Club, under whose auspices Dr. Howie came to Peterborough, in a few introductory remarks spoke of the club and its objects. He said the Prohibition Club constituted no party, but was distinctivley non-political. Their great object throughout the country was the overthrow of the liquor traffic, and he hoped they would be strong enough in numbers and power to wield an influence at the next general election. The club in Peterborough, though of short life, was steadily gaining additions to its ranks. Clubs were being organized in every city and town in the Dominion, and the chairman again stated that their direct enemy to-day was liquor. They wanted nothing short of total prohibition. The speaker believed there would be such a thing as woman suffrage among the great changes of the time and at no distant date. They would a redly have a prohibitory liquor laws, if not before, when woman suffrage came in force; other needed reforms would also be attained then.

Dr. Howie was received with applause. He said lecturing on temperance was not in his line and if he did not lay it down right he hoped to be excused. He repeated in toto the words of the chairman on the subject of prohibition and the club that party had formed. Being a member did not hamper a man's political complexion but in case when the opposite party for instance had declared themselves in favor of prohibition legislation, then the member was supposed to vote for that party on this particular question only. The lecturer then went on to say that he was in favour of woman suffrage and admired Canada and except the liquor traffic. He paid a tribute to the press, and said its tone and standard in Canada was higher that in any other country. The prohibitionists had no reason to expect any good from a political party until people assure that party that they were ready to support it. He would not expect Sir Oliver Mowat or Sir John Thompson to inaugurate a policy of temperance without a hint at least from the public. Some in their antipathy against the liquor traffic were apt to be too one-sided in blaming the Government for everything.

Dr. Howie then launched out in a humourous and descriptive trip on a steamer bound from Algiers, at the mouth of the Mediterranean, to Alexandria, on whose decks were hundreds upon hundreds of Persians and Mohammedans, packed together "like herrings in a barrel." They carried their own sustenance with them in cotton bags, consisting of dry bread, heads of onions and boiled potatoes. The passengers slept on small pieces of carpet in their cloaks. There was no change of dress and no washing of the body. A dirtier, filthier and more wretched class than these could hardly be found. They were on a religious journey to the birthplace of Mohammed at Mecca. They finally after a two-weeks' journey arrive at Alexandria. East Africans had a deep conviction and in their desire to escape death by what Mahommed taught they take this Holy pilgrimage. Christ's ways to them, the same as to many in this land are too simple a means to seek absolution from guilt. The modes of the Mohammedans' religious life was worship in mosques, fasting, alms giving, fighting for the faith and seeking to propogate their religion and a pilgrimage to Mecca, once in a life time at any rate. Egypt was preminently a Bible land, home of Moses and Aaron where pick and shovel were at work after historical knowledge and in quest of antiquarian lore. For ninety years the work had been going on and proofs brought to light to testify that "the word of the Lord would stand forever." No wonder Christian people spent much money to question that land. Egypt was of Turkey and Mohammedanism the state religion. Dr. Howie eloquently referred to the rebellion in 1883 which the British Government quelled, the subsequent restoration of the government and the improved financial condition of the country. All Egypt was now satisfied with British Rule but some fools in Canada talked about annexation. The country being Mohammedan was a prohibition state but since being under British sway there were 400 drinking places to-day in Cario, where there were not four previously. This was the only stain that England had left upon Egypt. The natives of that country could not stand the evil influences of intemperance like the Canucks. It would kill them by the wholesale. The speaker in closing described the city of Bethlehem, the birthplace of Christ, with its sacred memories, and the stone manger, 36x18x0 feet, where he was born. He described the houses, the homes, and modes of living in the east, and exhibited some rare and quaint coral neck laces, beads, photographs, plants, etc., which were passed around among the spectators for their inspection. He also clad himself in native costume and showed the dress of Sarah as she was clothed in days of old. Many purchased some of the Oriental curiosities from the doctor as souvenirs. The meeting closed with a hymn and prayer.

CAPONIZING COCKERELS.

Now is the Time to Operate Upon Early Chickens—Advantages.

Those who hatched chickens in March and April will soon have a lot of cockerels of sufficient size to caponize. The sooner they are operated upon after they weigh two and a half pounds, the more time they will have to grow for winter and spring markets. Capons to be at their best should have a year or even fourteen months in which to develop. It costs but little to keep them the last few months, and yet at the same time they "fill out" and take on a good proportion of meat in three months. The first two-thirds of their lives is devoted to building up a large frame or body, which they will finish off and decorate in fine shape with delicious meat during the remaining third. I disposed of all my capons early the past season (in February), partly because I needed the room. However, I should not have done so had I not been offered a very high price, which it would have been foolish to decline. Had I not a particular market for them it would have been a great deal better for me to have kept them until April, for I noticed that the market price for capons tended upward, and they were quoted at 24 to 26 cents a pound in April and early May, while ordinary chickens could be bought for 15 cents, and in many cases much less. The operation is very simple. Any bright boy can perform it. By it you are enabled to produce a bird which is worth and will sell for over $2.00, whereas the same bird left in his natural state will seldom bring 75 cents. It may be necessary to raise chickens until experience has been acquired in the poultry business. As for myself I have had experience enough, and now want money to use this experience. I can find it in raising capons for market, not for chickens. Besides the profit there is in it, there are several other advantages. A lot of cockerels that are running around worrying the hens and fighting with each other are got rid of. After they have been caponized they become docile and quiet, lose all their fighting propensities, pay no attention to the hens and pullets, lie around, take life easy and seem to be perfectly contented. As they lose their roving disposition, they begin to grow very rapidly. This remarkable change is noticed in a week after the operation has been performed. Everything they eat and drink goes to form frame and flesh. These are not the ideas of an enthusiast on the subject, but simply the experience of one who has practiced it for a number of years. Try it, my friends, and see for yourselves. If every capon you raise don't bring you more than double the price of a cockerel, there must be something wrong with you, certainly not with them.

The cuts of the two birds represent a capon and cockerel. They are intended to show the condition of the two birds and the advantage to be derived from caponizing. Both of the birds were pure Plymouth Rocks, and of the same age, being late-hatched chickens. The capon was caponized when weighing about two pounds. Both received the same care and feed. The cuts are from photographs, and are exact representations of each bird when killed and dressed, which was done at the same time. The capon weighed two and a half pounds more than the cockerel. The condition of the birds in the cuts will indicate to any one the advantage of caponizing.—George Q. Dow, in Orange Judd Farmer.

When Washing Windows.

Always wash the inside first. Dust the panes carefully with a soft duster before using any water. Be sure that the pail you are using is clean, that the water is clean and that the cloth which you intend to use is clean and soft, and free from lint. To half a pail of water, which should be lukewarm, add a tablespoonful of ammonia. Dry each pane as soon as it is washed; to remove the dirt from the corners use a sharp pointed stick covered with cloth. When the panes happen to have dashes of white paint upon them, try scraping them gently with a copper cent. When the panes are thoroughly clean and dry polish them with a soft chamois skin. As soon as the windows are washed the sills should receive attention, and the shades and curtains should be arranged neatly.

ANOTHER STARTLING CASE.

IN WHICH A SMITH'S FALLS CHILD FIGURES PROMINENTLY.

A Marvellous Record Which is of the Greatest Interest to Parents—No Romance, but Simply Solid Facts That Will Bear the Fullest Investigation.

Following rapidly on the case of the young man, A. H. Norton, of New Dublin, who had suffered for six years from St. Vitus dance, despite the efforts of the best physicians and was cured by the use of six boxes of Dr. Butler's Golden Pills, comes the still more wonderful relation of the cure of a child six years of age by the use of two boxes of Golden Pills on a treatment of ½ pill for a dose, continued for five weeks. The mother of this child, a most estimable lady was of a progressive mind, and after exhausting her patience and nearly her purse with the orthodox remedies of physicians in her town, no benefit to her child resulting, she called to her aid at the expense of $1.00 that truly marvellous and well known remedy, Butler's Golden Pills. Under date of 23rd Sept. 1892, Mrs. Jas. Scott, of Smith's Falls, enclosed $1.00 for 2 boxes of pills stating she had seen the cure of the young man Norton reported, that her child was affected with St. Vitus' dance, that she had tried all remedies and the doctors as well, but to no use. The child was placed under treatment of ½ pill for a dose, very inexpensive all must admit, and under date of 14th November, this fond proud mother writes: "My little boy is so much improved, in fact he has no symptoms of St. Vitus dance. At present he sleeps well and is looking well, and I am sure it is the effects of the Pills." We have here unmistakable proof of their efficacy in chorea—all nerve diseases are as speedily cured by their action. The cases of Neuralgia and Rheumatism relieved by their use, are too numerous to recite here.

The magical curative properties of Butler's Golden Pills are not confined to St. Vitus dance only, they are equally efficacious in all diseases dependent on a vitiated condition of the blood and nerves, as Nervous Prostration, Rheumatism, Palpitation of the Heart, Shortness of Breath, Asthma, Nervous Headache, Neuralgia, Paralysis, Locomotor Ataxia, and all forms of Female Weakness, Suppressions, Irregularities, and the many ills that attend women at the change of life, all Blood Diseases, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Catarrh of the Throat or Stomach, Incipient Consumption and Chronic Erysipelas.

These pills were formulated by a most distinguished practioner after years of trial and study. They are recommended as one of the most potent and effective preparations for the cure of blood and nerve diseases. They are offered to the public at a price that makes a course of treatment inexpensive. Never sold in bulk; always in packages wrapped in trade mark. No other remedy possesses such magical properties. Price 50 cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50. They can be had at all druggists, or by mail from Dr. Butler Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Valuable Family Sewing Machine, worth $25,
Lady's or Gentleman's Silver Watch, worth $20.

No One Person Entitled to More than One Prize.

CONDITIONS OF THE COMPETITION:

A Sealed Jar containing Common Beans will be placed in the show window of THE PETERBOROUGH BOOKSTORE, and with every Dollar's worth of Goods bought between 9 o'clock a. m. Saturday morning (Nov. 26th.) and 12 o'clock, midnight, on New Years' Eve, the purchasers will receive gratuitously a ticket containing a blank space for name and figures of the purchaser's estimate of the number of individual Beans contained in the sealed jar. The tickets will be deposited in a sealed ballot box in THE PETERBOROUGH BOOKSTORE. Immediately after the expiration of the above day and hour the sealed jar will be handed over to a competent and trustworthy committee, who will carefully and correctly count the Beans in the sealed jar, compare them with the numbers estimated, and award the

FIRST PRIZE, GOLD WATCH — To the Lady or Gentleman estimating the exact, or nearest the exact number of beans in the sealed jar, and the

SECOND PRIZE, FAMILY SEWING MACHINE — To the Lady or Gentlemen estimating the second, nearest the exact number of beans in the sealed jar, and the THIRD PRIZE, SILVER WATCH — To the Lady or Gentleman estimating the third, nearest the exact number of beans in the sealed jar.

The above prizes are genuine goods, of substantial value, and of the best manufacture. The first prize, Ladies' Watch, is a 14-carat, solid gold, hunting case, full-jewelled, stem-winding Waltham watch, worth $50.00, and the alternate prize, the Gentleman's Gold Watch, is of equal quality and value; the winner of the first prize may make choice and take either watch. The second prize is an elegant Family Sewing Machine of the full value of $25. The third prize, the Silver Watch, is a three ounce hunting-case, full-jewelled, compensating Elgin Company watch, worth $20.00.

In case of two persons making the same estimate, the prize will be awarded to the estimate contained on the slip numbering lowest. The slips are numbered consecutively.

Anybody purchasing a dollar's worth of goods at any time will receive gratuitously an estimate slip.

N. B.—The estimating in the above contest is a simple matter of measurement and computation. The jar containing the beans, has an internal diameter of 4 inches and a height of 12½ inches, exclusive of the cork, which occupies ½ of an inch, and is filled with ordinary white beans. The jar will contain 11 lbs. 4 oz. of water at a temperature of 40 degrees; therefore a jar containing a similar weight of water will hold a number of ordinary white beans corresponding exactly as possible to the number in the sealed jar.

This Grand Prize Competition begins at 9 o'clock, Saturday, Nov. 26th, and closes at midnight on December 31st.

The Gold Watch, Sewing Machine and the Silver Watch will be on view in the show window of the Peterborough Bookstore. Every purchaser has an opportunity of making an estimate for every dollar's worth of goods, and an opportunity of winning one of the splendid prizes, while at the same time he or she will receive the best value in their purchase of $1.00 worth of goods, selected from the most magnificent stock to be found in the district.

At the present season of the year, says the Country Gentleman, when the prospect is often entertained of cutting large trees for timber, manufacturing purposes and for fuel, and of purchasing standing trees and measuring their contents in advance, it often becomes important to know their height. For landscape effect and interest, the various heights of the different trees on ornamental grounds may be easily determined by simple appliances, when they have reached an altitude too great to be measured from the ground with a pole. Among these are the following:

Place a 10-foot pole upright against the foot of the tree, and then walk away from the tree to such a distance from it as may be convenient for the operation, and hold a pocket rule upright in the hand at arm's length, so that the rule (or any portion of it) shall coincide in view with the pole against the tree—fig. 1. Suppose that 1 inch on the rule, held out at arm's length, just covers the pole. An inch will thus be 10 feet on the tree. Observe how many inches from the ground measures on the rule to the top of the tree. Suppose that it requires 6 inches on the rule; then 60 feet is the height of the tree. If the work is properly done, the measurement need not vary a foot from the real height. The ground need not be smooth or level; all that is needed is that the foot and top of the tree be both in view. If the measure is 10 inches on the rule, then the tree is 100 feet high. If 7½ inches, the height is 75 feet.

Some allowance must be made where the tree is tall and the distance from it small, for the oblique view, which if extreme would give a diminished measurement. It is therefore necessary to stand at a considerable distance from the tree in making the observation, if it is tall.

A ready and more rapid mode of measurement, but rather less accurate, may be employed, when the approximate height is all that is required. It consists in using the fingers of the hand instead of the pocket rule, and with a man to stand at the tree instead of placing the upright pole—fig. 2. Two men are walking along the margin of woods, or over a field with scattered trees. One of them, who measures six feet high with his hat on, stands at the foot of the tree. The other takes his position several rods distant, and holds out his open hand at arm's length, so that his four fingers shall cover the man at the tree. Then he moves his hand upward on the face of the tree to the top of the man's hat, thus giving 12 feet high. Then another move, and he has 18 feet, then 24, and so on, till the whole tree is measured to the top. A little practice will enable him to make such measurements rapidly and with considerable accuracy, not more than a single minute or two being required for any tree, or for the height of the clear trunk up to the branches, when valuable timber is under examination.

Another mode is to measure the shadow. This may be easily done, if the ground is level, and the tree casts a clear shadow by sunlight. Measure the shadow, and then holding a pole erect, observe the proportion of the shadow to the pole and calculate the height of the tree accordingly, by simple arithmetic. If the shadow is equal to the height, no calculation is necessary; if the shadow is twice the pole, then divide the shadow of the tree by two; and so on, for any other length.

THE HOME GARDEN.

How Best to Preserve Plants During the Winter Season.

If you have a sunny bay window you can keep many of your choice plants in it. An excellent way of arranging such a one is to have a carpenter put two rows of shelves around the three sides. The first row to be about even with the window ledge; the other about eighteen inches higher. If possible, have glass doors to your window. Plants do much better without the dry heat; they also escape dust and gas, which later is sure death to them. Have the floor covered with oil-cloth. You can then spray the plants daily, and keep them in good condition. Should them be very cold nights put large sheets of paper between the window and plants, and set a bucketful of water on the floor. It is very trying to have one's window full of keep-overs from the garden; they are then not ornamental. Still, one hates to put them in the cellar, particularly if a heater is there. In such case it is almost impossible to keep them alive.

Here is an arrangement which will meet the wants of those not fortunate enough to own a conservatory.

The space under the porch, being dark, can be utilized for such plants as are taking their winter's rest, and also to put the hyacinths, lilies, tulips and other bulbs which have been potted for window blooming.

Our illustration shows the arrangement plainly. Allow the slope to be one foot or two feet in length. If your porch is (exclusive of steps) ten or eleven feet long, I should advise two sashes. The front and sides are made of boards, which can be banked up on the outside to guard against frost. The sashes are to be hinged. I should advise them hinged below, as they can then be raised from the porch. Or have, for convenience sake, one hinged on top and the other at the bottom. Every clear day, the sash should be raised to admit air, but closed as soon as the weather grows colder, and always kept closed during the night.

In this cold frame, which any carpenter can make for a trifle, and which can be carefully stored away in the spring and last for many years, you can raise your own pansies for spring blooming, and there you can keep your chrysantha. (By the way, the florists have tabooed the name chrysanthemums. Some called them "mums," others "chrisms." But finally they agreed upon the more elegant name of "chrysantha.") At any rate, they can be stored in this cold frame after blooming; or, if the ground is not frozen, the plant can be set in the ground, cut down to within two inches, and well covered with leaves and manure.

All florists use cold frames. They are more useful for some purposes than hotbeds, as these are used only for forcing; but the former keep plants in perfect condition.

On warm, pleasant days the plant can get a good spraying with water, which has the chill taken off. Ice-cold water should never be used on plants; on very cold days or nights it may be necessary to put a piece of old carpet over the sash.—Household Queen.

Somebody has given the following directions for picking and marketing turkey feathers: In picking, save all the feathers that grow on the tail of the turkey; also those on the two joints of the wings next the body. The pointed, one-sided quills that grow on the outside or tip of the wings sell at a low price, and should surely be kept separate from the others. Lay the feathers straight, in as light boxes as possible; do not stuff them in bags, as it breaks them. Before packing weigh your boxes with the covers, and mark the weight in plain figures on the side of the box.

A Neglected Cold in the Head

leads to catarrh, perhaps consumption and death. Why neglect with such a safe, speedy remedy as Nasal Balm at hand? D. Derbyshire, president of the Ontario Creamery Association, says:—Nasal Balm beats the world for catarrh and cold in the head. In my own case it effected relief from the first application. "It Cured Mother."

GENTLEMEN,—My mother was suffering from dyspepsia and no appetite. Everything failed to cure her until one day, while visiting a friend's house, I saw a bottle of B. B. B. on the table; on inquiring what they used it for, I soon found out what it cured, and when I went home told mother that she should try it; she said she had no faith in anything and objected to try it. Notwithstanding her objection I went in the evening and brought home a bottle but it was in the house for a week before we could induce her to take it. At last, as she was getting worse all the time she consented to try it, and on taking half the bottle found it was curing her. Another bottle cured her, and we believe, saved her life. We are never without B. B. B. now. It is such a good remedy for headache as well.

SITUATION AT OTTAWA.

THURSDAY MAY SEE THE CABINET SELECTED.

Sir John Thompson Will at an Early Date Speak in Toronto and Montreal and Will Then Foreshadow the Policy of His Government.

OTTAWA, Nov. 29.—The political situation did not develop yesterday much that is new.

It is probable that Sir John will have his Cabinet pretty well selected by Thursday, but he has made no direct offers to anyone as yet. But he knows where his likely men are.

Sir John to Speak in Toronto and Montreal.

As soon as the Cabinet is announced and things are in running order, Sir John Thompson will go to both Montreal and Toronto and make a couple of speeches, foreshadowing the policy of his Government.

There is a good deal of discussion over the proposal to bring in the new portfolio of Trade and Commerce and the Comptrollers of Customs and of Inland Revenue.

As the law stands, these two offices may be put under the Minister of Finance or the Minister of Trade and Commerce. If Hon. Mr. Foster became Minister of Trade and Commerce, with the two comptrollers under him, who will be Minister of Finance? No one has yet named the man.

A suggestion has been thrown out that a better arrangement would be to wait until legislation could be got at the coming session, uniting the office of Minister of Trade and Commerce with the office of the Minister of Finance, and creating a new office, that of Minister of Customs and Inland Revenue with the two comptrollers under him. Such a combination would be followed throughout the entire customs and Inland Revenue departments.

Collectorships would be doubled up, canning and building expenses would be cut down and a very substantial saving effected.

It is now certain that Mr. Chapleau will go to Spencerwood. No other definite intimations have been made to-night.

Mr. Creighton of The Empire arrived in town to-day.

SCHOOL QUESTION IN MANITOBA.

It Will Be Settled in the Courts And Not By Politicians.

OTTAWA, Nov. 29.—W. F. Maclean, M.P., of The Toronto World is here. He was asked what he thought of the political situation.

"As to my opinion, I may say I have no doubt as to Sir John Thompson's ability to form and lead the Government and his party. Just as Sir John Thompson had received the solid and loyal support of the Conservative members of Parliament, he would in the same way receive the support of the rank and file of the party throughout the country, and especially in Ontario, where the people knew him better."

"What about the Manitoba school question"? was asked.

"As far as I can gather the Manitoba school question is not to be a disturbing one, notwithstanding the predictions of many newspapers and politicians to the contrary. It will not get into Parliament this session, or the next. It is purely a matter of law and the interpretation of the constitution, and as such it will be dealt with.

"As far as I am aware, Sir John Thompson has undertaken the duties of Prime Minister unpledged in regard to the Manitoba school question, and he will ask none of his colleagues to commit themselves in any way on that subject. It will be settled in time in the courts and not by the politicians."

"Will there be many changes in the Cabinet?"

"You had better ask Sir John Thompson that. He knows. I don't. But there is not going to be a great deal of change in Ontario's representation in the Cabinet. Some new blood will be brought in from this Province, but how much I don't know. I would not be surprised to see Clarke Wallace join the Cabinet and also John F. Wood of Brockville. I don't expect to hear of Mr. Meredith entering the Ministry, although many people in our province desire to see him there."

OTTAWA, Nov. 29.—It is understood that His Excellency has had under consideration the second petition for clemency in the case of "Buck" Olsen, the Moncton murderer, now under sentence to be hanged on Dec. 1, and that he sees no reason to change the decision previously arrived at, and that the law must take its course.

Mr. Ewart, counsel for the Manitoba minority, left for Winnipeg last night. He stated before his departure that there would be a meeting of council to-morrow, at which an order will be passed for the formal transmission of the petitions to the Manitoba Government, and that the hearing of argument before council would not take place until after the Christmas holidays.

In the Exchequer Court before Justice Burbridge to-day judgment was given in the case of the Queen v. O'Keefe in favor of the Crown. This was a case for hydraulic rent on the Galops Canal, the amount being $1842. Mr. Hogg, who appeared for the Crown, moved for judgment.

It is understood that Dr. Dawson, accompanied by his secretary, Mr. McCarp, will leave for England this week in connection with Behring Sea matters.

Hon. T. M. Daly and Mrs. Daly will arrive from Winnipeg Wednesday morning. A. M. Burgess of the Interior and his private secretary, Mr. Cote, are returning by the same train.

Mr. MacCraken of the firm of Belcourt, MacCraken & Henderson has just returned from a visit to the gold mines in the vicinity of Marmora, Ontario. He says the gold fever has re-appeared and mining operations are being carried on quite vigorously. One gentleman who has the patent for a new and economical device for the reduction of the ore, purchased a mining site on Nov. 3, and in 14 days had a shaft sunk and is now hard at work bringing ore to the surface. Mr. MacCraken is of opinion that gold will be produced there in paying quantities by this new process of reduction.

PREFERRED HER FIRST HUBBY.

Although He Was a Jail Bird—The Deserted No. 2.

CHATHAM, Nov. 29.—Mrs. George Pethrick, who has been living with her husband as sub-tenant in the house a few doors south of Trustee Wilson's Queen street grocery, has quit forever her Chatham domicile and went off with Timothy Depew, a man to whom she was married some 20 years ago in Hamilton, and who suddenly turned up in town after an absence of all these years and put in his claim to her heart and her company.

Mr. Pethrick, who is well known in town as an honest and industrious man, by occupation a teamster, tells the story of his troubles:

Tim Depew married Eliza Learst in the city of Hamilton a good many years ago. I knew them both well. He was a sailor; her people live out in Blenheim, and she has three brothers walking around this city. Tim was in trouble one time over a watch theft, and he blamed a certain man for accusing him of the crime. One night this man was killed—drowned, crossing a bridge near Hamilton, and the evidence that Tim had to do with the affair was so strong that he was convicted of manslaughter and sent to penitentiary for 20 years. I guess he must have got his time shortened, for the other day he came to Chatham and got hold of my wife and induced her to take up with him again. I sent for her mother, but it was no use—the whole of them left me, just as you see, and I don't expect to have anything further to do with any of them.

Depew is a seven-footer, and built in proportion. Pethrick had some fear that the wife and he would demand a share of the household furniture. But they did not, and he is trying to sell off his stuff so that he can lapse into bachelor life once more and to try to forget the unhappy outcome of his marital venture.

Mrs. Pethrick has a grown-up son by her first husband. No children were born as a result of her second union.

Depew has relatives in the county of Wentworth, who were delighted to hear that he was doing much better since coming out of prison, he having been mate on a schooner during the past summer.

HIGHER WAGES.

Railroad Telegraphers Asked for It and Have Been Denied It.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Grand Chief Ramsay of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers and the committee of operators of the Central Railroad of New Jersey met President Maxwell and other officers of the railroad to-day.

Mr. Ramsay presented the operators' request for increase of salaries and shorter hours.

President Maxwell said the company's officials would consider the request at once and send their answer to the committee at their hotel.

The Jersey Central Railway sent its answer to the Committee of Telegraphers late this afternoon. The committee declined to make the answer public in full, but said it embraced the following points: The Jersey Central did not feel able to allow the increase of pay asked for.

The road could not grant eight hours as a day's work for train despatchers and block operators, and 12 hours for all others.

The road was willing to grant extra pay at the regular scale for Sunday work.

The road was willing to give reasons for dismissals and suspensions and allow pay for lost time in case of reinstatement.

The road was willing to make $40 a month the minimum for a month's pay.

"Are you willing to accept the allowance?" Mr. Ramsay was asked.

"I am if the committee is," said Mr. Ramsey, "excepting as to the declining to allow the rules we ask as regards the fixing of 8, 9 and 12 hours as a day's work and as regards the allowance of pay for extra hours' work. And again, we want the concessions they make us in the matter of rules signed by the railway authorities as such, and not simply their willingness to adopt them signified in a communication as that which we received from them."

Mr. Ramsay left to-night for Chicago, but the committee will remain here for another conference with the Jersey Central management to-morrow, at which it will try to get the road to concede the two rules mentioned by Mr. Ramsey, and to get rules signed in proper form.

EVERYTHING DISHONORABLE.

A Man Who Keeps Morality and Manhood Out of His Heart.

DETROIT, Nov. 30.—Edwin Crane, chief clerk of Dun's Mercantile Agency, who skipped out, led a most checkered career, as facts just come to light show. He was born in Northampton, Eng., and lived with his widowed mother, whom, it is said, he treated scandalously. His early life was one of recklessness, and he narrowly escaped jail before 20 years old. Under pretence of marriage he ruined a young girl named Agnes Burdett, and on the day set for the marriage he skipped out, robbing his mother of every cent she had.

He came to Montreal, and his fine voice and pleasing manner gave him a ready entrance to society, and while there he met a young French girl, Emilie Lafevre. He ruined her, and on the night before the day set for the wedding he visited her home, and stole from a fruit jar the money her mother had saved for her dowry. Crane had previously borrowed all the money he could lay his hands on and the next day skipped out again. He had been befriended by Collector of Customs Fornerett, and on the day he left the commission for a clerkship in the Customs arrived.

Ten years ago Crane arrived in Detroit, and through his voice again won friends and a place in society. He secured a position in Dun's Mercantile Agency and was soon a trusted employe. Here he married However, Miss Lafevre became aware of his whereabouts and wrote him letters for money to support his child. Friends to whom he confided his trouble advised him to send the money, and for three years he has been doing so. Tiring at last he wrote Miss Lafevre that he was to start to San Francisco and she would hear from him no more.

Soon after this Miss Burdett discovered his whereabouts and wrote that his son was now at school and she wanted money to aid in his education. She came here and met him in a room in the Franklin House and shot at him, but missed. The next day he left with $1800 cash belonging to societies of which he was treasurer, and it is alleged some of Dun's money. It has been discovered that Crane purchased a ticket to Liverpool.

COMPELLED TO PREACH

That Which Their Consciences Could Not Approve.

CHICAGO, Nov. 30.—At the close of a three hours' address upon the proposed revision of the Confession of Faith at the meeting of the Presbyterian ministers today, Dr. Herrick Johnson declared that if Calvinism was wrecked he should refuse to follow the flag of the church any longer.

In the debate which followed, several admitted that they were forced to preach that which their consciences could not approve.

A report disapproving entirely the revision of the General Assembly was finally adopted, 35 to 18.

RIDDLED WITH BULLETS.

A Colored Man Who Introduced Murder Into a Church Meeting.

HIAWATHA, Kan., Nov. 30.—Last Thursday night the people of the African Methodist Church gave a supper, at which Commodore True, a colored tough, raised a disturbance.

William Walthall, one of the deacons, led him outside and nothing was thought of the affair until suddenly True rushed into the room with a knife in his hand and stabbed Walthall to death.

True was lodged in jail, but last night a mob took him out and hung him and then riddled his body with bullets.

NEW MINISTERIALISTS.

THEY WILL NOT BE KNOWN UNTIL MONDAY.

The Delay Occasioned by Lord Stanley's Continued Absence on a Tour—Collingwood Schreiber and David Pottinger Advanced.

OTTAWA, Nov. 30.—There is no change whatever in the political situation yesterday, except that the official announcement of the new Cabinet may be delayed until Monday, as His Excellency will not return to the city until Saturday instead of Friday, as was expected. Otherwise things remain precisely as they were, and, although fresh rumors are started from time to time by enterprising correspondents, there is absolutely nothing to add to what has already been published in this correspondence.

It will be remembered that last spring Chief Justice Sir Thomas Galt, in giving a decision in a case before him, declared a portion of the Act of the Ontario Legislature relating to assignments and preferences by insolvent persons ultra vires of the Local Legislature because it practically dealt with bankruptcy, which is a subject reserved to the Dominion Legislature by the British North America Act.

The case in which this decision was given was not appealed, but the Ontario Government prepaid a reference to the Court of Appeals for the purpose of obtaining an opinion as to the constitutionality of the act and invited the Dominion Government to join in the reference.

The question will probably be argued this week and the Dominion Government has appointed Mr. Christopher Robinson, Q.C., and Wallace Nesbitt, Q.C., to represent it, while the Ontario Government will be represented by Mr. Æmilius Irving, Q.C., and other counsel.

It is understood that the change in the Deputy-Ministership of the Department of Railways and Canals, which has been talked of for some time past, has been made and that Mr. Trudeau, who has filled the position since the formation of the department, has been superannuated after having spent nearly 35 years in the public service.

Mr. Trudeau will take into retirement with him the respect and esteem of all with whom he has been thrown in contact.

Mr. Collingwood Schreiber, Chief Engineer of Government railways, succeeds Mr. Trudeau as Deputy Minister and Chief Engineer of railways and canals.

Mr. David Pottinger, Superintendent of the Intercolonial Railway, has been appointed general manager of Government railways. Mr. Pottinger's headquarters will remain at Moncton, and his appointment will no doubt give general satisfaction, especially in the Maritime Provinces, where he is well-known to the business community as a first-class administrator.

The Department of Agriculture to-day received information that the Suffolk Horse Society of the United States has joined the many other similar societies in agreeing to the admission of Canadian stock to competition at the World's Fair.

Canadian stock, horses, cattle, sheep and pigs can now compete in classes for which the total money prizes amount to $27,800, besides which there are six gold and five silver medals offered.

The Minister of Agriculture has decided to accept the offer of the Literary and Historical Society of Quebec to allow a copy to be made of the model of the Royal William, the first steamer to cross the Atlantic, which is in their rooms for exhibition at the World's Fair.

By dint of hard work Mr. Douglas Stewart, the energetic private secretary to Sir John Thompson, to-night completed the task of answering the 500 and odd telegrams and letters of congratulations which have been showering in on the new Premier since Friday night. These congratulations are from every part of Canada, from Cape Breton to Victoria, as well as some from Great Britain. The stream still continues and there are probably still several hundred letters on the way.

The writ for Soulanges has been issued. Nomination takes place on the 6th and polling on Dec. 13.

William McGirr of the Indian Department and private secretary to the Minister of the Interior arrived from the west this morning. He says that the Birtle agency, composed of Cree and other Indians, has become self-supporting, and consequently they will be of no further expense to the country. Other small bands have been made self-supporting, having been taught to farm, and they too cease to be a bill of expense.

Frank Beard, private secretary to Sir John Abbott, and who accompanied the late Premier to England, has returned to the city. Mr. Beard has been offered the position of secretary to Lieut.-Governor Dewdney of British Columbia.

Hon J. C. Patterson and Hon. E. M. Daly, with their families, are expected to return to the Capital to-morrow.

Capt. Gourdeau of the Department of Marine has been ordered to Quebec on duty, which will keep him there during the winter. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Gourdeau and Miss Gourdeau.

Information received here is to the effect that Principal Grant of Kingston is a warm supporter of Sir John Thompson.

FEAR A SNARE.

The Manitoba Government Declare They Will Not Appear Before the Privy Council.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 30.—The Tribune, the organ of the Greenway Government, said last night:

The elaborate attempts that are being made to draw the Manitoba Government into a snare will not succeed. All invitations to attend before the Dominion Privy Council, whether they emanate from Sir John Thompson, Premier of Canada, or John S. Ewart, the special advocate of the hierarchy, will not be accepted. This can be taken as authoritive.

Weeding Out Non-Unionists.

HOMESTEAD, Pa., Nov. 30.—The town continues very quiet. The applications for work by the old men continue, and the weeding-out process at the mill shows no signs of abatement.

Nearly 200 non-unionists left the works yesterday, and their places were filled by amalgamated men.

Dined an American.

BERLIN, Nov. 30.—Freiherr Von Berlepsch, Prussian Minister of Commerce, gave a dinner to the American Minister at his official residence last night.

The Samoans Quieted.

AUCKLAND, Nov. 30.—The latest advices from Samoa are to the effect that everything is quiet, the Tutaila rising having subsided.

ADIEU TO HER CHILDREN

THEN HANGED HERSELF IN THE CELLAR.

Don't Fret, Ernie, If I Am Not at Home When You Come for Lunch," said Mrs. Butt, in Parting With Her Children For Ever.

TORONTO, Nov. 30.—Elizabeth Butt, a widow, aged 45, who resided at 63 Wood-street, committed suicide yesterday by hanging herself. She had supported herself and her two children by renting furnished rooms to students and had grown despondent as amounts of the small income she derived from that source.

Mrs. Butt was last seen about 8:30 yesterday morning by William Hamilton, a student at the School of Pedagogy. She had just bidden her two children good-bye as they started for school. "Don't fret, Ernie, if I am not at home when you come for lunch at 12." They did not see her at noon, and when she was still missing at 4 they called on Mrs. W. S. Johnston, who lives next door.

Mrs. Butt was a frail weakly woman and might be unconscious in the cellar, so Mrs. Johnston thought. When she went in search she found the deceased in the cellar hanging by a rope from the joist overhead. The rope was a braided quarter inch and was tied double in a running noose.

Mrs. Butt had no relatives in this country, but Mrs. Johnston knew that she had formerly been a nurse in the family of Thomas Jolliffe of Jolliffe & Co., so that gentleman was promptly notified. He has been on intimate terms with the deceased ever since she arrived from England four years ago, and in the absence of relatives took possession of the premises till friends could be cabled.

Coroner Aikins was notified, but upon investigation concluded that an inquest was unnecessary.

Mrs. Butt had been twice married. Her first husband was a Mr. Marshall and the second, Mr. Butt, was a hotelkeeper, who lived but a short time. Upon his death she came to Canada. Nothing is known of her friends in England, but Mr. Jolliffe hopes to ascertain the necessary information by searching through her effects.

IMPERIAL FEDERATION.

George E. Parkin of New Brunswick Addresses a Große Audience.

TORONTO, Nov. 30.—George E. Parkin of New Brunswick spoke on Imperial Federation in the Auditorium last night. The hall was packed. Col. G. T. Denison presided.

Mr. Parkyn was greeted with applause, renewed again and again. He said that he was sometimes called an enthusiast on the question of Imperial Federation. "I have submitted myself to the severest tests. I have addressed audiences in some of the largest cities in the Empire. I have brought it before Chambers of Commerce in the United Kingdom. I have tried the military side of the argument before the authorities at Aldershot. I have tried to bring it under the sharpest of criticism, so that if I was an enthusiast it might be hammered down to practical life. And now, let me say to those who listened to me four years ago, that I believe I have brought back to you a report that will give you good cheer. I can prove and the daily papers prove it, and the Chambers of Commerce prove it, that this subject has engaged the most profound attention in every part of the Empire." [Loud applause.]

He said the fundamental and starting point was that the British Empire could not go on as at present. While other nations have to be governed we can govern ourselves. At present British subjects had not a fair representation in the Parliament of Great Britain.

"The great fundamental principle, then, is that what concerns all should be managed by all. A British subject at home and abroad should not be different. This Empire must go to pieces unless there is a great political change and a change that will give you a share in the responsibility. That is where Imperial Federationists take their stand. [Cheers.]

"The turning point in this great question," he proceeded, "rests with the Canadian people." "It does not rest with Australia. It does not rest with India. It does not rest with Great Britain. It rests with us because we are the first of the lion's brood that has so far reached maturity—that has been trained to the political height whereby we have been able to group together in one the various colonies on this continent."

Mr. D'Alton McCarthy was asked by the chairman to address the meeting. He said that he, too, believed that the future of the question rested on Canada, and the action of Canada on the great Province of Ontario.

"If this country was annexed to the United States—[A voice: It never will]—you will see a gradual disintegration of the British Empire." You can change the trade policy of the country by your votes if you please, but I deny the right of any man to say that I shall become an American citizen. [Hear, hear.]

A FALSE VOTE.

Hats Full of Ballots Were Thrown Into the Stove.

MONTREAL, Nov. 30.—The Gazette says that the meeting at Bohmer Park to hear the orators discuss the future of Canada was a fizzle.

The ballotting was a farce. The annexationists, who ran the meeting, voted several times, as they had the foresight to gather in a heap of the programs, whilst many disinterested spectators could not get one to vote on.

Hats full of ballots were brought in after the voting began and promptly thrown into the stove.

Canadian Soft Coal.

HALIFAX, Nov. 30.—The reported purchase of the Nova Scotia coal mines by an American syndicate is confirmed.

The purchasers confidently expect the removal of the American duty on Canadian soft coal, thus opening the markets of New England to Nova Scotia's fuel.

PEEPED INTO A GUN.

And Is Now Among the Travelers to the Other World.

WINNIPEG, Nov. 29.—A shooting accident occurred at the village of Killarney yesterday, the victim being a young son of a well-known resident.

Samuel Arscott and Willie Kelloway, aged 9 and 11 respectively, were playing with a gun. The former was looking into the gun barrel when Willie pulled the trigger, not knowing it was loaded, and blowing the top of Samuel Arscott's head off, killing him instantly.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOUR COLUMN.

"FOR CHRIST AND THE CHURCH."

Topic for Week Beginning Dec. 4th—"Everyday Mercies"—Acts 14-17; Deut. xxviii, 2-8.

[All communications intended for this column must be marked "Christian Endeavour" and sent to Box 113, Peterborough, not later than Friday previous to date of issue.]

Not only because God's mercies are common, but because they are universal, does His goodness seem wonderful. If only upon the righteous, God's blessing came it would seem but just, but to all alike come these messages of love, that by them men may be won to Him. Our use of everyday mercies test us, we are quite apt to overlook them because they are common.

Blessed in city and country. (Deut. xxviii, 3) God has suited his daily mercies to both city and country. The blessings are generously distributed to all.

Blessed in farm and family, (Deut. xxviii, 4) the world may be divided into two parts, out-of-doors and in-doors. The farmer may look with pride upon his season's harvesting, at his flocks and herds, but within pride give place to love and domestic joys. For the crops that fill the garner let God be praised. He invented the chemistry of sun, showers and soil. Let God be praised for the home. He had guarded the young life and spread His holy benediction over fireside and festal board.

Blessed in baskets and bakery. (Deut. xxviii, 5) For daily bread let us be truly grateful. It comes as really from the Father's hand now as did the manna to the children of Israel.

Blessed in coming and in going out—(Deut. 28-6.) Guided footsteps. Thank God every day for His directing power, for dangers avoided, pleasures enjoyed, gains granted and advancement made. Blessed in enemies and friends—(Deut. xxviii, 7-9.) It is good for a man to have some enemies. It shows he has had the courage of his convictions. It is better to have some people for your enemies than for your friends. Do not attempt to please everybody. If you are caricatured and maligned be not discomfited. A bad man's compliment is a good deal worse than his criticism. Bless God for both staunch friends and treacherous enemies.

"Hope, then, my soul, and let thy trust abound
His mercies fail not, every morning new
They come to thee, as to the flowers the dew."

A Voice From the Canadian Press:

THE BLACK DEATH!

The Scourge of the East.

Grim Asiatic Cholera is marching with stealthy but steady strides to these Western shores.

The foe is at our doors. Sanitary science, with powerful disinfectant, fumigations, and rigid quarantine regulations, stands guarding our ports.

But this fell destroyer on pestilential wing seems to float in the very air and defy all efforts to beat him back. Wherever there lingers impurity and putrefaction he takes up his abode, and the seeds of the pestilence germinate and multiply.

Public sanitary vigilance is imperative. Let the sewers be flushed and every form of impurity be swept away Let the health of the community be maintained to the highest possible degree. But in addition to all this let every individual be on the alert

The human body has the most perfect and complete system of sewerage, defying the utmost art of man to rival.

A wise Creator has provided means for the eradication of all effete and impure materials from the human body.

Morse's Indian Root Pills is such a perfect combination of the best and most energetic remedies provided by a beneficent Providence for the purpose of cleansing the whole system, "flushing the sewers," rousing up the liver, the kidneys and the whole intestinal tract to their proper functions and at the same time imparting vigor and tone to the whole system, that it is with the utmost confidence that we recommend it to the public as the best preventive of the fearful ravages of that justly dreaded disease, Asiatic Cholera.

With Invalids.

Yes! with invalids the appetite is capricious and needs coaxing, that is just the reason they improve so rapidly under Scott's Emulsion, which is as palatable as cream.

Ask your neighbours if they use Dodd's Kidney Pills. They strengthen the nerves, tone the system, and the most stubborn cases of kidney diseases yield to their influence. They are especially appreciated by the old. Ask your neighbours about them. dw

GRASPING, AVARICIOUS CAPITALISTS

ARE WHAT OUR COMPETITORS CALL US.

Grasping, because we want the Trade of the Earth! Avaricious, because we hang on to the Almighty Dollar! Capitalists, because we have the Money to Tear them to Pieces in the Wholesale Markets!

WELL, you can see what it amounts to. Success ever brings envy and distrust. If we were only half so successful, we would be feared only half as much as we are.

Our push and principle alarm our competitors. Our business grip makes them wince. Our big sales excite their envy. Our popularity is what they cannot block and must put up with.

Talk of big stocks. Shout of immense piles of goods. GOUGH BROS. know about what big stocks mean. Throughout Ontario, in the best towns, GOUGH BROS. have Clothing Stores. It is a notorious fact that they do the trade of the town. They buy cheaper, carry more Goods than all competitors combined.

Notwithstanding the low price of wheat, and cry of hard times with other merchants, GOUGH BROS. sales are head and shoulders ahead of the best sales on record.

The inerior of the office of W. A. F. Campbell, lawyer, has been greatly improved by thorough renovation.

Mrs. H. Reynolds is visiting friends in Toronto.

T. Blezard, M.PP., was in town on Tuesday last.

Messrs. J. Davidson, M.A., LLB., and W. E. Roxburgh were in Toronto on Thursday last looking for a teacher to take the place of Mr. Bishop, who has resigned on account of ill health.

Dr. Ford was in Toronto on Thursday last attending a meeting of the Superannuation Board of the Methodist church.

Mr. B. Mahoney and daughter, of Campbellford, were in town on Thursday last.

Mr. J. E. Belcher, C. E., of Peterborough, was in town last Tuesday.

On Sunday afternoon last Mrs. McNeely, one of the oldest residents of Belmont passed away. About a month ago she came on a visit to her daughter Mrs. Jas. Paget, and there she took ill and never recovered. She was a very fine Christian woman, and her death will be regretted by a large circle of friends. Her funeral took place on Tuesday, and was conducted by Rev. W. Buchanan.

On Tuesday evening Mrs. Udy accidentally fell down cellar. She sustained such severe internal injuries that she has been confined to her bed. Her many friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Revs. J. Carmichael and W. Buchanan exchanged pulpits on Sunday evening last.

The reports regarding Mr. C. Bishop's illness are very discouraging to his many friends. While here he had made a host of friends and his illness is regretted by all.

Miss M. A. Smart, of Port Hope, has taken up her residence here. We welcome her to our midst.

Quite an excitement was caused in political circles by the announcement of the resignation of Sir J. J. C. Abbott as Premier and the appointment of Sir John Thompson.

The following are delegates from the Methodist Sunday-school to the County Sunday-school Convention at Peterborough: Misses Carter, Paget, Mrs. (Rev.) Buchanan, and Mr. W. H. Stephenson.

At the usual Friday night concert of the Model School a very interesting debate took place. "Resolved, that United States is justified in her claims in the Behring Sea dispute," was the subject. Messrs. E. Cragg and O. Sharp were on the affirmative side and F. Rutherford W. Torpey on the negative. The affirmative wasdeclared successful.

It is with deep regret that we this week chronicle the death of Mrs. H.W. Fowlds, of Hastings. Married but a year and five months ago, and being young a bright future appeared before her, but death coming suddenly, dispelled the mirage, and left instead a mansion wherein is weeping and loneliness, and saddest of all a baby girl but a few days old, who will never know the protecting ægis of a mother's love. Mrs. Fowlds was daughter to Rev. A. H. Campbell, of Atherly, formerly of Hastings. A most impressive scene was the baptising of the little one. Previous to the funeral obsequies, the baby was brought into the room where shrouded for the grave, lay her dead mother, and there above the casket was performed the baptismal ceremony, by Rev. Mr. Campbell, grandfather of the child. In giving the name, Attie Campbell—that of his departed daughter—the Rev. gentleman's emotion—too strong for human conquering—found vent in tears, which, commingling with the water, christened the motherless infant. Mr. Fowlds has the heartfelt sympathy of the whole community in his deep sorrow. The funeral cortege was very large. Our townsman, Mr. W. E. Roxburgh, is uncle to Mr. Fowlds.—Register.

JUST WHAT YOU ARE LOOKING FOR.

A prominent and popular Toronto physician says: "I know of no other cough remedy in the world that can equal the Harvard Bronchial Syrup for the cure of sore throat and hacking cough. It seems to have very valuable and peculiar properties. It soothes every inflamed membrane, quickly loosens phlegm, stops coughing, and always allows the afflicted one to rest well at night."

Harvard Bronchial Syrup meets with the approbation of every family owing to its good work. The following testimony from Mr. H. J. Beamen, manufacturer of the "Butterfield Spiral Spring Bed," Montreal, is worth reading: "I take great pleasure in testifying to the merits of your Harvard Bronchial Syrup. My family have used it for some time for severe colds and bronchitis, and have never found anything to equal it."

Just the remedy you require at this season of the year. Try one twenty-five cent bottle, and you will never use any other.

A Remarkable Case.

GENTLEMEN,—About five years ago I noticed on my hands a great number of soft, spongy warts, very painful, and which bled when touched. I never witnessed anything like it, and was quite alarmed. We are never without Hagyard's Yellow Oil, and one evening my little girls applied it to each wart. They did this several nights and in the morning the pain and itching were so bad I had to cool my hands with snow, but finally the warts dropped out and I have never been troubled since.

CALIFORNIA CULTURE AND CROPS.

Interesting Letter From a North Monaghan Boy.

A private letter from W. A. Hunter, Sacramento, California, to his brother councillor Thomas Hunter, North Monaghan, after stating that the writer is in good health, goes on to say:—"The farmers are beginning to put in their crop now. It would surprise you to see the way those old Californians put in their crops. They only plow a summer fallow once and then harrow it before and after they put in the grain, and they laugh at the idea of putting manure on it or any thing to add fertility to the soil. The fact of the matter is they have none to put on it, as their stock never require to be fed, and they burn the straw right in the field where they thrash it. But the greatest surprise about the thing is that they very seldom fail to have good crops. Their wheat averages from twenty-five to thirty bushels to the acre and other grains accordingly, and as for fruit, well they can grow fruit here for further orders. Sacramento is the centre of the fruit district. I will just give you a few figures to give you an idea of the fruit industy of this section. Up to September the twenty-fifth there was shipped from Sacramento 3,600 car loads carrying 88,840,000 pounds of fruit to the eastern market, and enough fruit has been shipped since that date to make it 100,000,000 lbs. The railroad charges are $1,25 per 100 lbs to Chicago, and $1.00 from Chicago east, so you see the railroads make about $2,000,000 a season out of the article from this city alone. The price of grain is very low here this season, wheat sells for $1.05 per 100 lbs, barley $1.15, wild oats are 50c per 100 lbs, and tame oats 65c, hay is $10.00 per ton, but other produce brings a fair figure, eggs sell for 40c per dozen, butter 35c lb, spuds $1.35 per 100 lbs, chickens 75c each, turkeys and geese from $2.50 to $5.00 each, and other produce accordingly. You may expect better times over their now as the McKinley Bill will be either repealed or modified under the Cleveland administration as the tariff question was the cause of the Republican defeat.

A Friend

Wishes to speak through the Register of the beneficial results he has received from a regular use of Ayer's Pills. He says: "I was feeling sick and tired and my stomach seemed all out of order. I tried a number of remedies, but none seemed to give me relief until I was induced to try the old reliable Ayer's Pills. I have taken only one box, but I feel like a new man. I think they are the most pleasant and easy to take of anything I ever used, being so finely sugar-coated that even a child will take them. I urge upon all who are of a laxative to try Ayer's Pills."—Boothbay (Me.) Register.

"Between the ages of five and fifteen, I was troubled with a kind of salt-rheum, or eruption, chiefly confined to the legs, and especially to the head of the knee above the calf. Here, running sores formed which would scab over, but would break immediately on moving the leg. My mother tried everything she could think of, but all was without avail. Although a child, I read in the papers about the beneficial effects of Ayer's Pills, and persuaded my mother to let me try them. With no great faith in the result, she procured and I began to use them, and soon noticed an improvement. Encouraged by this, I kept on till I took two boxes, when the sores disappeared and have never troubled me since."—H. Chipman, Real Estate Agent, Roanoke, Va.

"I suffered for years from stomach and kidney troubles, causing very severe pains in various parts of the body. None of the remedies I tried afforded me any relief until I began taking Ayer's Pills, and was cured."—Wm. Goddard, Notary Public, Five Lakes, Mich.

Grand Concert.

On Tuesday evening, Dec. 6th, there will be a grand concert and entertainment held in the Opera House under the auspices of St. Peter's Court, No. 225, Catholic Order of Foresters. A Musical Desideratum.

An important musical invention is the transposing organ made by the Goderich Organ Company, which can be seen at the warerooms of Messrs. Jackson & Co., Aylmer street. A very simple mechanical arrangement permits the performer to transpose into new keys, ranging from a half tone to an octave. Thus a singer with a song above or below his or her compass can have the organ keyboard transposed into the desired key. This is an arrangement which will commend itself to all musicians, and all interested should see this ingenious transposing organ. It is very little more expensive than another organ, and is very much superior in the particular referred to.

A Sermon on "Giving."

Rev. Mr. Goldsmith in St. Paul's church on Sunday preached an excellent sermon on "Giving." He averred that many Christians and church going people thought if they were giving one tenth of their earnings to the Lord they were doing all that was required of them. The preacher said they were simply carrying out the old Mosiac law and paying a debt that was left them. He did not account this giving to the church at all other than the right that all men should pay their debts. The speaker said that all should give over and above the usual one tenth, as the Lord had prospered them in worldly affairs. The Christian should keep a ledger as it were and so know his standing that directed by God he should give according to his conscientious principles and convictions.

The Ball Family Jubilee Singers.

The Ladies' Aid of the Charlotte street Methodist church has been fortunate in securing the services of this talented family for two concerts to be given in the church on Monday and Tuesday evenings, Dec. 12th and 13th. The press in every part of Canada and the United States praise their performances. The Victoria, B. C., Colonist, March 8th, 1892, says:—The Ball Family has changed in composition with the changing years, elder sons and daughters dropping out of the little band to make homes for themselves, their places being taken by the children, whose fresh young voices are not the least popular with those who hear them. The "family" is now represented as follows: Mr. Ball, tenor and guitarist; Mrs. Ball, soprano and pianist; Minnie Ball (13 years) soprano; Edna Ball (11 years) alto; Richard Ball, jr., baritone and guitarist; Charlie Ball (9 years) soprano and tenor; Freddie Ball (7 years) basso. Decision in Mason vs. Peterborough.

The motion of Mr. Edwards, solicitor for Peterborough, re Mason vs. Peterborough was argued before Justices Rose and McMahon in Toronto on Tuesday. Motion was dismissed with costs. Following is the report of the case:

Mason vs. Town of Peterborough.—Edwards (Peterborough) for the defendants, moved for judgment of nonsuit subsequent to disagreement of the jury in an action for damages for injuries to the plaintiff resulting from a fall caused by slipping on a sidewalk in in the town of Peterborough. The plaineiff alleged that the accident was caused by an inequality in the sidewalk, one board sloping from the level to the extent of from three-quarters of an inch to an inch and one half as variously estimated. The defendant contended that such a degree of inequality could not be held sufficient to make them liable for negligence. Dumble (Peterborough) for the plaintiff, contra. Motion dismissed with costs.

Early St. Andrew's Enthusiasm

The Scotchmen of Toronto are evidently taking time by the forelock in working up enthusiasm for "the day." Mr. R. Max. Dennistoun has received from Dr. James Thorburn, president of St. Andrew's Society, the following telegraphic greeting which will be read at the supper to-night:

TORONTO, Nov. 29.

There's foursome reels,
There's hornpipes and strathspeys, mon.

Mr. R. M. Dennistoun wired the following reply (The Toronto Scots celebrate "the day" with a ball, the Peterborough caliants with a supper):

St. Andrew's C. E. Social.

A very successful free social was held in the school room of St. Andrew's church under the auspices of the Society of Christian Endeavour last night. The room was sufficiently well filled to give play to the social element, the occasion was designed to develop. An agreeable programme was introduced by Mr. Chairman R. M. Russell. It consisted of a vocal solo by Mr. Wesley, Miss Ketchum, accompanist; two auto-harp solos by Mr. W. S. Corbin, the latter of which earned him a recall; vocal solo, Miss Harris, Miss McFarlane accompanist; club swinging excellently performed by Misses Clara and Annie Belleghem, Miss Belleghem, accompanist, and a beautifully rendered violin duet, in which Miss Ethel Maud, of Galt took the first violin with excellent effect—free, strong bowing, full tone and judicious expression—and her teacher, Miss Louise Yokome, second violin. A very hearty encore was responded to. The debate on the subject, "Resolved, the Pulpit is more influential than the Press," drew eloquent 5-minute addresses from Messrs. A. Hamilton and R. M. Gray on behalf of the pulpit, and Messrs. W. E. Wesley and W. S. Johnston for the press. The judgment of the audience expressed by an unanimous standing vote, was, of course, in favour of the press. At the conclusion of the programme refreshments were served and a very pleasant hour of social enjoyment passed.

SALE OF LAMPS, AT CHINA HALL!

Nothing like it ever known before in the Town of Peterborough. An opportunity of a life time to procure a beautiful Lamp at LESS THAN HALF PRICE.

On Saturday, November 19th, we will have on exhibition all that we can display at one time—a full car load of 110 cases and casks of the very newest and prettiest Lamps in the markets of the world, bought at 50c. on the dollar and marked at a very slight advance over cost. We will devote both show windows and the whole of one side of China Hall for the display of Samples and what we cannot show there will be on exhibition up stairs—take the elevator.

We never do things by halves and when we assert that this sale is to be an event in the history of China Hall. We intend to carry it out in a way that will meet with your approval and leave a lasting impression on the Lamp trade of Peterborough. Therefore, on Saturday, Nov. 19th, we invite your inspection of these goods. You will probably never have seen so many beautiful Lamps in a single collection before. Nothing but the price would ever have tempted us to buy so many, and we trust to the price to clear them out quickly.

Don't miss the oppertunity of buying a lovely lamp cheaply. Don't miss the opportunity of seeing the designs whether you wish to buy or not.

KEENE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Weddings are of no unusual occurrence in this neighbourhood lately, On Friday evening last Mr. Wm. Redpath, sr., and Mrs. Nelson, widow of the late Hugh Nelson, were made man and wife at the Methodist parsonage by the Rev. Mr. Howard. We wish the happy couple the usual congratulations.

Revival services commenced in the Methodist church here Sunday last and will be continued (D.V.) every evening during the week. Rev. Mr. McCall, of Havelock, has kindly consented to assist in the services. It is hoped that much good will result from these meetings.

The young people of Keene are taking an active and earnest interest in Christian Endeavour work. A society in connection with the Presbyterian as well as the Methodist church has been organized. It is a pleasure to report that both societies are in a prosperous condition.

The face of the earth is again clothed in a mantle of the beautiful, and pleasure-seekers are in an ecstacy of delight over the anticipation of enjoying a sleigh ride as soon as the storm abates.

On Saturday morning last a young lady of this neighborhood wended her way to the Keene station with the intention of riding to Peterborough on Staunton's train, but was rather disappointed on reaching the station to learn that the train had left some time before. After a few moments' consideration she made the remark that she owned a pair of feet that never yet went back on her, and pluckily struck out in the direction of town, and we are informed reached the end of her journey about 10.30 looking fresh. I presume that some of our young men are not possessed of such perseverence and pluck as is this young lady.

At a business meeting held on Friday evening last of the teachers and officers of the Methodist Sunday school of this place, it was unanimously decided that a entertainment of a missionary character in connection with a Christmas tree be held in the church on Christmas Eve. There will be no admission fee but all are at liberty to give free will offerings for missionary purposes.

The smallest "cat-boil" is large enough to show that the blood needs purifying—a warning which, if unheeded, may result, not in more boils, but in something very much worse. Avert the danger in time by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Cured others, will cure you.

The Lack Of Snow

Don't disturb our business one whit. Our measure book keeps piling up the orders for Suits and Overcoats just the same as if the snow was mountains high. Our customers, like sensible fellows, are looking ahead. The cold wave is coming and they know it, and they ain't going to wait until both lungs are frozen before they order warm winter clothing.

Take Pete's advice, you fellows that are waiting until it gets as cold as Greenland, and leave your measure on the spot. He can make you a Suit or Overcoat in 10 hours if you like. "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

STORED GRAIN INSECTS.

Description and Remedies For the Destructive Trogosita Mauritanica.

Mrs. H. H. E., Hicksville, O., asks: I find our wheat of 1891 and also this year's, in the bins is destroyed by a small white worm. Can it be got rid of and wheat made fit to market?

The worms sent are the larvæ of a beetle, says the Orange Judd Farmer, but not the grain weevil which is a much smaller species. This one is known in the old world as the Cadelle, but it has not been so common in this country as a wheat pest, as to have received any common name so far as I know. Its scientific name is Trogosita mauritanica and it is known to occur in stored grain as well as in flour, the world over. Curtis in speaking of it in Farm Insects says: "The larvæ are called Cadelle in the south of France, and are particularly destructive for the reason that they eat the outside of the grain, and, passing from one to another, injure as much or more than they consume. The greatest mischief is done at the end of winter when they are full grown, and are about 8 lines long and 1 line broad (a line is one-twelfth of an inch); the body is whitish, composed of twelve segments, distinct enough and rough, with scattered hairs; the head is hard, scaly, black and furnished with curved, sharp, horny jaws; the three thoracic segments of the body each bear a pair of short, scaly legs, and a pair of rather obscure spots; the anal segment is also terminated by two very horny hooks."

STORED GRAIN INSECTS.

(In the illustration, Fig. 5 is a black weevil: a, larva; b, beetle. Fig. 6, Red Grain beetle: a, larva; b, pupa; c, beetle. Fig. 7, Silvanus surinamensis. Fig. 8, Tribolum ferrugineum. These insects can be treated according to the direction of Prof. Osborn.)

The adult insect of this species is a beetle a little more than a fourth of an inch in length, rather flat, and of a pitchy brown or chestnut color. The beetles also occur in grain and are said to feed, like its larvæ, on stored grain. It has been stated of late that the larvæ are carnivorous and feed upon other insects that occur in the grain, but so far as I am aware, this point has not been proved, and as they are so often observed where no other insects are present it would seem doubtful whether they could have had insect food upon which to subsist, though of course it could be said that the other insects had been destroyed by them. Curtis states that the beetle is carnivorous and feeds upon Tinea, while Riley says that the adult feeds upon grain. In closed bins and granaries the most satisfactory remedy is the use of bisulphide of carbon.

This must be applied with the bins or rooms as tightly closed as possible, so as to retain the fumes. The bisulphide may be simply placed on the top of the wheat, for the fumes are heavier than air and will spread down through the mass and kill the insects. One or two pounds to a ton of grain is sufficient, depending on the size of bin and the tightness of cracks. The bisulphide comes in liquid form and may be secured at 10 cents per pound. In small quantities at local drug stores the price is higher. It is extremely inflammable, and no opportunity for the fumes to come in contact with fire should be allowed under any circumstance.

To Clean Point Lace.

Real point lace must, on no account, be ironed; it should be pinned on a board covered with flannel, while still quite wet. Use plenty of pins, choosing very small ones for fine lace, and taking great care to keep the pattern true and even, pinning every part of it out separately. If the lace dries before the process is finished, dampen it with a sponge. For lengths of lace edgings or trimmings, a wooden cylinder should be employed, and the lace pinned around it, keeping the bulk of it folded up in a damp cloth, and uncovering it gradually, as required. Allow the lace to dry thoroughly before taking it off the board.

Machine-made lace may be pulled out with the fingers, pressed with an iron while still damp, pulled again crosswise, and ironed.

ROTHSCHILD'S SILVER PROPOSALS.

His Proposals Are to still Further Increase the Value of the Metal.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 29.—Alfred [illegible] child, one of the British [illegible] mitted his proposals to the Monetary Conference yesterday afternoon. He covered 11 printed octavo pages.

Mr. de Rothschild argues at great length that bi-metallism in Great Britain is absolutely impossible, and suggests that the question arises whether it is not possible to extend the use of silver generally and by this means assist in checking a further fall in value.

Mr. de Rothschild said he did not claim that his proposals would prove a final solution of the question, but he did claim that they would prove a palliative.

The European powers should combine to buy an amount equal to £5,000,000 sterling yearly for 5 years at 43d. If silver should rise above that price the purchases are to be immediately suspended.

The proposals will be referred to a committee.

The Portuguese delegates have been instructed by their Government to act in harmony with the British representatives. It is stated Mr. de Rothschild proposes to raise the legal tender of silver in England from £2 to £5. Great importance attaches to this proposal, as it means that English £5 notes will be payable in silver.

The document submitted by Alfred de Rothschild recalls the fact that the Bank of England in 1886 obtained the opinions of the directors on the subject of bi-metallism and he himself then gave an opinion which was published in report of Royal Commission.

"I refer thereto," he says, "in order to remind you that the question was seriously discussed not many years ago, and I felt strongly on the subject then.

"I have no reason to regret or modify my views. I have since felt that a gold standard in England is an only possible one, and if we consider that her whole commerce and a great part of that of other countries is carried on by bills of exchange on London, which are naturally payable in gold, it must be admitted the world generally transacts business on a gold basis, and that a double standard, with the exception of a very modified form, does not exist even in those countries professing to pay in either metal.

"Whatever international agreement should be made and whatever ratio should be established, gold alone will always be chosen as the favorite medium of settling large debts or making large remittances. It would be impossible to remit large sums of silver abroad, owing to the bulk. Gold would be sent even if it had to be bought at a premium.

"Apart from other considerations it seems to me that a universal arrangement of the currency question is impossible. As the wealth, resources and expenditures of no two counties are alike; it would be impossible to carry on the trade of the world on a sound stable basis if the debtor was allowed the option of paying in whichever currency suited him.

"Although I hope that I have shown that bi-metallism is impossible in England, the question arises whether or not it is possible to extend the use of silver, thereby stopping a further fall and its disastrous consequences, whereof it is impossible to foresee. I therefore submit the proposal, not as an absolute lasting remedy, but as a palliation."

Balanced Fertilizers.

There is such a thing as balancing fertilizers as well as food ration. A fertilizer applied may appear to have no value, and even appear to diminish the crop, when the fault is in the absence of some other material which the soil needs. We have a striking illustration of this in an experiment made at the Ohio station. It showed that superphosphate and potash, used singly or in combination with each other, had no effect on corn, unless it were to diminish the yield, until combined with nitrate of soda. When nitrate of soda was used alone the value of the increase was less than the cost of the fertilizer. When nitrate was combined with either superphosphate or potash the value of the increase was practically equal to the cost of the fertilizer. But when the three materials were combined with each other there was a profit in the transaction, notwithstanding the fact that the cost of the fertilizers was nearly doubled. It therefore stands farmers in hand to carefully experiment with commercial fertilizers before going extensively into their application. It is also found that different results are obtained not only on different soils, but on the same soils in different seasons. What may be beneficial in one case may be a total loss in others. The foundation principles are what the farmer must ascertain before he can be said to really apply fertilizers intelligently.—Mirror and Farmer.

The Philosophy of the Cow's Udder.

A good deal is said now-a-days about the secretion and drawing of milk from the cow's udder. An English paper, the Farmer's Record has the following: A cow carries her milk from one milking to the next, held firmly in little reservoirs distributed all through the udder. The valves which open and close the passages from these reservoirs to the teats are under the control of the will, but like the muscles which close the neck of the bladder, they are naturally and constantly kept closed, and are only relaxed by a special effort of the will. At milking time these valves, by a relaxation of the cords which control them, are opened and the milk let down in a flood into the teats. This relaxation does not last long. After a little the special effort to hold open the valves ceases, and they instinctively close again, shutting off the flow from the reservoirs and retaining in them any milk which may not have passed out. The habit of not "giving down" consists in shortening the time of this relaxation, thus stopping the flow from the reservoirs to the teats before the milk is all drawn. The circumstances which tend to make a cow shorten this period of relaxation are rough treatment, fear, grief, solicitude, loud noises—in short, anything which attracts attention and makes the cow uneasy. The things inducing prolonged relaxation are comfort and quietude, and freedom from disturbance and excitement, together with the relief which the flow of milk occasions. When a cow has from any cause acquired the habit of shortening the time of "letting down" it is very difficult, and sometimes impossible, to overcome it. The best way is to avoid all occasions of disturbance, and observe well those which promote pleasure for the cow, and to milk as rapidly as possible, consistent with comfort, with a view to getting the milk out before the "letting down" ceases. Milking rapidly does not mean jerking down sharply, or moving with hasty or irregular motions in the presence of the cow. Such a course would counteract the very thing aimed at. The motion of the milker should not be such as to attract suspicion. They should be deliberate and cool, but nothing should be allowed to interrupt or retard the work. This will produce constant relief to the udder. The milker should bear constantly in mind the fact that the "letting down" is short and that every moment should be used to the best advantage. When the milking ceases to flow the milking should stop at once, whether it is all out or not. There is no good hanging on after the milk stops coming, as it only cultivates the habit of "holding back." There is nothing here to object to in practice.

A Permanent Label.

The label herewith illustrated is one that will last for years and not be destroyed. It is now used in the botanic gardens in Washington and many other places. It is made of a piece of zinc 2½ x 1½ inches, to the back of which are soldered two wire legs of any required length. The label is first painted white with the best white lead and linseed oil and allowed to become thoroughly dry. Then paint with ivory or drop black, mixing it with a small quantity of coach varnish. While it is still fresh write on it with the back of a broad-pointed steel pen, which will leave the name in white letters. The label might be used on trees by fastening the wire loosely around a limb. Better still is to cut the zinc 10 inches long and roll one end around the limb.

Wintering Bees in the Cellar.

Not every cellar is a safe repository for bees; it should be warm and well ventilated, the thermometer indicating between forty and forty-five degrees. Some bee-keepers claim that bee cellars do not need ventilation. Why not? Bees breathe and throw off moisture and impurities, the same as man. The first bee-cellar I ever saw, was at the foot of the Green mountains in Vermont, while visiting an aged bee-keeper residing there. In answer to my query, as to how he kept his hives so new and fresh, he said, "my bees are only out of doors when honey is to be gathered. I keep them in the cellar until summer returns. When the honey season is past I return them to the cellar." He showed me where he kept his hives, saying: "This cellar has been built one hundred years. It is walled with stone and does not freeze. That hole there above the wall, which looks like a square stove pipe, is a ventilator which I can open and close at pleasure. This box is for holding ice, if the bees get too warm, but I've never used it. They always winter well, and appear stronger in spring than in autumn. Some of my neighbors set their bees out during a warm time in March and when I took my bees out, theirs were all dead." As I had lost in previous winter and spring 96 colonies of bees I was converted to cellar wintering, after seeing how this man wintered without loss and saw his bees filling up the honey.—Orange Judd Farmer.

A Useful Device.

A bag holder is a very convenient article for any farmer and here is a cheap one. It is easily made and will pay any farmer to use who handles bags. Take a 1½ or 2-inch plank, 10 inches broad and 18 inches long. Bore four ¾ or 1-inch holes 1½ inches from the corners and at an angle so the stakes will be 2 inches further apart at the top than at the bottom. Put in four hardwood stakes and cut them off the length of the bags. The top of the bag folds over the ends of the stakes as shown in the cut. —Caleb Roach, in N. E. Homestead.

A Neglected Cold in the Head

leads to catarrh, perhaps consumption and death. Why neglect with such a safe, speedy remedy as Nasal Balm at hand? D. Derbyshire, president of the Ontario Creamery Association, says:—Nasal Balm beats the world for catarrh and cold in the head. In my own case it effected relief from the first application. All dealers, or by mail, postpaid, at 50c. small, and $1 large size bottle. Address G. T. Fulford & Co., Brockville, Ont.

"It Cured Mother."

GENTLEMEN,—My mother was suffering from dyspepsia and no appetite. Everything failed to cure her until one day, while visiting a friend's house, I saw a bottle of B. B. B. on the table; on inquiring what they used it for, I soon found out what it cured, and when I went home told mother that she should try it; she said she had no faith in anything and objected to try it. Notwithstanding her objection I went in the evening and brought home a bottle but it was in the house for a week before we could induce her to take it. At last, as she was getting worse all the time she consented to try it, and on taking half the bottle found it was curing her. Another bottle cured her, and we believe, saved her life. We are never without B. B. B. now. It is such a good remedy for headache as well.

THE CAUSE FOR INCREASE IN SMUGGLING.

The Secretary of the United States Treasury Is Advised That the Increase of Smuggling Is Due to the Tariff Act of 1890.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Supervising Special Agent Tingle reports to the Secretary of the Treasury that the smuggling of dutiable merchandise upon the Canadian and Mexican frontiers has largely increased since the passage of the Tariff Act of 1890.

Public sentiment on the Mexican border is hostile to the enforcement of the revenue laws and customs officials find extreme difficulty in performing their duties.

SIR JOHN'S MEMORIAL.

Who Were Present at the Ceremony in St. Paul's Cathedral.

LONDON, Nov. 19.—The Times publishes the following in reference to the unveiling of the memorial to the late Sir John Macdonald in the crypt of St. Paul's:

An event of much interest to the colonies and the Mother Country took place yesterday morning in the crypt of St. Paul's. The Earl of Rosebery, Secretary for Foreign Affairs, unveiled a bust erected to the memory of the late Sir John Macdonald, Premier of Canada, whose loyalty to his native land throughout his long public career, no less than his eminent abilities and his achievements as a statesman, called forth the admiration of his countrymen. Very shortly after his death, therefore, a memorial committee was formed to give practical and permanent expression to that feeling, and it was resolved, with the permission of the Dean and Chapter, to erect a memorial bust of the distinguished statesman in the crypt of the national cathedral. The movement was initiated by the Imperial Federation League, though by no means confined to it, for a large number of persons not connected with the league contributed to the fund. The bust, which is of white marble, is erected in the south aisle of the crypt chapel, and represents the Premier in the uniform of a Privy Councillor, with the star of a Grand Commander of the Bath on the breast and the chain of the order over the shoulders. It is the work of a Canadian sculptor, Mr. George Wade, and was selected after an open competition. On the pedestal is the following inscription: "The Right Hon. Sir John Alexander Macdonald, P.C., G.C.B., D.C.L., for 19 years Premier of the Dominion of Canada. Born 1815, died 1891. 'A British subject I was born; a British subject I will die.'"

There was a very large attendance of ladies and gentlemen, among those present being the Earl of Rosebery, Dean Gregory, the Marquis of Ripon, Lord Brassey, Mr. Stanhope, M.P.; Sir John Colomb, Mr. R. Meade, C.B., Permanent Under-Secretary for the Colonies; Sir G. Baden-Powell, M.P.; Sir R. Herbert, Archdeacon Sinclair, Canon Browne, Canon Newbolt, Mr. J. Bramston, C.B.; Mr. Staveley Hill, M.P.; Sir John Abbott, Premier of Canada; Hon. G. Foster, Finance Minister of Canada; Sir J. Cox Bray, Agent-General for South Australia; Sir C. Mills, Agent-General for the Cape of Good Hope; Hon. C. H. Tupper, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, Canada; Sir Bevan Edwards, Sir W. Farrer, Sir Andrew Clarke, Sir J. Simon, Sir W. Frazer, Mr. Kimber, M.P.; Colonel Howard Vincent, M.P.; Hon. H. Holbrook, British Columbia; Sir A. Jephson, Sir Donald Maclean, Toronto; Sir Donald Smith and Mr. P. Redpath, Montreal; Mr. R. Dobell, Quebec; Mr. W. P. Percival, Agent-General for New Zealand; Mr. J. G. Colmer, Secretary of the High Commissioner for Canada; Mr. J. S. O'Halloran, secretary Royal Colonial Institute; Sir E. N. C. Braddon, Agent-General for Tasmania; Sir F. Young and Sir H Doulton. A telegram was received from the Earl of Aberdeen expressing regret that an engagement in Scotland prevented him from being present.

The Earl of Rosebery said: My lords, ladies and gentlemen, it gives me great pleasure to come here to-day to unveil this bust. We are gradually collecting within this cathedral the Lares and the Penates—the household gods—of our commonwealth. Up above there sleep Wellington and Nelson, those lords of war who preserved the Empire; below here we have the effigies of Bailey and Macdonald, who did so much to preserve it. We have not, indeed, their bodies. They rest more fitly in the regions where they lived and labored; but here to-day we consecrate their memory and their example. We know nothing of party politics in Canada on this occasion. We only recognize this—that Sir John Macdonald had grasped the central idea that the British Empire is the greatest secular agency for good now known to mankind; that that was the secret of his success, and that he determined to die under it and strove that Canada should live under it. It is a custom, I have heard, in the German army that when new colors are presented to a regiment, the German Emperor first, and then his princes and chiefs in their order, each drive a nail into the staff. I have sometimes been reminded of this practice in connection with the banner of our Empire. Elizabeth and her heroes first drove their nails in, and so onward through the expansive 18th century, when our flag flashed everywhere, down to our own times, when we have not quailed or shrunk. Yesterday it wrapped the corpse of Tennyson; to-day we drive one more nail in on behalf of Sir John Macdonald. This standard so richly studded imposes on us, the survivors, a solemn obligation. It would be nothing were it the mere symbol of violence and rapine, or even of conquest. It is what it is, because it represents everywhere peace and civilization and commerce, the negation of narrowness and the gospel of humanity. [illegible] them to-day, by the shrine of this signal statesman, once more remember our responsibility and renew the resolution that, come what may, we will not flinch under it.

Lord Rosebery then formally unveiled the bust, and it was unanimously admitted that the features were an excellent likeness of the deceased statesman.

It may be mentioned that on the other side of the same aisle of the crypt is the bust of the late Lord Mayo, and that just in front of the Macdonald memorial is the tomb of Robert Milne, an architect of Edinburgh, who designed the Blackfriars bridge.

Duty on Mother of Pearl.

BOSTON, Nov. 30.—The importers of mother of pearl have begun proceedings to test the section of the McKinley bill which imposes a duty of 40 p.c. ad valorem on "articles cut, ground, sawed or manufactured."

The article in question is sawed from the shell, but the importers contend that it does not come within the clause as cut, sawed or manufactured, and that the duty should be but 10 p.c. ad valorem.

MACON, Ga., Nov. 30.—Willie Bell, a negro boy aged 15, was hanged here to-day for the murder of Bailiff Benjamin Wild on May 26.

Made a New Schedule.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Nov. 30.—The Executive Board of the Order of Railway Telegraphers of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific system concluded a two weeks' session here and left yesterday for Chicago with a new schedule, which the railroad company will be asked to accept.

If they refuse, a general strike of the Order of Railway Telegraphers on the system will undoubtedly follow. Ninety-five per cent. of the operators on the system belong to the order.

Horsewhipped in the Street.

INDEPENDENCE, Mo., Nov. 30.—Prof. T. A. Volrath, a musician of this city, was horsewhipped on the streets to-day by Mrs. Mary Wasson, the wife of an optician, whom he is alleged to have slandered.

Volrath's wife assisted his assailant by throwing her husband to the pavement and holding him there while Mrs. Wasson vigorously applied the lash. Warrants are issued for the women's arrest.

SCROFULA 12 YEARS

Always Sore. Burned Like Fire. Ashamed to be Seen. Got Worse Under Four Doctors. Cured by Cuticura.

For about ten or twelve years I have been troubled with scrofula. My head was always sore, my face was dry and scaly, and burned like fire most of the time. My body had big red spots on it, and I did not know what to do. I went to four different doctors and they helped me at first. In the fall I got worse again; then I tried other remedies, but they did me no good. I was ashamed to go into public. I was a sight to look at. Every one would say, "What is the matter, why don't you take something?" Even at my daily labor I had to wear a sort of cap to keep the dirt from getting into the sores. After I would wash, I would be covered with big red pimples all over my neck and face. Some two or three people advised me to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES. I did try them, and am glad I have done so. Glad to say I am a well man, and in the best of health since. I cannot praise the CUTICURA REMEDIES too highly. I enclose my portrait.

DRIVEN TO THEIR DEATH.

A Locomotive Runs in Its Pilot Three Persons and Mangled Bodies.

ELMIRA, N.Y. Dec. 1.—One of the most terrible railroad crossing accidents that has occurred here in years took place at the Pennsylvania-avenue crossing of the Erie in the fifth ward at 11.05 last night.

Five persons were returning to their home in the town of Southport from the city in a wagon.

They were William Conklin and wife, Edward Blanchard and wife and Mrs. Maggie Pitts.

The crossing is a dangerous one. No one knows just how the accident occurred, but the wagon was struck by Erie vestibuled train No. 5, running at a high rate of speed.

The engineer says he did not know he had struck anything, and the first known of the accident by the trainmen was when the train halted at the station, nearly a half-mile from the crossing. As it drew into the station the locomotive bore in its pilot the ghastly burden of three crushed and mangled bodies.

They were those of Mr. and Mrs. Blanchard and Mrs. Conklin. The wagon was scattered along in bits, some of it dropping off at Water-street crossing on the north side of the Chemung River.

The body of Mrs. Pitts and the mangled form of William Conklin, still alive, were picked up about 100 yards from the crossing. Mr. Conklin was at once taken to the hospital. The extent of his injuries are as yet unknown.

All of the killed had their heads crushed.

LIZZIE ACTS LUNEY.

The Borden Case Requires the Work of Experts in Insanity.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Dec. 1.—Much to the surprise of the community the grand jury investigating the Borden murder case suddenly adjourned on Nov. 21 to come in again on Dec. 1.

The Mercury yesterday stated on the best of authority that the true reason for this hasty adjournment is that Attorney-General Gillsburg believes that Lizzie Borden is insane.

During the recess an examination has been made in regard to Miss Borden's sanity, and when the grand jury comes in again it will listen to the testimony of experts upon this question.

UNTRUE TO HIS TRUST.

He Allowed Sneak Thieves to Raid the Village of Niagara Falls.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Dec. 1.—Burglars were on the warpath here last night. Several places were entered, although a nightwatchman patrolled the streets.

Amongst the several places burglarized was Pow & Paw's meat market, where some $50 worth of smoked meats were stolen and carted off from the front door on a principal street.

Ald. Davis' photo gallery was entered. Several clothes lines were stripped. Thieves unknown.

BRITISH MAILS.

Despatched by the Trans-Canadian Route to and From the Orient.

HALIFAX, Dec. 1.—The first English mail from China and Japan via Vancouver arrived at the postoffice here last night and will be despatched by the steamer Labrador Saturday to its destination.

The first mail from England for China and Japan is expected here by steamer due Saturday and will be despatched Monday to make connection with the C.P.R. steamer leaving Vancouver Dec. 12 for the East.

BURNED THE MOTHER.

And the Daughter was Rescued in the Nick of Time.

TRENTON, Ont., Dec. 1.—A fire broke out about 3 o'clock yesterday morning in the block occupied by C. B. Taylor, grocer.

The dwelling above the store was occupied by a Mrs. Raine and her daughter, who were asleep when the fire broke out; and who were caught in the burning building.

Assistance came, but the daughter was the only one rescued, the mother's dead body being found after the fire had been got under control.

Incendiaries in Sandwich.

WINDSOR, Ont., Dec. 1.—The inhabitants of Sandwich are again in terror through the workings of firebugs who seem determined to wipe the place out of existence. The last one to suffer is Constable Masters. Early yesterday morning his barn, together with its entire contents, including a horse, buggy and cutter, was destroyed. Loss, about $700; partly insured. It is stated on good authority that the insurance companies will cancel all risks in the town.

Telegraphers Satisfied.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1—The Jersey Central Committee of Telegraphers had a second day's conference with the management of the road at President Maxwell's office to-day. D. A. Gearhart, chairman of the committee, declined to say what the result was, except matters had been satisfactorily adjusted.

Foxhall Keen to Marry.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Foxhall Keen announced his engagement to Mrs. Frank Worth White.

He said he would be married on Dec. 14, and sail the same day for England, where he has taken a house at Melton for the winter.

Too Much on His Brain.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 1.—B. F. Rynd, the Allegheny lumber merchant who recently failed for over $100,000 and who is charged with having committed forgeries aggregating nearly $50,000, is confined in an eastern asylum suffering from a probably incurable case of paresis.

OTTAWA TONGUES WAG.

BUT THE POLITICAL SITUATION IS NOT CHANGED.

A Slight Ripple On the Political Sea Caused By Rumors of De Boucherville's Objection to Chapleau as Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec.

OTTAWA, Dec. 1.—A slight ripple on the political sea was caused yesterday by rumors that Hon. Mr. De Boucherville has raised serious objection to the appointment of Hon. Mr. Chapleau to the Lieutenant-Governorship of Quebec, and that he has written to Sir John Thompson threatening to resign if the appointment is made.

Of course no denial of or confirmation of the rumor can be obtained from the parties most interested, but the statement that Chapleau and De Boucherville do not pull well together is not new, and it has always been understood that Chapleau's appointment to the Lieutenant-Governorship would not please De Boucherville.

Last night the talk about the Russell House is that Chapleau will not go to Quebec at all, but will remain in the Cabinet at least until after next session. Indeed, the talk last night was that beyond filling the vacancy in the Quebec representation caused by the retirement of Sir John Abbott, there will be no change whatever in the personnel of the Cabinet until after next session.

The leadership in the Senate is being provided for by the transference of Hon. M. Bowell to the red chamber.

A prominent Quebec politician, who came up from Montreal last night, says that it is nonsense to talk of Angers entering the ministry and taking a seat in the Commons, in the event of Mr. Chapleau going to Spencerwood, as the Liberals have sworn with a big, big D that he shall not be elected for any seat in that province, no matter how much it costs to elevate the standard of purity and put down bribery and corruption.

The irrepressible J. Israel Tarte said yesterday that, no matter what constituency Angers ran in, he would be opposed, and that he, as the immaculate J. Israel, could raise $10,000 in 10 minutes and $100,000 in a week to defeat him.

If Angers enters the Ministry at all he will probably enter the Senate and lead that body, but there is a strong probability that he will not enter the Ministry at present.

R. S. White, M.P., and Senator Drummond arrived here at noon yesterday from Montreal, had an interview with Sir John Thompson and left again for Montreal by the 4 o'clock train. This set the tongues of the quidnuncs wagging and a rumor was started that the Quebec difficulty may be settled by Senator Drummond taking a portfolio as Protestant representative from Quebec and assuming the lead in the Senate.

Deputy-Speaker Bergeron came up from Montreal this evening, but declined to talk about the situation.

Half a dozen rumors of various kinds was afloat yesterday, and indeed more people seem to have been at work cabinet-making to-day than on any day since Sir John Abbott's resignation was received, and about the only man who gives no sign of being in the business is Sir John Thompson, who keeps at work in his department, submits patiently to the interviews of newspaper correspondents, and tells them nothing with great suavity and a pleasant smile which breaks some of the searchers after knowledge all up.

Hon. T. M. Daly arrived from Winnipeg yesterday and carefully took his broken ankle to bed in the Russell House, where a newspaper representative found him last night enjoying a pipe and a chat with Dr. Ferguson, M.P. The Hon. Tom looks not one whit the worse for his accident and hopes to be at the Department of the Interior to-day, although he will have to use crutches for some time yet. Both the small bones of the ankle were broken, and the break is still enclosed in plaster, but he expects that will be taken off to-day. Of course, like all the other ministers, he declines to talk politics, but is very pronounced in his expression of satisfaction with the manner in which he was received in the Northwest.

Mrs. Daly did not come through with him, but stopped off at Stratford for a few days.

A SILENCED BATON.

Bandmaster Carey, Sr., Will No Longer Wield It—He Was Out on Sunday

TORONTO, Dec. 1.—William Carey, master of the 14th batt. band, Kingston, for the past 12 years, died at his residence in that city yesterday, from congestion of the brain. Deceased was up and out for a walk on Sunday, but in the evening complained of a headache, a thing he never had before. The bursting of a small blood vessel was the signal of death. Deceased was unconscious during the greater part of his sickness. Deceased was born in Portsmouth and was 61 years old.

The deceased was the son of the bandmaster of the 1st Royal Dragoons, England. His grandfather was the leader of the 28th and 8th regimental bands. The dominant characteristics of the fathers descended to the son. The deceased wandered over Europe with the regiment his father was attached to, and in 1837 came to Chambly, Que. In 1843 young Carey joined the Royal Horse Guards, and as one of the household cavalry did duty to Her Majesty. In 1855 he was bandmaster of the 9th Regiment at Winchester, and was through the Crimean war. His band played before the Sultan at the memorable parade of all the forces. The bands led by his father, his brother and himself played at the burial of Lord Raglan. In 1856 Mr. Carey came to Canada and in 1859 attached himself to the Royal Canadian Rifles, remaining with it until 1870. He accepted the bandmastership of Prince Consort's Own Rifle Brigade, England, and in 1874 took charge of the G.T.R. Band, Toronto. He reorganized the Queen's Own Band, and in 1880 came to Kingston, and has since been bandmaster of the 14th Battalion. Mr. Carey played before Her Majesty, and was complimented for his work. Mr. Carey was known as a skilful musician, and some of the best bandsmen in Canada passed through his hands. He was of large stature, with pleasant rotund face and a whitish mustache and goatee. He was a very genial man.

MONTREAL, Dec. 1.—George McRae, Q.C., chief solicitor in Montreal for the Grand Trunk Railway, died yesterday aged 70. MINDYERBY'S UNCLESAM

THE UNITED STATES FEARS CANADA'S AGGRANDISEMENT.

Admiral Seymour of the British Navy Said to Have Been Sent to Niagara Falls to Arrange a Vantage Point Line for War Purposes.

BUFFALO, N.Y., Dec. 1.—A Lewiston, N.Y., special to The News says:

An important piece of inside news has been privately received here regarding the Canadian Pacific Railway's new branch on the Canadian side of the Niagara River.

Last summer Admiral Seymour of the British Navy visited Lewiston, travelling over the New York Central in an observation car.

During the trip he carefully examined the Canadian side through a [illegible] making remarks about the [illegible] route.

It has now transpired that Admiral Seymour is one of a commission appointed by the British Government to report on the feasibility of the C.P.R. route as a military highway for British sailors, mariners and soldiers.

The report will be presented next month and will be in favor of the C.P.R.

Toronto military men consider the Niagara branch very important for war purposes.

MAINTAINING RATES.

Railroad Men Working Strenuously Against Reduction of Revenue.

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—A meeting of the presidents and general managers of the railroads in the territory of the Central Traffic Association has been held for the purpose of taking action in conformity with that of the Trunk Line Association in New York two weeks ago. There was a full attendance and the utmost harmony prevailed.

A resolution was adopted providing for a complete restoration of all eastbound rates to the last agreed tariff basis, to take effect to-morrow, Dec. 1.

It was decided to recommend that the officers of the joint committee shall hereafter be three in number instead of two, that Aldace F. Walker shall be chairman, J. F. Goddard, eastern vice-chairman, and George R. Blanchard, western vice-chairman, and that these three shall constitute a board to deal with all questions to be arbitrated.

When the question of pooling came up, a resolution was adopted recommending that the three officers of the joint committee be commissioned to represent to the Interstate Commerce Commission and to Congress the defects of the present law and remedies suggested.

One of the remedies, in the judgment of meeting, should be a restoration of right to pool, under such restrictions as might be deemed advisable for the proper protection of the public.

One of the most important actions taken by the meeting was the adoption of a resolution providing for an absolute maintenance of passenger rates and pledging all the roads to pay no commissions on passenger business after this date. This, however, does not prohibit their agents from receiving commissions from other roads.

The action of the New York meeting regarding World's Fair rates was ratified.

WORSE THAN CURFEW.

A Convent Bell That Refuses to Be Silent.

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 1—For a week there has been great trepidation among the sisters of Notre Dame, who occupy a picturesque convent adjoining St. Ann's Church in the York-road, because of the mysterious ringing of the bell at all hours of the day and night.

It kept ringing all night and deprived the sisters of sleep. It was heard in the church during high mass on Sunday, and the sexton cut the wire, but the bell rang all the louder. Then the wire was entirely detached from the bell, and it made still more noise.

"Take it down," was the next order. The bell was removed and was hung up for two days in Father Bartlett's house, but did not ring there. It was then replaced in the convent, whereupon it began to ring again violently. The bell was taken down and put up in a different manner. It kept on ringing and nobody could stop it.

It rang so violently that the spiral steel spring was stretched straight out and the bell oscillated with such force that it beat against the ceiling. Sexton Helmcamp now places it in position every morning and removes it at night.

Spain Will Send a Lonja.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—A cable message received here brings the news that Spain will be represented at the World's Fair in a manner proper for the nation which made possible the discovery of America.

The Government of Spain will erect on the World's Fair Grounds a reproduction of the famous Lonja at Valencia, said to be the finest specimen of pure Spanish architecture in existence.

The Government has decided to appropriate $200,000 for its exhibit at the World's Fair, instead of $150,000 as proposed about 10 days ago.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Chauncey Morlan and Annie Bell were married yesterday in a 14th-street museum, in the presence of a large crowd.

Both are fairly good looking. The Episcopal marriage ceremony was performed.

Firing the Furnaces.

READING, Pa., Dec. 1.—The large furnace at Emaus, after a long idleness, is being put in readiness for resumption this week, and No. 2 furnace of the Brooke Iron Company at Birdsboro, after an idleness of some time, will resume by Jan. 1. Wanner's forge, near St. Peters, Pa., which has been idle six months resumed operations to-day with large orders on hand.

An Official Slummer.

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—H. W. Spofford of Washington, D.C., who has been appointed by Congress to investigate the slums of all the cities in the United States having a population of over 200,000, started out to-day with Police Inspector Ross to commence a preliminary investigation of the slums of Chicago.

A large number of sweating shops and tenement houses were visited. This investigation is but a preliminary one in order to give Mr. Spofford an idea of how many assistants he will need.

The real investigation will not commence until January. New York will be the first city looked into.

The Deacons Still At It.

PARIS, Dec. 1.—A representative of the Associated Press yesterday had an interview with Mrs. Deacon in regard to the threat made by her husband that if his wife's appeal at Aix was delayed he would sue for a divorce in New York.

Deacon made no reference to his wife's relations with Abeille as affording grounds for the granting of a divorce in New York, but declared he would name as co-respondents Prince Lomex Cotte Rochefoucauld and Leon Renault.

Mrs. Deacon declared that this was the first time she had heard these names connected with hers. She added: "My acquaintance with the gentlemen mentioned is most formal. I know their wives slightly, but the husbands have never been in my house. This is, also, only another instance of Mr. Deacon's infamy."

A Remarkable Case.

GENTLEMEN,—About five years ago I noticed on my hands a great number of soft, spongy warts, very painful, and which bled when touched. I never witnessed anything like it, and was quite alarmed. We are never without Hagyard's Yellow Oil, and one evening my little girls applied it to each wart. They did this several nights and in the morning the pain and itching were so bad I had to cool my hands with snow, but finally the warts dropped out and I have never been troubled since.

GRASPING, AVARICIOUS CAPITALISTS

ARE WHAT OUR COMPETITORS CALL US.

Grasping, because we want the Trade of the Earth! Avaricious, because we hang on to the Almighty Dollar! Capitalists, because we have the Money to Tear them to Pieces in the Wholesale Markets!

WELL, you can see what it amounts to. Success ever brings envy and distrust. If we were only half so successful, we would be feared only half as much as we are.

Our push and principle alarm our competitors. Our business grip makes them wince. Our big sales excite their envy. Our popularity is what they cannot block and must put up with.

Talk of big stocks. Shout of immense piles of goods. GOUGH BROS. know about what big stocks mean. Throughout Ontario, in the best towns, GOUGH BROS. have Clothing Stores. It is a notorious fact that they do the trade of the town. They buy cheaper, carry more Goods than all competitors combined.

A PISTOL BESIDE HER.

She Went South For Her Health and Suicided.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Nov. 30.—Early yesterday the dead body of a young woman was found on the terrace leading from the Hotel Coronado to Ocean Beach. A pistol was lying near.

All that is known of the stranger is that she arrived with no luggage but a handsatchel on the 24th and gave her name as L. Anderson Bird of Detroit. She seemed to be ailing and despondent, and told the hotel matron she had cancer of the stomach. She explained her lack of means by saying she expected remittances from an Iowa bank and that her brother was coming.

This morning a telegram came from the bank in Iowa saying she could draw what she needed.

Telegrams have been sent to Detroit and to the bank to discover the friends of the deceased.

—Burns.

The thirty-fourth annual dinner of Peterborough St. Andrew's Society took place at the Grand Central Hotel last evening and was an unprecedented success in every way. The spread furnished by mine host D. Lackie was a triumph of the culinary art and added fresh laurels to his enviable record as a caterer. The spacious dining room of the Central was becomingly decorated for the festive occasion with flags, flowers and brilliant bunting all being tastefully arranged in tasteful and variegated profusion. At one end of the room were strung two banners marked with applied letters, bearing the sentimental words, "Bonnie Scotland, the Land we Love." At the other end of the hall was a streamer on which "God Save the Queen" was inscribed. After the recherche menu had been discussed by the sixty-five banquetters present—the largest gathering ever known at a St. Andrew's Society supper in Peterborough, the change of programme was begun and the long toast list royally honoured until the "we sma' hours" of the morning. The energetic President of the Society, Mr. R. Max Dennistoun, proved himself an agreeable chairman. Associated with him at the head of the long row of tables was Mr. Jas. Stevenson, M.P., on the right and Dr. P. D. Goldsmith on the left. The position of the vice-chair was filled in an efficient manner by Dr. D. M. Carmichael, first vice-president and on his left was Mr, Jas. Munro.

THE TOAST LIST OPENED.

Mr. Chairman Dennistoun in opening the interesting proceedings said it gave him great pleasure to welcome the representative assembly present to the thirty-fourth annual dinner of St. Andrew's Society. It was one of the pioneer societies of Peterborough and one of the best, he believed, judging from its long and successful career. They like other St. Andrew's societies throughout the whole world were celebrating annualy the feast of old Scotland to-night. (Cheers.) The chairman asked the members to let loose their enthusiasm and one and all join in the songs and toasts with a gusto. He spoke of the friendly greetings that were exchanged by brother Scots on good old St. Andrew's Days and then read a telegram he had received from St. Andrew's Society, Toronto, and the reply he had wired, both of which messages appeared in yesterday's EXAMINER. Mr. Dennistoun also read letters of regret from Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.PP., Mayor Kendry and Mr. W. H. Robertson, all of whom were unavoidably absent but wished the gathering a pleasant and joyful evening. He then proposed the toast of the health of Her Gracious Majesty the Queen, whose name, he said, Scots in every land and clime always honoured and revered. "The Queen" was most loyally drunk amid the fervent strains of the national anthem.

The toast of "The Governor-General and Houses of Parliament" was next proposed by Vice-Chairman Carmichael in a nice speech, coupled with the names of Mr. James Stevenson, M.P., and Mr. R. Mulholland, ex-M.PP. In the absence of Mr. Stratton, M.PP.

Mr. Stevenson expressed his extreme pleasure at being present as he had on former occasions. He thanked them for the hearty manner in which they had drunk the toast and assured those present that the Governor-General and House of Parliament was not forgotten by the Scotchmen who were proverbial for their loyalty to Her Majesty. It was pleasing to see St. Andrew's Society in Peterborough flourishing now in contradistinction to what it had done of late years. The speaker regretted to see the absence of old familiar faces around the board. Some he supposed had gone to a better world. Thanking them for the opportunity they had given him to make a few remarks the speaker resumed his seat.

Mr. Mulholland, ex-M.P.P., responding on behalf of the Legislative Assembly regretted the absence of the local member whom he felt certain could reply to the toast better than he could hope to do. The Ontario Legislature was composed of the best skilled, honest and influential men in the country and was second to no provincial or state legislation in the world. All admired Sir Oliver Mowat, the well liked Premier of the Province of Ontario. His loyalty shone out clear and striking contrast to many politicians of the present day. If he were not a Conservative he would hope that Sir Oliver might long remain at the head of affairs in Ontario. He admired the sentiments of Scotchmen in gathering together on an occasion like to do honor to the old land they loved so well. He spoke of the beauty of her scenery, her immense commerce and her beloved and upright public men. Although he cherished a fond memory for Scotland he still admired Canada which had a grand future before her. In the Province of Ontario all men were allowed social or religious liberty under its able government and pure public legislation.

President Dennistoun then favoured with a rare old Scottish air in elegant style.

The "Army, Navy and Volunteers" was next proposed in a fine complimentary sentences by Dr. Scott, the genial treasurer of the society.

Major E. B. Edwards, of the 57th Battalion whose name was connected with the toast which was enthusiastically honored, rendered a happy speech saying it was difficult to respond to so many toasts. The Army and Navy had always shown themselves true and he was disposed to reply on behalf of Canada's brave volunteers only, who had shown them to be from the old sod and from genuine English blood. The speaker paid a graceful and deserving tribute to the 57th Battalion, one of the finest bodies of young men to be found anywhere. He did not look upon the volunteer force as merely ornamental. They were doing a good useful work in training up many young men to a degree of military service who would be the better of it mentally, morally and physically throughout their whole lives. It fostered a sublime national spirit; and nowhere did this loyal devotion shine more brightly than in the county of Peterborough. (Loud applause.)

Capt. Stapleton, Quartermaster of "C" Troop of Cavalry, was next called up and made a brief humorous reply.

Mr. Thos. Speedin contributed a fine old Scotch song, "She's My Ain Bonnie Mary."

Mr. Vice-President Chas. Cameron next proposed the toast entitled "The Day and a' Wha Honour It." He expressed his pleasure at being accorded the privilege of proposing such an honourable toast which, if Scotchmen had not justly obeyed, they would not be here this evening. Mr. Cameron then recited "The Land of Brown Heath and Shady Wood," which appealed strongly to the sympathy of those present.

Mr. G. M. Roger, in replying, congratulated the President on the elevation he had attained by his zeal and honour, and then amid wild applause he thanked the Society for being so fortunate in having such a talented and sociable member at their head. He said the man who was loyal to the country of his birth would make the best citizen in the land of his adoption, hence the necessity of perpetuating the early memories of birth and childhood.

Mr. President Dennistoun warmly extended greetings to the society on having their tried and true friend and able poet, Mr. Wm. Wm. Telford, present. He had been connected with the Society for the long period of thirty-five years. He was it worthy bard.

Mr. Telford, in the midst of a spontaneous burst of applause, referred to pleasant memories he had experienced with Mr. Dennistoun's father, and how the latter, 35 years ago, putting his hand on his head, said to him: "Telford, your name is immortalized." The speaker hoped at least it would be respected by all. He then read a feeling and admirable Scottish poem on the toast "The Day and a' wha honour it," which was received with vociferous cheers, "three cheers and a tiger" being given the "good old bard" as the chairman styled him.

Mr. Wm. Breckenridge then sang that old but ever welcome song, "The Tinker's Wedding," and was compelled to answer to an encore.

Mr. Wm. Hamilton, jr., 3rd vice-president, proposed the next toast, "The Land we Live in," and coupled with it was the name of Rev. Mr. Goldsmith, of Toronto, who delivered a stirring and impressive address. He spoke highly of Canada, her educational appliances, her government, and freedom of religious convictions. The speaker congratulated so large a congregation of Scotch present, either by birth or ancestry who had done well in getting out of Scotland as soon as they could (laughter) and joining ranks with a growing and promising nation like Canada. They had all taken a foremost part in mercantile speculation, cultivating the soil and the training of the intellect. At some length he dwelt upon the excellent school system of the country, her high standard of morals and the mixture of the various elements and characteristics of other countries in our own. He wished them to distinguish between a patriotism and national prejudice, one was the bane of a nation the other the cultivation of the virtues of a country's people. He loved these gatherings of a national character. They awakened memories of childhood, home and country, which was a grand anchorage for the human heart. It warmed the hearts within us and incited them to noble deeds. He wished the association God-speed in raising up the fallen, reaching the suffering and in making the world better. (Applause.)

Mr. Alex. Graham then followed with a patriotic song given in a mellow voice.

Mr. Jas. Munro blushingly mentioned the toast of "The Ladies" and Mr. J. Hampden Burnham came to their rescue in a splendid speech. There was only one thing that the gathering lacked and that was the presence of the ladies. Mr. Burnham, after championing their cause in an able manner, in which he extolled their many virtues and noble traits of character, took his seat amid well deserved applause.

Mr. Alex. Millar then rendered a couple of concertina solos in good taste.

"The Learned Professions" was next on the toast list and introduced by Mr. Alex. Gibson. Dr. P. D. Goldsmith and Mr. R. R. Hall, whose names were attached to the toast, made happy, well worded addresses, and each upheld the respective professions of medicine and law in fine style, and concluded their efforts with eloquent perorations.

Mr. G. L. Wissell, of Chicago, then gave a banjo selection, picking the musical strings with commendable precision.

"The Agricultural, Mercantile and Manufacturing Interests," was proposed by Mr. Charles Cameron and drank with a "hip, hip, hurrah." Mr. D. Belleghem, replied in an off-hand manner in the manufacturers' interests, his speech calling forth loud peals of laughter. Messrs. H. LeBrun and H. Phelan responded on behalf of the mercantile interests. The former sang the "Marseillaise" in a well toned voice, and the latter recited with elocutionary ability "The Julia Plant on Lake St. Pierre."

"Our Guests" was proposed by the chairman, who heartily welcomed the numerous visitors amid the strains of "For They are Jolly Good Fellows." Mr. Ed. Brown pleasantly responded, and Mr. Chas. N. Brown recited a witty recitation, "Pat's Letter."

"The Press" was proposed by Mr. W. C. Kirk, who paid a tribute to the local journals, and responded to by F. D. Mackay, of the Review, and Geo. Van-Blaricom, of THE EXAMINER.

Afterwards the evening was thrown open and Mr. Speedin gave another recitation, and Mr. Alex. Gibson Jr. a lively concertina selection.

A special toast was asked for by the chairman with respect to Dr. Frazer of Lakefield, who was a welcome visitor. Mr. Frazer cordially replied. Mr. Miles Hamilton, of Hamilton, another guest, was called upon and made a pithy speech.

Mr. Mulholland proposed the health of Rev. Mr. Torrance, chaplain of the Society, which was drunk with deep solemnity.

Mr. Chairman Dennistoun sang the ever fresh "Bally Holley," and then proposed the health of the host, Mr. Lackie, who answered in a few words.

M. Speedin sang, "You'll never Miss the Water till the Well runs Dry."

Mr. Belleghem then took upon himself the pleasant duty of proposing the toast of "The Chairman and Vice-Chairman." The glasses were once more filled up, and the last but decidedly not the least toast on the list, honoured.

Mr. Dennistoun signified his thanks and said the society did not exist merely for the purpose of holding an annual re-union, but to dispense charity to their poor and needy brethren.

Dr. Carmichael also replied in a fitting speech.

Among the guests present from a distance, other than those mentioned on the toast list, were three zealous Scotchmen from Montreal, Messrs D. W. Fleming, Donald, McNaughton and Louis Mc:idowie "Ma ain dear bairns of Scotland" then clustered around and joining hands sang the two national airs "Auld Lang Syne" and "God Save the Queen." The clans then disbanded and the thirty-fourth annual dinner of St. Andrew's Society was at its end.

Death of an Old Resident.

Sergt.-Major Rundle this morning received a telegram announcing the sad and sudden death of his father-in-law, Mr. Richard Smith, of Newtonville, Clarke township, West Durham, at the ripe old age of 74 years. Deceased gentleman was a highly honoured resident of Durham county, having lived there for the long period of 40 years. He leaves a wife and a family of four grown up children to mourn his loss. The late Mr. Smith was a native of Devonshire and came to Canada in 1850, where he has followed agricultural pursuits actively until the last three years. Mr. and Mrs. Rundle will leave to-morrow morning to attend the funeral which takes place on Saturday.

A Mica Mine.

Mr. John Whitney, town has returned home from a trip to the back country bringing with him splendid specimens of mica found in the township of Denburgh, Addington county. The mica as it appears on the surface is of superior quality and is sure to become better as the deeper part of the lead is reached. Mr. Coxwell, of Toronto, who is collecting specimens of Ontario minerals to send to the Chicago Exposition, after examining Mr. Whitney's samples says they are the best he has ever seen from the surface. Mr. Whitney's lead is about eighteen feet in thickness and can be traced for 30 or 40 rods. Next spring Mr. Whitney will being active operations in the development of his mine.

An enthusiastic vote of thanks was accorded the lecturer for his plainness of statement and service to the temperance cause. Court Stanley's Coming Concert.

Court Stanley, No. 7680, A.O.F., will hold its third annual concert in the opera house on Wednesday evening, Dec. 7th. They have engaged the Sims Richards family, of whom the Toronto Globe has the following to say:

An entertainment somewhat unique and novel in its character, was given last evening in the parlour of Shaftesbury Hall, under the auspices of Court Harmony, A.O.F., by Mr. Sims Richards and his family of four charming daughters. The programme consisted of songs by Mr. Richards and Miss Evangeline, violin solos, string quartettes, duets mandolin and banjo, archery drill and shooting at the target, sword drill, etc. Those who knew Mr. Richards' fine gifts as a sentimental singer would be surprised at his success in humorous songs and recitations. His charming family are certainly very talented, and considering that this was their first public appearance they acquitted themselves admirably. 1d

ST. ANDREW'S AT ST. JOHN'S.

The Brotherhood Meet, Listen to Inspiring Addresses and Elect Officers—Cordial Greetings From Toronto Chapters.

A service of a novel and decidedly interesting nature was held in St. John's church last night and participated in by a good congregation. The service was conducted entirely by members of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew's under the guidance and direction of the Rev. C. B. Kenrick, their chaplain. The latter also presided at the organ in the unavoidable absence of the organist. After the opening prayers and hymn Rev. W. M. Loucks read the account from St. John's Gospel of St. Andrew's bringing of his brother to Christ, this incident having been the inspiration of the movement known as the Brotherhood of St. Andrew. After this Mr. Kenrick called on Mr. E. B. Loucks, director of the chapter, to read the following telegram which he had received. "Seventeen Toronto Chapters jointly commemorating the day send fraternal greetings. Read last two verses St. James." These verses were then read, "Brethren, if any of you do err from the truth and one convert him, let him know that he which converteth the sinner from the error of his way shall save a soul from death and shall hide a multitude of sins." The first address was delivered by Mr. A. B. Lambe, his subject being "Influence." Basing his remarks on the example of St. Andrew, he shewed what young men could do for the great cause, not only by active work but by living consistent and Christ-like lives. Mr. Lambe is undeniably a speaker of great promise. He was followed by Messrs. Blair. Brisley and Pickford, the latter being a student of Trinity College, Toronto. Mr. Blair spoke on manliness and showed that the true and the best courage consisted in taking Jesus Christ as our Pattern, and not being ashamed to live a sincere and pure life in this world. Mr. Brisley's subject was "Christ's Kingdom: What we Can do For It." He made several practical suggestions to that effect. Mr. Pickford spoke quietly and effectively on "Prayer," which, he contended, was the indispensable foundation of Christian life and work for God. Many hymns were sung during the service, which was bright and hearty throughout. The addresses were given from a desk placed on the chancel steps. The service was concluded with the Brother-Prayer and the Benediction. The members of the organization then retired to the vestry and elected the following as officers for the ensuing year:

Director—Rev. C. B. Kenrick, vice E. B. Loucks, who has felt unable to continue in the position.

Vice-Director—E. B. Loucks.

Sec.-Treas.—Harold Cluxton.

FESTIVITIES AT TREWERN.

Close of the Season's Operations of Trewern Cheese Factory.

The annual entertainment in connection with the closing of the years operations of Trewern Cheese factory was held in the factory last night and was a very successful and enjoyable occasion. There was a large attendance of the patrons, their wives and friends. From 6 to 8 o'clock an oyster supper was served. At the close of this the more intellectual part of the programme was entered upon. Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., occupied the chair and after a few introductory remarks pertinent to the occasion Mr. G. W. Fitzgerald read a statement of the output of the factory for the past season:

Milk received	568,186 lbs.
Cheese made	53,464 lbs.
Lbs. of milk to lb. of cheese	10.62 lbs.
Average price obtained for cheese	9 45-10 cts
Net price per pound received by patrons	7¾ cts
Amount received per patron per standard	$21.75

Prof. W. H. Dean, Professor of Dairying in the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, who addressed himself chiefly to the importance of making the dairying industry more profitable than it is at present. To this end winter dairying was insisted on as the best means. The cheese business could engage the summer months and the winter to the manufacture of creamery butter. Thus the cow would be working nearly the whole year, and there would be no break in the profit. His remarks were very exhaustive and pointed, and it would not be a surprise if a creamery were started in this neighborhood.

During the evening an excellent programme of music, readings and recitations was presented by Mrs. Roseborough, Miss McConkey, Mr. Tighe, Miss Lizzie Allen, Miss Lizzie Heard, Miss Robinson, Mr. T. Milburn, Mr. J. Trennum, Mr. G. Ruth, Mr. Davidson, Mr. Ernest Roseborough and Miss Agnes Fitzgerald. The entertainment was, altogether, a very pleasant and successful gathering.

A Complete Cure by HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

This is from Mr. D M. Jordan, a retired farmer, and one of the most respected citizens of Otsego Co., N. Y.

"Fourteen years ago I had an attack of the gravel, and have since been troubled with my

Liver and Kidneys

gradually growing worse. Three years ago I got down so low that I could scarcely walk. I looked more like a corpse than a living being. I had no appetite and for five weeks I ate nothing but gruel. I was badly emaciated and had no more color than a marble statue. Hood's Sarsaparilla was recommended and I thought I would try it. Before I had finished the first bottle I noticed that I felt better, suffered less, the inflammation of the bladder had subsided, the color began to return to my face, and I began to feel hungry. After I had taken three bottles I could eat anything without hurting me. Why, I got so hungry that I had to eat 5 times a day. I have now fully recovered, thanks to

POLICE COURT.

A Big Budget of Cases Up for Consideration—Bell Gets a Month in Gaol—The Perjury Case.

THURSDAY, Dec. 1st.

In the case of Robert Howden, charged with neglecting to take out a license for a dog in his possession, judgment was reserved until to-morrow.

Henry Lawson, charged with vagrancy, said he had a few dollars in his possession, enough to take him out of town. The magistrate remarked: "If you are in town to-morrow morning we will help you up to Toronto for six months," and Henry hastily left the justice chamber.

John McCoy, of Campbellford, charged with being drunk, said he applied for a night's lodging at the police station. He had been in town since Monday, drinking, and was now "strapped." The magistrate imposed a fine of $2 or ten days in gaol. John was exceedingly nervous.

Alex. Bell, charged with the larceny of a laundry parcel from the Morgan House on Monday week last had nothing to say and was sentenced by the Court to a month in the county gaol at hard labour. From letters received by the Chief from Blackstock, home of Bell, his reputation is not noted for its probity nor is his character unimpeachable. The Magistrate advised the young man to quit drink.

Adam Dobbin, who was released from gaol this morning, made application to be recommitted for a period of three months, remarking that he had to work hard up there. The Magistrate said: "Why, Adam, that is good for you," and complied with the petitioner's request.

The case of a George street merchant who was charged with placing an obstruction on the sidewalk, contrary to bylaw 305, was enlarged until to-morrow morning.

The enlarged case of Geo. Spencely, charged with perjury in the Spencely-Tyler matter of depositing filth in Spaulding's Bay, came up again this morning, Mr. R. E. Wood, represented the Crown, the prisoner appearing without counsel. The evidence of Town Clerk Cobb was taken, and the case further enlarged until Monday next.

THE EDISON OUTFALL SEWER

A Sketch of the Work Which Was Completed by Contractor Farley To-day.

Yesterday afternoon an EXAMINER reporter accompanied by Mr. Allan MacDougall, C.E., of Toronto, who prepared the plans and specifications of the Edison outfall sewer for the town, visited the sewer which was completed to-day by Contractor John Farley, of Toronto, and from a thorough inspection made, Mr. MacDougall states the contract has been carried out to the letter, the work done being first class and satisfactory in every way. The number of feet of pipe laid was 2,200 in all—from the Edison gate down Rink street across George street. This length was what Mr. Farley tendered for at $1,627. The present council, before the sewer is used will in all probability have placed a wooden box "pipe" from the mouth of the sewer which just crosses George street and carry the sewage out into the stream near Burnham's Point where the current is swift, the distance being in all about 500 feet. The sewer will thus be extended to the corner of Rink and Water street in a straight line and then take an obtuse angular turn of about 200 feet further out.

The sewer pipe used, which was supplied by the Standard Drain Pipe Company of St. John's, Quebec, is 15 inches in diameter.

Proceeding on Rink street westward the first three hundred feet of pipe is laid only 18 inches below the surface of the ground, but it is thoroughly throughout this length. Mr. MacDougall thinks that the pipe is laid quite deep enough, and sufficiently removed that the frost will not affect it, and at no very distant date this portion of Rink street will have to be raised anyway. The next four hundred feet stretch of pipes is placed at a depth of five feet in order to preserve the level. Four railway tracks had to be crossed under. The first two being the Grand Junction and Midland lines under which the pipe is laid 12 feet below the rails and firmly set in concrete. Thus far fast work and rapid progress were made but when the work of undermining the C. P. R. main line and the siding to the Edison works tracks was encountered, the men had to baffle many unlooked for difficulties; for a distance of—say 100 feet a quicksand bottom was struck and a sort of "dish" from which the water flowed freely, impeding the men's labors and it was necessary to use the pumps from this point on Stewart street to the end of the sewer. The last 1200 feet was laid 11 feet deep. At every joint of pipe in this wet portion a ring of cement which it may be mentioned was supplied by the Rathbun Co. was placed around it in order to keep the water from working its way in, and then the earth was fitted in around it and gently but firmly tramped. At the corner of Park and Rink streets the old Edison drain which is 7 feet 6 inches deep, was safely crossed under at a depth of 10 feet. The old Edison drain had also to be undermined at the Edison gate, where the contract work ceases, the sewer at this point connecting with the 15 inch drain pipe from the Edison works. Along Park street the pick and shovel brigade encountered a stratum of wet licky clay.

IMBEDDED IN CONCRETE

Eight manholes have been erected—one between George and Aylmer streets, and the others at Aylmer, Bethune, Stewart, Rubidge, Park streets at their crossings with Rink. Another manhole is built on Park street, and the last one at the Edison gate. They are all built of brick of a first-class quality furnished by Mr. W. Curtis, and laid by Mr. Farley's son. Each manhole is brick (except the one between Aylmer and George streets, wooden.) These openings are at the bottom, with brickwork 9 inches thick, and 21 inch square opening covered by an iron grating. Manholes serve a double purpose, that of affording ventilation and of allowing of the cleaning of the sewer should it become chocked. These manholes, placed in the centre at the intersection of streets have openings left on each side about six inches above the main dip in order that they may be taken in with a general system of sewerage without the trouble of breaking in the walls for an opening to make connections. These openings will be plugged up with brick until that long desideratum of a general sewerage for the town is realized. The pipes were laid along the middle of Rink street and it is the opinion of the engineer that the street has been left in a good condition by the contractor. To show that the sewer was perfectly straight Mr. MacDougall caused a lantern to be lowered to the bottom in the Bethune street man-hole, and by descending to the bottom of the Park street man-hole the light could be plainly discerned at the other end through the long line of pipe—a distance of 800 feet—thus showing that the sewer was evenly and strongly built, the water running smoothly in its flow. Mr. MacDougall stated the town has a splendid practical job in the work done, and no fault could be found with the contractor. The town supplied all the material in the shape of pipe, gaskett, cement and other necessaries. The work was begun on Oct. 21st, and Mr. Thos. O'Brien had the superintendence of the job here for Mr. J. Farley. Mr. Wm. Hill, of Toronto, was inspector for the town and Councillor Best, chairman of the special committee, which has now removed, it is hoped, the vexatious Edison sewer trouble.

As a preventive of the Grip Hood's Sarsaparilla has grown into great favor. It fortifies the system and purifies the blood.

The Lack Of Snow

Don't disturb our business one whit. Our measure book keeps piling up the orders for Suits and Overcoats just the same as if the snow was mountains high. Our customers, like sensible fellows, are looking ahead. The cold wave is coming and they know it, and they ain't going to wait until both lungs are frozen before they order warm winter clothing.

Take Pete's advice, you fellows that are waiting until it gets as cold as Greenland, and leave your measure on the spot. He can make you a Suit or Overcoat in 10 hours if you like. "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

"PRICE!" to suit your purse. Men like bargains as well as women do—almost.

"FIT!" Well, we do love to see the man that's hard to fit come in our store.

"STUFF!" Yes, we've got the stuff in any kind of cloth you like. Always tasty and good. Now, catch on; only 4 weeks to Christmas.

"STYLE!" We are as familiar with the wants of our patrons as you are with your own door yard or the multiplication table.

Would You Buy,

If the Prices Were Low?

Most men who do not own houses would become owners if they could do so at a moderate cost.

It is my business to build houses, the cost of which is within the reach of people in fair circumstances.

I have one house, well built, good location, Aylmer street, between Townsend and Rink streets—$2,500. Look it up. Will have two on Dalhousie street, work now going on.

PHELPS' CRITICISMS.

The Effect of American Oratory Upon Stolid Germany.

BERLIN, Nov. 30.—Minister Phelps' after-dinner speech at the Karrochoff has been much commented upon. Having started in by praise of the Kaiser, under whose wise and beneficent rule Americans in Berlin have lived so happily, his next sentence came as a surprise. Without a moment's hesitation he resumed: "And let us be thankful we have Bismarck. When the mountain of Friedrichsruhe roars the whole world is silent and listens."

At the name of Bismarck there had been a dead silence in the large banqueting hall, and then followed the heartiest and warmest applause of the evening. The next sentence was still more galling for the present Government and Chancellor Caprivi. When the echoes of applause had ceased Minister Phelps added: "And let us be thankful that we do not belong to a country forced to keep up a huge standing army."

A more scathing comment than the above coming from the mouth of a diplomat can scarcely be imagined. At the present moment it cannot be looked upon as otherwise than the severest condemnation of Caprivi and the Army bill.

Of Caprivi there was not a word, of the Government not a mention, of the Kaiser there was the highest praise, of Bismarck there was a tribute of the highest kind as a power in the world and as a statesman of supreme talent next to whose gigantic personality all others were dwarfed.

MAY BE TRUE.

It is Alleged That The Americans Want Control of The Panama Canal.

BRUSSELS, Nov. 30.—The refusal of M. de Lesseps and Baron Cotta to testify before the committee is based upon the ground of their absence from Paris.

M. Fontones' refusal is based upon the ground that he is one of the defendants in the legal prosecution of Panama Canal directors.

The committee examined a number of witnesses this afternoon.

The announcement was made this evening that the Public Prosecutor had refused to submit to the Investigating Committee the documents connected with the prosecution of the Panama Canal directors. The reason for the refusal is that it would be contrary to the usual judicial procedure.

A witness in the investigation said that Charles de Lesseps had accused detractors of the company of acting in the interests of Americans desiring to acquire possession of the canal, or with a view to damage Suez Canal interests.

The Paris correspondent of The London News says that a general feeling of relief prevails among the recipients of Panama Canal cash, the Cabinet crisis postponing the evil day of their exposure, perhaps permanently.

All kinds of difficulties are hampering the Panama Investigating Committee, and the difficulties are likely to increase in number.

The members of the committee are frightened at the hatred they will engender on all sides, and wholesale resignations are talked of. Still M. Brisson is determined to make a full inquiry.

The Reinach family has decided not to oppose an autopsy in the case of Baron Reinach.

It is rumored to-night that neither M. de Freycinet nor M. Ribot will accept office under M. Brisson, who, it is said, intends to take the Ministry of Justice in addition to assuming the duties of Prime Minister.

A strong feeling in favor of M. Brisson prevailed this evening in the lobbies of the Chamber of Deputies.

LIVES IN SECLUSION.

Mrs. Parnell Imbibes a Habit of Mystery From the Late Leader.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—Mrs. Charles Stewart Parnell will not after all appear in person in the Bankruptcy Court, as by the scheme of arrangement which she proposed to her creditors she will be able to pay them in full.

In fact she became a bankrupt simply to obtain time in which to discharge her liabilities, as, although in reduced circumstances, she is perfectly solvent.

Her principal creditors are lawyers who were concerned in the two divorce and will suits, and then will be only too glad to fall in with the proposal made by her by which they will be paid within 12 months.

Mrs. Parnell lives in extreme seclusion in the house in which her husband died at Brighton, and she seems to have inherited from him all his passion for the mysterious.

Thus, when she applied to be adjudged a bankrupt she took the precaution to remove from Brighton and take temporary lodgings at Red Hill, some 30 miles away, in order to avoid the avalanche of curious visitors who she knew would pour down upon her with inquiries for further information.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—A meeting of unemployed workingmen was held yesterday at Tower Hill. LONDON, Nov. 30.—A petition against the election of Nathaniel George Clayton, Conservative, who was at the last election returned for the Hexham division of Northumberland, has been sustained and his seat in the House of Commons has been declared vacant.

Telegraph Service in Africa.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—At a meeting of the British South Africa Company Cecil Rhodes, the South African Premier, announced that the number of shares of the company had been doubled, and that the capital was fully paid up.

The company had its railway and telegraph lines completed to Zambesi and the East Coast, and intended to at once build an extension from Zambesi to Uganda, and hoped to still further extend its wires to Egypt.

The General Purpose Horses.

A general purpose horse should be sound, sensible, free from vice, medium size, about fourteen to fifteen hands high, weighing about 1,000 pounds, not too large for riding nor too small for work, should carry his head well up to give him style, should have sloping shoulders, should carry his feet near together to make him sure-footed, should ride well and drive well, should have an easy mouth, should work well to plow or wagon, should drive with single check or double reins, and above all should not be balky.

In breeding general purpose horses it is very essential that the sire should be of the best disposition, should ride and drive and work well anywhere and the nearer thoroughbred the better. The mare should be medium size, stylish, and have endurance. The general purpose horse stands hard work, in the long hot days of summer much better than the heavy draft horses. For the show ring a horse should not be too fat, but should show a little of the rib. The fat on a horse is sure to hide defects and judges should be very careful how they award premiums to fat horses. More attention should be given to breeding general purpose horses for they are intrinsically more valuable, more difficult to find, and are in great demand. It is my experience that a colt takes endurance or bottom from its dam and its disposition front its sire. If this could be fully established it would be of vast importance to all horse breeders. English hackneys make good general purpose horses if crossed with suitable thoroughbreds. Hackney style is hereditary.—American Agriculturist.

Farm Fagots.

Pet sheep help tame the flock.
There is no profit in poor keep.
Too much fruit is picked green.
Make the bull do the churning.
Slow and steady growth is best.
Good farming brings good crops.
Wheat bran makes white butter.
Pure air is necessary for the health of swine.

The winter dairy pays better than the summer.
Provide a retreat from storms for your animals.
Lay in a good supply of bedding for your animals.
A manure heap is not a wholesome place for hogs.—Mirror and Farmer.

Poultry Pickings.

Greater weight can be secured with roosters than with hens.

Use lime freely about the poultry houses, it is a good disinfectant as well as a destroyer of vermin.

While hens will go in a dark place to lay eggs, they will rarely hunt in such a place for something to eat.

Sweet oil is recommended for roup, rub well over the heads and give a half teaspoonful inwardly.

On account of being easily cleaned, easily removed and less liable to break the eggs, sawdust is recommended as a material for good nests.

It is always best to feed the ducks all that they will eat of fattening foods for a week at least before sending to market.

It is too often the case on the farms that no care is taken to keep any account of the ages of the fowls, and in consequence too many old hens are kept.

The crumbs and scraps from the table and the parings and waste of vegetables, all of which usually go into the garbage barrel, will be greatly relished by the hens and be manufactured by them into fresh eggs.

Fashion Flashes.

The favorite coats are of rough cloth; have very broad revers and high, full, loose sleeves. Occasionally the revers are faced with silk of a contrasting hue, but oftener with silk of the same color as the cloth. The buttons are the large horn ones that are so durable and so easy to make do their duty.

She who wears her hair in the Greek knot, now fits about the knot a gold band, the precious metal being twisted as if it were ribbon; then through the knot itself is stuck an amber arrow with a gold top. This, by-the-by, makes a pretty Christmas gift for a woman who wears her hair in the classic style.

Thousands of lives are saved annually by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. In the treatment of croup and whooping cough, the Pectoral has a most marvelous effect. It allays inflammation, frees the obstructed air passages and controls the desire to cough.

Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that, when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. per package. dw

The STANDARD has always taken the lead over other companies in the effort to simplify the assurance contract, and to maintain public confidence in life assurance. Its prompt and liberal settlement of claims has given it a world-wide reputation for generous, straight-forward dealing, and by its example has done much to do away with contesting of policies.

The New Free Policy of the Standard Life Assurance Company is given without extra charge; allows free residence in any part of the world, and is incontestable and unconditional except on the ground of false statements in the application, and that only during the first two years; after that it is absolutely free. This policy is simply a promise to pay a certain sum at the maturity of the contract, instead of having a number of useless clauses on the back of the policy showing what the insured may not do, and which always gives rise to dissatisfaction and dispute, the STANDARD prints only on the back of the policy a list of special privileges granted to the assured.

The "Antique" Girl.

Nothing more plainly illustrates that the girl of the period is partial to things antique than her persistent fondness for the long-trained skirt. It is found on investigation that this abominable costume was invented first in England by Anne, Queen of Richard II., nearly five hundred years ago. This was probably the first street-cleaning apparatus to be invented. This same queen should also be blamed for the large hats, those of abnormal size, with great flaring brims, intimate relatives of our theater bonnets now in vogue. Surely this estimable woman had much to be responsible for.

The Pearls of an Empress.

The Empress Eugenie had a passion for pearls, and was, in the days of her power, the possessor of a necklace whose largest stones were the size of a pigeon's egg. After the Franco-German war the empress sold the pearls to Mme. de Paena for 800,000 francs, which Mme. Le Breton brought to London in a little handbag. Another famous collection of pearls was that which Mlle. Thiers accumulated in three years' search for perfect specimens. These were bequeathed to her sister, Mlle. Dosne, and are valued at 400,000 francs.

Negro Slaveholders.

Negroes who go from America to Africa frequently become slaveholders by reason of their superiority in intelligence to the natives of that benighted country and because they have some money. This is the report given by Rev. A. McCullough, who has been visiting in parts of Africa, where there are colonies of prosperous American negroes. These American negroes, he says, almost invariably invest whatever money they have in slaves, and are cruel and avaricious masters.

Her Sacrifice for a Hit.

A famous duchess in London recently went through the ordeal of having a dress made on her own figure. She stood for three hours while the dressmakers wrought fifty yards of rare old lace that could not be cut into a gown for a soiree, at the close of which every stitch had to be carefully cut and picked out before the lady could disrobe. The amount of torture that fair woman will undergo in the name of vanity would astonish the martyrs.

To Be After 6,000,000 Years.

A scientist states that in the course of about 6,000,000 years from now the force at work on earth will have completely leveled its surface, so that there will no longer be hills or valleys, continents or distinctive oceans. All the land will have been washed down into the sea, which will then cover all with a watery mantle and render impossible any life except that which can exist without dry land.

Give the Horse a Bath.

Nothing so refreshes a tired animal, biped or quadruped, as a bath. The profusely perspiring horse discharges an enormous quantity of waste matter through the skin, and the odor of it is as bad as that of the manure, being strongly ammoniacal. This attracts the pestiferous stable fly, which so disturbs the rest of the horses at night. A drenching of cool water, and an immediate rubbing down of the skin, will be a double relief to the wearied animal. It will refresh him and relieve him from its tormentors. A covering of wire gauze on the windows and doors of the stable, and a cooling of the floor and walls with water, with a clean bed, is the least any conscientious man should provide for his faithful horses.

Hogs and Dairying.

The hog is an important factor in connection with the dairy, for disposing of by-products. Prof. Robertson declares that farmers who follow dairying lose one of their best aids by neglecting the hog. Every cow on the farm should be represented by two pigs. These should be fed on whey and grain. Nearly 7 per cent. of the whey consists of material that would put fat on hogs.

A Neglected Cold in the Head

leads to catarrh, perhaps consumption and death. Why neglect with such a safe, speedy remedy as Nasal Balm at hand? D. Derbyshire, president of the Ontario Creamery Association, says:—Nasal Balm beats the world for catarrh and cold in the head. In my own case it effected relief from the first application. All dealers, or by mail, postpaid, at 50c. small, and $1 large size bottle. Address G. T. Fulford & Co., Brockville, Ont.

"It Cured Mother."

GENTLEMEN,—My mother was suffering from dyspepsia and no appetite. Everything failed to cure her until one day, while visiting a friend's house, I saw a bottle of B. B. B. on the table; on inquiring what they used it for, I soon found out what it cured, and when I went home told mother that she should try it; she said she had no faith in anything and objected to try it. Notwithstanding her objection I went in the evening and brought home a bottle but it was in the house for a week before we could induce her to take it. At last, as she was getting worse all the time she consented to try it, and on taking half the bottle found it was curing her. Another bottle cured her, and we believe, saved her life. We are never without B. B. B. now. It is such a good remedy for headache as well.

MONETARY CONFERENCE

A CURRENCY CRISIS EXPECTED IN THE UNITED STATES.

Archbishop Walsh Believes in the Practicability of Bi-Metallism—He Says the Appreciation of Gold Increases the Burdens of the Irish Tenantry.

BRUSSELS, Dec. 1.—The delegates to the Monetary Conference are greatly interested in Archbishop Walsh's declaration in favor of bi-metallism, the adoption of which he advocates as necessary to save the Irish tenant from ruin.

Sir G. L. Molesworth, who is an Irish landlord, said to an Associated Press representative this evening:

"Archbishop Walsh is perfectly right. I, myself, have contended for many years that the Irish difficulty is greatly due to the appreciation of gold, the value of which has increased 50 per cent. since 1871. The Irish farmers contract to pay their rent in gold, but now, owing to the increased purchasing power of the sovereign, they must raise more produce in order to earn the rent money.

"Landlords also suffer as mortgagees and the like and must be satisfied with the appreciated standard. The substantial reductions in rents in the past generation have been made inadequate to meet the difficulty, because the reductions have not kept pace with the appreciation of gold. The adoption of a bi-metallic monetary standard would lead to a slight rise in prices, and a severe fall in the rates of interest, which would result in increased commercial activity throughout the world."

A CRISIS IN CURRENCY.

Is Bound to Occur in the United States—Why Bi-Metallism Is Wanted.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—The News' financial article yesterday discusses the pros and cons of the Rothschild scheme.

Opponents of the scheme, it says, take two grounds; first, that it would be wrong to prolong the artificial support of silver, and second, that a currency crisis is bound to occur in America whether Europe bolsters up silver or not.

The News admits the necessity of avoiding a commercial panic is a strong reason for the adoption of the scheme, and says that perhaps a year would suffice for America to turn round and quietly permit commerce to adjust itself to the fall of silver.

The real doubt, The News adds, is whether the threat of an American crisis is grave enough to excuse a temporary and unscientific experiment in currency.

It is regarded as certain that the committee having in charge the Rothschild silver proposals will recommend the adoption of the plan with some important modifications, including a suggestion that the limit for the purchase of silver be reduced to three years.

It is understood that this is not the unanimous report of the committee. The American delegates, although they invite discussion of the Rothschild and other plans, intend to have their own scheme of international bi-metalism thoroughly debated.

Panama Canal Workers Hopeful.

PANAMA, Dec. 1.— Canal affairs are beginning to show signs of returning life here, and the arrival of Ex-Director-General Mange was the occasion of numberless conjectures as to the object of his visit.

Information received from most reliable sources states that this gentleman has come to the isthmus on a special commission from M. Monchicourt to report on the exact state of the immovable property and material of the company in view of the possibility of the early resumption of work.

The Panama Canal Investigating Committee continued its inquiry to-day.

M. Flory, auditor in bankruptcy, was called upon to give testimony as to how the money of the company had been expended, but refused.

The committee then heard the evidence of M. Rossignot, M. Flory's predecessor.

M. Rossignot confirmed the statement that Baron Reinach had received 9,000,000 francs from the Panama Canal Company, of which amount 4,000,000 francs had been described as used for advertising.

M. Boudet, a former secretary of the Panama Canal Company, confirmed the statements of M. Rossignot.

M. Thierree, manager of a Coulisse firm, testified that Baron de Reinach had paid 3,900,000 francs into the firm's account in the Bank of France, and on that security the firm had issued 27 checks. The witness refused to say, however, to whom the checks were made payable.

The committee thereupon appointed three of its members to accompany M. Thierree to the Coulisse firm's office, with instructions to examine books and make a copy of numbers of the checks in question and amounts for which they were drawn.

The committeemen reported that M. Thierree refused to show the checks.

The committee then requested M. Ricard, Minister of Justice, to have the checks seized. M. Ricard promised to send the request to the public procurateur.

To-day's session, especially in view of the evidence given by M. Thierree, is regarded as the most important yet held by the committee. The public prosecutor has written to M. Brisson, president of the committee, protesting against the committee's interference in judicial matters.

The Rise in Cotton.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—The Times publishes a statement from what it deems a trustworthy source, intended to show that the present rise in cotton is without a precedent, except during the American Civil war, and that the movement is wholly speculative.

Middlemen, it says, are buying as fast as they can in the teeth of a bad state of trade and the strike in Lancashire, and in the absence of any proof of diminution in supplies the estimate of an American crop of 65,000,000 bales is probable, as was the case last year, greatly under ratio. The article continues: "A private telegram from a reliable house says the crops in Texas are much larger than is generally thought, the total visible supply of cotton being scarcely 100,000 bales under the yield of 1891." In conclusion, the article says at least 5,000,000 bales must have changed hands in gambling operations during the past week.

Religion Against Marriage.

ROME, Dec. 1.—The Holy See has declined to sanction the marriage of Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria to the daughter of the ex-Duke of Parma, because in asking the Papal consent Prince Ferdinand stipulated that the issue of the marriage should be trained as members of the Greek orthodox church.

The ex-Duke has therefore refused to assent to his daughter's marriage to Ferdinand.

Justin McCarthy's Health.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—The health of Justin McCarthy has so improved that he has abandoned his intention of going to the south of France.

Developing Morality.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 1.— Chief Brown of the Department of Public Safety issued an order closing all houses of ill-repute in this city.

All women found in the houses after 10 o'clock to-night will be arrested. The order was issued by direction of Mayor Gourley and is a result of a movement against the social evil recently started by the ministers of Pittsburg.

Another Atlantic Line.

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 1.— A new steamship line, to run between Newport Mews and Liverpool has been formed and the articles of association signed. The new organization is the Chesapeake and Ohio Steamship Company, limited. The capital is furnished by Englishmen and those interested in the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad.

Wishes to speak through the Register of the beneficial results he has received from a regular use of Ayer's Pills. He says: "I was feeling sick and tired and my stomach seemed all out of order. I tried a number of remedies, but none seemed to give me relief until I was induced to try the old reliable Ayer's Pills. I have taken only one box, but I feel like a new man. I think they are the most pleasant and easy to take of anything I ever used, being so finely sugar-coated that even a child will take them. I urge upon all who are

"Between the ages of five and fifteen, I was troubled with a kind of salt-rheum, or eruption, chiefly confined to the legs, and especially to the bend of the knee above the calf. Here, running sores formed which would scab over, but would break immediately on moving the leg. My mother tried everything she could think of, but all was without avail. Although a child, I read in the papers about the beneficial effects of Ayer's Pills, and persuaded my mother to let me try them. With no great faith in the result, she procured and I began to use them, and soon noticed an improvement. Encouraged by this, I kept on till I took two boxes, when the sores disappeared and have never troubled me since."—H. Chipman, Real Estate Agent, Roanoke, Va.

"I suffered for years from stomach and kidney troubles, causing very severe pains in various parts of the body. None of the remedies I tried afforded me any relief until I began taking Ayer's Pills, and was cured."—Wm. Goddard, Notary Public, Five Lakes, Mich.

THE TIMBER OF ONTARIO.

The Port Hope Guide of a recent date says: "Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P. P. for West Peterborough, follows the praiseworthy custom of explaining to his constituents in each township the legislation of the last session and the political situation generally. One of his speeches, delivered at Smith, is reported at length in the EXAMINER. Mr. Stratton dealt exhaustively with the timber policy of the Government, showing that besides the $2,908,475 obtained as bonus at the late sale of 618 miles of limits, the Provincial treasury would receive $3 per square mile yearly for ground rent and $1.25 on every thousand feet, board measure, of pine cut on the land. The conditions of the sale, he said, stipulate that only the pine shall be cut; the cedar, timber for railway ties, hard wood, etc., shall not be cut. And the bulk of the sales were made to Canadian lumbermen, a fact which indicates that the lumber on these limits will be taken out by Canadian labourers, and that tens of thousands of dollars will be distributed among the people of this Province as a result. No doubt the removal of the export duty on logs by the Dominion Government gave an impetus to this sale and caused higher prices to prevail. Besides the American purchasers of limits will bring in American capital to open up the limits and get out the timber, and wages will be paid to cutters, cullers and drivers. And this is the largest proportion of the money expendrd in lumbering operations. The expense of bringing the timber to the mill is $7 per thousand feet as against $2 per thousand feet for cutting it, as stated by a prominent Peterborough lumberman in a recent press interview. He further asserted (and his opinion being that of a man of the largest experience, combined with a shrewd insight into lumbering matters, is worthy of the greatest attention) that the lumber on the limits recently disposed of is getting to that age when it is not increasing in value, but on the other hand it is beginning to decay and is becoming less valuable year by year in this respect. Thus it is wise to dispose of this timber, as the Government plainly sees, and it therefore placed it upon the market, and the result of the sale must be gratifying to every citizen of Ontario who wish for the prosperity of the province.

YOUNG'S POINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The Mary Ellen is still hauling stone from the Eagle Mount quarries for Toronto street paving. The captain informs us that he will run until the lake freezes over. The ice has as yet offered no serious obstruction.

The saw and shingle mill are partly shut down for the season. Mr. C. Young has a large quantity of logs and timber close to the mill and can cut out any special bills that may be required during the winter.

The flour mill is busy grinding grist every day.

Miss Maggie Kearney is visiting friends in Belleville.

Miss Maggie Young has returned from Lindsay where she has been visiting her sisters at St. Joseph's convent.

Mr. C. Young has laid down a new plank sidewalk from the lock bridge to his office and dwelling. It is a great benefit, besides giving the village a citified look. It is hoped that other villagers will follow his example.

The place is becoming noted for pugilists. A scuffle between two farmers the other day resulted in a black eye and $7 and costs.

There is said to be a wager among some parties of one thousand dollars as to which of the following shall be first seen in our midst: The completion of the Trent Valley Canal system, a railway, or a daily mail. They are certainly not founded on prospects.

For pity's sake, don't growl and grumble because you are troubled with indigestion. No good was ever effected by snarling and fretting. Be a man (unless you happen to be a woman), and take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which will relieve you, whether man or woman.

A Remarkable Case.

GENTLEMEN,—About five years ago I noticed on my hands a great number of soft, spongy warts, very painful, and which bled when touched. I never witnessed anything like it, and was quite alarmed. We are never without Hagyard's Yellow Oil, and one evening my little girls applied it to each wart. They did this several nights and in the morning the pain and itching were so bad I had to cool my hands with snow, but finally the warts dropped out and I have never been troubled since.

GRASPING, AVARICIOUS CAPITALISTS

ARE WHAT OUR COMPETITORS CALL US.

Grasping, because we want the Trade of the Earth! Avaricious, because we hang on to the Almighty Dollar! Capitalists, because we have the Money to Tear them to Pieces in the Wholesale Markets!

WELL, you can see what it amounts to. Success ever brings envy and distrust. If we were only half so successful, we would be feared only half as much as we are.

Our push and principle alarm our competitors. Our business grip makes them wince. Our big sales excite their envy. Our popularity is what they cannot block and must put up with.

Talk of big stocks. Shout of immense piles of goods. GOUGH BROS. know about what big stocks mean. Throughout Ontario, in the best towns, GOUGH BROS. have Clothing Stores. It is a notorious fact that they do the trade of the town. They buy cheaper, carry more Goods than all competitors combined.

Notwithstanding the low price of wheat, and cry of hard times with other merchants, GOUGH BROS. sales are head and shoulders ahead of the best sales on record.

Keeping the Right Clothing, selling at the Right Price, giving Right good value in the happiest way, has done it. GOUGHS are proud of their success. Vive la Goughs!

A LADY IN THE DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE.

The ladies are always pleased and delighted to recommend preparations of merit and worth. It will interest our people to know that Canada possesses the best and most wonderful cough remedy in the world; it is known as Harvard Bronchial Syrup. A short time ago a most estimable lady in the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa was dangerously afflicted with a severe cold. She was completely cured by Harvard Bronchial Syrup and soon after sent the following testimony: "I am happy to be able to report that I have quite recovered my voice which was lost for a time through a cold. I bought a bottle of Harvard Bronchial Syrup, and after I had used the half according to directions I was completely cured. I consider it a duty to recommend this syrup as the best remedy for colds and loss of voice."

The above testimonial is from Mrs. F. M. Roy, No. 113 Elgin street, Ottawa. Thousands of others in Canada could give similar strong testimony. When you are buying a cough remedy, ask for the "Harvard" and do not be induced to try any other; the "Harvard" will cure.

APSLEY.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Rev. Mr. Ratcliff, a former resident of this place, has been spending a few weeks with his son, Mr. John Ratcliff. The rev. gentleman is looking well and his many friends here are pleased to see his genial face once more. It reminds them of former happy days.

The Methodists are preparing for their annual tea-meeting. It will be held on Monday, the 26th of Dec.

The Rev. Mr. Rahley, pastor of the Methodist church, Bridgenorth, preached a missionary sermon here not long since. It was earnest and to the point, being appreciated by all.

Mr. Geo. W. Rose, who has been our efficient and obliging school teacher here for the past term will leave for Kingston after the Christmas holidays, to pursue his studies in Arts at Queen's University. Mr. Rose has also had charge of the Presbyterian mission work at Apsley and is an earnest, hard working young man. His numerous friends will hope for him the best results from all his future efforts.

ROBERT RAIKES DISCIPLES.

Will Gather in a Great County Sunday School Convention to be Held in Peterborough on Tuesday and Wednesday of Next Week.

The sixth annual convention of the county of Peterborough, town and county Sabbath school association will be held in St. Andrew's church, town, on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, the 6th and 7th inst. The opening exercises will begin sharply at three o'clock in the afternoon on Tuesday next. Mr. T. W. Robinson, chairman of the reception committee, is zealously at work. He has received the names of about thirty delegates from the various county Sabbath schools but this number promises to be greatly augmented, as many places have yet to report the number they will have representing them at the convention.

Each school in the county will have two or three delegates. The visiting fraternity will be billeted among the citizens. Many families in all the evangelical churches of the town have consented to take one or more Sunday school workers into their homes. The Reception Committee which consists of all the Sunday school superintendents in town will meet a day or two previous to the convention and make the final draught to what quarters the visitors will be assigned. Delegates will proceed direct to St. Andrew's church on arrival, and report themselves to the Reception Committee who will assign them homes. The service of song will be led by a union choir. Gospel hymns will be used and all are requested to join heartily in the singing. The Christian people of Peterborough extend a cordial invitation to the Annual County Convention and will welcome regularly appointed delegates to their hospitality during the services. A Voice From the Canadian Press:

THE BLACK DEATH!

The Scourge of the East.

Grim Asiatic Cholera is marching with stealthy but steady strides to these Western shores.

The foe is at our doors, Sanitary science, with powerful disinfectant, fumigations, and rigid quarantine regulations, stands guarding our ports.

But this fell destroyer on pestilential wing seems to float in the very air and defy all efforts to beat him back. Wherever there lingers impurity and putrefaction he takes up his abode, and the seeds of the pestilence germinate and multiply.

Public sanitary vigilance is imperative. Let the sewers be flushed and every form of impurity be swept away Let the health of the community be maintained to the highest possible degree. But in addition to all this let every individual be on the alert

The human body has the most perfect and complete system of sewerage, defying the utmost art of man to rival.

A wise Creator has provided mean for the eradication of all effete and impure materials from the human body.

Morse's Indian Root Pills is such a perfect combination of the best and most energetic remedies provided by a beneficent Providence for the purpose of cleansing the whole system, "flushing the sewers," rousing up the liver, the kidneys and the whole intestinal tract to their proper functions and at the same time imparting vigor and tone to the whole system, that it is with the utmost confidence that we recommend it to the public as the best preventive of the fearful ravages of that justly dreaded disease, Asiatic Cholera.

Hall, Innes & Co.

Having decided to retire from the Dry Goods Business in Peterborough announce that they will on WEDNESDAY, NOV. 23rd, commence a

GENUINE MAMMOTH CLEARING SALE for CASH

Covering Every Department of their Extensive Business.

HALL, INNES & CO.

WISH TO SAY that during the many years of their business career they have never offered Goods on the above basis (except during the time of re-building their Premises), and they now confidently expect that the public will rely on the GENUINE character of this sale, and avail themselves of this opportunity of securing goods of sterling quality, at prices much below those obtained in a regular business way.

The reduction of price will apply in all Departments, as follows:

General Dry Goods.	Hosiery and Gloves.	Carpets and Floor Oilcloths.
Silks and Dress Materials.	Bed and Table Linens.	Mats and Mattings.
Millinery and Mantles.	Scotch & Canadian Tweeds.	Lace Curtains.
Mantle Materials.	Worsted Coatings & Overcoatings.	Sash Curtains.
Ribbons and Laces.	Gents' Furnishings.	Portieres, &c., &c.

The Stock is in first class order, having been bought for our Fall and Winter trade, and many lines have come to us direct from the best manufacturers in Britain, France and Germany. This sale is bona-fide, and in no way similar to many so-called Clearing Sales, and we feel certain that this opportunity of securing good goods at low prices, will be largely taken advantage of by many.

Remember that this sale will begin on Wednesday, 23rd November, and continue until the stock is disposed of.

N. B.—All Outstanding Accounts must be settled at once.

HALL, INNES & CO.

130, 132, 134 SIMCOE STREET.

FORCED

REMOVAL SALE!

The Whole Stock to be Cleared at Net Cost, as we have no Option but to Remove to Other Premises.

We must vacate our present store on account of the near expiry of lease. The rent asked or renewal was more than we should or could afford to pay, and as we were allowed only 8 hours in which to reach a decision, we decided to move. This necessitates a Clearance of the Stock, so we now offer

The Entire Stock at Net Cost for Cash.

Every line in the store is new, bought for this season's trade, and consists of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods, Gent's Furnishings, etc.

We will announce later on the location of the new premises to be occupied by us.

Thanking the public for their generous support in the past, we trust to be able to do as well, if not better, in the future.

A musicale was given last evening by Lily Harry, of Lindsay, and A. A most enjoyable time was spent in music, singing, reading, recitations.

An Echo of St. Andrew's Supper.

Editor Examiner:—Allow me to give utterance through the EXAMINER to express my regret at the fact that circumstances made it absolutely impossible to give myself the pleasure of being present at the annual supper of St. Andrew's Society, which, more especially as the supper was such a gratifying and enthusiastic success. He sends his congratulations to Mr. Simms Richards, accomplished and winsome little daughters, whose performance last night gave promise of great success for them in the musical world.

The Bell Family's Excellent Programme.

The Brockville Recorder thus refers to the appearance in that city of the Bell family of Jubilee singers who will give two of their delightful concerts in the Charlotte street Methodist church on Monday and Tuesday evenings, Dec. 12th and 13th: "An excellent programme was rendered by the Bell Family of Jubilee Singers last evening in the Wall street Methodist church. There was a large attendance present. By general request they have consented to remain in Brockville another evening, and will present to-night a programme in the Wall street Methodist church, which, from the entertainment rendered last evening, will be highly appreciated by all. The solos and selections on the organ, violin and guitar were excellent, and the singing of the Bell family is simply grand. Their voices are of the purest and sweetest, and their singing of the old plantation melodies is perfectly charming. Prof. Bell is a master of the violin, and his performance on the guitar is also very fine. Mrs. Bell is a charming reader, and her selections were rendered in a manner that showed her to be a thorough elocutionist. Miss Bell is a young lady of rare musical talent, and her solos

Y.W.C.A. NOTES.

A Social and Musical Evening.

A very large and successful meeting of the Association was held in their rooms last night. The chair was occupied by the President, Mrs. Fairbairn. After devotional exercises and business routine, Miss Beckett in a very pleasing manner said—On behalf of the members I desire to express our heartfelt appreciation of the kind interest and heartfelt generosity extended us during the year now drawing to a close, by the managers of the board. As we look back we can see many pleasant and profitable evenings spent in the rooms. We also desire to express our gratification with the wise selection you have made of your secretary, Miss Barker, whom we believe to be in the right work in the right place. We must not forget that Moses needed a sustaining hand. We feel it to be our duty, as well as a privilege, to warmly rally round our new leader, to encourage and strengthen her in her work. Our prayer is and will be that God's blessing may rest upon our Association."

The meeting closed with prayer, and a programme of an excellent and pleasing nature was presented. It consisted of a duet by Misses Wrighton and Hall, violin solo by Miss Jewett, pianoforte duet by Misses Wrighton and Hall, recitation by Miss Pearly Lundy, accompanied by her teacher, Miss Louise Yokome; a violin and piano duet by Misses Hall first violin, and Miss Louise Yokome, her teacher, second violin; vocal solos by Mrs. Dr. Scott and Miss Courtney, and a reading by Miss Eldridge. The singing of the doxology brought the pleasing programme to a close. During the presentation of the programme a very pleasant break was made by the service of refreshments, and at the conclusion of both the time was given over to social enjoyment, and the fancy need not restrict its excursiveness by any limitations as to its idea of the extent to which the linguistic side of the social element was developed in a large number of cases. The success of the meeting is largely due to the following ladies who had the management of it in charge:—Misses Robson, Davidson, Beckett, Jolly and White.

To the Ladies—On the Quiet.

Ladies! if you want to present your father, husband, lover or son with a nice warm overcoat, and you can't afford to pay cash for it, you can get it at Montreal Clothing House, 330 George street and make your selection before they are gone, to be packed up and laid away for you on the quiet until Xmas. dw

BROCKVILLE STIRRED UP!

ITS PEOPLE IN EARNEST

INDIVIDUALS AND FAMILIES THOROUGHLY INTERESTED.

Many have Spoken in a Most Decided Manner!

The agitation has spread to Brockville, Ont., and some of its well-known people are speaking decidedly and firmly for the public benefit. Following the example of the best citizens of other towns and cities, Brockvillians are now thoroughly in earnest in disseminating and spreading abroad the cheering intelligence that Paine's Celery Compound is the true banisher of disease and suffering.

Mr. Alfred J. Raven is known to all the people of Brockville. He was afflicted for eight years with a cruel form of rheumatism. He was treated by many physicians, and tried scores of remedies recommended by various people; all failed to cure. It remained for Paine's Celery Compound to fight the enemy and achieve the victory.

ALFRED J. RAVEN.

What glorious and blessed victories in the past! What a work of rescuing after all other agencies fail and give up hopelessly!

It matters not, reader, if your doctor has sounded his verdict, "Incurable!" "No hope!" We promise you release from pain, agony and death, through the use of the same medicine that gave Mr. Raven new life.

Mr. Raven's letter of testimony reads as follows:—

"I have, by the pleadings of a friend of mine, taken a course of Paine's Celery Compound as a sure cure for rheumatism. I have been a sufferer from that complaint for the last eight years, and have tried many doctors, and have taken scores of prescriptions recommended by different people.

Since taking the Paine's Celery Compound, I feel like a new man; and have not had the slightest recurrence of the pains; and I am able to do as long and as hard a day's work as any man.

I attribute this state of things to the careful and judicious use of your compound. It saved me much money, and gave me much comfort. I confidently recommend it to any who suffer from the same complaint."

No poor and worthy sufferer need be without this life-giving medicine. A letter from a clergyman, Mayor, Reeve, Justice of the Peace or Postmaster, testifying to the character and standing of the applicant who is not in a position to buy it, will be sufficient evidence to warrant a supply being sent on for the relief of the suffer.

LAKEFIELD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The village is very dull and no news items.

Clementi Lodge No. 212, A.F. & A. M., meets next Thursday night for the third degree and election of officers.

The Mary Ellen made her last trip down to Lakefield on Wednesday afternoon, and had to break through the ice part of the way.

Rev. Dr. Howie delivered a lecture on "Oriental Life" in the Methodist church on Tuesday evening to a large and appreciative audience.

Not a word is heard in regard to the elections of the village councillors and school trustees, which will be held on the 26th of this month.

The subject of the C.P.R. extending a branch up to Lakefield is again being talked about in the village. The company have had the line surveyed and plans prepared. It is stated that they will at once go on with the erection of their line if the village will pay for the right of way from the northern limit of the town of Peterborough to the terminus of the line here. They would come up the west side of the river through Smith township.

OVER THE PANAMA CANAL.

The Liquidator Anticipates Trouble Between France and the United States.

PARIS, Dec. 1.— Everything that has occurred within the past three weeks has been in consequence of M. Constans' desire to become president of the republic and to revenge himself on the ministers, his late colleagues. To bring about their fall he first attacked M. Floquet.

He will soon attack President Carnot in the person of his relative. M. Constans accuses him of not having shown due care in scrutinizing the report of one of the engineers sent to Panama.

He reckons upon his investigation committee to make it difficult for M. Rouvier, Minister of Finance, and M. Roche, Minister of Commerce, his colleagues, who did not resign, to continue to hold their portfolios.

When M. Constans set about it he found means to compromise all in the Panama Canal affair. It is known how Gen. Boulanger, who was looking out for opportunities, was made corrupt. At the house of the late Baron Reinach is a volume containing copies of letters This book was found in a trunk in which were the papers of Boulanger, which brought about his condemnation.

M. Constans, seeing that they had not sufficient political importance for a fight against Boulanger, kept a copy of the letters. These are the documents which have originated all this scandal. This is the actual cause of the ministerial crisis.

At present there are less than a hundred deputies compromised. For all that, there will soon be a presidential crisis, just because M. Constans wants to be avenged and to become president.

The Panama Canal matter continues to absorb the attention of everybody. M. Monchicourt, the liquidator of the Canal Company, replies to M. Lauterbach in an interview, and protests against the intention of the pronunciamento. He asserts that the renewal of the contract between the Panama Railway Company and the Pacific Mail Railway was impossible, because the conditions imposed upon the Pacific Mail Company were too burdensome.

Nevertheless the Panama company continues to put forth all its efforts "to assure transit to all points covered by the Pacific Mail Company on the most favorable conditions to American and European commerce."

Europe considers the theory advanced as equivalent to an embargo on European capital for the benefit of American commerce. It finds that the theory of the Monroe doctrine, already a difficult one on political grounds, is absolutely impracticable on economical grounds.

The Panama question is decidedly destined to cause anarchy in many minds, and to menace the relations of countries which up to the present time have been most harmonious.

LATEST TRIPLE ALLIANCE.

A Paris Journal Evidently Imagines It Has a Big Scoop.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—The Paris Journal, a recently established paper, much given to sensations and canards and in no way to be confounded with The Petit Journal, tried to create a new sensation to-day by publishing what it asserts to be the text of the latest triple alliance treaty.

"We do not state how we procure it," it says solemnly in its editorial columns. The story is ridiculed here as a pure fabrication.

This alleged treaty, says The Journal, is in German and was signed by Emperor William and Francis Joseph in May and by King Humbert, June 5, 1891, and is a continuance of the dreibund for six years.

In its articles it provides for co-operation through diplomacy and by "material assistance on land and water" between the several countries in carrying out their several foreign policies. It provides for keeping the several armies on a war footing and for the maintenance of the status quo.

The seventh and vital clause in the alleged treaty is as follows:

7th—(A) In case of conflict between Germany and Russia Austria agrees to mobilize her armies and declare war against Russia, acting in harmony with the staff of the German army, Italy meanwhile mobilising her army on the French frontier. In case France should side with Russia Italy would declare war against France, her army entering that country, her base of operations being Savoy.

(B) In case of conflict between Germany and France, Italy will act as above indicated. In such event Austria would mobilize her army on the Russian frontier and declare war against Russia in case the latter should interfere in the conflict and side with France. In such case Austria would act as indicated in paragraph A.

(C) In case of conflict between Austria and Russia, Germany is to mobilize her army and declare war against Russia, sending two army corps into Austria. Italy would mobilize her army on the French frontier and act as indicated in paragraph and in case France should assist Russia.

(D) In case of conflict between Italy and France in Europe or in the colonies Germany would mobilize her army and act conjointly with Italy, while Austria would mobilize her army on the Russian frontier ready to assume the offensive in case Russia should side with France.

SCIENCE AT HOME.

A Few Simple Experiments for the Family Circle.

Carve out of a raw potato a cylinder of the diameter of the upper portion of a lamp chimney of good size and about an inch tall. Then with a quill toothpick pierce in this cylinder four cylindrical holes oblique with relation to the axis of the large cylinder. Our picture shows you the place and the direction of the holes. Then take the chimney and close the largest end with the potato thus prepared.

At the top of the lamp chimney fit on another potato cylinder, or a cork pierced with cylindrical holes like those below, but this time each hole must have each axis vertical and not oblique. Then, through a vertical hole in the center pass a string to suspend the apparatus. Catch this string below the cork by passing a match through it. Attach the upper end of the string to a nail in the ceiling, or to the chandelier which hangs above your center table. Meantime put a lamp shade over the glass chimney and force it down to the largest part; then suspend all around the shade little horses and riders cut out of paper.

Place a bowl on the table, directly under the lamp chimney, and pour water into it through the chimney's upper end. This will set the aparatus in motion at once. The water passes through the holes in the cork at the upper end, fills the tube and runs out at the oblique orifices in the potato. The whole thing then begins to turn with great rapidity, and you have a hydraulic racing match before you. The little horses and riders will move around merrily.

When you pull apart two panes of glass which were stuck together by syrup or copying ink you will notice that the viscous liquid is spread out over each pane, so as to form very delicate and artistic arborescenses, like the impressions of fossil algae. You will be surprised at the number of beautiful and graceful designs which you can obtain by this pressure of two panes together over any sticky substance. Our picture gives the fac-simile of a design obtained with printer's ink. An impression can readily be taken from these designs on the glass, which may be varied at will by moving the panes in various directions.

A Neglected Cold in the Head

leads to catarrh, perhaps consumption and death. Why neglect with such a safe, speedy remedy as Nasal Balm at hand? D. Derbyshire, president of the Ontario Creamery Association, says:—Nasal Balm beats the world for catarrh and cold in the head. In my own case it effected relief from the first application. Cure for Constipation and Headache.

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that, when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50c. per package. dw

"It Cured Mother."

GENTLEMEN,—My mother was suffering from dyspepsia and no appetite. Everything failed to cure her until one day, while visiting a friend's house, I saw a bottle of B. B. B. on the table; on inquiring what they used it for, I soon found out what it cured, and when I went home told mother that she should try it; she said she had no faith in anything and objected to try it. Notwithstanding her objection I went in the evening and brought home a bottle but it was in the house for a week before we could induce her to take it. At last, as she was getting worse all the time she consented to try it, and on taking half the bottle found it was curing her. Another bottle cured her, and we believe, saved her life. We are never without B. B. B. now. It is such a good remedy for headache as well.

BELLEVILLE IS EXCITED.

A STRANGE WOMAN AFTER A HOTEL WAITRESS.

The Stranger Said the Girl Was Heiress to $40,000—But Belleville People Think That There Has Been Foul Play.

BELLEVILLE, Dec. 3.—The sensation of the town is the account of the sudden appearance in the city of a strange woman, who claimed a waiting girl in one of the hotels and takes her away in the night through the aid of a policeman, and people are naturally anxious to know if there is any foul play.

Some time since a girl engaged at one of the hotels as waitress, giving her name as Maggie May, and on the night of Nov. 30 a woman arrived at the hotel of the midnight claiming to be the mother of the girl in question, whom, she said, she had not seen for ten years. As it was long past midnight the hotel proprietor naturally asked the woman to remain until morning, when she could see the girl, upon which the woman became very demonstrative, and offered $25 for the production of the girl at once, which made the matter look suspicious. The woman left, and returned with Constable Downs, who demanded that the girl be produced. The girl was aroused from a sound sleep and came out more asleep than awake.

Upon seeing the girl, the woman said she was not her child, yet claimed her, when Constable Downs bundled the woman and girl into a cab, which drove off; and now the question is, was the woman the girl's rightful guardian, or was the girl kidnapped?

The woman is said to have been known in the city at one time as Mrs. Jubert, the wife of a saloon keeper, who since died, when she is said to have married a rich man in Indianapolis, and claimed when here that the girl was heir to $40,000. As a woman has been prowling around Peterboro and Cobourg securing girls for immoral purposes, an air of suspicion surrounds this case, which needs an investigation.

BREACH OF PROMISE.

Erastus Wiman Vouches for the Fair Petitioner.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—In an action of Albertina La Belle, 21 years old, to recover $20,000 damages from Samuel B. Moore for alleged breach of promise of marriage, Moore was arrested yesterday on an order of Justice Andrews of the Supreme Court. He gave the $5000 bail required and was released.

Albertina lives with her sisters at New Brighton, S.I., but her family comes from Montreal. She became acquainted with Moore while both were residing at the Colonnade Hotel in November, 1891. She says he engaged to marry her on January 1 last. Moore denies the promise of marriage.

The arrest was partly based on an affidavit of Erastus Wiman, who says he was informed by Mr. Brennan of Hornthal, Whitehead & Co., who employ the defendant, that Moore had arranged to go to Virginia to reside permanently about Dec. 1.

Mr. Wiman says he knows the family of Albertina in Montreal, and that it is respectable and influential. "It is well-known there," he says, "and enjoys the respect and esteem of good people." He had been introduced into the family himself, and believes the statement of Albertina about her relations with Moore.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS.

One-Third of An Island Split Off By An Earthquake.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 3.—The steamer City of Panama brings further news of the earthquake in San Salvador, October 18.

Signs of activity were noticed about the crater of the Conchequa volcano, near La Union, in the Gulf of Fonseca. At 10 o'clock that night a violent earthquake and the 5000 inhabitants of La Union fled to the beach.

Shock after shock struck the city and the older buildings were tumbled in ruins. The stone cathedral was reduced to a formless heap and 50 or 60 other buildings were wrecked. Twenty-four persons were injured.

One-third of the island of Conchequa in the Gulf of Fonseca, seven miles from Latenim, was split off by the shock, and suddenly sank out of sight. The crater of Conchequa did not break forth again, but it shows signs of coming eruptions.

His Head Crushed In.

LINDSAY, Dec. 3.—On Tuesday evening a fatal accident occurred on the farm of Mr. Frank Chambers, Fenelon, on the boundary between Mariposa and Fenelon, west of the village of Cambray, whereby Joseph Wells, a young man of 23 years of age, lost his life.

Mr. Wells, who owned and ran a steam threshing machine, had been threshing for Mr. Chambers, and, having got through, got on top of the engine to lower the smoke-stack, when he slipped, falling between the fly-wheel and the boiler. Death was instantaneous, his head being crushed in as well as the body being more or less mangled. The deceased was a son of Mr. Robert Wells of Mariposa and was universally respected.

Satisfied With the Theory.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Dec. 3.—The final experiment of producing rain by means of concussions was concluded here yesterday. There were 12 hours of continuous bombardment, but no satisfactory results were obtained from a practical point of view, although Gen. Dyrenforth and Prof. Ellis claim that the scientific correctness of the theory has been proved.

JAY GOULD'S DEAD.

He Controlled Nearly 15,000 Miles of Railway Lines.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Jay Gould died at 9.15 yesterday morning.

The history of Jay Gould from the barefooted boy who wandered over the rough hills of Delaware County to the railroad king whose wealth was estimated at $60,000,000 is one of the most remarkable among our self made men.

His life for the past few months has been a constant battle against the inevitable and all means that medical skill and the interest that friends and relatives could suggest were employed to prolong the financier's life. He was taken about in private luxurious cars to places where milder air and the absence of business excitement might be expected to work a recuperation of his energies. But to no avail.

Mr. Gould controlled about 15,000 miles of railway lines.

The direct cause of his death, as stated at the home this morning, was pulmonary consumption.

No two estimates agree as to the amount of Mr. Gould's fortune. The most conservative estimates place it at about $60,000,000, while some people in Wall-street, who think they know something about his accumulations, figure that he must have gotten together fully $100,000,000.

THE PANAMA AFFAIR.

No One Wishes Any Longer to Become a Cabinet Minister in France.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The Herald's Paris correspondent says: The Panama scandal continues with such violence that no one is interested any longer in the Ministerial crisis, which, however, still lasts. No one wishes any longer to become a Cabinet Minister—a new phenomenon in France.

Another grave fact, according to reliable people who tell the story, is that the Baron de Reinich had for visitors on the eve of his suicide a very well-known minister and a deputy also well known. All three worked together burning documents from 9 o'clock in the evening till midnight. Two hours later Baron de Reinich was found dead. If this fact be correct no one can guess the gravity of the situation.

It is certain a general reorganization of things as they exist will ensue. If the republic stands it is because there is nothing to take its place.

The Clergy Dragged In.

LONDON, Dec. 3.—The Paris correspondent of The News says: M. Brisson hopes to reveal the part the clergy took in assisting Count de Lesseps to float the Panama Canal bonds. De Lesseps and family were conspicuous for their regular attendance at high mass at the Church of the Madeleine all the time the bubble was being blown. Each christening in his family became a public event.

Speculation in Panama options went on at the Vatican, and the clergy got heavy commissions for advising the members of their flocks to invest in Panama bonds. The priestly run on the Panama Canal offices was so great that just prior to the collapse a special office and staff was about to be established to receive them. Count de Lesseps sent some nuns in the most sensational way to the hospital at the scene of the canal works.

He made an appeal one night through a religious paper to the devotion and zeal of the Daughters of St. Vincent de Paul and 38 of them volunteered to go to the Isthmus the next day. The eyes of the Catholic world were riveted upon the poor heroines, who were forgotten until another batch was wanted to replace the ravages of the yellow fever.

The event of the day is the publication of a fac-simile of a letter written by Baron Reinich to M. Proust, dated in July, 1886, notifying him of a gift of 1000 Panama Canal bonds.

A LIFE BOAT.

Drifted Ashore With a Crew of Three Dead Bodies.

LONDON, Dec. 3.—A lifeboat belonging to the British steamer Greystoke, which sank in the Bloody Foreland on Wednesday last, containing three dead bodies, drifted ashore this morning. One of the bodies was that of Chief Engineer Evans.

The crew of the Greystoke numbered 21 all told. It is believed that all on board the steamer were lost.

Berlin's Unemployed.

BERLIN, Dec. 3.—A great meeting of Berlin's unemployed was held in the Friedrichshain quarter this afternoon. The police had taken great precautions to preserve order, as a similar meeting preceded last winter's riots.

A number of speakers used incendiary language and were warned by the police. As no heed was paid to the warning the assemblage was ordered to disperse.

All present then formed in procession and marched back to the city. At the Konigs-Thor a slight disturbance arose, which was quickly suppressed.

Bandmaster Carey's Funeral.

KINGSTON, Ont., Dec. 3.—The funeral of the late Bandmaster Carey took place yesterday. The military turnout, which was very imposing, included the firing party, composed of non-commissioned officers of the Prince of Wales' Own Rifles, the bands of the 14th Battalion and A Battery, the Battery men and Royal Military College Cadets.

Must Go, And Dead.

VALPARAISO, Dec. 3.—The Chilian Government has accepted the parole of General Velasquez, who has been confined aboard of a warship, and permits him to return to his estate in Chiloe.

It is reported that it is the intention of the Government to notify the chief officers of the late rebels, Balmaceda's, army who are now in prison at Santiago, to leave the country within eight days.

GAZETTE NOTES.

J. J. Hawkins of London to be Inspector of Dog Licenses.

OTTAWA, Dec. 3.—The Canada Gazette will contain the announcement of John Byers as Collector of Customs at Sarnia, and as Collector of Customs at Port Dover, Holt of Stanleville, N.B., as Surveyor of Customs.

Letters patent have been granted incorporating the Central Electric Light Company of Montreal, with capital half a million.

Notice of application for letters patent of incorporation are given by the Gurney Foundry Company, limited, for the purpose of purchasing the Toronto business of the E. & C. Gurney Co., limited, with capital $40,000; headquarters at Toronto. And by the Canadian Electric Light and Power Company, limited, of Ottawa for power to increase its capital stock up to $200,000 and to have power to amalgamate with any other company doing a similar business.

John James Harding of London, Ont., gives notice of application for divorce from his wife, Janet Harding, now of Grand Rapids, Mich., on the grounds of adultery and desertion.

The Grand Trunk Railway Company gives notice of application to Parliament for an act to confirm the agreement made with 14 other companies for amalgamation under the name of the Grand Trunk Railway Company of Canada.

Notice is given of application to Parliament for an act to wind up the Montreal Mining Company.

The revenue cutter Constance is still patrolling the lower St. Lawrence, on the lookout for smugglers, and will remain out as long as possible, as this is the time of the year when that class of gentry is usually most active.

Hon. Peter White, Speaker of the House of Commons, was here yesterday. He says that the vacancies in the accountant's branch will be filled by him shortly, and intimated pretty clearly that the appointment would not be from members of the House of Commons staff, but would be made from outsiders. The appointments rest entirely with the Speaker, although the committee on the internal economy of the House fix the salary, which will probably be considerably lower in the case of the accountant than what Mr. Brewer was receiving. Mr. Bolton was only appointed last year as a second class clerk, and his successor will most likely receive the same position.

The Department of Marine, having received information that the last grain barges for Montreal had arrived, instructions were to-day given to the contractors to take the light ships in Lake St. Louis into winter quarters and lift the buoys. All the light ships and buoys between Montreal and Quebec have been taken up and navigation of the St. Lawrence may be considered as closed, except between Montreal and Sorel, where the shore lights will be kept up for another week to accommodate the steamers still running between those two places.

All the fisheries protective cruisers are now laid up for the winter, except the Curlew, which is still in the Bay of Fundy, and Vigilant, which is cruising along the Nova Scotia coast. Repairs to the Government steamer Newfield have been completed and she has been taken from the dry dock at Halifax and is now at the Government wharf at that place. The Government steamer Le Canadien is still running between Quebec and Grosse Isle, and will continue to do so as long as her services are needed in connection with the quarantine service. The Government steamer Stanley yesterday commenced her regular winter service between Charlottetown and Pictou.

The steam disinfector which was obtained by the Government from Toronto for use at Grosse Isle during the cholera scare has been removed to Halifax and will be used there if necessary while the new disinfector ordered for that place is being made.

Hon. J. C. Patterson returned to the city last night with his family and has taken up his residence in the house purchased by him from the estate of the late F. N. Gisborne.

Bradstreet's Report.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—At Montreal general distributive trade will not be active now that navigation has closed, and, except with dealers in holiday goods, quietness is expected to be of moderate proportions until after New Year's.

Shipments from Toronto in wholesale lines are fairly active and prices firm. Demand for heavyweight drygoods has increased, as has that for dried fruit and sole leather on eastern account.

Total bank clearings at Halifax, Montreal, Toronto and Hamilton amount to $19,504,000 this week, a decrease of 17 per cent. from the week before and of 9 per cent. from the total in the like week of 1891.

Montreal banks disbursed $1,250,000 in dividends on Thursday and the tendency of the money market is towards greater ease.

The Dominion reports 35 business failures this week. In the week before the total was 27 and one year ago 35.

He Was Ill-Fated.

ERIE, Pa., Dec. 3.—Joseph Kane, a Lake Shore employe, went on a long spree some days ago and his wife had him arrested. Promises of reform secured his release yesterday.

He hunted up his wife, and at once emptied the contents of a revolver into her body. Kane then ran down a steep grade on the Philadelphia and Erie Road, uncoupled the rear car of a train, gave it a push and sprang in front of it.

He laid his neck on the rail and his head was severed. Four little children are orphaned by the tragedy. Kane lost his father and three brothers in railroad accidents and considered himself ill-fated.

Has Not Yet Resigned.

QUEBEC, Dec. 3.—Premier De Boucherville consulted the members of his Cabinet yesterday on his intention of resigning his portfolio, but the honorable gentleman has not yet resigned.

His colleagues urged upon him to await further events. However, his resignation may be looked upon as certain if Hon. Mr. Chapleau's appointment as lieutenant-governor of Quebec is maintained.

Behring Sea Negotiations.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 3.—It was announced that Prof. E. J. Phelps of Yale, ex-Minister to Great Britain, has been appointed by President Harrison to continue his work in connection with the Behring Sea negotiations.

A Coal Strike Expected.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Dec. 3.—A special from Coal Creek says a serious outbreak is expected among the miners in a few days.

MR. FAIRBAIRN AND HIS PUMPKINS.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—Would you kindly allow me space to correct a few mis-statements or rather false statements in Mr. Fairbairn's letter of the 21st ult. I will not trouble you or readers by referring at all to his personal allusions to me as they are of no interest to the public. Mr. Fairbairn says when he first wrote "he believed a mistake had been made and that it would be rectified, which doubtless would have been done had not the directors been misled by the officious secretary"; that is falsehood No. 1, as Mr. Fairbairn knows that the board had met and passed the resolution given in my previous letter more than a week before he wrote you the first time. It is also false that I misled the directors. I simply reported that there were mistakes made by both the first and second judges, and asked the board to instruct me, by resolution, which award to take. He also states that I condemned Mr. Payne's book in language unfit for publication. I may not call that a falsehood, but could give it a stronger name. Mr. Fairbairn says he was informed by a responsible person, whose word he would take in preference to mine, that the second judge was appointed in my presence; that is also a falsehood, for either he or his responsible friend, who by the way must have been a director, or where did he get all this information for Mr. Fairbairn? Now, Mr. Editor, there never was a regular meeting of the board held at the fair grounds this year; at least if there was I had no notice of it and have no minute in the books, and I have made enquiries to find who appointed the second judge and have failed to find who they were. Next Mr. Fairbairn says I deceived the directors by stating that the first judge's book was bungled when it did not suit me and then when the second judge's book came in it did not suit me as well as the first, and that I recommended the directors to take the first judge's award, and they in their innocence and hurry adopted the sapient secretary's suggestion. Now I deny in toto that I did anything of the kind even to making a suggestion. and you, Mr. Editor, are aware that the Board of Directors, unless perchance there is a Judas among them, are not of that stamp or class of men who could be easily deceived by me or bluffed into doing a wrong by Mr. Fairbairn, who tries to make the public entertain the belief that he has been unfairly treated, and now he wants three fair minded farmers to give a decision as to whether his or Mr. Garbutt's pumpkins are the best—probably he would like to appoint them himself to be sure of their disinterestedness and honesty. I notice by looking at the prize list of the exhibition held at Lakefield the week previous to ours, that Mr. Garbutt was awarded first prize for two pumpkins, Mr. McIlmoyle getting second, while Mr. Fairbairn's now notorious exhibit did not get any prize, and as Mr. Fairbairn submits to such treatment and says nothing about the unfairness or dishonesty of the judges' awards at Lakefield, nor does he even indulge in a fling at the secretary or directors, you Mr. Editor and your readers can see that Mr. Fairbairn is only wanting to vent a little vindictiveness on your humble servant. Thanking you Mr. Editor for your valuable space, I remain,

Yours truly
WM. COLLINS,
Sec. Central Fair.

Ask your neighbours if they use Dodd's Kidney Pills. They strengthen the nerves, tone the system, and the most stubborn cases of kidney diseases yield to their influence. They are especially appreciated by the old. Ask your neighbours about them. dw

For pity's sake, don't growl and grumble because you are troubled with indigestion. No good was ever effected by snarling and fretting. Be a man (unless you happen to be a woman), and take Ayer's Sarsaparilla, which will relieve you, whether man or woman.

A Remarkable Case.

GENTLEMEN,—About five years ago I noticed on my hands a great number of soft, spongy warts, very painful, and which bled when touched. I never witnessed anything like it, and was quite alarmed. We are never without Hagyard's Yellow Oil, and one evening my little girls applied it to each wart. They did this several nights and in the morning the pain and itching were so bad I had to cool my hands with snow, but finally the warts dropped out and I have never been troubled since.

GRASPING, AVARICIOUS CAPITALISTS

ARE WHAT OUR COMPETITORS CALL US.

Grasping, because we want the Trade of the Earth! Avaricious, because we hang on to the Almighty Dollar! Capitalists, because we have the Money to Tear them to Pieces in the Wholesale Markets!

WELL, you can see what it amounts to. Success ever brings envy and distrust. If we were only half so successful, we would be feared only half as much as we are.

Our push and principle alarm our competitors. Our business grip makes them wince. Our big sales excite their envy. Our popularity is what they cannot block and must put up with.

Talk of big stocks. Shout of immense piles of goods. GOUGH BROS. know about what big stocks mean. Throughout Ontario, in the best towns, GOUGH BROS. have Clothing Stores. It is a notorious fact that they do the trade of the town. They buy cheaper, carry more Goods than all competitors combined.

Notwithstanding the low price of wheat, and cry of hard times with other merchants, GOUGH BROS. sales are head and shoulders ahead of the best sales on record.

Keeping the Right Clothing, selling at the Right Price, giving Right good value in the happiest way, has done it. GOUGHS are proud of their success. Vive la Goughs!

THE MOTHER WAS ASTONISHED.

Very recently a loving mother was informed by the family physician, that her baby was suffering from indigestion.

The mother was very much alarmed when told the truth. She imagined that indigestion was a trouble that came only to grown people.

Thousands of young infants in Canada are suffering from indigestion brought on by poor and improper dieting. Cow's milk, imperfectly prepared artificial foods, oatmeal and flour porridge, all these will often produce indigestion.

An infant's weak digestive organism requires a food that can be easily digested and assimilated.

Mothers now have such a live-giving and healthy food near at hand. It is known as Lactated Food, and is sold by all druggists. Careful and honest physicians prescribe it daily, and grand results follow its use.

Indigestion and constipation are quickly banished when Lactated Food is fed to the infant; it becomes rosy cheeked, vigorous, hearty and happy.

If you have not yet given this grand food a trial, dear mother, it is your duty to do so; it will surely do for your darling all that you can hope and wish for.

A FIELD FOR FRENCH COLONIZATION.

A Beautiful Region in Northern Ontario

La Patrie, of Montreal, publishes in Wednesday's edition a long letter from Un Touriste descriptive of une region incounu, Lake Tanagimi and its vicinity, which has a certain interest for Peterborough. "Touriste," after giving a glowing description of the lake, which "is the most beautiful lake in Canada" and "knocks out" (enfonce) the Lake of the Thousand Islands at a blow. A vivid picture is drawn of the unequalled fishing, the magnificent timber, and grand agricultural country in the vicinity of the lake. This country is situated directly north of Toronto, between latitude 46° and 47°. The region under review is about 200 square miles in area, and is situated in Ontario, and "Touriste," since it is open to colonization, advises French Canadians instead of removing to the United States to settle in the Lake Timagami district in Ontario which is so far peopled with French Canadians, "forced to abandon their homes in Quebec, who naturally prefer Ontario to New England. The correspondent gives directions to his compatriots in the following paragraph, which, having local reference is translated as follows:

"If they (the French Canadians) do not know how to act or where to go, let them put themselves in direct communication with Rev. Father Paradis. This devoted missionary, working under the lofty protection of Mgr. O'Connor, Bishop of Peterborough, has set himself the task of founding parishes in the fertile region we have described."

A NORTH SMITH SUCCESS.

Their Annual Entertainment a Delightful Success—A Fine Programme—A Well-Served Supper—Good Speeches.

The annual entertainment of the North Smith Dairy Company was held in the factory building on Thurday evening, December 1st. There was a very large attendance of the patrons and friends.

Abundant refreshments of the bivalvular variety were capitally served and proportionately enjoyed.

For the more intellectual portion of the entertainment, Mr. J. R. Stratton, M.P.P., occupied the chair, and in his introductory remarks congratulated those interested upon the success of the year's operations as far as the cheese industry was concerned.

Mr. Jas. Stevenson, M. P., made a few remarks, contrasting the condition of Peterborough county and the agricultural condition of Eastern and Western Ontario respectively, greatly to the advantage of the east. He also referred to the handsome bank accounts with which many of the prosperous farmers of Peterborough county were possessed.

THE ANNUAL STATEMENT.

Mr. M. E. Sanderson then submitted the annual report as below:

To the Patrons of the North Smith Dairy Company:

GENTLEMEN,—We the undersigned having carefully examined the secretary's books and accounts find the above statement to be correct. Signed

ED. A. MCKEE,
JOHN PEARSON,
Auditors.

Mr. N. Awrey, M.P.P., for North Wentworth, President of the Central Farmers' Institute, and World's Fair Commissioner for Ontario, gave a very practical and profitable address upon the importance of the cheese industry, contrasting the position of Canada in this respect and the superior export of the latter and showed how high a position Canada held in the English market. While this country held the supremacy in the cheese market, she was a long distance behind in the butter market, both as to supply and quality, and consequently price. Canada, if she chose, could occupy the same position in the English market in the matter of butter as she did in that of cheese, and this market was worth securing. Of the 100 million pounds of butter England consumed every year, Canada only supplied a very small fraction. In this connection Mr. Awrey treated the question of the establishment of creameries and the production of winter butter in continuation of the cheese department of the dairy operation during the summer season. His address was of practical interest and we may expect it to bear practical fruit the next season.

The musical portion of the entertainment was excellent. Miss Hollihan and Sullivan sang a very creditable duet, while the Ontario Bank Quartette showed that they could handle musical notes as skilfully as they could bank notes. The quartette was composed of Messrs. Beers, Crane, Nelson and Montgomery. They sang "In the Eve by the Moonlight," which was encored; "The Bulldog on the Bank," banjo accompaniment by Mr. V. C. McGill; Mr. Nelson sang the solo, "O, Fair Dove;" Messrs. Crane and Nelson sang the duet, "The Pilot Brave." Mr. Fred Clark, of the Bank of Commerce, accompanied on the organ. Mr. W. D. Parker, also of the Ontario Bank, gave two good readings, "Jimmy Butler and the Owl," and "Catching a Mouse." The North Smith people made a decided run on the Ontario Bank, but the bank honoured every demand by the payment of musical notes, and still have a good balance of this kind of notes, as well as the other kind, on the right side of the ledger.

The annual entertainment of the North Smith Dairy Company was not only a successful entertainment but marked the close of a successful year.

Rev. Sylvanus Lane,

Of the Cincinnati M. E. Conference, makes a good point when he says: "We have for years used Hood's Sarsaparilla in our family of five, and find it fully equal to all that is claimed for it. Some people are greatly prejuiced against patent medicines, but how the patent can hurt a medicine and not a machine is a mystery of mysteries to me."

HALL, INNES & CO.

WISH TO SAY that during the many years of their business career they have never offered Goods on the above basis (except during the time of re-building their Premises), and they now confidently expect that the public will rely on the GENUINE character of this sale, and avail themselves of this opportunity of securing goods of sterling quality, at prices much below those obtained in a regular business way.

The reduction of price will apply in all Departments, as follows:

N. B.—All Outstanding Accounts must be settled at once.

FORCED REMOVAL SALE!

The Whole Stock to be Cleared at Net Cost, as we have no Option but to Remove to Other Premises.

We must vacate our present store on account of the near expiry of lease. The rent asked for renewal was more than we should or could afford to pay, and as we were allowed only 8 hours in which to reach a decision, we decided to move. This necessitates a Clearance of the Stock, so we now offer

The Entire Stock at Net Cost for Cash.

Every line in the store is new, bought for this season's trade, and consists of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods, Gent's Furnishings, etc.

We will announce later on the location of the new premises to be occupied by us.

Thanking the public for their generous support in the past, we trust to be able to do as well, if not better, in the future.

The Pie Eating Contest.

Mr. J. W. Brisbin's, flour and feed merchant, novel mode of advertising to-day, was a sort of paroxysm—a success and a failure. In favour of the former points large crowd congregated about his shop on Hunter street to witness the original contest, but they were doomed to disappointment, as the entry lists did not fill. The enterers were to eat a red hot jam pie, ordinary size, from a plate and stand in a waggon in front of the premises. After considerable exhorting the pies were sent for to Mr. H. Long's store and brought down to the crowded street, but the necessary four persons could not be found to enter; the event was postponed until later in the day. The only contestants who evinced a decided willingness to enter were George Stevens and an aged Italian. The prizes which were offered by Mr. Brisbin were 100 lbs. of flour to the pie eater devouring his pastry first, 50 lbs. to the second and 25 to the third.

Lodged in the County Gaol.

Yesterday afternoon High Constable Geo. Cochrane raided an alleged house of ill-repute situated on the drain road in Monaghan township about three quarters of a mile below the corporation. The keeper, Wm. Taylor and three inmates whose names are respectively, Lou Taylor, Rose Aylett and Georgie Earl were taken into custody, placed in a cab and driven to the county gaol where they were imprisoned. Last evening they were brought up before County Police Magistrate Edmison. Taylor was charged with keeping a house of ill fame and the three women with being inmates thereof. Lou Taylor alias MacPherson, claims to be the wife of Taylor. She was brought up on a similar charge some months ago and served a term in the gaol. The prisoners were remanded until Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock when the case will come up for hearing.

The Granite Meet.

The Granite division of the curling club met at the rink last night with a large attendance, Mr. Edmison in the chair. The meeting was enthusiastic and the interest manifested throughout keen. The following officers were elected: Geo. Edmison, chairman; E. B. Edwards, secretary; and Messrs. Hatton, Budden, Dumble, Edmison and Edwards, and were appointed a committee. Several other minor matters were discussed. There being seven skips among the members the following seven rinks were elected:

Curling Division.

1—Salisbury (skip), Attrill, Dumble, A. L. Davis, Lewis, Telfer.

2—Boucher (skip), Hatton, E. H. D. Hall, Knapmann, Leonard.

3—Budden (skip), A. Stevenson, Parker, Belcher, Heathcote.

4—Donaldson (skip), Salisbury, Montgomery, Billett, Schofield.

5—Edmison (skip), Peck, Burnham, Collins, Ross.

6—Connal (skip), Jas. Matthews, T. Connal, E. Rushbrook, Clement.

7—Judge Weller (skip), Edwards, John Burnham, Hayes, Symonds.

The Granites will have the use of the ice on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights of each week, and some interesting inter-rink matches are expected with the Thistle division. In the Ellsay medal competition, the Ontario Tankard series, etc., when four rinks are playing, the clubs will play as a whole, but in two and three rink competitions it is understood that the foreigners will play whichever division they may challenge or select.

A very attractive window of Ties, made-up and four-in-hand styles, is that of the Montreal Clothing House, 330 George street. These are imported ties — not bankrupt stock — and are in colours, patterns and material to suit every taste. The prices are marked at 10, 15, 20 and 25 cents, and are extraordinary value at that.

Sweet, weird, quaint melodies sung with the characteristic pathos of the dark skinned race. 1d

St. Paul's W. F. M. S.

Mrs. Layyah Barakat, a Syrian lady, will deliver addresses in St. Paul's church, Peterborough, on Thursday and Friday evenings Dec. 15th and 16th under the auspices of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society, the subject for the first evening being "Her Life and Conversion," and for the second evening "The three Orient Covenants." Mrs. Barakat comes to us highly spoken of. She is a fluent and pleasant speaker and treats her subject in a manner to invest the theme of foreign missions with a new and lively interest. The meetings will be open to both ladies and gentlemen.

THE "Myrtle Navy" tobacco is not burdened with the usual costs which swell the price of most articles to the consumer, the firm employ no travellers whatever, their orders come to them instead of being sought by them. The merchant does not require to keep a large stock swelling its price with interest, for the factory is an immediate source of supply to him, at the cost of a postal card or at most a telegram. He loses nothing, therefore from being overstocked. The article is a staple one, for which there is as constant a demand as for wheat or flour, and the merchant can, therefore, sell it at the minimum rate of profit.

Funeral of the Late Chas. Ritchie.

The remains of the late Charles Egerton Ritchie, a former resident of Peterborough, who died at Kansas City on Wednesday morning, arrived in town to-day's noon by the C. P. R. accompanied by the deceaseds brother, Mr. Ryerson Ritchie, superintendent of the Board of Trade, Cleveland, Ohio. A number of friends were at the station to pay their last respects to the deceased. The remains were interred in Little Lake cemetery, Rev. Geo. Edwards, pastor of the Charlotte street church conducting the services at the grave. The late Mr. Ritchie was a young man of integrity and much promise and was in his 34th year. He removed to Kansas City from Peterborough about four years ago. During the last six months he suffered severely from valvular affection of the heart, from which cause he died. Deceased leaves a mother, two brothers and a sister to mourn his loss. His mother Mrs. Ritchie who resides in Kansas City will remove to Peterborough to reside in the spring. The pall-bearers were six of Mr. Ritchie's former companions, Messrs. T. H. Dumble, W. Stubbs, W. G. Morrow, Wm. Tebb, H. Fife and E. Hutchinson.

Don't Forget Wednesday, Dec. 7th

On that date Court Stanley, No. 7080, Ancient Order of Foresters will hold its third annual concert in the Opera House. The Sims Richards family, of Toronto, have been engaged to render the programme consisting of mandolin, and banjo duets, banjo quartettes, violin solos, songs and recitations, archery drill and shooting at the target, also sword drill by four accomplished young ladies. The Toronto Globe says: "The audience which assembled in the Horticultural Pavilion last evening was a truly representative one, the elite, beauty and fashion of our city were present and the vast building was filled to its utmost capacity. It is fair to assert that no city in the Dominion could have produced a finer gathering in any particular. "She wore a Wreath of Roses" by Mr. Sims Richard was certainly the finest number given during the evening. Mr. Sims Richards is the happy possessor of a voice that certainly in its compass, richness and flexibility places him in the top niche of the Canadian singers of to-day. The prices have been placed within the reach of all. Only 25c admission, reserved seats 35c. Plan of hall now open at the Peterborough Bookstore.

The Inmates Had Taken Their Flight

High Constable George Cochrane and an assistant last night at a late hour, made descent upon an alleged disorderly house said to have been kept by Mrs. Simpson, and situated northeast of the Roman Catholic cemetery near the Monaghan township windmill. The location was generally known as "The Edison Heights." When the constable reached the spot he found the inmates missing, they evidently having been apprised of the attempt to rout them out. The fire in the coal stove was burning brightly and the supper dishes were still upon the table. Everything else on the premises was in utter darkness and the inhabitants could not have taken their departure of the domicil more than an hour or two before and probably not that long and they will not find it eligible to return if they wish to keep clear of the arm of the law. The Monaghan Health authorities have a splendid case both against the occupants of the house on the drain road, which was raided yesterday afternoon by constable Cochrane, and also the tenants of the house in the present matter if their whereabouts can be revealed. The rooms in both places were reeking with filth, and the atmosphere very offensive. The community is well rid of such a class of homes and inhabitants.

The Havelock Assault Case.

The enlarged case against Andrew Knivenauer, charged with assaulting one of the pupils of his school named McCracken, came up before County Police Magistrate Edmison at Havelock yesterday. E. B. Stone appeared for plaintiff and W. H. Moore for the defendant. The evidence of Dr. Fast was taken and coincided with Dr. Powers in regard to the boy's injuries. The evidence of the defence was taken, several of the pupils being examined, but their testimony was very contradictory in character. The evidence was just concluded by the trial [illegible] when the court adjourned until Wednesday next to be delivered in Peterborough. The adjournment still continues in the village over the affair. The contending case that was enlarged by Knivenauer against Master McCracken, mother of the boy, has been withdrawn by the plaintiff.

Simply Awful

Worst Case of Scrofula the Doctors Ever Saw

Completely Cured by HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

"When I was 4 or 5 years old I had a scrofulous sore on the middle finger of my left hand, which got so bad that the doctors cut the finger off, and later took off more than half my hand. Then the sore broke out on my arm, came out on my neck and face on both sides, nearly destroying the sight of one eye, also on my right arm. Doctors said it was the

they ever saw. It was simply awful! Five years ago I began to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Gradually I found that the sores were beginning to heal. I kept on till I had taken ten bottles, ten dollars! Just think of what a return I got for that investment! A thousand per cent? Yes, many thousand. For the past 4 years I have had no sores.

ATTEMPTED MURDER.

James Dickson of Keene Receives his Preliminary Hearing and is Committed for Trial at the County Court Sittings.

County Police Magistrate Edmison held county court this morning when hearing of the case of Jas. Dickson, of Keene, came up. Mr. R. E. Wood represented the Crown, the prisoner appearing without counsel.

The evidence of Mrs. Dickson, wife of the prisoner, his sons and a neighbour, John Frost, was taken at the hearing. Dickson, it appears, has not been living with his wife for some months past, the latter stating that her husband absolutely refused to contribute anything to support her and her children, hence the separation. The enraged husband, one day last month, overcome with jealousy and passion went to the residence of his wife and children, where his son had secured a home for his mother, and it is said he thrust a cocked and loaded gun through a window pane, making violent threats to take the lives of the inmates of the house, and in his attack kicked in the door in order to gain ingress. In the house at the time were Mrs. Dickson, her small children, and a neighbour, Mr. John Frost. The wife, stricken with terror and fearful of her life fled to the constable's house to have her husband placed under restraint of the law, but the latter not being home she was obliged to remain out all night. Constable Cochrane on Wednesday last arrested Dickson and lodged him in the county gaol. The magistrate after hearing the evidence committed the prisoner for trial on the charge of attempted murder at the next court of competent jurisdiction which will be the County Court and General Sessions of the Peace which open at Peterborough on the 13th inst.

The Lack Of Snow

Don't disturb our business one whit. Our measure book keeps piling up the orders for Suits and Overcoats just the same as if the snow was mountains high. Our customers, like sensible fellows, are looking ahead. The cold wave is coming and they know it, and they ain't going to wait until both lungs are frozen before they order warm winter clothing.

Take Pete's advice, you fellows that are waiting until it gets as cold as Greenland, and leave your measure on the spot. He can make you a Suit or Overcoat in 10 hours if you like. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

"PRICE!" to suit your purse. Men like bargains as well as women do—almost.

"FIT!" Well, we do love to see the man that's hard to fit come in our store.

"STUFF!" Yes, we've got the stuff in any kind of cloth you like. Always tasty and good. Now, catch on; only 4 weeks to Christmas.

"STYLE!" We are as familiar with the wants of our patrons as you are with your own door yard or the multiplication table.

HAVE YOU TRIED THE

"CABLE EXTRA"

CIGAR.

(Copyright.)

NEW YORK (SPECIAL).

MILLINERY for the early winter is variously novel and beautiful. This initial hat, with a velvet crown, is suitable for a little girl. The brim is white felt, and the crown may be black, blue, or orange velvet. Running around it is a white silk cord, which forms ornaments on one side, holding three white quills, the tops of which are shaded to the color of the velvet. The bonnet in the second picture has a raised border, trimmed with six roses placed at equal distance from each other, and the front is ornamented by a butterfly bow of lace, from which a jet aigrette starts. The strings are of narrow velvet. The third bonnet is composed of black velvet and jet, with almond green and old rose reversible ribbon. It makes a really charming setting to a youthful face. It has a mixed jet and straw border, and is trimmed with a bow of the almond green and old gold or rose color reversible ribbon. There are, also, black jetted lace pompons. Veils are being worn as much as ever, with hats as well as bonnets. Light, fine nets with tiny chenille knots are most in favor, though some are still seen with heavy spots and a kind of border, which is not becoming to any face. By the way, if you are not a girl, but a grown woman well started towards matronliness, permit me to advise you to have your bonnets large enough. There is nothing more unbecoming than a bonnet too small for its wearer, or one which persists in being relegated to the back of the head. Jet or steel coronets are too hard to suit sweet matronly faces. A fold of yielding velvet, or a quilting of lace or good ribbon is better. Such a bordering forms a worthy frame to the face. If you want particularly to have a jet rim, blend it with gold, if you are a brunette, and it will prove a satisfactory combination.

Of all traitorous accessories a woman's gloves are the worst. You simply cannot trust them. Better start out in a hurry and trust to "fixing your hat as you go" than to trust to "putting on your gloves" the same way. In the first place, though you selected your gloves with due care, when you get half way on your journey and have come to the other glove, you will find you have taken both for the same hand. You may know positively that you started with a pair, but when it comes to putting on the second glove you will find you had two lefts. It would have been better to have had two rights. Then, at least, your right hand would have been covered and you could have perhaps gotten through handshaking gestures without showing the other hand much, but as it is, it's either mortification or go back. Another trick a pair of gloves will play you is when you have the two hands all right, but they do not belong to the same pair, and a difference in color or length will be startling when you come to get them both on. Then perhaps if the pair is all right you will find you have lost the other one when you come to put it on. That is one of the nicest accidents that can happen, and gloves just love to do that way. As to splitting! Every one knows that the brand new gloves you have gotten to go with your party dress and that because the pair is new you decide to "put on in the carriage," splits away up the palms when you pull them the least bit.

Buttons are always perfidious. Unless you actually button to the last button before leaving the house, they are sure to fly off. Also button holes have a way of bursting if you depend on them the least bit. The only safe way is not to repose a bit of confidence in a glove. To give them no chance to do monkey shines, no matter what else you slight, no matter what else you "do on the way," finish your gloves before leaving the house, nay, and before leaving your room, have both carefully pulled on and all buttoned. That is the only safe way. Even then don't fancy you are safe. If there is any real good chance the glove will burst, or the buttons will fly. As to the minor weaknesses of gloves we all know how the pair that exactly matched the sample of your dress proves not a bit like the dress, or they get quite a different color when on the hand. Nothing soils as do gloves. You may sit with your hands on your outspread handkerchief in your lap; you need not move them once, and still, when the carriage gets there and you are in the dressing room, your gloves are "perfect sights." The matter with gloves is, they "ain't got no feeling for nobody." That was the explanation a maid of mine gave once.

The styles in hairdressing are slowly but surely changing. True, the hair is still waved from the roots, but it is drawn into a soft knot towards the nape of the neck—a style eminently becoming to women with pure oval faces and regular features, but exceedingly trying to every one else. The bandeaux which have been worn so long are not suitable to this style of coiffure, but before long the double Roman fillet will be seen once more. These prove peculiarly becoming to those who are the happy possessors of abundant hair. In a picture herewith I give a view of a new arrangement of a woman's hair. This style, for which it is not necessary to have much hair, can be done, too, with false hair, which has the advantages of being easily frizzed, and of not being necessary to spoil one's own locks. When the hair has been parted in front it is tied behind the head. The ends are frizzed and the head arranged in light puffs, as indicated in the engraving. The front part is then curled and the ends turned back and passed into the chignon. Let me add, sentimentally, that the hair should be as fragrant as pine-needles or sea-salt. So with every part of the sweet woman herself, so with every detail of her wear, and fashion is rapidly making all this obligatory.

The chignon is coming in. I wrote that fact in these letters recently. An amusing letter has reached me from a despairing correspondent who on reading that news, she says, arranged her hair in a "huge lump in the middle of the head." This enthusiastic but impulsive votary of fashion has since discovered that the revised chignon is worn low in the neck, and she implores me to make this known at once, in order to save women from disfiguring themselves more than is necessary in their well-meant efforts to be "in the fashion." What a terrible responsibility is thus thrust on me. For how many guys may I not be reponsible for a'ter y? Be cautious, therefore, how you don the net, my readers.

The final sketch is not an original study of fashion, but a copy of a photograph of Princess Maud of Wales, taken within a month, showing her as dressed for an evening occasion. You will see that there is not much "style" about her.

Among the different styles of overcoverings the military cape seems safe for all. It should come to the knee or just above it. The correct cape should be cut from a circular piece. Get a look at an army friend. It fits over the shoulders and has no fullness at the collar, but hangs as it will from the shoulders. The so-called military, however, is shirred from the collar, and hangs without any fitting over the shoulders. Very stunning ones are real military, gotten up in black or blue cloth and lined with scarlet. More dressy ones are in light cloth and lined with plaid silk or fur. A particularly swell one is of chamois colored felt, of almost chamois texture, lined with jennet, or, since jennet is so difficult to get here, with any dark, soft fur. There is, of course, a very high collar, which may lie flat or turned up about the ears. Of one thing you must be careful, however. I saw a very swell girl, arrayed in a military cloak just as it should be, and lined with fur. She swept into a fashionable restaurant for lunch, ate a hasty one and prepared to sweep out. She did, only she was so secure in her mind about her appearance that she never noticed the waiter had adjusted her cloak wrong side out, and a queerer looking thing you never saw.

Is there an organised strike among bridegrooms? I note that it is becoming the usage at pretentious weddings for brides to give the presents to their bridesmaids. Once the bridegroom would as little have expected to escape buying the half dozen gold bangles or initial brooches, which usually fall to the share of the attendant damsels, as he would have dreamt of failing to present the bride with her bouquet. But the young man of to-day has carefully weighed all these expenses, and discouraged as far as possible the bevy of maids with whom brides love to surround themselves, and the latter sometimes find that if they are to go to the altar with the regulation number of damsels in their train they must themselves provide the customary gifts. Now, if bridegrooms are on a strike, a move that bids fair to become a success. It won't do to encourage masculine independence in weddings, and no gasconnaded bridegroom would attempt to shirk the shower of bangles or brooches if he goes in for a swell wedding at all. The total abolition of bridesmaids will inevitably result, moreover, if the fashion grows.

MEANS A FRESH APPEAL.

To the Country if Gladstone's Home Rule Bill Is Accepted Or Rejected

LONDON, Dec. 2.—It is stated Michael Davitt desires to resign his present seat in Parliament, and to run again without priestly assistance, but under the charges of undue clerical influence he will not be permitted to accept the Chiltern Hundreds.

The Daily News hints that the tenantry of Mr. Fullam in South Meath, on account of Bishop Nulty's unwise pastoral, must make Davitt uncomfortable.

The Times says: "This is a point of some importance, for it is to be to the vote of the Irish clericals that the Gladstone Government owes its precarious life. The votes of the Irish clericals now dominate the policy of the British Empire. The South Meath petition has shown us something of the powers which in turn dominate them."

The Chronicle says: "The result in South Meath may be useful to the Irish party, if it teaches them to curb their priests and to imitate O'Connell in repudiating politics from Rome. Bishop Nulty tried to aid Davitt as he aided Fullam, and it is feared Davitt will also be unseated. At the same time we must avow that if we began to tackle the thorny subject of spiritual intimidation, we shall find ourselves involved in all the troubles of continental politics."

The opinion prevails in Dublin that the McCarthyites are certain to regain the South Meath seat by an increased majority. Modifications will be made in the measure of 1886 as follows:

Clause 4, restricting the powers of the Irish Legislature, is enlarged by further defining the limitation of the powers of the Legislature to interfere with the endowment of religion or to impose disability or confer privilege on account of religious belief.

Further guarantees relating to denominational education are provided. Next the constitution of the legislative body will be modified by raising the number of members of the first order in the Upper House, who, as in the first bill, shall hold office for 10 years.

The much-disputed clause 27, removing the Irish peers from the House of Lords and the Irish members from the House of Commons, disappears in the new bill, the representation of Ireland in the Imperial Parliament remaining the same as at present.

To meet the threatened active refusal or passive resistance of the Ulsterites to the Irish Parliament by the non-payment of taxes, sub-section 4 of clause 19 is to be extended so as to insure the employment of the police and military forces to enforce the payment of all taxes leviable by the Irish Parliament.

Another alteration relates to disputes arising between the Irish Legislature and the Imperial Parliament.

If Mr. Gladstone passes the bill in the House of Commons, it is certain to be rejected by the House of Lords. This will involve a fresh appeal to the country.

Even if the peers are at once submissive to the will of the people and allow the measure to become a law, the alteration of the representation in the Imperial Parliament consequent thereon will require another general election, while the initiation of the new Irish administration will draw heavily upon Mr. Gladstone's energies.

No loss of life is reported in either case.

The STANDARD has always taken the lead over other companies in the effort to simplify the assurance contract, and to maintain public confidence in life assurance. Its prompt and liberal settlement of claims has given it a world-wide reputation for generous, straight-forward dealing, and by its example has done much to do away with contesting of policies.

The New Free Policy of the Standard Life Assurance Company is given without extra charge; allows free residence in any part of the world, and is incontestable and unconditional except on the ground of false statements in the application, and that only during the first two years; after that it is absolutely free. This policy is simply a promise to pay a certain sum at the maturity of the contract, instead of having a number of useless clauses on the back of the policy showing what the insured may not do, and which always gives rise to dissatisfaction and dispute. the STANDARD prints only on the back of the policy a list of special privileges granted to the assured.

An Express Combine.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—The initial movement in what seems to be a war for express business in New England between the American Express Company and the Adams Express Company began yesterday, when negotiations looking to the control of express business of the New England road by the American were closed and the Adams cut off.

With this statement came an announcement that the New England road had been enjoined from entering into a contract with the American Express Company. The American Express is doing New England business under its contract, despite the legal complications.

Western Flour Market Dull.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 2.—The Northwestern Miller says: Although considerable time was lost last week through a shortage of water the flour output nearly equalled that of the previous week.

The production was 184,315 barrels against 186,790 barrels the week before.

The flour market is pretty dull and it is hard to sell flour except on a consumptive basis, and these exceedingly low quotations have to be made. For a week back most of the local firms have worked off all the patent and low grades they made, and the business was chiefly done in domestic markets.

There is still a good demand for red dog for feed and prices are firm. Export trade continues very dull. Direct export shipments last week were 40,180 barrels against 61,200 barrels the preceding week.

Telegraphers' Grievances.

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—Officials of the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific and the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroads confidently assert that there will be no strike of the telegraphers employed by those companies.

The Executive Board of the Rock Island branch of the order of Railway Telegraphers had a conference yesterday with officers of the company and asked for a new schedule of wages for the operators on that system. What they want is payment for overtime and a minimum salary of $45 per month.

A further hearing will be given the committee next Monday. Members of the order say that no strike is contemplated.

The Storm at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2.—The rainstorm which began here Saturday night has continued and has been accompanied by winds from the southeast and southwest that have done some damage. The ferry boats were prevented yesterday from running for a time, and steamers which make weekly trips to points north and south on the coast did not put to sea. Considerable damage was done among vessels in the harbor.

A report was received last evening that several fishing boats had been capsized near West Berkeley and seven Italian fishermen drowned.

"It Cured Mother."

GENTLEMEN,—My mother was suffering from dyspepsia and no appetite. Everything failed to cure her until one day, while visiting a friend's house, I saw a bottle of B. B. B. on the table; on inquiring what they used it for, I soon found out what it cured, and when I went home told mother that she should try it; she said she had no faith in anything and objected to try it. Notwithstanding her objection I went in the evening and brought home a bottle but it was in the house for a week before we could induce her to take it. At last, as she was getting worse all the time she consented to try it, and on taking half the bottle found it was curing her. Another bottle cured her, and we believe, saved her life. We are never without B. B. B. now. It is such a good remedy for headache as well.

WHIPS REFUSE TO WORK

PARTY POLITICS RUN HIGH IN GREAT BRITAIN.

The Conservatives Will Offer a Bill Making It Illegal for Priests to Represent Illiterate Voters—Revision of Rents Imperative.

LONDON, Dec. 3.—Although the opening of Parliament is still eight weeks distant, the Conservative party is already on the scene with three amendments to the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne.

One amendment attacks the Irish Evicted Tenants' Commission. Another relates to the distress of the agricultural classes, and the third relates to the wavering policy of the Government with regard to Uganda.

Besides these there are other amendments under discussion. These amendments will prolong the discussion on the address, thus obstructing the work of Parliament, and the object is to test the strength of the Government.

A prominent Liberal member of Parliament said to an Associated Press representative yesterday:

"We expect the warmest time any Parliament has seen since the discussion of the Reform Bill of 1832. What threatens to make matters worse for members personally is the fact that the relations between the parties are so embittered that the party whips decline to try to arrange pairs.

The Government's Narrow Majority.

"The Opposition will pair with Liberals. The result will be that every member will be kept in constant attendance in the House of Commons for fear the Government's narrow majority may be submerged by some snatch vote."

"Housekeeping," accurately represents the advice of the Ministerials, who, however, continue to be confident of weathering the divisions on the address, and even hopeful of passing the Home Rule bill.

There is reason for belief that the party whips will bring every man to the House on the opening of Parliament, and will keep all there until Home Rule is decided one way or the other.

The Conservatives, apropos of priestly intimidation in Ireland and the unseating of Mr. Fullam, intend to introduce a bill making it illegal for priests to act as agents for illiterates or otherwise at polling stations.

Another trouble before the Government is renewed agitation of Irish tenant farmers for an abatement of judicial rents fixed four years ago. The tenants declare that the fall in prices of live stock and of farm products generally makes a revision of rents imperative.

A temporary clause of the act of 1887 empowered the Land Commission to reduce rents in ratio of decline in agricultural prices. The clause was operative for only three years and expired at a time when it would have done most good. The Government will ask Parliament to restore the clause exactly as it was.

Couldn't Form a Cabinet.

PARIS, Dec. 3.—M. Brisson, who was selected by President Carnot to form a new Ministry, has abandoned the undertaking, and the political situation is more muddled than ever. Brisson, in explanation of his failure, says he desired to form a Cabinet that would co-operate with all the factions, but the refusal of M. Perier to enter the combination and the declination of M. Bourgeois to accept the portfolio of the Interior forced him to abandon his task.

President Carnot has charged M. Perier to form a Cabinet.

Mrs. Deacon After Damages.

PARIS, Dec. 3.—Mrs. Deacon has brought an action for slander against The Galignani Messenger. The alleged slander consisted in the publication of a report that Mrs. Deacon in the middle of November agreed to surrender her eldest child and to authorize Mr. Deacon to secure a divorce from her in Paris, providing he abandoned the criminal action now pending at Grasse against her for adultery.

According to the paper Mr. Deacon had accepted these conditions.

Anti-Semitics At Work.

LONDON, Dec. 3.—The Standard's Berlin correspondent says that in a draft of the Conservative platform the first paragraph reads:

"We combat Jewish influence in our national life, on which it acts with disintegrating effect. We demand Christian [illegible] for Christian people and Christian teachers for Christian pupils; we condemn the excesses of anti-Semitism."

The Austrian Secret Service Credit.

VIENNA, Dec. 3.—The Reichsrath Friday by a vote of 167 to 146 refused to grant the credit asked for secret service purposes. The majority against the credit was made up of German Liberals, German Nationals and Young Czechs.

The Suzerainty of Chitral.

CALCUTTA, Dec. 3.—Sheg' Afzul Khan, the usurping ruler of Chitral, has recognized the Ameer of Afghanistan as Suzerain of Chitral. Goods in transit from India through Chitral will henceforth pay duty to the Ameer.

The Indian Government will not admit the suzerainty of the Ameer.

BOOKS OF BUSINESS MEN

Are Freely Opened to the Bureau of Labor.

LONDON, Dec. 3.—Dr. E. J. Gould of the American Labor Department testified yesterday before the Royal Labor Commission. He said that he was studying the housing of working people, the Scandinavia liquor laws and other matters pertaining to the welfare of the masses.

"The American Bureau," he added, "had undoubtedly been instrumental in curtailing the number of strikes. Probing industrial matters helped to improve the intelligence and standard of life of workingmen.

"The department at first had difficulty in getting information from employers. That was all changed now."

Business books are freely opened to the bureau, which, Dr. Gould declared, had not only benefited workingmen but the trade of the whole country.

A £200 Poem.

LONDON, Dec. 3.—Mr. William Watson, the poet who wrote the best obituary poem on Lord Tennyson, has been offered £200 from the Royal bounty, leaving the question of pension in abeyance.

Runs at a Funeral.

BRIDGETON, N.Y., Dec. 3.—James Beck, an aged resident of this place, was buried yesterday. John and Antinony Beck, sons of the dead man, stopped the funeral services by attempting to thrash the minister.

The clergyman had destroyed a small bottle of rum he found in the house. This so enraged the Beck boys that they threatened to thrash the preacher, and were only prevented by sheer force. After the man had been locked up in a side room the services were concluded.

A Mining Trouble.

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Dec. 3.—James Burton and F. Burton, brothers, were killed yesterday by Bill and Charles Gibson at Kernville, in the mountains 80 miles from here. The Gibsons came to Bakersfield and gave themselves up. The trouble was about the possession and working of mines.

Short of Funds.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—J. Ross Faulkner, aged 24, of Dansville, son of the late State Assemblyman Lester B. Faulkner, poisoned himself at Bellevue Hospital where he was studying medicine. No cause is known for Faulkner's suicide except that he was short of funds and had not enough money to complete his studies.

Shocked for Ten Seconds.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Dec. 3.—An earthquake shock was felt here yesterday. The vibrations lasted 10 seconds. The shock was not so severe as the one which first shook Charleston in 1886, but was like the lesser shocks which followed several days afterward.

SCROFULA 12 YEARS

Always Sore, Burned Like Fire. Ashamed to be Seen. Got Worse Under Four Doctors. Cured by Cuticura.

For about ten or twelve years I have been troubled with scrofula. My head was always sore, my face was dry and scaly, and burned like fire most of the time. My body had big red spots on it, and I did not know what to do. I went to four different doctors and they helped me at first. In the fall I got worse again; then I tried other remedies, but they did me no good. I was ashamed to go into public. I was a sight to behold. Every one would say, "What is the matter, why don't you take something?" Even at my daily labor I had to wear a sort of cap to keep the dirt from getting into the sores. After I would wash, I would be covered with big red pimples all over my neck and face. Some two or three people advised me to try the CUTICURA REMEDIES. I did try them, and am glad I have done so. Glad to say I am a well man, and in the best of health since. I cannot praise the CUTICURA REMEDIES too highly. I enclose my portrait.

GAMBLING STOPPED.

Montreal Has Closed the Bucket Shops in a Determined Way.

MONTREAL, Dec. 5.—The turf commission room, 201 St. James-street, about which so much has been said and written, is closed. The Gazette says: What the law failed to do Montreal's sporting public have successfully accomplished in a very few months. The professional gambler has been sucked dry, and what wealth he possessed has passed into the pockets of those Canadian "suckers" in whose verdancy he confidently expected to find a bonanza.

The pool-room, once thronged with sporting men and reeking with tobacco smoke, is cold and empty.

Its glory has departed. The Montreal public has proved too much for each of the successive syndicates who have attempted to operate it, and now the place will remain vacant and deserted until some new organization can be tempted to buck the tiger.

When its first owner, Mr. J. Gleason of New York, found that the Montreal end of his poolroom circuit was a losing concern he sold out to a syndicate of local gamblers. As each of these successively dropped what money he had and got out fresh partners were taken in, until within the last few months over 10 partners have invested their "stuff" and lost it in the rooms. Gradually the "talent" became afraid of the place. Nearly all of the original syndicate had dropped out one by one until a Toronto betting man, who formerly operated a room farther down in St. James-street, an exsaloonkeeper, and a French-Canadian sport, became the leading spirits. Betting men became afraid of their chances of getting what they won. There was a rush to cash tickets and the syndicate had to draw in their horns. Large bets were refused. One sporting man who desired to lay 100 to 3 had his bet declined; and it was palpable that the end was not far off. Still they struggled along until Thursday, when, the Guttenburg races being postponed, they played the Gloucester races instead. Unfortunately, the sporting public had got these races down "pat," and the room was hit right and left. The result was that on Friday the room was closed. Whether it will open again or not is a question. It is rumored that some Toronto sporting men have been persuaded to take hold of it; but it is doubtful if any syndicate with only a few thousand dollars to lose can make money where Jimmy Gleason with all his capital and experience proved a failure. Should it open again it will not likely last long, and thus, fortunately one moral plague spot that the law could not touch will be finally eradicated from our fair city of Montreal.

GRAND TRUNK RUMORS.

It is Said That Two High Officials Will Be Asked to Resign.

STRATFORD, Ont., Dec. 5.—The latest and most startling rumor since the Grand Trunk's policy of retrenchment has been put into force gained currency Saturday. It was to the effect that General Manager Seargeant and Mechanical Superintendent Wallis had been asked to resign. It was said a private message to that effect had gone over the G.T.R. wires, but careful enquiry failed to confirm the report. Everyone of course had heard the rumor, but that was all. Mr. Wallis is at present in Chicago attending a convention of mechanical superintendents.

The rumor did not stay at having Messrs. Seargeant and Wallis asked to resign, but General Manager W.J. Spicer and Mechanical Superintendent H. Roberts of the Chicago and Grand Trunk were named as successors, the entire system from Chicago to Portland being placed under the one management by the rumor. General Manager Spicer of the Chicago and Grand Trunk has just returned from the Old Country, and his private car went to Montreal the other day to meet him. These two occurrences are looked upon as perhaps significant.

HE IS AN ARCHITECT.

An Omaha Embezzler Sent to Penitentiary For a Year.

OMAHA, Neb., Dec. 5.—Sidney Smith, who was arrested in Toronto three months ago and brought back to Omaha for forgery, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary.

Smith was formerly president of the Association of Architects.

Smith was arrested by Detective McGrath in King-street on Oct 31. He was living at 172 Mutual-street under the name of Henry Thomas. He had not been working while in Toronto, but had called on a number of architects as he was an architect himself. He expressed a willingness, if not anxiety, to go back to Omaha, and after he had left, it was learned that he had married a young woman here, despite the fact that he had a wife living in Omaha. Rev. Mr. Smith of the Metropolitan performed the ceremony. The Toronto girl met him in a boarding house in which they were living. She is now living with friends in Oakville.

He Died to Death.

KINGSTON, Dec. 5.—James Kerr, while engaged in doing chores for James Stanton, Clear Lake, fell and broke an artery in his leg, bleeding to death before medical aid could be summoned.

A Royal Pass.

WINNIPEG, Dec. 5.—C. K. Royal, son of the Lieutenant-Governor of the Northwest, was yesterday admitted to the bar of Manitoba. He is the first French-Canadian lawyer to pass the course in this province.

A Sprinter Suicides.

SPOKANE, Wis., Dec. 5.—H. H. O'Dell, at one time the champion sprinter of America, committed suicide Saturday.

DOWN WITH CIVIL WAR.

THREE POWERFUL NATIONS JUMP ON SAMOA.

Local Differences Over Racial Opposition For Business In Hawaii Must No Longer Cause Civil Wars—Order Must be Restored.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—The Berlin correspondent of The Daily News has learned that the Governments of England, Germany and the United States have agreed to common action to restore order in Samoa.

Murderer Neill's Will.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—It is known that Thomas Neill made a will disposing of his property, but the question arises, is it valid? Discussing this point The Law Journal seems to think that the act by which the crown may appoint administrators of the possessions of any convict does not cover the case of a convict on whom the capital sentence has been carried out.

The crown may, therefore, so far interfere as to pay through its administrators the cost of the dead convict's prosecution out of his property, defray his debts and pay compensation to persons injured by his criminal acts.

FOREIGN BUSINESS.

The Trade of France Has Not Been Flourishing for a Long Time.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—Latest discount quotations yesterday were 2 for three months and 1⅛ for short. Rates were firm at the beginning of the week, but relapsed largely owing to banks repaying some loans to the market.

Business on the stock exchange was fairly active. The leading feature was a heavy drop in South American securities. British, Colonial and Indian funds were slightly higher.

In European stocks little business was transacted. English railways advanced slightly. The unusual efflux of gold from America had a depressing effect on American railways, but there was a partial recovery in the death of Jay Gould.

The week's variations include an increase in Louisville and Nashville of 1⅛, and the following decreases: New York, Pennsylvania & Ohio, 3; Wabash mortgage, Missouri & Kansas and Lake Shore, 1 each. Atchesons mortgage, Northern Pacific preferred and Ohio and Mississippi ½ each; Atchison shares, Norfolk and Western preferred and Union Pacific ¼ each. Grand Trunks were in better favor, first and second preference closed 3 higher and do. guaranteed 2 higher.

France's Difficulties.

PARIS, Dec. 5.—Prices on the bourse opened higher, but declined owing to the ministerial crisis. The tone was rather better yesterday. Rentes withstood the prevailing depression better than was expected. Investors still hold aloof. Men competent to judge are of the opinion that a continuance of the recent violent changes of Government will have a serious effect upon the trade of France, which has not been in a flourishing condition for a long time.

Unless the outlook improves soon, failures in many quarters are inevitable. International funds showed a slight upward movement.

Credit Foncier closed 26 1-4 lower owing to criticisms in the chamber shaking the confidence of shareholders. Suez Canal was slightly higher. Rio Tinto closed at 410. Railways show an average decline of 10 francs.

Foreign Securities Firm.

BERLIN, Dec. 5.—Prices on the bourse during the past week were firm, especially in the case of foreign securities, and the movements were only fractional. Iron and coal shares were dull. The final quotations included: Prussian fours, 107; Austrian credit, 167.75; Deutsche bank, 158.90; private discount, 2⅜.

A Steady Gait.

FRANKFORT, Dec. 5.—Prices were steady on the bourse during the past week. International funds were quiet, Hungarian gold rentes closed at 96, Austrian credit at 267 and Austrian gold rentes at 98.

A HARD TASK.

Making a French Cabinet Staggers the Genius of Leaders.

PARIS, Dec. 5.—M. Perier, who was summoned Saturday by President Carnot to form a Cabinet, after M. Brisson had abandoned the undertaking, has also given up the task, finding it impossible to get the men he wanted to accept the portfolios he offered them.

M. Constans has written a letter to the President of the Panama Canal Investigation Committee denying the statements made by a witness before the committee that he (Constans) brought papers relating to the Panama Company.

M. Bonaparte Wyse, a well-known French Engineer who negotiated the new Colombian concession to the Panama Canal Company, died at Cannes yesterday.

Necessary Action.

MADRID, Dec. 5.—Royal decrees are published permitting the free importation of American vines to repair the losses caused by the phylloxera in the vine-growing districts of Spain.

Gladstone's Welcome To Liverpool.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—The freedom of the city of Liverpool was conferred Saturday on the Right Hon. William E. Gladstone. The streets were thronged with about 250,000 people, and Mr. Gladstone received a most cordial ovation on his way to the town hall, where he delivered an address.

More Effective Than Shillalahs.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—The new council of the Irish National Federation will consist of 30 country delegates, 13 civic delegates and 71 anti-Parnellite members of the House of Commons.

THE FISCAL POLICY.

A General Convention to Be Held in Montreal in January.

MONTREAL, Dec. 5.—At a meeting of the members of the Club National held Saturday evening notice was given that at the next meeting a motion will be made to call a general convention of all the municipal, political, university, labor and other organizations in the Dominion, to be held in Montreal in the course of January next, to discuss the opportunity of adopting some means to change the political and economical condition of the country. The question will be fully discussed at the next meeting of the club. The movers and seconders base their motion on the fact of serious dissatisfaction manifested in different parts of the country with the present regime.

THE SPREE IN MID-OCEAN.

A PASSENGER LOST HIS WITS AND WENT OVERBOARD.

A Broken Main-Shaft Bored a Hole in the Bottom of an Atlantic Liner—The Water-Tight Bulkheads Saved the Vessel.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—The North German Lloyd steamship Spree, which left Southampton on Nov. 23 and was due in New York on Nov. 30, arrived at Queenstown yesterday in tow of the British steamship Lake Huron, which sailed from Montreal Nov. 19 for Liverpool.

The Spree's main shaft broke down on Nov. 26. Part of the machinery went through her bottom under the second cabin, which immediately filled with water. The passengers thought the vessel was going to the bottom and rushed on deck. For a time a panic prevailed. The water could be heard rushing through the hole in the bottom, and in a short time the vessel began to settle. The passengers ran about the ship in wild confusion, but when they saw that the vessel was not going to the bottom the counsels of the officers and the more cool-headed among their own number prevailed and a semblance of order was restored. Life preservers were in great request and many of the passengers kept them close at hand even when it became known that there was no immediate danger.

As soon as the accident occurred the boats' crews were piped to their stations, and everything was placed in readiness for the abandonment of the vessel should such a course be deemed necessary. The stewards busied themselves in getting provisions into the boats, and everything that prudent seamanship would dictate was done.

The Bulkheads Saved the Vessel.

It was shortly seen, however, that the watertight bulkheads were answering the purpose for which they were constructed, and that though the water was pouring into the compartment beneath the second cabin very little was getting into the other compartments. With only one compartment filled the steamer lost little of her buoyancy, and when it was stated by the officers that all danger of sinking was passed the passengers became calm.

When the accident occurred the Spree was about 1000 miles from Queenstown. The Lake Huron towed her the entire distance back. The Spree leaked so badly that it was impossible for the pumps to gain on the water, which is still 30 feet deep in the after compartment.

The shaft broke at 6.30 in the morning, at that early hour few of the passengers had arisen and when the noise made by the pounding of the broken shaft aroused them they were thrown into great alarm. Many of them rushed on deck in their night clothing, mothers clasping their babes in their arms, and a second class passenger named named Paul Kelson was so terribly frightened that he jumped overboard and was drowned. The other passengers are all well.

DAVITT WILL RESIGN.

He Wishes to Avoid the Trial of the Petition Against Him.

LONDON, Dec. 5.—The Parnellites were jubilant when they succeeded in having Fullam, the anti-Parnellite, who was elected to represent South Meath in Parliament, deprived of his seat and there is a prospect that they will have further cause for joy in the case of Michael Davitt, against whose return from North Meath a petition has been presented. As in the case of Mr. Fullam, clerical intimidation in favor of Mr. Davitt is charged. It is expected that the judges, after unseating Mr. Davitt, will report Bishop Nulty of Meath and several priests of that diocese to Parliament as guilty of intimidation.

It has been stated that Mr. Davitt desires to resign his seat and to stand again for election without priestly assistance, but under the charge of undue clerical influence he would not be allowed to accept the Chiltern Hundreds.

Should the election petition judges send to Parliament a presentment against Bishop Nulty and the priests who are accused, the Irish executive would have no alternative but to prosecute them.

The Irish Catholic Bishops have already decided to convene a meeting to discuss the situation as bearing on future political manifestoes which it is likely will be more carefully worded than those heretofore issued by bishops.

The Worcestershire election petition has been rejected with costs against the petitioners, who are Liberals.

THE SEAL QUESTION.

The Arbitration Tribunal Will Meet in Paris in February.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—It is ascertained at the State Department that the Behring Sea Arbitration Tribunal will hold its first meeting in Paris on Feb. 23 next.

By the terms of the treaty the case of each Government was delivered Sept. 1 last and the counter-cases on each side should have been delivered Dec. 1, but taking advantage of a provision of the treaty to that effect the British Government asked for an extension of time of 60 days, which postponed the time for the delivery of the counter cases to Feb. 3, and the meeting of the Tribunal of Arbitration to Feb. 23 next.

Very Fresh Students.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Dec. 5.—The celebration of Yale freshmen Saturday was carried to extremes. Besides breaking up a play at the Opera House they broke into a dime museum and played havoc with the proprietor's chattels.

Four of the party were arrested. The Yale faculty will investigate the matter and a number of expulsions are inevitable.

Ben Is To Settle the Trouble.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—The steamer Vigilancia arrived here yesterday from Brazilian ports and brought three of the Brazilian commissioners to serve in the settlement of the Missions boundary case, which, by agreement between the Brazilian Government and the Argentine Republic, is to be left to the decision of President Harrison.

Unusual courtesies were extended to the commissioners by the customs inspectors under orders from the Treasury Department.

Another Express Man Gone.

TROY, N.Y., Dec. 5.—Captain E. H. Virgil, who established the National Express, died here yesterday. He was born in 1806.

The captain was one of the originators of the British and American Express Company operated in Canada.

ENNISMORE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A very quiet and pleasing affair took place on Tuesday of last week in the marriage of Hettie C., second daughter of Patrick C. Sullivan, of Ennismore, to Denis Scully, jr., of Emily. The bride was supported by Miss Bella Scully, a sister of the groom, while John Sullivan, the bride's brother, officiated as groomsman. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father McColl. The presents were numerous and valuable, including a handsome gold watch from the groom. After partaking of a sumptuous wedding breakfast the young couple left on a tour for the west. Their many friends wish them success and happiness in their wedded state.

GRASPING, AVARICIOUS CAPITALISTS

ARE WHAT OUR COMPETITORS CALL US.

Grasping, because we want the Trade of the Earth! Avaricious, because we hang on to the Almighty Dollar! Capitalists, because we have the Money to Tear them to Pieces in the Wholesale Markets!

WELL, you can see what it amounts to. Success ever brings envy and distrust. If we were only half so successful, we would be feared only half as much as we are.

Our push and principle alarm our competitors. Our business grip makes them wince. Our big sales excite their envy. Our popularity is what they cannot block and must put up with.

Talk of big stocks. Shout of immense piles of goods. GOUGH BROS. know about what big stocks mean. Throughout Ontario, in the best towns, GOUGH BROS. have Clothing Stores. It is a notorious fact that they do the trade of the town. They buy cheaper, carry more Goods than all competitors combined.

Notwithstanding the low price of wheat, and cry of hard times with other merchants, GOUGH BROS. sales are head and shoulders ahead of the best sales on record.

Keeping the Right Clothing, selling at the Right Price, giving Right good value in the happiest way, has done it. GOUGHS are proud of their success. Vive la Goughs!

A SWEET SINGER SPEAKS.

One of Montreal's sweet singers informed a druggist the other day that Harvard Bronchial Syrup was of great value to her as an unfailing remedy for sore throat and huskiness of the voice. She was of the opinion that it possessed wonderful properties for giving strength and elasticity to the vocal organs; and she knew no other preparation that was giving such general satisfaction to singers.

Many of the cough remedies of the day are nauseating and seriously affect the stomach and digestive organs. All who have used Harvard Bronchial Syrup speak with pleasure about its pleasant taste. The children love it and take it readily; it is even more palatable than fine honey. No other cough preparation is so strongly recommended by our Canadian doctors.

Mr. S. F. Oldall, of Waterloo, Que., says: "I can not speak too highly of of Harvard Bronchial Syrup; it is certainly the best thing I ever found for sore throat and hoarseness. It works like a charm."

ST. ANDREW'S DAY CELEBRATION.

Lines Composed by Mr. Wm. Telford, Bard of the Peterborough St. Andrew's Society.

The following are the lines composed by Mr. Wm. Telford, bard of St. Andrew's Society, on "The day an' a' wha' honor it," which were read at the annual dinner of the Society on Wednesday night last:—

LINES COMPOSED FOR THE ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY, PETERBOROUGH, NOV. 30TH, 1892—"THE DAY AN' A' WHA' HONOR T

How grand the theme, how broad the space, your last toast on prehende,
It stretches from Auld Scotia's shore to every distant land—
From tropic climes to frozen zones, remote, sequestered spots,
To every land where'er feet tread, and dwell two brither Scots.
The history of our patron Saint to-night I will not trace,
His birth, his life, his race or creed, far less his dying place.
Some say a portion of his dust near old St. Andrew's lies,
Allowing the fact, no dust of his forms the true Scottish ties.
The origin of St. Andrew's Day seems greatly mystified,
On its formation and chief aim, historians differ wide.
St. Andrew's name is but a type or shadow of by-gone days;
The sustenance fills each Scottish heart, its living power displays.
Thirty years ago it was inaugurated here,
Wher homesick Scots agreed that day their young sad hearts to cheer;
That night a few more cronies met, in mirth, joy and delight,
That little band the union formed we celebrate to-night.
The day and a' wha honour it—how sweet the said words sound!
From Scotia's banquet halls it rings the whole wide world around;
To-night at every festive board of Scots from pole to pole
It thrills the anxious listening ear and penetrates the soul.
Canadian Scots with us to-night, to fatherland still true,
I wonder not why this grand toast yields but small charms for you;
Scotia was not your place of birth, her youth scenes strange to thee,
You heard not there the auld Scotch sangs upon your mither's knee;
You played not on the gowan braes nor pulled the heather bells,
Nor wooed your lass in shaded groves or in the silent dells,
Nor quaffed the caller healthful air upon the mountain peaks,
Nor scraped your parritch bicker clean to paint the rose tint cheeks.
You can't feel like a true-born Scot when he that loved toast hears—
Forgive him clapping hands with joy or mingling it with tears;
Laugh not if you across the room do hear his old heart beat,
Or with enthusiasm strong he springs up to his feet.
The night and a' wha honor it! How dear those words to him,
They add fresh brightness to his eyes by old age growing dim;
Like dazzling bright electric sparks ignites love in his soul,
Affections swell, emotions rise, too strong for to control.
From year to year his birth-land love lies smouldering in his breast;
It is not dead, deep down it burns, silent and unexpressed;
Each time he hears that auld Scotch toast lights up his love anew,
Adds fuel to fire, fans up the flame, death only can subdue,
With vivid force it brings to mind the auld hame ingle side,
His mother's love, father's smile, perchance his youthful pride,
His boyhood's sports, the happy days spent in his native land,
Climbing the dangerous shrub clad craigs, so rugged yet so grand,
Perhaps there, too, the first weak hairs upon his chin were seen;
His first calf love, the first sweet kiss, he slyly stole from Jean,
The last sad day, perhaps last time, that he Auld Scotia saw,
Comes back to-night fresh as the hour he left the Bromilaw.
The sentiments of that loved toast, united or apart,
Strikes like sharp daggers steeped in love into each Scottish heart;
Entwines the cord that yearly binds true kindred friendship fast,
Uniting Scots and Scotch folks' bairns where'er their lot is cast,
And with it blends the Auld Scotch songs so natural, sweet and true,
To-night their words more sweeter sound a thousand times to you;
They charm your ear, stir memory up, and pierce your warm heart's core,
You almost feel as if you stood once more on Scotia's shore.
In eloquence the speeches flow from English Irish, Scots,
High sounding Scotia's praises from Maidenkirk to John O'Groats.
Scot grasps the hand of brither Scot, speaks in braid mither tongue,
About the places scenes and joys they shared when they were young.
Forget this night—forget to gather? Na true Scot that will do,
It bears a power unequalled here your hame love to renew.
Him that forgets his native land, old home or place of birth—
No smaller man, no colder soul, exists upon the earth.
This night and you that honours it, up, clasp this hand of mine,
And form love's chain around this board and skirl up Auld Lang Syne.
I hope that every one that's here a sure life's lease will git,
And twelve months hence ten times more Scots will meet to honour it.

A Voice From the Canadian Press:

THE BLACK DEATH!

The Scourge of the East.

Grim Asiatic Cholera is marching with stealthy but steady strides to these Western shores.

The foe is at our doors, Sanitary science, with powerful disinfectant, fumigations, and rigid quarantine regulations, stands guarding our ports.

But this fell destroyer on pestilential wing seems to float in the very air and defy all efforts to beat him back. Wherever there lingers impurity and putrefaction he takes up his abode, and the seeds of the pestilence germinate and multiply.

Public sanitary vigilance is imperative. Let the sewers be flushed and every form of impurity be swept away Let the health of the community be maintained to the highest possible degree. But in addition to all this let every individual be on the alert

The human body has the most perfect and complete system of sewerage, defying the utmost art of man to rival.

A wise Creator has provided mean for the eradication of all effete and impure materials from the human body.

Morse's Indian Root Pills is such a perfect combination of the best and most energetic remedies provided by a beneficent Providence for the purpose of cleansing the whole system, "flushing the sewers," rousing up the liver, the kidneys and the whole intestinal tract to their proper functions and at the same time imparting vigor and tone to the whole system, that it is with the utmost confidence that we recommend it to the public as the best preventive of the fearful ravages of that justly dreaded disease, Asiatic Cholera.

HALL, INNES & CO.

WISH TO SAY that during the many years of their business career they have never offered Goods on the above basis (except during the time of re-building their Premises), and they now confidently expect that the public will rely on the GENUINE character of this sale, and avail themselves of this opportunity of securing goods of sterling quality, at prices much below those obtained in a regular business way.

The reduction of price will apply in all Departments, as follows:

Remember that this sale will begin on Wednesday, 23rd November, and continue until the stock is disposed of.

N. B.—All Outstanding Accounts must be settled at once.

FORCED

REMOVAL SALE!

The Whole Stock to be Cleared at Net Cost, as we have no Option but to Remove to Other Premises.

We must vacate our present store on account of the near expiry of lease. The rent asked or renewal was more than we should or could afford to pay, and as we were allowed only 8 hours in which to reach a decision, we decided to move. This necessitates a Clearance of the Stock, so we now offer

The Entire Stock at Net Cost for Cash.

Every line in the store is new, bought for this season's trade, and consists of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods, Gent's Furnishings, etc.

We will announce later on the location of the new premises to be occupied by us.

Thanking the public for their generous support in the past, we trust to be able to do as well, if not better, in the future.

Rob Roy.

The Montreal Gazette says: "There are very few people who do not recollect with pleasure the enjoyment they derived from a perusal of Sir Walter Scott's masterpiece, Rob Roy Macgregor. An impression seems to prevail that it is a sort of operatic production, but this is hardly accurate. It is a drama with a number of musical selections interspersed here and there in suitable situations, and many of the songs were indeed well sung. The role of the play is of course that of Roy Roy Macgreggor, and it was filled in a manner that left little to be desired by Mr. Wilson Rennie. His acting in the scene when he was betrayed into the hands of the redcoats by Rashleigh Osbaldistone was very fine. Mr. Mortimer Murdock as Baillie Nicol Jarvis also took his part very well and created much amusement by his naive remarks in a dialect not always perfect, but generally good." At Opera House, Saturday, Dec. 10th.

A Chimney Blaze and Upset.

An alarm of fire was given shortly after eleven o'clock to-day and the brigade responded with speed. The cause was a chimney fire on Edinburgh street between George and Union streets, in the house of Mrs. Thompson. All danger was past when the fire fighters arrived on the spot, and no hose was laid. As the salvage waggon was rounding the corner of George and Simcoe streets at a fast pace the vehicle slewed and swaying to one side was upset. Mr. James English, who was driving the horses, and Mr. A. Moore, fireman, were the only persons on the waggon at the time, and they were thrown some distance, alighting with great force. A large heap of hose was thrown upon Mr. Moore, who was nearly buried beneath the rubber coils. He is suffering from an injured hip and severe shaking up. Mr. English was somewhat stunned by the fall and had one of his fingers hurt. The horses were captured by two bystanders rushing out and seizing the reins. The axle of the waggon was badly bent, otherwise the damage done was inconsequential. The escape of the firemen and vehicle was little short of miraculous.
